BEARS ***

THE STORY OF THE THREE BEARS.

THERE were once three bears, who lived in a wood,
Their porridge was thick, and their chairs and beds good.

The biggest bear, Bruin, was surly and rough;
His wife, Mrs. Bruin, was called Mammy Muff.
Their son, Tiny-cub, was like Dame Goose's lad;
He was not very good, nor yet very bad.

Now Bruin, the biggest—the surly old bear—
Had a great granite bowl, and a cast-iron chair.
Mammy Muffs bowl and chair you would no doubt prefer—

They were both made of brick-bats, but both suited her.

Young Tiny-cub's bowl, chair, and bed were the best,—

This, big bears and baby bears freely confessed.
Mr. B——, with his wife and his son, went one day
To take a short stroll, and a visit to pay.
He left the door open, “For,” said he, “no doubt
If our friend should call in, he will find us all out.”

It was only two miles from dark Hazel-nut Wood,
In which the great house of the three Bruins stood,
That there lived a young miss, daring, funny, and fair,

And from having bright curls, she was called Goldenhair.

She had roamed through the wood to see what she could see,

And she saw going walking the Bruins all three.

THE BEAR, WITH HIS WIFE AND SON, TAKES A WALK.

Said she to herself, "To rob bears is no sin;
The three bears have gone out, so I think I'll go in."
She entered their parlor, and she saw a great bowl,
And in it a spoon like a hair-cutter's pole.
"That porridge," said she "may stay long enough
there,

It tastes like the food of the surly old bear,”
She tried Mammy Muff’s, and she said, “Mrs. B
——,
I think your taste and my taste will never agree.”

GOLDENHAIR EATS UP TINY-CUB’S PORRIDGE.

Then she tried Tiny-Cub's bowl, and said, "This is nice;
I will put in some salt, and of bread a thick slice."

GOLDENHAIR BREAKS THE BOTTOM OUT OF TINY-CUB'S CHAIR.

The porridge she eat soon made her so great,
The chair that she sat on broke down with her weight;

The bottom fell out, and she cried in dismay,
“This is Tiny-cub’s chair, and oh, what will he say?
His papa is, I know, the most savage of bears,—
His mamma is a fury; but for her who cares?
I’m sure I do not; and then, as for her son,
That young bear, Tiny-cub—from him shall I run?
No, not I, indeed; but I will not sit here—
I shall next break the floor through—that’s what I most fear;”

So up-stairs she ran, and there three beds she found
She looked under each one, and she looked all around;

But no one she saw, so she got into bed—
It was surly old Bruin’s, and well stuffed with lead.
Mammy Muffs next she tried; it was stuffed with round stones,

So she got into Tiny-cub’s and rested her bones.
Goldenhair was asleep when the three bears came in.

THE BEARS COME HOME AND FIND THEIR PORRIDGE ALL GONE.

Said Big Bruin, "I'm hungry—to eat, let's begin—WHO HAS BEEN TO MY PORRIDGE?" he roared with such might;

His voice was like wind down the chimney at night.

"WHO HAS BEEN TO MY PORRIDGE?" growled out Mrs.
B——;

Her voice was like cats fighting up in a tree.

“WHO HAS BEEN TO MY PORRIDGE AND EATEN IT ALL?”

Young Tiny-cub said, in a voice very small,

“WHO HAS BEEN SITTING IN MY GREAT ARM CHAIR?”

In voice like a thunder-storm, roared the big bear.

“WHO HAS BEEN SITTING IN MY GOOD ARM CHAIR?”

Growled out Mammy Muff, like a sow in despair.

“WHO HAS SAT IN MY NICE CHAIR, AND BROKEN IT DOWN?”

Young Tiny-cub said, and so fierce was his frown,
That his mother with pride to his father said, “There!
See our pet Tiny-cub can look just like a bear,”
So roaring, and growling, and frowning, the bears,
One after the other, came running up-stairs.

THE BEARS FIND GOLDENHAIR ASLEEP IN TINY-CUB'S BED.

“WHO HAS BEEN UPON MY BED?” old Bruin roared out,
In a voice just like rain down a large water-spout.

“WHO HAS BEEN UPON MY BED?” growled out Mammy
Muff,

In a voice like her husband's, but not quite so rough.

"WHO IS LYING ON MY BED?" said young Tiny-Cub,

In a voice like hot water poured into a tub.
And Tiny-cub's breath was so hot as he spoke,
That Goldenhair dreamt of hot water, and woke.
She opened her eyes, and she saw the three bears,
And said, "Let me go, please, I'll soon run down stairs."
But big Bruin was angry, and shouted out, "No!
You had no right to come hither, and now you shan't go.
What we mean to do with you, ere long you shall find;
You can lie there and cry till I make up my mind."
To Mammy and Tiny then did big Bruin roar,
"Go and block up the chimney and nail up the door;
This Goldenhair now has got into a scrape,
And if I can help it, she shall not escape."

GOLDENHAIR JUMPS OUT OF THE WINDOW.

But Goldenhair saw that a window was there,
(It was always kept open to let in fresh air),
So she jumped out of bed—to the window she ran, Saying “Three bears, good-bye! Catch me now if you can!”

To the window the bears ran as fast as they could,

But Goldenhair flew like the wind through the wood.

She said the bears' breath had filled her with steam,
But when she grew older she said 'twas a dream,
And no doubt she was right to take such a view;
Still, some part of the story is certainly true,
For unto this day there is no one who dares,
To say that there never existed THREE BEARS.

If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
