A BOOK OF EUROPEAN STATISTICS

INTRODUCTION

In the introduction to Little Blue Book No. 1460, A Book of American Statistics, I have called attention to a few of the ways in which numerical expressions of facts may be misleading, especially if the person consulting a statistical table forgets that a census or a measurement must be taken at a definite time. In general, though, the population and the industries of Europe are somewhat more inclined to stability than are those of the United States and other American countries. It may be said, too, that most European countries are in a position to learn with considerable accuracy the number of people they contain and other information of a definite sort. There are a few vague or disputed boundaries, and, especially in the southeast, there are groups of people who flee from the schoolmaster and the census taker; but these are exceptional cases.

The statistical matter published by the governmental agencies of the United Kingdom, France, or Germany is fully as trustworthy as that which comes from the official printing office at Washington. Indeed, the European countries have fuller information than the United States about some important phenomena of society.

Fuller statistics may be found in various yearbooks and almanacs devoted to special interests or countries, as well as in those of a general nature. An inexpensive source of information is the Almanac and Book of Facts published by the New York World. A Political Handbook of the World, published by the Yale and Harvard University Presses, is devoted largely to party politics and governmental facts. The Statesman's Year Book and the Europa Year Book contain statistical matter of all sorts.

Current information about Europe appears with fullness in few American newspapers. Perhaps the New York Times should be especially mentioned in this connection. However, several English newspapers that are to be found in large public libraries are naturally more useful for European statistics.

THE CONTINENT

Europe has an area of about 3,789,000 square miles. The population is estimated at 480,000,000. The highest point in Europe is Mt. Elbrus, in the Caucasus Mountains, with a height of 18,465 feet, and the lowest is the Caspian Sea, in Russia, 86 feet below sea level. The mean approximate height of Europe is 980 feet, as compared with 1300 feet in each of the two Americas and 1600 feet in Africa and in Asia.

AREA AND POPULATION BY COUNTRIES

Albania is a Balkan kingdom with an estimated area of 17,374 square miles and population of 840,000.

Andorra is a semi-independent republic in the Pyrenees with an area of 191 square miles and a population of between 5000 and 6000.

Austria is a republic with an area of 32,369 square miles and a population (1923) of 6,526,000. The Austro-Hungarian Empire before the World War had an area of 261,259 square miles.

Belgium is a kingdom with an area of 11,752 square miles and a population of about 7,875,000.

Bulgaria is a kingdom in the Balkans with an area of 39,814 square miles and a population of 5,483,000.

The republic of Czecho-Slovakia, in central Europe, has an area of 51,207 square miles and a population officially estimated at about 14,356,000.

The free city of Danzig, under the protection of the League of Nations, has an area of 754 square miles and a population (1924) of 386,000, mostly German.

The kingdom of Denmark has an area of 15,568 square miles and a population of 3,343,000 (1925). The Faroe Islands, which belong to Denmark, have an area of 540 square miles and a population of 21,000.

The republic of Estonia has an area of about 18,000 square miles and a population of about 1,115,000.

The republic of Finland has an area of 149,641 square miles and a population estimated at 3,526,000.

The republic of France has an area of 212,659 square miles and a population (1926) of 40,743,851. (The island of Corsica included.) The grand total of land under the direct control of France, including colonies in America, Asia, Africa and Oceania is 5,870,460 square miles, with a population of over a hundred million.

The republic of Germany has a land area of 181,714 square miles. This includes the Saar district, not at the moment under German control. The population in 1925 was 63,118,000.

The republic of Greece, in the Balkans, has an area of 49,022 square miles with a population which was 5,447,000 in 1920 and estimated in 1928 (A Political Handbook of the World) at about seven millions.

The kingdom or regency of Hungary has an area which is not entirely definite, for some of the boundaries are yet to be determined, but it may be stated as 35,875 square miles. The population is close to nine millions (8,160,000 in 1924). Before the World War Hungary had an area of 109,216 square miles; or, with Croatia and Slavonia, of 125,641 square miles.

The kingdom of Italy has an area of 119,714 square miles, with a population of 40,548,000. The total area of the Italian Empire is 990,658 square miles, with a population of some 43 millions. (Some of the colonial boundaries are rather vague.)

The kingdom of Yugoslavia or Yugoslavia, also known more formally as the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes, has an area of 96,134 square miles, with a population of 12,017,000 in 1921. The country contains about half a million each of Germans, Albanians, and Hungarians.

The republic of Latvia, which is south of Estonia, has an area of about 25,000 square miles and a population of 1,870,000.

The principality of Liechtenstein, formerly dependent on Austria and now in the Swiss customs union, has an area of 65 square miles and a population of about 12,000.

The republic of Lithuania, which is one of the Baltic States, still has aspirations for the recovery of the city and district of Vilna, seized from it by Poland. Without this, it has an area of about 21,800 square miles and a population of about 2,228,000.

The grand duchy of Luxemburg, which is in a customs union with Belgium, has an area of 999 square miles and a population of 269,000.

The principality of Monaco, on the Mediterranean, is all but surrounded by French territory. It has an area of 8 square miles, and its population in 1923 was 22,000.

The kingdom of the Netherlands, popularly referred to as Holland, has an area of 12,593 square miles. The official estimate of population at the beginning of 1926 was 7,416,418. The Dutch Empire, including a large district in the East Indies, has an area of 801,000 square miles and a population of about 57 millions.

The kingdom of Norway, which occupies the western part of the Scandinavian Peninsula, has an area of 124,964 square miles and a population which was 2,649,000 in 1920, and is about 2,900,000 in 1929.

The republic of Poland has an area of some 149,140 square miles, but part of the boundaries, especially with Lithuania, are at present indefinite. The population is about 30,000,000.

The republic of Portugal has an area, including the Azores and Madeira, of 35,490 square miles and a population of 6,033,000 (1920). The colonies bring up the area to nearly a million square miles.

The temporal sovereignty of the see of Rome has recently been extended somewhat, but the population of persons other than church officials, not available at this writing, is quite small. The popes were worldly rulers over some 3,000,000 people living in a district of 16,000 square miles until most of their dominions were absorbed by the kingdom of Italy in the nineteenth century.

The kingdom of Roumania, or Rumania, which is sometimes classed with the Balkan countries, has an area of 122,282, of which more than half was gained by the peace treaties ending the World War. The population is about 17,500,000.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, generally known as Russia, is a Eurasian country with a total area of 8,187,253 square miles and a total population of 146,304,000. The Russian Empire had an area of 8,764,586 square miles and a population (1915) of 182,183,000, of which 131,797,000 was European.

The republic of San Marino, surrounded by Italian territory, has an area of 38 square miles and a population of about 13,000.

The kingdom of Spain, which occupies the Iberian Peninsula with Portugal, has an area of 190,050 square miles. Including the Balearic and Canary Islands, the area is 194,783 square miles. The estimated population at the beginning of 1926, these islands included, was 22,128,000.

The Scandinavian kingdom of Sweden has a land area of 173,105 square miles and a population of over six millions (6,053,562 in 1923).

The republican confederation of Switzerland has an area of 15,940 square miles and is inhabited by about four million people (3,886,000 in 1920).

The Eurasian republic of Turkey has an area of about 280,000 square miles, but some of the boundaries are in dispute. The European area consists of 8,819 square miles, but it includes the city of Constantinople, with a population of about 700,000. The total population of the republic is about 13,650,000. The Turkish Empire before the World War had an area of over 710,000 square miles.

The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has an area of 84,284 square miles, of which England has 50,874, Wales has 7,466, Scotland has 30,405, Northern Ireland or Ulster has 5,237, the Isle of Man has 227, and the Channel Islands have 75. The 1921 census showed a population of 36,678,000 in England, 2,207,000 in Wales, 4,882,000 in Scotland, 60,238 in the Isle of Man, and 89,614 in the Channel Islands. Northern Ireland had a population of 1,256,000 according to a census taken in 1926. The Irish Free State then had 2,973,000 inhabitants. Its area is 26,592 square miles. Gibraltar, with a area of 2 square miles, has a population of about 18,000. Malta, containing 122 square miles, is occupied by about 225,000 people; and Cyprus has some 325,000 inhabitants in an area of 3,584 square miles.

The British Empire as a whole, including mandates but not semi-dependencies and spheres of influence, has an area of about 13,379,000 square miles and a population of some 450,000,000 people, in all parts of the world. It makes up, in area and population, about a quarter of the world: the land surface of the globe, not all of it habitable, is 57,510,000 square miles.

AMERICAN CITIZENS IN EUROPE

According to an investigation conducted by the United States Department of State, 1927-1929, the number of American citizens living permanently or semi-permanently in Europe amounts to 77,063. Of these, Austria contains 979; there are 857 in Belgium; the number living in Great Britain and Northern Ireland is 11,717; there are 62 in Bulgaria; Czecho-Slovakia contains 2,600; the free city of Danzig has 18; there are 406 in Denmark; 18 live in Estonia; 236 are in Finland; France has the largest number or 25,860. There are 3,027 in Germany; 11 in Gibraltar; 3,146 in Greece; twelve hundred in Hungary; 1,193 in the Irish Free State; ten thousand in Italy. Latvia was listed as having 86; Lithuania, 750; Malta, 26; the Netherlands, 241; Norway, six hundred; Poland, six thousand; Portugal, including Madeira and the Azores, 479; Roumania, two thousand; Russia, 150—this is probably somewhat less than the real number; Jugoslavia, 2,500; Spain, including the Canary Islands, 805; Sweden, 658; and Switzerland, 1,438.

AUTOMOBILES

The following figures are from a motor census made by the Overseas Edition of The American Automobile. The total number of passenger cars, motor trucks, and motor busses operated in the leading countries of Europe at the beginning of 1929 was:

Great Britain	1,373,109
France	1,108,900
Germany	545,100
Italy	172,000
Spain	156,501
Sweden	126,898
Belgium	108,225
Denmark	88,898
Netherlands	85,500
Switzerland	61,000
Czecho-Slovakia	49,151
Irish Free State	40,198
Norway	36,027
Finland	32,438
Roumania	29,200
Austria	28,230
Poland	27,000
Portugal	25,261

Aside from automobiles assembled in Europe of American parts, the production of passenger cars and trucks by European makers amounted in 1928 to about 589,900, as compared with 574,000 units in the preceding year. Of the 1928 production, 215,000 cars were made in Great Britain; about 200,000 in France; 90,000 in Germany; 50,000 in Italy; 12,000 in Czecho-Slovakia; 9,000 in Austria; and 7,000 in Belgium.

SOME AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS

The production of wheat in England and Wales, 1927, was estimated at 53,116,000 bushels. In France, it was about 284,000,000; in Italy, 196,000,000; in Hungary, 76,000,000; in Roumania, 97,000,000; in Germany, 121,000,000. Yield per acre was 32.5 bushels in England and Wales, 37.1 in Belgium, 11.7 in Greece, and 23.7 in Finland.

The production of rye in Russia (all parts of the Socialist Soviet Republics reporting) was 968,000,000 bushels in 1927. It was 269,000,000 in Germany; 37,000,000 in France; 224,000,000 in Poland; 23,000,000 in Hungary; 49,000,000 in Czecho-Slovakia; 19,000,000 in Sweden; 20,000,000 in Belgium; 27,000,000 in Spain; 18,000,000 in Austria. The yield per acre was 35 bushels in Belgium, 9.8 in Greece, and about 13 in European Russia.

The production of corn (maize) in Italy, 1927, was estimated at 100,388,000 bushels. Rumania produced 145,000,000 bushels; Russia 157,000,000 bushels; and Jugoslavia, 77,000,000 bushels. The yield per acre ranged from 12.4 in Bulgaria to 51.3 bushels in Switzerland. It was 25.4 in Italy.

The 1927 production of oats in Russia was about 896,000,000 bushels; in Germany, it was 437,000,000 bushels; in France, it amounted to 373,000,000 bushels; in Poland, to 236,000,000 bushels; in England and Wales, to 94,059,000 bushels. The yield per acre was 67 bushels in Belgium, about 10 bushels in Portugal.

The production of barley in 1927 was estimated at 216,000,000 bushels in Russia; 12,000,000 in Germany; 89,000,000 in Spain; and 57,000,000 bushels in Roumania.

Poland produced in 1927 about 3,031,000 bushels of flaxseed and 147,700,000 pounds of fibre. Lithuania produced 1,561,000 bushels of seed and 85,407,000 pounds of fibre. The production in Latvia was about 1,000,000 bushels of seed and 42,636,000 pounds of fibre. Belgium produced 415,000 bushels of seed and 65,036,000 pounds of fibre.

Italy produced in 1927 about 953,000,000 pounds of cleaned rice. The Spanish production was 330,000,000 pounds.

Olive oil exported from Italy in 1926 amounted to 51,938,000 pounds. Spain exported 165,960,000 pounds. In both cases, edible and inedible varieties are included.

The production of potatoes, 1927, was 114,000,000 bushels in England and Wales; 111,000,000 in Belgium; 630,000,000 bushels in France; 130,000,000 in Spain; 1,379,000,000 in Germany; 283,000,000 in Czecho-Slovakia; 1,166,000,000 in Poland. The yield per acre was 266.7 bushels in Belgium, 78.8 in Bulgaria. It was 63 (1926) in Yugoslavia.

The amount of hops produced, 1927, in England and Wales was estimated at 28,616,000 pounds. In France, it was 11,000,000 pounds; in Germany, 16,000,000; in Czecho-Slovakia, 21,600,000 pounds. The yield per acre was 1,339 pounds in Belgium; 401 (159 in 1926) in Germany.

The production of sugar beets in 1927 was 11,964,000 tons in Germany; 10,913,000 in Russia; 8,306,000 in Czecho-Slovakia; 6,143,000 in France.

Austria had (in 1923) 2,162,000 cattle; 1,473,000 swine; and 597,000 sheep. In 1928, Belgium had 1,739,000 cattle; 1,124,000 swine; and 126,000 sheep. In 1925, Bulgaria contained 1,560,000 cattle and buffaloes; 574,000 swine; and 8,682,000 sheep. Czecho-Slovakia (1926) had 4,690,000 cattle; 2,539,000 swine; and 860,000 sheep. Denmark (1927) had 2,912,000 cattle; 3,731,000 swine; and 230,000 sheep. England and Wales (1928) had 6,026,000 cattle; 2,967,000 swine; and 16,386,000 sheep. Estonia had (1927) 630,000 cattle; 350,000 swine; and 667,000 sheep. In 1927, Finland had 1,870,000 cattle; 420,000 swine; and 1,370,000 sheep. France in 1928 contained 14,940,000 cattle; 6,020,000 swine; and 10,690,000 sheep. Germany reported in 1928 that it contained 18,010,000 cattle; 22,900,000 swine; and 3,820,000 sheep.

Greece in 1926 had, including buffaloes, 890,000 cattle; 452,000 swine; and 6,630,000 sheep. In 1928, Hungary reported 1,810,000 cattle; 2,660,000 swine; and 1,560,000 sheep. Ireland (the whole island) had in 1928 cattle numbering 4,880,000; swine to the number of 1,400,000; and 3,950,000 sheep. In 1924, the kingdom of Italy had 7,000,000 cattle, including buffaloes; 2,750,000 swine; and 12,500,000 sheep. Yugoslavia had (1926) 3,800,000 cattle, buffaloes included; 2,800,000 swine; and 8,000,000 sheep. In 1927, Latvia had 967,000 cattle; 535,000 swine; and 1,130,000 sheep. The Netherlands in 1922 had 2,060,000 cattle; 1,260,000 swine; and 890,000 sheep. Norway in 1927 reported 1,210,000 cattle; 300,000 swine; and 1,610,000 sheep. The 1927 report of Poland shows 8,600,000 cattle; 6,300,000 swine; and 2,000,000 sheep. The Portuguese report for 1925 shows 770,000 cattle; 1,120,000 swine; and 4,450,000 sheep. Roumania in 1928 had cattle and buffaloes numbering 4,550,000; 3,080,000 swine; and 12,950,000 sheep. European Russia in 1927 reported 43,880,000 cattle; 15,840,000 swine; and 76,270,000 sheep. Scotland in 1928 had 1,210,000 cattle; 195,000 swine; and 7,500,000 sheep. Spain in 1927 reported 3,670,000 cattle; 5,030,000 swine; and 20,530,000 sheep. Sweden was estimated to have in 1925 cattle numbering 2,000,000; 1,000,000 swine; and 1,200,000 sheep. Switzerland in 1926 reported 1,587,000 cattle; 635,000 swine; and 170,000 sheep.

The production of wool, 1927, was estimated to be (in grease) 118,537,000 pounds for the United Kingdom; 47,000,000 for France; while, by way of comparison, it was over 328 million pounds in the United States and about 322,000,000 pounds in Argentina.

Denmark exported 292,000,000 pounds of butter in 1926; the Netherlands sent out 100,000,000; Russia, 60,000,000; and the Irish Free State, 56,000,000.

Exports of cheese in 1926 were as follows: Czecho-Slovakia, 7,732,000 pounds; Denmark, 15,345,000 pounds; Finland, 6,364,000 pounds; France, 31,481,000 pounds; Germany, 2,320,000 pounds; Hungary, 1,834,000 pounds; Italy, 72,888,000 pounds; the Netherlands, 185,706,000 pounds; Switzerland, 61,972,000 pounds; Yugoslavia, 4,180,000 pounds. The United Kingdom imported 330,000,000 pounds and exported about three million.

Exports of eggs in the shell, 1926, were as follows: the Irish Free State, 43,662,000 dozen; Denmark, 69,351,000 dozen; Belgium, 33,796,000 dozen; France, 21,821,000 dozen; Italy, 31,535 dozen; the Netherlands, 86,414,000 dozen; Hungary, 24,749,000 dozen. Germany imported 196,000,000 dozen and the United Kingdom 220,000,000 dozen eggs.

RAILROADS

The state-owned railroads of Austria are about 3,600 miles in length, and carried 127,000,000 passengers in 1925. The state-owned lines in Belgium have a mileage of about 3,000, and carried 222,000,000 passengers in 1925. The state-owned railroads of Bulgaria were of 1,400 miles in that year, and carried 9,000,000 passengers. In 1927 the state-owned railways of Denmark were 1,570 miles long, and the passengers carried numbered 29,000,000. The French railroads, (1926) with an approximate mileage of 26,000, carried 783,000,000 passengers. The German railroads in the same year carried 1,819,000,000 passengers and had a mileage of 33,000. The railways of Great Britain had in 1926 a total mileage of 20,396, and the number of passengers carried was over 1,500,000,000. The Dutch railroads were in 1926 of a total length of 2,260 and carried 48,000,000 people. The Italian railroads, 1926, had a total mileage of 9,800, and the number of passengers carried that year was 113,500,000. The Norwegian railroads, of a total length of 2,240 miles, carried 23,000,000 passengers in 1926. The Polish railroads, in the same year, had a total mileage of 12,000, and they carried 148,000,000 people. The railways of Sweden in 1925 were of a total length of 9,600 miles; they carried 66,000,000 passengers. The railroads of Switzerland, 3,400 miles in 1925, that year carried 148,000,000 people

The freight carried, in millions of tons, for the year reported, was 326 on the French railroads, 420 on the German ones, 240 on those of Great Britain, 78 on the state-owned lines of Belgium.

MINERAL PRODUCTION

The United Kingdom produced in 1927 iron amounting to 7,290,000 long tons and 9,086,000 long tons of steel. Germany produced in the same year 13,102,000 metric tons of iron and 6,305,000 metric tons of steel. The French production in metric tons was 9,293,000 of iron and 8,275,000 of steel. Germany has lost important mining districts temporarily or permanently as a result of the Great War. (The long ton is 2,240 pounds, the metric ton about 2,204).

The production of petroleum, 1927, amounted in all Russia to 72,400,000 barrels; in Roumania to 26,000,000, and in Poland to 5,800,000.

The production of coal in the United Kingdom, 1927, amounted to 255,000,000 long tons. In 1926, on account of a serious strike, it was only 127,000,000. It was 278,000,000 long tons in 1923. The production of coal in Germany, 1927, was 153,600,000 metric tons. France mined 52,487,000 metric tons of coal in 1927.

Austria produced in 1927 3,253,000 metric tons of coal, mostly lignite. The product of pig iron was 330,000 metric tons; of steel ingots, 474,000 tons; and of rolling mill products, 352,000 tons; all in 1926.

Belgium mined in 1927 coal amounting to 27,600,000 metric tons. Production of pig iron was 3,750,000 metric tons and of steel 3,700,000.

Bulgaria produced in 1927 a total of 1,237,650 tons of coal; 24,000 tons of copper; and 4,000 tons of lead.

Czecho-Slovakia mined in 1927 anthracite coal weighing 14,600,000 metric tons and bituminous and lignite weighing 20,028,000. It produced 1,174,000 metric tons of iron ore.

Greece produced in 1926 iron amounting to 126,000 metric tons; chromite, 20,000; iron pyrites, 80,000; magnesite, 123,000; zinc, 35,000; crude zinc, 10,000; salt, 90,000; and lignite coal, 153,000.

Italy (1927) produced 467,000 metric tons of pig iron; 1,530,000 of steel; 338,000 of sulphur ore; 179,000 of zinc; 52,000 of lead; 2,000 of mercury or quicksilver; and 90,000 of bauxite.

In 1927, Luxemburg produced 7,244,000 metric tons of iron and 2,470,000 metric tons of steel.

Over 9,000,000 metric tons of coal were mined in the Netherlands in 1927.

In 1926, Poland produced 327,000 tons of iron ore; 27,000 tons of purified lead; 124,000 tons of zinc; 788,000 tons of steel; 208,000 tons of potash; 35,747,000 tons of coal.

In 1926, Roumania produced over 3,000,000 metric tons of coal, mostly lignite; 63,000 tons of pig iron; and 344,000 tons of salt.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in 1927 produced 30,950,000 metric tons of coal; 2,963,000 of pig iron; 3,586,000 of steel, and 100,000 troy ounces of platinum. There are many great undeveloped mineral resources in Russia.

Spain in 1926 produced 6,641,000 metric tons of coal; 1,100,000 of iron and steel; 201,000 of zinc; 149,000 of lead; 48,000 of copper; and 30,000 of mercury ore.

Sweden in 1927 produced 10,726,000 metric tons of iron ore; about 450,000 tons of coal; and 65,000 tons of sulphur pyrites.

WINE PRODUCTION

The following figures are for 1926, and were compiled by the Beverage News:

Country	Gallons
France (incl. Corsica)	899,300,000
Italy	792,000,000
Spain	346,500,000
Portugal	45,320,000
Azores, Canaries, Madeira	1,650,000
Austria	8,800,000
Hungary	26,400,000
Jugoslavia	44,000,000
Germany	21,780,000
Czecho-Slovakia	4,400,000
Russia	44,000,000
Switzerland	11,000,000
Turkey, Cyprus	8,800,000
Greece	48,400,000
Bulgaria	29,700,000
Roumania	110,000,000

The official figures for France are 1,473,042 gallons in 1926 and 892,410,000 in 1927. There were 3,350,000 acres of vinelands in 1927. 270,000,000 gallons of cider were produced in 1927.

INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE

Austria in 1927 exported goods worth $286,700,000; and its imports amounted to $432,000,000.

The imports of Belgium were $807,400,000; the exports were $728,400,000.

Czecho-Slovakia exported $599,000,000; imported a lower amount, $531,700,000.

Denmark imported goods worth $443,000,000, and exported to the value of $413,100,000.

Finland's exports amounted to $159,300,000; its imports in the same year, 1927, were $160,400,000.

The exports of France amounted to $2,158,400,000, and its imports to $2,065,000,000. In the preceding year, the exports were slightly below the imports.

Germany in 1927 exported commodities worth $2,425,500,000, and imported $3,362,000,000. The respective figures for 1926 were $2,343,800,000 and $2,376,300,000.

Italy in 1927 exported $803,100,000 and imported $1,033,500,000.

The Netherlands imported $1,022,700,000 and exported commodities worth $762,000,000.

Norway imported $257,100,000 and exported $178,200,000.

Poland imported $313,800,000 and exported $281,200,000.

Sweden imported $422,500,000 and exported $432,300,000.

Switzerland imported $482,800,000 and exported $386,000,000.

The United Kingdom imported $5,931,500,000 and exported goods worth $4,044,800,000. In the preceding year (1926), imports amounted to $6,040,500,000, and exports to $3,777,200,000.

As Professor Seligman points out, “imports must in the long run pay for exports, and vice versa.” But “it must be remembered that goods are exchanged not only for goods, but for services.” In the case of the United Kingdom, important service items are investment returns, freight, insurance, and foreign exchange charges paid by foreigners. Most leading European countries have an “unfavorable” balance of trade; that is, their imports are more valuable than their exports, measured in tangibles alone. This condition existed before the World War, and is not to be taken as an indication of impoverishment.

TRADE WITH THE UNITED STATES

The following figures are for the year 1927, and are stated in thousands of dollars: three noughts understood in each case.

Country	Bought from U. S.	Sold to U. S.
Austria	4,364	10,611
Belgium	116,201	72,240

Europe, including Iceland, bought from the United States in 1927 tangible commodities to the stated value of $2,313,762,813, and sold to the United States in that year goods said to be worth $1,276,246,978.

SHIPS

The naval expenditures of Great Britain, from April, 1926, to March, 1927, are said to have been 58,000,000 pounds sterling. Those of France in 1926 are said to have been 1,842,800,000 francs. Those of Italy, from July, 1926, to June, 1927, are said to have been 1,209,600,000 lire. By way of comparison, the United States spent for naval purposes, from July, 1926, to June, 1927, $320,553,000. The French figures are incomplete, not showing how much was spent for the construction of new ships. (Par of exchange for pounds, francs, lire, may be found under the next heading).

The United States has 18 battleships, with a tonnage of 325,850. Great Britain has 20, with a tonnage of 580,450. France has 9, with a tonnage of 194,544. Italy has 7, with a tonnage of 133,670. The United States has 10 war cruisers, with a tonnage of 75,000. Great Britain has 54, with a tonnage of 304,000. France has 12, with a tonnage of 104,883; and Italy has 12, with a tonnage of 67,330. The United States has three airplane carriers, with a tonnage of 78,700; Great Britain has six, with a tonnage of 107,550; France has one of 21,653 tons. Of the first line destroyer type of war vessel, the United States has 276 destroyers; Great Britain has 17 leaders and 156 destroyers; France has 7 leaders and 34 destroyers; Italy has 8 leaders and 45 destroyers. Only about 100 of the American destroyers are kept in commission.

The gross tonnage of merchant vessels, 1928, was 19,875,000 for Great Britain; 3,777,000 for Germany; 3,334,000 for France; 2,968,000 for Norway; 2,817,000 for the Netherlands; 3,429,000 for Italy; and 493,000 for Belgium.

The tonnage of ships built in 1927 was 1,226,000 in the United Kingdom; 72,000 in Denmark; 44,000 in France; 289,000 in Germany; 120,000 in the Netherlands; 101,000 in Italy, and 67,000 in Sweden.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

The monetary unit of Great Britain is the pound sterling, with a par value of $4.8665. The average cable quotation in New York, 1927, was $4,861. The French franc has a par of exchange of $.0392. The average cable quotation was .0477 in 1925; .0324 in 1926; .0392 in 1927. It was quoted at .039040 on September 1, 1928. The Belgian belga (5 francs) has a par of $.1391. The average cable quotation in New York, 1927, was $.1392. The Italian lira has a par of $.0526. The German reichsmark has a par of $.2382. The Spanish peseta, with a par of $.1930, was quoted at $.161245 on November 1, 1928. The average quotation for 1925 was $.1434.

ARMIES

In September, 1928, the number of men in active service and enrolled in organized reserves was as follows:

Country	Active Army	Organized Reserves
Albania	13,200
Austria	43,000
Belgium	71,500	500,000
Bulgaria	33,000
Czecho-Slovakia	150,000	1,489,000
Denmark	9,200	150,000
Estonia	17,000	27,000
Finland	25,500	235,000
France	667,000	5,010,000
Germany	100,500
Great Britain	212,000	318,600
Greece	79,700	415,000
Hungary	71,200
Irish Free State	13,000	3,500
Italy	347,000	2,995,200
Jugoslavia	142,000	1,200,000
Latvia	19,000	200,000
Lithuania	21,200	170,000
Netherlands	32,100	341,500

Norway	30,000	315,000
Poland	242,400	500,000
Portugal	35,000	372,900
Roumania	266,500	750,000
Russia	658,000	5,425,000
Spain	260,700	1,853,500
Sweden	10,200	720,300
Switzerland	500	309,600

Military service is compulsory in all these countries except Austria, Bulgaria, Germany, Great Britain, Hungary, the Irish Free State, and Sweden. The United States has a standing army of 134,000 and an organized reserve force of 291,000 (September, 1928).

The most recent figures for Russia show an annual item of $346,000,000 for "defense." France spent 6,210,752,000 francs on her army in 1928.

TELEPHONES

The number of telephones in use in 1927 was about as follows: Austria, 158,000; Belgium, 176,000; Bulgaria, 10,000; Czecho-Slovakia, 129,000; Denmark, 321,000; Finland, 99,000; France, 819,000; Germany, 2,688,000; Greece, 6,000; Hungary, 115,000; Irish Free State, 24,000; Italy, 272,000; Jugoslavia, 28,000; Latvia, 24,000; the Netherlands, 225,000; Norway, 175,000; Poland, 131,000; Portugal, 22,000; Roumania, 53,000; Russia, 225,000; Spain, 131,000; Sweden, 451,000; Switzerland, 210,000; and the United Kingdom, 1,512,000. The total for Europe, including countries and territories not separately listed, was 8,081,000. The United States had 17,746,000 telephones.

SCHOOLS

Public elementary schools in England and Wales, 1923, numbered 21,000, with 7,150,000 pupils and 166,000 teachers. Scotland had 676,000 pupils in 2,900 public elementary schools. The Irish Free State in 1925 had 5,600 elementary schools with 489,000 pupils and 13,500 teachers.

Albania in the school year 1927-1928 had 530 public schools, with 950 teachers and 30,000 pupils. The Danish schools at the beginning of 1927 had 464,000 pupils. There are over 3,000,000 pupils in the elementary schools of France. Germany had in 1922 in 52,000 elementary schools 8,894,000 pupils. Yugoslavia in 1923 had 961,470 pupils in its elementary schools. In 1928, Lithuania had 2,400 public elementary schools with 124,000 pupils. Soviet Russia at the end of 1926 had 9,900,000 children attending 108,000 public elementary schools. Sweden in 1926 had 660,000 pupils in elementary schools.

BUDGETS

The revenues of Great Britain for 1928 were estimated at £842,824,000 and the expenditures at £838,535,000. For the fiscal year 1927-1928, Northern Ireland had expenditures of 11,203,000 pounds and income of the same amount (advance estimate). For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929, the Irish Free State had estimated revenues of £23,164,000 and expenditures of £22,433,000.

The French provisional budget for 1929 shows revenues of 45,281,000,000 francs and expenditures of 45,225,000,000 francs. The German budget for 1928-1929 was balanced at 9,528,571,000 marks. The Belgian budget for 1928 showed estimated revenues of 10,563,562,000 francs and expenditures of 10,482,731,000. The Russian budget for 1928-1929 was tentatively balanced at 6,970,000,000 rubles, or $3,590,000,000. At the other extreme, San Marino balanced income and expenditures for 1926-1927 at 4,145,000 lire. Liechtenstein in 1926 had an income of 788,000 Swiss francs and expenditures of 774,000 francs.

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project

Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
