CLASSICAL ENIGMAS, &c.

Name the Queen of Old England, whose bigotted zeal,
Made her subjects the terrors of Popery feel,
Then that glorious example of goodness and grace,
The last Sovereign, who reign'd, of the true Stuart race.
The King, who unjustly the sceptre to gain,
Had his friends, and his kindred most cruelly slain.
Next him, whom the puritan party dethron'd,
And whose faults, by the loss of his head was atton'd.
Now name that bold King, who threw off the yoke
Treating the Pope, and his Bulls as a joke:
Who not from religion, but whimsey of passion,
Declar'd, that the Bible should come into fashion.
Place these Monarchs together, the first letters take,
When a Month in the year, they'll certainly make.

A. R.

That Monster of Rome, who no equal can claim,
For the crimes that for ever, have blacken'd his name.
Augustus's sister, great Anthony's wife,
Whom he left for that beauty, who cost him his life.
The Emperor, who thought it improper to lay,
When death call'd his soul from his body away,
Determin'd the summons undaunted to meet,
And was plac'd by his courtiers erect on his feet.
That Prince whom the Romans delighted to name,
As first of their race, tho' from Venus he came.
That Emperor gigantic, who for his ring chose
A bracelet, the wrist of his wife could enclose.
The harsh Roman Father, who sternly sat by
To condemn, and behold, his own children die.
The conquer'd, whom first Cincinnatus did doom
To pass through the yoke, for contending with Rome.
Last one of the Twins, who was nurs'd by a goat,
Yet founded old Rome, that great city of note.
Now take the initials, and put them together,
They'll tell you a month, that has often wet weather.

A. R.

The Grecian fam'd for strength of lungs,
And voice as loud, as fifty tongues;
The Nymph, who answers every tone,
And sigh for sigh, when your're alone;
The Man who boldly did aspire,
To steal the sun's etherial fire;
Those regions dark, you now may tell,
Where wicked spirits ever dwell;
Then name the fields of bliss below,
Where we are told the happy go;
That King, whose vanity appears
Rewarded, with enormous ears;
The Wind, whose blustering looks inform,
He rides upon the raging storm;
And the lov'd wife, whom stories tell,
Her husband went to seek in hell!
Last name one of the Judges three,
Who bliss, or punishment decree;
On all who pass the Stygian wave,
By Charon ferry'd, king or slave.
Unite all the first letters well,
A month within the year they'll tell.

A. R.

First name me the Cinque Port that's nearest to France,
Where the Despot of Paris, would like to advance;
But he fears with the billows of Neptune to strive,
Well-knowing, he never shall get back alive.
Now an Island, where in the same shire you will find
An University large, for great learning design'd;
The island the prayers of a Bishop can claim,
And the College boasts proudly of William Pitt's name.
Then a College in Bucks, founded long time ago,
By Edward the Sixth, as the records will show.
Now the birth-place of Henry the Fifth you may tell,
Who tho' wild as a Prince, as a King govern'd well;
Then name where the crooked backed Richard the Third
Was conquer'd, and where they his relics interr'd;
Then where in these modern times it is known,
To view the horse-racing, that Royaltys shown;
Last tell me that lovely unfortunate fair,
Whom Henry the Second, protected with care;
Put these names together, perhaps you will find,
They'll tell you a month that to mirth is inclin'd.

A. R.

Take the writer, whose size both of body and mind,
Were much more gigantic, than common you'll find,
Whose brains were employ'd for the good of the age,
And perfect the language, you find in each page,
Whether out with his Rambler, you venture to roam,
Or stay with his Rasselas, shut up at home.
When tired of his numbers, I'd have you to name,
A Bishop of Ireland, recorded by fame,
Whose writings will ever be held in esteem,
By those who make sacred religion their theme.
Next remember the writer, whose delicate lay,
Deserv'd from Apollo, a chaplet of Bay;
Who in Hagley's sweet groves, for his Lucy did mourn,
And wept with true sorrow long over his urn.
There is none but poor Shaw, with his numbers can vie,
Who so sweetly laments that his Emma should die.
Then last name the Poet, whose anguish and grief,
Seeks in sorrowful verses some little relief,
Who o'er his Narcissa, so young, and so fair,
Laments in a language, uncommon, and rare.
Place these sons of Parnassus, in proper array,
And they'll tell you a month that is cheerful and gay.

The God whom Artists always grace,
By giving him a double face:
The food divine, that's eat on high,
By all the inmates of the sky;
Also the Liquor, drank above,
Which Hebe hands, to mighty Jove;
He, who for fair Calypso's smile,
Forgot his wife, and native isle:
Now Thetis' son, who chose the strife,
Of warlike fame, instead of life:
That island, where we're always told,
The brass Colossus stood of old:
The time, no efforts can regain,
Tho' oft we spend its hours in vain.
Take the first letters and they'll tell
A month, when firing pleases well.

A. R.

The King, who was forc'd Magna Charta to sign,
Or his crown and kingdom, for ever resign.
The term which fair Scotland, with England did join,
And the Roses and Thistles, agree to entwine.
No king can I find, who will give my next letter,
So think of an Admiral, can you do better?
Then speak of the Trafalgar Hero whose name,
Stands high in the records, of glory and fame.
Then the pride of Old England, that Queen who alone,
Well guarded her rights, and protected her throne.
If you join the initials, perhaps you will find,
A Month in the year, when bright Phœbus is kind.

A. R.

The first Roman Emperor, whose forty years sway,
His people with pleasure, could always obey.
The General, whom Cæsar contrived to annoy.
And occasion his army in terror to fly,
By desiring his soldiers, their faces to wound,
Which soon made the combatants vacate the ground.
That Roman, whose firmness no sufferings could move,
Tho' destin'd the cruellest torments to prove.
The name of that Horse, whose vile master did say,
He wish'd he all Romans, could kill in a day.
The fair Roman Matron, whose cause to espouse,
The long smother'd spirit of Brutus did rouse.
These names plac'd aright, the first letters will tell,
A month in the year, most people love well.

A. R.

The fickle Goddess, false and blind,
To some profuse, to more unkind:
The Shepherd, who on Latmos height,
Was courted by the Queen of night;
The Maid, for whom Achilles swore,
He'd aid the Grecian cause no more:
Jove's mother name, and Saturn's wife,
Who fled to save her infant life:
He, who when feigning madness try'd,
With care to turn the plough aside,
Nor o'er that furrow bend its way,
Where he beheld his infant lay.
The Queen, whom Jove with love assail'd,
And in the husband's form prevail'd;
The King, whose horses Diomed,
And grave Ulysses captive led;
And now conclude with that blest time,
We should enjoy, while in its prime.
So place the initials, and they'll say,
A month, not quite so warm as May.

A. R.

I would have you that great University name,
From whence many good scholars, have risen to fame;
Then where William the Conqueror, rested in peace,
And all his vexations in this world, did cease;
Then tell me the River, on whose verdant sides,
The noble, the merchant, the trader resides,
Whose opulent stream wild meandering flows,
Well laden with riches, to proud London goes:
Then where, the best medicine is to be had,
For those who are bitten, by dogs raving mad.
The fam'd Wells in Derbyshire, which we are told,
Tho' close by each other, are one hot, t'other cold:
That commotion, which troubles the bowels of earth
And causes confusion, when 'ere it bursts forth;
Then a place name in Berkshire, where Henry the first
Lays quietly resting, that Fates done her worst.
Join the first letters together, and soon they will make
A month, when its pleasant a ramble to take.

A. R.

II

The Bard, tho' wanting sight inspir'd,
Was with poetic rapture fir'd;
His noble strains, and verse to raise,
Singing of heaven, his tuneful lays,
In numbers born to lasting fame,
I beg you'll tell this writer's name.
Next him, another Author tell,
Who wrote in numbers soft and well;
Whose lines were tutor'd to convey,
To every heart the moral lay,
Whose Cato and Spectators shine,
With many beauties of the nine;
Now he, whose gloomy thoughts appear,
For ever damp'd with sorrows tear,
Whose discontented numbers show,
The cause, from which his murmurs flow,
And disappointment marks the name,
Of him, who grumbling sought for fame.
These writers, when their names yon know,
Will tell a month when flowrets blow.

A. R.

The goddess of the rosy morn,
Whose smiles with health, our cheeks adorn;
Then tell as quickly as you can,
The Poets much enduring man;
The Youth who gave the cup on high,
When fair Hebe left the sky;
The Muses name, I'd have you find,
Most to astronomy inclin'd;
Then take the River, at whose sound,
The gods, eternally are bound;
The Muse, before whose comic eye,
Despair and melancholy fly;
The initials join'd, will surely find,
Amusement for your active mind,
And rightly plac'd, will soon appear
A month, within the circling year.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. 1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. 1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a)

distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
