1920

This play was first performed at Farthingstone on June 19th, 1919, by Phyllis Reid (Hilda Gray) and Margot Sieveking (Gioconda), having been written at their request.

SQUARE PEGS

CHARACTERS.

HILDA

A MODERN GIRL.

GIOCONDA

A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VENETIAN.

SCENE.

The arrival of a taxicab is heard, off. Enter left, HILDA in summer hat and dress and with a light cloak on her arm. She carries a folding-map and a small book.

What's that? As certain as your name's Joe Billings

The taximeter points at fifteen shillings.

Well, and you've had a pound. What? Made a slip?

I thought five shillings was a handsome tip.

You want my father's home-address? 'The Haven,

Chad Crescent, Baystead, North-West 57.'

He'll write you out a cheque—I'm sure he will.

[Sound of a motor-horn growing fainter.]

The creature's gone. These taxi-men! But still—

At last I've found the Enchanted Garden... Wait:

Suppose that isn't really Merlin's Gate,

Nor this the garden where a girl who loathes

Our Twentieth Century (all except its clothes)
May turn the Book of Time to any page
And find herself back in a lovelier age?
The map will show. Yes, there's the gate, and there's
That wall, that table, these two empty chairs...
Everything's right. How wonderful, how splendid,
To know that here the roar of time has ended!
Now, let me see... [Consulting her map.]

 If I should take that road
What century should I have for my abode?
'To Ancient Rome.' Lovely!
[She starts to go out, right. Then stops.]

 It might be serious,
Though, if I chanced on Nero or Tiberius.
The Romans had no manners... This way here—
So the map says—would lead me to the year
Ten-sixty-six. I won't be such a fool
As go back where I stuck so long at school.
William the First was always dull. I know
He'd make me listen to him—standing so,
With Bayeux hands, knee crookèd, and neck bowed—
While he read all the Domesday Book aloud.
I shan't go there... Now, that's a pretty view!
[Referring to the map.]

'The Eighteenth Century: Boswell Avenue.'
I might try that. But no—that won't do either.
I'd have to wear a wig or tell them why there,
Love coffee-houses more than trees and birds
And talk in such tremendously long words.
I know, I know! If I can find the way
I'll wander back into the sumptuous day
When, in his gardens near the warm lagoon,
Titian gave feasts under the stars and moon.
That would be heavenly! Those were noble times.
There was a grandeur even about the crimes

Of people like the Borgias ... and their dresses,
And the sweet way they wore their hair in tresses,
And—oh, and everything! What was Titian's date?
I mustn't err into a time too late;
But how to make quite sure? I'll take a look
In this adorable fire-coloured book—
Addington Symonds... Oh, that I knew more!
Was it in fifteen-sixty or before?

[Settling herself in one of the chairs, she becomes absorbed in her book. Enter, right, GIOCONDA carrying two or three modern novels.]

GIOCONDA (speaking off, right).

I thank you, gondolier. You drowned my nurse
With true dramatic finish. Take this purse.
So—I am in that Garden where time speeds
Backward or forward as our fancy needs.
How sick I am of cloaks and ambuscades,
Of poison, daggers, moonlight serenades,
Of those dull dances that are all I get—
Pavane, gavotte, forlana, minuet—
And the long pageant of our life at Venice!
Now, in the Twentieth Century there is tennis,
With cream and strawberries round a chestnut-tree,
And day-long idling in the June-blue sea,
And soda-fountains, too, and motor-cars,
And Henley Weeks and Russian Ballet 'stars.'
Oh, what a wealth of joy that century has!
To think that I myself may learn to jazz!
Truly, I judge it has no slightest flaw—
The glorious age of Bennett, Wells, and Shaw.

[She sets her books on the table and curtsies to them.]

Gramercy now—Shaw, Bennett, Wells, and Co.—
Since you have shown me what I longed to know,
How to behave, talk, smoke, and bob my hair
In nineteen-twenty, when at last I'm there.

Could I but find a guide! How shall I tell
Which road to follow? If I listen well
I ought to hear the roaring of their trains,
Their motor-horns, their humming monoplanes...

[She listens intently for a moment.

The very bees are silent...

[Seeing HILDA.

Who is that?
Surely, unless the books have lied, her hat
Came from 'Roulette's,' in Portman Square, West One!
A Twentieth-Century girl! The thing is done—
I need but ask her which way London lies.

[Kissing her hand, right.

Farewell, Rialto! Farewell, Bridge of Sighs!

[She goes up to HILDA and curtsies ceremoniously.

Dear Signorina ... Signorina ... Deep
In Bennett's fragrant works, or can she sleep?
Could The Five Towns have bored her? Let me try
Once more. Most noble Signorina...

HILDA (starting up).

Why,
Who are you, lady? By your dress and ways
I think you must have come from Titian's days.

GIOCONDA.

Indeed, I do. Old Titian! How he talks!
He did my portrait last July in chalks.
But grant me the great liberty, I pray,
Of asking what your name is...

HILDA.

Hilda Gray.

GIOCONDA.

How sweet and to the point!

HILDA.

And yours?

GIOCONDA.

Gioconda

Francesca Violante Giulia della Bionda.

HILDA.

It is a poem in itself! It shines
Like the soft sheen on Tasso's velvet lines.
What can have led you to forego an age
When life was an illuminated page
From some superb romance?

GIOCONDA.

And what, I wonder,
Can have torn you and your rich time asunder?

HILDA.

I'll tell you, for I'm sure you'll sympathise.
I have a lover...

GIOCONDA.

That is no surprise.

HILDA.

And by the post this morning came a letter—

GIOCONDA.

From him?

HILDA.

From him.

GIOCONDA.

What could have happened better?

HILDA.

Ah! naturally you think that Harry writes
Of longing, suicide, and sleepless nights.
Did he, I'd read his letters ten times over—
But you don't know the Twentieth Century lover.
Oh, for a man who'd write through tears, all swimmily,
And woo me with grand metaphor and simile!
I couldn't bear the slang that Harry used
In asking for my hand.

GIOCONDA.

So you refused!

HILDA.

Yes, and came here to seek a braver time.

GIOCONDA.

How odd! I had a letter, all in rhyme,
Brought by a lackey to my father's gate
Just when dawn broke. As if I couldn't wait!
He dashed up, panting; and his horse's mouth
Was flecked with blood and foam...

HILDA (clasping her hands).

The passionate South!

GIOCONDA.

The fellow gave the letter, gasped, went red,
And straightway horse and lackey fell down dead.
I scanned the note, observed the flowery phrases

In which the writer smothered me with praises;
Compared them with the style of Bernard Shaw,
And told him briskly that he might withdraw.

HILDA.

If I could see that letter!

GIOCONDA.

So you shall,
Sweet friend—or, rather, right you are, old pal.
I'll read it.

[She produces a letter tied with rose-coloured ribbon.]

HILDA.

Do!... I see his passion's flood
Demands red ink.

GIOCONDA.

Oh dear, no—that's his blood.
Now, listen. Did you ever hear a style
Quite so absurd? I call it simply vile.

[Reading.]

'Adored Gioconda—glittering star
 Unsullied by the dusty world,
 Rich rose with leaves but half uncurled,
New Venus in thy dove-drawn car—
Have pity: drive thy wrath afar.
 Let Cupid's war-flag be upfurled,
 Lest by thy gentle hand be hurled
The mortal bolt that leaves no scar.

'So prays upon his aching knee
 Thy humble vassal, once the fear
Of Christendom, but now—woe's me!—
 One whose wild prayers Love will not hear,
Who treads the earth and has no home—
Giulio Pandolfo, Duke of Rome.'

HILDA.

Gioconda, what a lover!

GIOCONDA.

 So I think—
His brain a dictionary, his blood mere ink.

HILDA.

Oh, but I mean how fine a lover! Would
That mine could pen a letter half so good!

GIOCONDA.

How does he write?

HILDA.

Write! Would you deign to call
That 'writing'—this illiterate blotted scrawl?

[Reading.

'Dear Hilda, if you buy The Star
To-night, you mustn't for the world
Suppose he got my hair uncurled—
That blighter who kyboshed the car.
He had the worst of it by far
Because the hood on mine was furled.
Good Lord! what steep abuse he hurled!
Yours, Harry—with a nasty scar.

'P.S.—The cut's above the knee,
And won't be right just yet, I fear
Oh, and what price you marrying me?
Anything doing? Let me hear.
Ring up to-morrow, if you're home.
Where shall we do our bunk? To Rome?'

Now, wasn't that enough to make me mad?
It is a shame! It really is too bad!
'Dear Hilda'—plain 'dear'! And what girl could marry
A man who, when proposing, ends 'yours, Harry'?

GIOCONDA.

I love his downright manner. In my mind
I see him, a tall figure; and, behind,
His old two-seater. Yes, I see him plainly—
Close-cropped—

HILDA.

Half bald.

GIOCONDA.

Slow-moving—

HILDA.

And ungainly.

GIOCONDA.

A brow like H. G. Wells' my fancy draws,
An eye like Bennett's and a beard like Shaw's.
I know your Harry—just the English type,
A silent strong man married to his pipe,
With so few words, except about machines,
That he can never tell you what he means:
But were I his, and we two went a-walking,
What should that matter? I could do the talking.

HILDA.

Surely you see, Gioconda, I require
A lover who can make love with some fire.

GIOCONDA.

And I a lover so much overcome
By deep emotion that it leaves him dumb.

HILDA.

No poetry? Then, so far as I can tell,
The Twentieth Century ought to suit you well...
I've an idea!

GIOCONDA.

What is it?

HILDA.

 This: that you
Show me how best you'd like a man to woo.

GIOCONDA.

I will, I will!

HILDA.

Imagine, then, that I
Am she for whom you say you'd gladly die.
This is my room at Baystead: that's the street:
You must come in from there— [Leading her, left.
and then we meet.

GIOCONDA.

By Holy Church, a pretty sport to play!
God shield you, Signorina Hilda Grey! [Exit left.

HILDA.

Now—what's the time? It must be half-past four.
It is. I'll give him just one minute more.

[Looking at herself in a pocket-mirror, and making a toilet.

Goodness! I do look horrid... Will he bring
An emerald or a pearl engagement-ring?
He comes! I'll take pearls as a last resort.

Enter, left, GIOCONDA (carrying a pipe and a walking-stick).

GIOCONDA.

Well, and how are you? In the pink, old sport?

HILDA.

I'm glad to see you, Harry. Do sit down.

GIOCONDA.

'Some' heat to-day, what? Even here. In town
Perfectly awful. Got a match?

[She tries in vain to light the pipe from a match struck by HILDA.

I say,
Old thing—you really look top-hole to-day.

HILDA.

Well, naturally: I knew that you were coming.

[GIOCONDA pulls at her pipe in silence, pokes the floor with her stick, and shifts it from hand to hand.

You're very quiet.

GIOCONDA (with a start).

Oh! what's that you're thumbing?

[Goes over to HILDA and looks over her shoulder.

HILDA.

Addington Symonds.

GIOCONDA.

Any good?

HILDA.

Why—gorgeous!

You ought to read it—all about the Borgias.

GIOCONDA.

What are they? Oh, I see! I had enough

Up at the 'Varsity of that sort of stuff.

I say—oh, blast the thing, this pipe's a dud!

[She puts the pipe on the table.

HILDA.

You smoke too much. They say it slows the blood,

And that you simply can't afford.

[Pause.

GIOCONDA.

I say—

HILDA.

Well, what?

GIOCONDA.

You really look top-hole to-day.

HILDA.

How nice! But flattery always was your wont.

[Pause.

GIOCONDA.

I say—

HILDA.

That's just it, Harry dear—you don't.

GIOCONDA.

I came to ask you something...

[Producing a ring.

Ever seen

A ring like this? Not a bad sort of green.

HILDA (taking it).

Emeralds! I worship emeralds. They enthrone

All the luxuriant summer in a stone.

Do let me just see how it looks! The third

Finger, I think, is generally preferred?

How splendid! Won't she be delighted?

GIOCONDA.

Who?

HILDA.

Your dear Aunt Kate.

GIOCONDA.

I bought the thing for you.

HILDA.

Harry!

GIOCONDA.

You know—a what-d'you-call-it ring.

HILDA.

Engagement?

GIOCONDA.

That's the goods. And in the Spring
The parson gets our guinea. What about it?

HILDA.

See, how it fits! I couldn't do without it.

GIOCONDA.

Right-o! Then, that's that: good. But if you carry
A diary, jot down, 'Next Spring, marry Harry'—
You might forget. You've got a diary?

HILDA (bringing a small diary from her bag).

Look—

I did blush—buying an engagement-book!

GIOCONDA.

Well, how's the enemy? Good Lord! what a shock!
D'you know, old bean, it's more than five o'clock?

HILDA.

You'll have some tea?

GIOCONDA.

Can't. Sorry. Told two men

I'd play a foursome with them at 5.10.
You'd better make the fourth.

HILDA.

I really can't.
I've got some new delphiniums I must plant.

See you to-morrow, then.

HILDA.

You'll drive me frantic
If you're not just the teeniest bit romantic!

GIOCONDA.

It isn't done. You're absolutely wrong
In asking me to do that stunt. So long!

[She tosses the pipe and stick off, left.]

There! Did I play it well? You'd be my wife?

HILDA (sighing).

My dear, you played old Harry to the life—
His gaucherie...

GIOCONDA.

His noble self-command...

HILDA.

The way he shifts his cane from hand to hand...

GIOCONDA.

A nervous trick that shows how much he feels...

HILDA.

All I know is—I'd have a man who kneels
And pours out passion in a style as rippling
As the best Swinburne—or at least as Kipling.

GIOCONDA.

Then I'll now be your lady. To your part—
Woo me as you'd be wooed!

HILDA.

With all my heart!

[Catching up her cloak, she flings it over her shoulder.]

Last Miracle of the World, sainted, adored,
Divine Gioconda—hear me, I beg!

GIOCONDA.

My lord!

HILDA.

Dost know of passion? Is that heart so pure
As not to guess what torments I endure
Who for so long have sighed for thee in vain?
And wilt thou have no pity on my pain?
Wilt thou still spurn me as a thing abhorred
Whose only crime is to love thee?

GIOCONDA.

My lord—

HILDA.

Stay! I will brook no answer. For thy sake
Did I not paint the town in crimson-lake?
Have I not wrenched thee through thy nunnery-bars?
And bear I not some ninety-seven scars
Taken as I fought my way to thy fair feet?
Think how thy relatives rushed into the street

To save thee—how I put them to the sword
And left them strewn about in heaps!

GIOCONDA.

My lord—

HILDA.

Had I a boy's light love when I, to win
Thy favour, cut off all thy kith and kin?
Run through the list! Measure my love by that!
Two great-grandfathers (one, I own, was fat);
Five brothers; fourteen uncles; half a score
Of nephews (and I dare say even more);
A brace of maiden-aunts; a second-cousin;
And family connections by the dozen.
Does it not melt that pitiless heart of ice
To see thyself secured at such a price?

GIOCONDA.

My lord—

HILDA.

Or if indeed thy heart requires
Flame fiercer than my love's Etnaeian fires—
Ask what thou wilt, but do not ask that I
Live on. Command me, rather, how to die.
Say in what style thou'dst have me perish here,
So that at least my ardour win one tear!
Choose what thou wilt—I'll execute thy charge—
Nor fear to speak: my repertoire is large.
I can suspend myself upon a rafter;
Fall on my blade, and die with horrid laughter;
Leap from a height; read Bennett's books; or swallow
Poison—and, mark you, with no sweet to follow.

GIOCONDA.

My lord—

HILDA.

Thy choice is made?

GIOCONDA.

My lord—

HILDA.

Alack!

GIOCONDA.

I have accepted thee ten minutes back.

HILDA.

Then—I will deign to live. My castle stands
Four-towered among its olive-silvered lands.
Away! Away! Thou art all heaven to me!

[She drags GIOCONDA right. They break.]

GIOCONDA.

Wonderful! That's Pandolfo to a tee!

HILDA.

I should adore him!

GIOCONDA.

And I Harry, too...

If only you were I and I were you!
But soft! since here we stand beyond the range
Of Time, why don't we swop

HILDA.

You mean 'exchange'?

Why not? We will! [Moving quickly, right.
May Titian's age enfold me!

GIOCONDA.

Stop! Stop! You can't go yet. You haven't told me
Where I can find the Twentieth Century.

HILDA (leading her front, and pointing to the audience).

Then,

Behold its ladies and its gentlemen.

GIOCONDA.

What lovely people!... All the same, you know,
They're not as I have pictured them.

HILDA.

How so?

GIOCONDA.

They're all so still... And then—my fancy boggles
To see not one who's wearing motor-goggles!
How can I get among them?

HILDA.

You must jump

Down there.

GIOCONDA.

But that would mean a dreadful bump!

HILDA.

You want to go from fifteen-sixty sheer
To nineteen-twenty. 'Tis a jump, my dear...
And so—farewell! I come, I come at last—
O fire and sound and perfumes of the Past!

[She goes out quickly, right.]

GIOCONDA.

Her eyes were green. However hard he tries,
Pandolfo never can resist green eyes.
I know he'll die for her and not for me.
Why did I let her go? It shall not be!

[HILDA enters, right.]

HILDA.

It shall not be! Why did I let her go?
Harry will love her more than me, I know.
Gioconda!

GIOCONDA.

Hilda!

HILDA.

Somehow, after all,
I can't let Harry go beyond recall.
I think of his good heart: I know how proud
I'll be to watch him through a dusty cloud
When his new car, balanced upon one tire,
Rolls roistering through the lanes of Devonshire.

GIOCONDA.

I too, fair friend, perceive with sudden terror
The greatness of my momentary error.
I mustn't let you risk the enterprise...
Pandolfo never could endure green eyes!

HILDA.

Let us each make the best of her own age!

GIOCONDA.

But sometimes you will write me—just a page?

HILDA.

I will indeed. And you?

GIOCONDA.

And so will I.

Hilda—farewell!

HILDA.

Gioconda, dear—good-bye!

*[Standing in the middle of the stage, they take hands and kiss.
Then they come to the front, left and right.]*

So ends our fantasy—the slight design
Arisen and gone like sound in summer trees,

GIOCONDA.

The burden such as every mind may seize—
That in all centuries life is goodly wine!

HILDA.

Which has the more of joy, her age or mine,
We leave you to determine as you please.

GIOCONDA.

Mine has the painting-schools—the Sienese,
Venetian and unchallenged Florentine.

HILDA.

Mine has the knowledge that our mortal pains
Are fleeing from the skilled physician's arts.

GIOCONDA.

Mine the delight of unspoiled hills and plains,

Fair speech, adventure, and romantic hearts.

HILDA.

And mine a sense that, by the single sun
That all men share, the world for man is one.

If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, “Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation.”
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project

Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
