DUTCH: 1853-1903

EARLY EVENING

Water Color

Height, 15½ inches; width, 11½ inches

A LOW cottage, near which stand two leafless trees, their straggling branches extending out of the picture, is the prominent object in the composition, and is silhouetted against a quiet sky. In the foreground on the left are small wooden coops and the roof of an outbuilding, and on the right is a path bordered by a row of a small bushes. The glow of lamplight in the cottage window, which is partly screened by an opaque curtain, indicates that twilight is near.

Nº 2

Tony Offermans

DUTCH: 1854-

THE COBBLER

Water Color

Height, 18 inches; width, 13 inches

AN OLD Dutch cobbler, pipe in mouth, sits in a low chair near a window under which is his cobbler's bench with various tools, engaged in repairing a shoe which he holds on the leather apron on his lap. The figure is lighted by a narrow window, the casements of which are thrown open, and a petroleum lamp with a tin shade hangs from a beam over the cobbler's head.

Signed at the lower right, T. OFFERMANS.

Nº 3

Nicolaas Bastert

DUTCH: 1854-

WINTER IN BREUKELEN—HOLLAND

Water Color

Height, 11 inches; length, 17½ inches

A HEAVY fall of snow is on the ground and the winding hedge-bordered village street, which leads from the foreground around to the right between low cottages, is broken by the single track of a cart which is seen proceeding along toward the houses. On the left a row of pollarded trees grows along what is apparently a canal, now covered with ice, and on the opposite bank stands a farm building and a row of trees in winter foliage.

N^o 4

Johannes Bosboom

DUTCH: 1817-1891

CASTLE BY THE SEA

Water Color

Height, 11 inches; width, 8½ inches

IN A broad, open street or market-place in a small fishing village in Holland stands a lofty stone building with a corner tower, evidently the relics of bygone grandeur. Alongside, and contrasting strongly with it, is a low cottage with red-tiled roof, and beyond it are other cottages at the foot of a dune, over the crest of which is seen the mast of a fishing vessel. A few figures are grouped in the shade of the tower and a woman is walking toward the foreground in the sunlight.

Signed at the lower left, BOSBOOM, '61.

Margaretha Vogel Roosenboom

DUTCH: 1843-1898

PEONIES

Water Color

Height, 12 inches; length, 20 inches

Two large white peonies in full blossom, and others in bud, have been carelessly thrown upon a stone bench in strong light from the upper left. The background is a broken tone of gray.

DUTCH: 1843-1898

PEONIES

MARGT. VOGEL ROOSENBOOM.

Nº 7

Johannes Martinus Vrolyk

DUTCH: 1846-1896

A PASTURE IN HOLLAND

Water Color

Height, 21 inches; length, 30 inches

IN the foreground a brown and white cow is browsing on the rough herbage of a broad pasture, and near her stands a peasant in a blue blouse. The pasture is bounded on the right by an irregular hedge of small trees, and on the left, in the middle distance, are seen approaching a cow and calf, and several other cattle. The view extends across the broad, irregular pasture to a distant horizon, softened by the delicate mist of summer. The sky is nearly covered by luminous clouds, and a few birds flutter above the trees.

Signed at the lower right, JAN VROLYK.

Nº 8

Johannes Bosboom

DUTCH: 1817-1891

THE VILLAGE CANAL

Water Color

Height, 9 inches; length, 13 inches

A QUIET waterway, extending from the left foreground diagonally to the right, is bordered on either side by broad, level quays. On the left, lofty buildings with red-tiled roofs rise against the sky, and on either side of the canal grow great rank trees in full foliage, and through an opening between them is a glimpse of a sunlit building. The figures of women, in characteristic white caps, are seen here and there, one of them engaged in washing clothes on the far side of the canal.

Signed at the lower right, J. BOSBOOM.

FRENCH LANDSCAPE

Water Color

Height, 8½ inches; length, 12 inches

THIS is a view across an open valley, broken by a roadway and irregular pools of water, to distant tree-covered slopes. On the left, irregular masses of foliage are in strong silhouette against a luminous sky, and on the right rounded trees crown the steep declivity of a low hill. Near the foreground a few slender poplars grow on a low bank between a sandy road and a pool of water which reflects the light of the sky at the zenith.

DUTCH: 1838-1888

THE PEASANT'S HOME

Water Color

Height, 12 inches; width, 8½ inches

AN old Dutch peasant in rough garments, wooden shoes and with an apron tied around his waist, is engaged in sweeping the ground with a rough besom, near the corner of an old board hovel. A barrel partly filled with sticks stands near him, and beyond is suggested a grassy field bounded in the distance by a grove of slender trees.

Signed at the lower right, A. MAUVE.

Nº 11

Josef Israëls

DUTCH: 1824-

A PENSIVE SEWER

Water Color

Height, 13 inches; width, 8 inches

A YOUNG Dutch peasant woman is seated in a low kitchen chair near a latticed window, engaged in sewing upon a white garment, and while intent upon her work, her thoughts are evidently far away. She wears a white cap, a pink jacket and a black petticoat, and the figure is strongly lighted from the window on the left.

N° 12

George Poggenbeek

DUTCH: 1853-1903

Water Color

Height, 10½ inches; length, 16½ inches

FROM the right foreground a narrow canal, partly choked by a rank growth of reeds and rushes, crosses diagonally a broad, marshy meadow in which two spotted cows are lying on the grass and where pollarded willows grow. Water Color

Height, 13 inches; width, 10 inches

AN old peasant woman, wearing a white linen cap, an ample cloak with high collar over her shoulders and around her neck, and a black petticoat, sits in a low kitchen chair in front of a small fire on the hearth, warming her extended trembling hands, evidently enjoying the luxury of the fire.

Nº 14

Johannes Hendrik Weissenbruch

DUTCH: 1824-1903

A HEATH IN HOLLAND

Water Color

Height, 11 inches; length, 19 inches

A GREAT building, roughly thatched, with a door and window in its gable end, and its ridge irregular and broken, stands in an open waste. Four slender trees grow near the building, and are the only ones which break the irregular surface of the great pasture. Three cows are wandering across the field toward the building, apparently seeking shelter for the night. A few birds flutter high in the sky above, and the light of the setting sun is concentrated near the horizon and behind the rude structure.

Signed at the lower left, J. H. WEISSENBRUCH.

The figure is lighted from the upper right, and in the background is suggested the glass roof of the conservatory with a mass of flowering plants.

Signed at the lower right, ALB. NEUHUYS.

N° 17

Johannes Hendrik Weissenbruch

DUTCH: 1824-1903

A SUMMER DAY IN HOLLAND

Water Color

Height, 21½ inches; width, 13½ inches

FOUR spotted cattle, watched by a small boy in a blue blouse, broad white trousers, black cap and wooden shoes, are resting, partly in sunlight and partly in shadow, near a sandy road which leads from the foreground to a lofty straw stack in the distance overhung by tall trees in heavy foliage. The full summer sun falls upon the landscape, casting a broken shadow upon the middle distance and illuminating the great masses of vapor which fill the sky.

Signed at the lower right, J. H. WEISSENBRUCH.

N° 18

Jacob Maris

DUTCH: 1837-1899

VIEW OF DORDRECHT

Water Color

Height, 17½ inches; length, 22½ inches

THIS is a view across a broad canal in the populous Dutch town, showing a number of bluff-bowed vessels alongside the quay, and beyond are a number of houses alternating with clumps of trees, dominated by a lofty church tower. The sky is filled with luminous summer sunlit clouds.

Signed at the lower left, J. MARIS.

N° 19

Fredericus Jacobus du Chattel

DUTCH: 1856-

CANAL IN HOLLAND

Water Color

Height, 29 inches; width, 19½ inches

A NARROW canal extends in rapidly diminishing perspective from the foreground to the middle distance, where it is bounded by a meadow. The low banks of the canal are fringed with water-weeds, and on the left tall trees grow on either side of a country road. The calm waters, along which two swallows skim in rapid flight, reflect the luminous tones of the quiet evening sky, together with the forms of the lofty trees that grow along the bank.

N° 20

David Adolphe Constant Artz

DUTCH: 1837-1890

A FISHERWOMAN

Water Color

Height, 29½ inches; width, 20½ inches

THE life-sized head and shoulders of an old Dutch fisherwoman, her thin gray hair straggling out from underneath her neatly ironed white cap and her hands lying idly in her lap. Her face is in three-quarters view to the right, strongly lighted from the upper left, and bears a placid expression, which, however, tells the story of struggle in life.

Height, 8½ inches; length, 11½ inches

THIS is a study of an open grove of large trees, showing two great rough tree trunks rising out of the picture in the foreground, and beyond an open rank of other trees, with a glimpse of a pond and distant hillsides farther away, and a glowing autumn sky.

ALONG THE RIVER

Height, 10 inches; length, 15½ inches

BEYOND a quiet expanse of water which extends across the foreground is seen a broken muddy shore, gently sloping up to a fringe of low bushes, beyond which an irregular rank of poplar and other trees forms an irregular horizon line against a sky filled with rolling storm clouds touched here and there by brilliant sunlight.

Signed at the lower right, ARTZ.

THE FISHING BOAT

Height, 13¾ inches; width, 10¾ inches

IN the foreground, drawn up on the beach, is a small roughly constructed fishing boat with a single mast and lowered sail, apparently just landed after a good catch of skate, for the small cockpit is half filled with fish. A large one lies on the sand near the boat, and beyond, on the shingle-covered shore, stands a fisherwoman near a pile of fish, holding another large one in her hand. Following the line of a beach which sweeps away to the extreme distance, broken only by a single craft left high and dry by the tide, is a row of steep-roofed thatched cottages, touched here and there by a strong shaft of sunlight which breaks through the rolling storm clouds covering the sky.

INCOMING SEA

Height, 11½ inches; length, 16 inches

THIS is a view across a broad expanse of water, showing in the foreground a shoal with gently breaking waves in a succession of small combers, and farther away, beyond narrow sandy banks which show in luminous lines in the water, is a line of breakers on the edge of the sea, beyond which the sails of a few fishing vessels gleam in the sunlight and break the level of the high horizon.

APPLE BLOSSOMS

Height, 13½ inches; length, 20 inches

IN the near foreground in a flower-grown sward are three fruit trees in full blossom, their flower-laden branches almost concealing the sky and extending out of the picture at the top. Beyond the trees, on the far side of a low wattled fence which is flecked here and there by strong sunlight, are seen a farm-house and farm buildings among trees in full foliage.

A VILLAGE ROAD

Height, 14 inches; length, 19 inches

A BROAD road, partly overgrown by grass and extending across the foreground, leads between stone cottages with thatched roofs to an opening under overhanging trees in the distance. Three cows are walking along the road in the sunlight, apparently on their way to the pasture just outside the confines of the village.

Signed at the lower right, J. G. FISHER.

THE STREET MARKET

Height, 17 inches; width, 12½ inches

IN A small square in a large Dutch town the usual market is being held, and crowds of people are assembled around the booths in the shadow of the houses in a narrow street, which, on the left, extends away in perspective past the corner of a large brick church which raises a lofty cupola above a steep roof against the sky. The sunlight falls upon the scene from the left, accentuating the façades and gables of the houses along the street and the front of a small public building which stands under the very eaves of the church, overhung by a clump of leafless trees.

COW IN SUNLIGHT

Height, 10½ inches; length, 16½ inches

A DUN-COLORED cow, spotted with white, is standing in full sunlight in a broad pasture bounded by a rank of trees in the distance. She is facing to the right, with her head somewhat lowered and her ears thrown back, and is in strong effect of full sunlight from the upper right, the face, fore legs and fore shoulders being in luminous shadow.

COWS IN PASTURE

Height, 10¼ inches; length, 13½ inches

Two cows, one red and white and the other dun-colored, are standing in the sunlight in the corner of a rich pasture which is bordered by a hedge with a row of slender trees, showing a gate leading into a field beyond. On the right is the steep roof of a farm building rising above the surrounding trees, and in the horizon against a sunlit sky is suggested a second farm-house similarly situated.

THE FALCONERS

Height, 9½ inches; width, 7 inches

In an open glade in a great park or forest a small party of mounted falconers have been enjoying their hunt. One of them, who has been riding a white horse, has dismounted, and is conversing with a friend, apparently the host of the occasion, who, with a gesture of authority, is giving directions about the hunt. Beyond the horsemen stands an attendant in gay livery, carrying three of the hooded birds upon a perch, and behind the group a clump of trees in dense foliage rises high against a clouded sky through which the sunlight bursts and falls strongly upon the landscape.

THE ARTIST'S STUDIO—BOULOGNE

Height, 5½ inches; length, 8½ inches

FROM a rounded hilltop in the foreground, which is covered with rankly growing reeds and low bushes, the vista extends across a rolling country to the horizon, where the level line of the sea meets the sky. In the distance, on the left, a coppice in autumn foliage covers the hillside, and on the right the slopes are broken by patches of cultivated land. A few low, drifting clouds contrast with a high stratum of cirri, through rifts in which is seen the soft luminous summer sky.

Height, 7½ inches; length, 13½ inches

It is a breezy day at this famous Dutch watering place and fishing village, and a line of breakers tumbles on the shallow beach and dashes over the hulls of fishing vessels which, with partly lowered sails, are awaiting the fall of the tide. In the foreground on the left is a group of fisher folk, with ladies and gentlemen. Great sunlit cumuli drift across the sky, which is reflected here and there in the shallow pools in the sand.

A DISTANT VILLAGE

Height, 9½ inches; length, 15 inches

FROM the left foreground a deep and narrow river leads away, between grassy banks, to the middle distance, where it is crossed by a stone bridge with a single arch. Beyond the bridge, which is flanked on the right by an irregular hedge, and on the left by scattered clumps of trees and bushes, is a vista across a meadow to a distant village, dominated by a church with a lofty spire. The sky is covered with a luminous haze in which sunlit scuds are drifting, and the full light of a midday summer sun falls upon the landscape.

HOLLAND LANDSCAPE

Height, 8½ inches; length, 14 inches

A ROLLING tract of rough land extends away to the horizon, where the sky line is formed by bare hilltops, broken here and there by the branches of leafless trees which grow along a muddy road winding from the right foreground around to the left. A cart drawn by a white horse, accompanied by a peasant, approaches along the road. Large masses of sunlit vapor nearly cover the blue of the sky.

THE EDGE OF A FOREST

Height, 9½ inches; length, 14½ inches

A FEW cows are seen in a small open glade in a large forest, two of them near a large ledge of rock which rises out of the coarse grass on the top of a slight elevation in the left foreground, and two others are drinking in a shallow pool under the trees on the right. A rank of densely growing trees extends across the picture in the middle distance in strong contrast against the luminous blue of the summer sky, in which small lazily floating cumuli are strongly touched by the sunlight, which accentuates the slender trunk of a tree in the middle of the composition, and glints here and there upon the animals, the rock and the grass.

THE OLD FARMHOUSE

Height, 9 inches; length, 12½ inches

IN the foreground on the left is a whitewashed roughly thatched cottage, the gable touched by the sunlight as well as the side of a lean-to hovel. To the right of the cottage a number of small fruit trees with gnarled and twisted trunks and branches grow near a straw stack, and beneath them in the sunlight stands the figure of a peasant woman who has apparently been hanging her clothes to dry upon a rough sapling fence. The cottage and the trees are in contrast against a simple, quiet, but luminous sky. The near foreground and the distance, in which is suggested a clump of trees, are in full sunlight.

IN the foreground three tall elm trees, growing in a stone wall, rise out of the picture, and beyond them, across an enclosed sunlit meadow where a few cows are feeding, is seen on the left the whitewashed gable of a farmhouse, which is almost entirely concealed by lofty rounded trees in rich summer foliage, and which, in strong effect of light and shade, rise high against a cloudy sky. Through an opening in the rank of great trees, which extends across the middle distance, is a vista to a distant horizon across a pleasant wooded country.

Height, 12 inches; length, 16 inches

IN the left foreground a well-worn country road leads along the crest of a hill in rapidly diminishing perspective to the middle distance, where it disappears among the trees, and apparently descends into a wooded vale at the foot of the hill. Beyond the vale on the right is a broad broken hillside, with here and there trees and cultivated fields, and from the summit of one of the elevations a wreath of white smoke drifts away. THE motive for this picture was found in the broad pasture meadows of Holland, where narrow canals run through the land, and here and there trees break the monotony of the surface and the grass is dotted with feeding cattle. THIS is the full-length figure of an old man, dressed in rather shabby clothes and walking toward the spectator, his left hand resting on a short stick and his right hand extended as if gesticulating. His head is in three-quarters view to the left, strongly lighted from the upper left, and the background is a broken tone of gray.

SUNLIGHT

Height, 33½ inches; width, 24 inches

IN the rich grass near the doorway of a cottage a little Dutch girl is seated, plucking the petals from a bunch of flowers which she holds in her lap, while a tame goat, tethered to the tree under which the child sits, crops the herbage. In the gloom of the cottage interior is seen the mother, in characteristic costume. Strong sunlight touches the foliage of the tree, casts luminous shadows on the wall of the house, accentuates the figure of the child, and flecks here and there the grass.

A SHEPHERD AND HIS FLOCK—WINTER

Height, 24 inches; length, 36½ inches

AN old shepherd, half surrounded by his sheep, is leading his flock along a snow-covered road over the brow of a hill, presumably toward a distant shelter. The animals, discouraged by the cold, keep stolidly on their way, and the sheep dog, following his master, plods along alert, but not active. On the left a rough wooden fence bounds a bit of waste ground, which forms the horizon against a wintry sky glowing with the light of the setting sun.

THE FERRY

Height, 25½ inches; length, 32 inches

IN the foreground a large flat ferryboat, carrying a horse and cart, several peasants and four cows, has just reached the landing on a low muddy shore, and a horseman and two cows, which have apparently just left the boat, are seen on a sloping roadway which leads to the village on the bank farther away. On either side the placid stream are lofty poplars and other trees, partly in sunlight and partly in shadow, and a barge, with a single sail and bearing the French flag, quietly drifts down the stream. The time is early sunset, and the disk of the full moon is seen high in the simple quiet sky.

SPRINGTIME

Height, 26 inches; length, 37 inches

IN the foreground is the corner of an orchard with several apple trees in full fruit, dominated by a tall beech, which rises with rounded top high against a cloudy sky. On the right the orchard is bounded by a depression which is filled with flowering shrubs, and beyond, the view extends across a cultivated field to a hedge in which stands a poplar and another tree. The light in the sky is concentrated near the middle of the composition, and sunlight falls strongly upon the near foreground, the distant cultivated field, and gleams upon the wings of the birds soaring high above the earth.

A RIVER VIEW IN HOLLAND

Height, 25½ inches; length, 38½ inches

A WHITEWASHED farmhouse stands in a low meadow near a broad canal on the right of the composition, surrounded by pollarded willows and other trees. A small boat with a single oarsman is just leaving the shore at a rude landing near the farmhouse, and in the distance a number of peasants are seen at work in a cultivated field, their white garments gleaming in the sunlight. The quiet waters of the canal reflect the opposite shore, with its row of poplars and long farm buildings, and in the immediate foreground the trees and the cottages are mirrored in the still water. Great sunlit cumuli lazily float high up in the clear sky, and are reflected here and there in the canal.

THE LOCK IN WINTER

Height, 26½ inches; length, 40 inches

A BROAD canal in the middle distance is closed by a lock with curious windlasses surmounting the piers on either side. On the left is a row of houses in perspective along a road partly covered by snow, and on the right in the foreground is a double brick farmhouse with out-buildings surrounded by tall, leafless trees growing out of the low snow-covered canal bank. The sun has already set, and the glow of evening is concentrated at the horizon, where a few clouds gather, and is, together with the houses, trees and other objects, reflected in the quiet waters of the canal.

A ROW of pollarded willows, with several taller trees rising high against the summer sky, grow upon the low grassy bank of a shallow waterway. A herd of cows, some of them on the bank, others cooling themselves in the water, are watched by a peasant, who stands under the trees, and beyond, down the broad canal, which is half choked with bunches of reeds and water-weeds, a vista extends to a mysterious distance under a lofty summer sky with great drifting sun-tipped cumuli.

PASTURE NEAR THE DUNES

Height, 34 inches; length, 55 inches

EXTENDING across the foreground, a placid expanse of water reflects the sky, the distant dunes, the deep foliage of trees and the forms of cattle feeding on the pasture beyond. On the left a great clump of sunlit rounded trees raise their lofty crowns against the sky, and in the distance, across a broad marshy meadow, is a level line of sand dunes broken by irregular masses of verdure, terminated on the extreme right by a steep tree-clad slope, and showing beyond it a second line of dunes in the distance. Great rounded sunlit clouds float low in the sky, suggesting a quiet day in full midsummer.

THE FISHING FLEET

Height, 24½ inches; length, 52 inches

NEAR the foreground on the right a large fishing-boat, with sails partly lowered and the nets hoisted to the masthead, is stranded in the shallow water. The fishermen are unloading the catch, wading through the water and carrying the heavy baskets on their shoulders. To the left, and beyond, other craft are lazily drifting on the quiet water, which is broken near the shore by long lines of low breakers, and the view extends across the shimmering sea to where the horizon is lost in the summer mist, broken only by the shadows of the shapes of distant vessels. Small scuds drift across the sky, glowing with the warm light of the sun, which is far below the horizon.

IN THE CORNFIELD

Height, 26 inches; length, 40 inches

A BROAD wheat field has been reaped and the corn stacked in a long rank ready for threshing. A cart, upon which two men are loading the sheaves, forms the central object in the composition, and is in strong contrast against a turbulent sunlit sky beyond. On the right of the field is a piece of waste ground bounded by a hedge of low bushes and trees, around which flutters a flock of birds. Great masses of rolling clouds partly cover the sky, their edges touched by the sunlight, their shape and character threatening a succession of wind and rain storms.

EVENING IN THE HARBOR

Height, 22 inches; length, 27 inches

IN the foreground, on the right, a square-rigged vessel and two fore-and-aft craft are moored to a quay, and several small boats with oarsmen float nearby. On the left the estuary extends away to the distance, where the buildings of a hillside town are seen on one side, and a grassy slope with scattered cottages leads down to the water on the other. Two fishing vessels are drifting on the water in the middle distance, their sails glowing with the light of the sun, which is just disappearing behind the houses of the town. The warm sunset glow touches the edges of high drifting clouds, which nearly touch the sky, fills the shadows with luminous reflections and is re-echoed in the ripples of the water.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
