

Awd Isaac, The Steeple Chase, and Other Poems

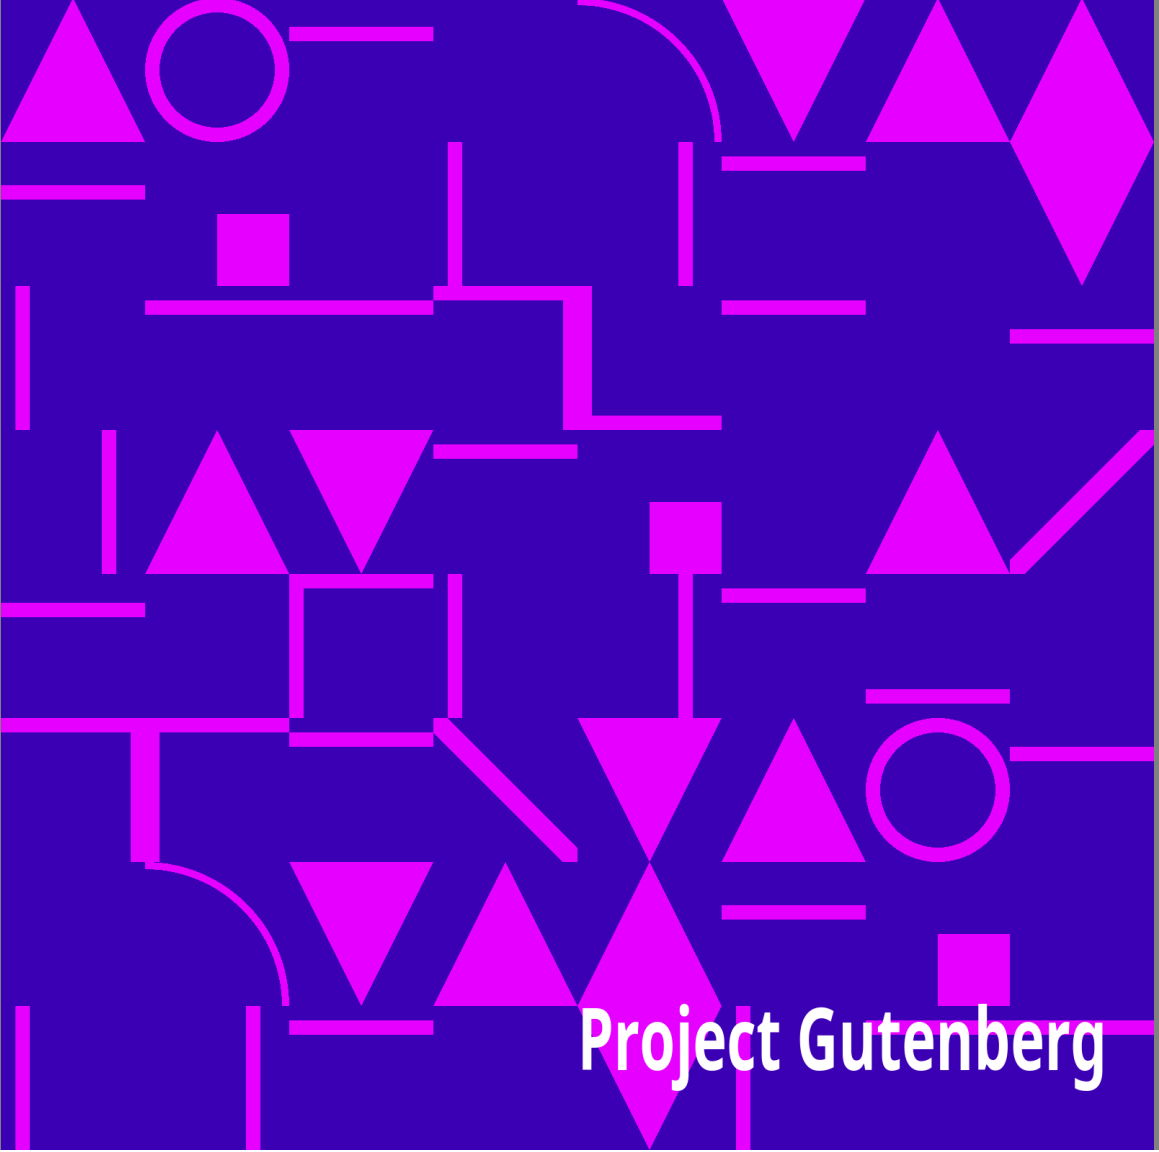

John Castillo

Project Gutenberg

Awd Isaac, The Steeple Chase, and Other Poems

John Castillo

An abstract geometric pattern consisting of various shapes like triangles, squares, circles, and lines in shades of blue and green, set against a dark background.

Project Gutenberg

The Project Gutenberg eBook of Awd Isaac, The Steeple Chase, and Other Poems

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

Title: Awd Isaac, The Steeple Chase, and Other Poems

Author: John Castillo

Release date: February 14, 2011 [eBook #35287]

Most recently updated: January 7, 2021

Language: English

Other information and formats: www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/35287

Credits: Produced by Brownfox and the Online Distributed Proofreading Team at <https://www.pgdp.net> (This file was produced from images generously made available by The Internet Archive)

*** START OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK AWD ISAAC, THE STEEPLE CHASE, AND OTHER POEMS ***

|                                   |
|-----------------------------------|
| TRANSCRIBERS' NOTES |
|-----------------------------------|

Dialect has been retained. Printer's errors and corrections are described at the end of the text.

Note that there is an index to the poems at the end of the text.

AWD ISAAC,
THE STEEPLE CHASE,
AND OTHER POEMS; WITH A GLOSSARY OF THE YORKSHIRE DIALECT:
BY JOHN CASTILLO.

WHITBY:
PUBLISHED BY HORNE & RICHARDSON.

1843.

PREFACE.

The Author of the following Poems prefixes a “Preface” to them, lest he should seem to be wanting in respect to his readers, did he not comply with a custom which is universal. In doing so, however, he would eschew two kinds of Preface, viz: that in which the author arrogates to himself the merit of having produced a work entirely new, both in subject, and in manner of expression, and on that score claims the plaudits of his friends and the public;—and that in which the author professes to feel himself inadequate to the task of composing a book, but at the pressing solicitation of his friends, with great distrust of his abilities for such a work, he yields to their entreaties, and pleads his inability in mitigation of the critic’s wrath. With respect to the former, the writer of the present volume professes not to offer to his readers any thing new, either as to matter, or to language; and as to the latter, the following pieces were most of them composed several years ago, at distant intervals of time, and were frequently perused by his friends long before he had thoughts of publishing them:—the character of his poetry is therefore pretty well known to those who are likely to become purchasers of his book; and it would be but a bungling apology did he attempt to shelter its defects under the plea of inability for his task.

It will be unnecessary to say much of the subjects sung of in the following poems. Though they are various, the author hopes they will all be found to contain a moral, which, if acted upon in common life, would direct the conduct to a beneficial end. Many of them are founded on facts which occurred in the writer’s neighbourhood, and which he has endeavoured to turn to a useful purpose. Others are of an experimental cast, and are the breathings of the poet’s heart when inflamed by Love Divine! It has been his constant aim to exhibit the workings of grace in the heart, its effects on the life, and the glorious futurity to which it conducts its possessor. For this purpose, he has seized on a variety of incidents known to many of his friends, which have furnished him with matter on which to graft a spiritual thought. Life in its spring tide, or when ebbing in death, home with its simple yet hallowed joys, a religious assembly rapt in devotion and love, a landscape endeared by the associations of youth or of kindred, a dilapidated church, a withering flower, a text of scripture—have supplied him with topics;—and he trusts that the doctrines which he has inculcated in connection with them will always be found to agree with the Word of God.

Of the “Dialect” in which some of the pieces are composed, the author deems it necessary to say a few words. It is well known that every county in England has its peculiarities of expression and pronunciation. These peculiarities, though often unintelligible to persons brought up at a distance, are yet the native language of the common inhabitants; and there is, in their estimation, a point and power in them, which are not to be found in more polished periods. The author has availed himself of the dialect of his native county to convey to a particular class of persons some important truths, which may, perhaps, be more welcomely received because clad in that garb. There may, indeed, appear to delicate ears, a rudeness approaching to barbarism, in the dialect which he has employed; but what is wanting in polish, will, in the estimation of those for whom he writes, be more than compensated by force and vigour. Truth is truth—however humble the habiliments in which it is dressed: nor does it come with less power to the heart because conveyed in language with which those for whom it was intended are familiar. Indeed, there is in that very familiarity something which arrests the attention and affects the heart. Of the correctness of this view, the author has many times seen proof, in the interest with which some of the pieces in the dialect have been listened to, by persons whose education being limited they could not perhaps have appreciated the beauties of polished verse, but were at once arrested and delighted when the artless tale was narrated in their mother tongue. To make this part of the work as complete as possible, great care has been used to render the orthography correct: published specimens of the Dialect have been consulted, as well as living authorities, and no pains have been spared that could contribute to make it complete both to the eye and to the ear. A difference of orthography may occasionally appear, caused by the necessity of making a rhyme;—excepting a few rare instances of this kind, a standard has been adopted which has not been departed from. For the assistance of those who are unacquainted with the dialect of the North Riding of Yorkshire, a copious glossary is appended to the work, by reference to which the meaning of any unknown term or phrase will at once be seen.

The author prays that the blessing of God may accompany his work!

AWD ISAAC.

(PART FIRST.)

vent heeame fra' wark,
'twur dark,
erful as a lark,
howght me-sel;
rist a bit,
op o't' hill.

nin oot ther ky;—
man com by;—
gud frind," sez I,
' rist yer legs;"
floor te buy,
twea'r three eggs.

fain te stop;—
is a prop;—
e lifted up,
thus compleean'd:—
a gud like feeace,
r still remeean'd.)

'mah deear young frind,
st at an end;
begins te bend,
white's mah hair;

efs, yoo may depend,
v hed mah share.”

le, it wur grand,
iderstand,—
aboon his hand,
vd fashion’d way;
ur wether tann’d,
iffil gray.

, “’at Scriptur sez,
able dress,
eghteousness,
’aith obtain’d;
yer leeaks express,
t praaze yoo’ve gain’d.

ud te jooak,
r warm te woak,
bit o’ tawk,
nings ’at’s past;
hez seeaf beeath heeard seen a vast.”

ath heeard an’ seen,
arrows keen,
ahl Ah hev beean
his life’s stage;
ingin scene,
yooth te age.

oo feeble’s man,
bud a span;”
began,
teears te tell;
wght like maane,
ill pleease ye weel.

mah wife," sez he,
y cross te me;
eeak off tot' sea,
ne young man,
his feeace mun see,
ten te yan.

off yah day,
irt, as they say,
iah lass away,
hoosin stuff;
}, she's deead, they say,
ng way off.

, an' gaain i'ten,
ood joined sum men,
an' leeam'd me-sen,
ite o' care;
gie up theer an' then,
woark ne mare.

. beean varry gud,
i'd stuck i't' mud,
n an' t'help o' God,
gits mah breead;
. be rewarded for't,
en Ah's law leead.

umforts gooan,
what way te ton,
igh an' mooan,
ath neeght an' day;
e, an' began
eead an' pray.

i' as Ah preea'd,
ner'd ower mah heead,
'sadly flay'd

dismal noises,
Ah thowght Ah heeard
ie ungkerd voices.

d te cum this way,
t bless the day,
ead me that way
s man te heear;
ad geean astray
monny a yeear.

o' Christ cumpell'd him, Ah beeheld him,
n kind frind hed tell'd him
mah heart;
e arrows pointed,
ad it smart.

n, 'at Ah wur reeght,
s all i'mah seeght,
n at his feet
solid grief;
l ha' deead afoore
fund relief.

; if yoo'll beleeave me,
te receeave me,
vad seean releave me,
wur mah keeper;
d nowght but greeave me,
cut me deeper.

mighty's froon,
atin up an' doon,
y nor i't' toon
a rist Ah fand;
, did me surroon',
eeaps o' sand.

repoort wur rais'd,
age it wur blaz'd,
gangin craz'd
nowght seea seer;
or days an' days
a sowl com near.

erlastin pains,
idless chains,
e, ran thruff mah veins
shivrin dreed;
an' Ah forgat
at mah breead.

n com ageean,
rt wur glad an' fain,
and for rain,
sat quite neear him;
lov mah sowl,
' bent te heear him.

s sarmon heeard,
nah sperits cheear'd,
neeght wur meeade,
appy man;
wi' all mah heart,
hen began.

ah sins forgeean,
his prisance beean,
cud wesh me cleean,
white as snaw,
' Him te reen
ahl heer below.

conflicts heer,
' faith an' preear,
lends an eear.

iff his deear Son;
i' whoop an' feear,
ravel on.

draws neear te Him,
wi' teears te swim,
t quite up te t' brim
t'luv o' God;
nare faith i' Him,
ods mah hod.

ed yon beck te swim,
his hill te clim,
'weeary lim'
sweaty broo;
rist Him in,
helps me throo.

life, sez he,
cubburt be,
rust, an' woormwood tea,
ven gall,
ods Christ te be,
sweet'ns all.

Ah deearly luv 'em,
d for t'repruv 'em
h tries te muv 'em,
heart sincere,
at Ah gets frev em,
uite severe.

te me-sel,
'sham'd the truth te tell,
rd oor awd kirk bell
g in te preear;
'll hear't i' hell
reead 'em theer.

on ther deead,
kinds o' treead,
ite undismay'd,
they've rung in;
wrl'd thay're owther wed,
heear akin.

's a stumlin block,
m on te t' rock,
ends a threead-bare frock
a new piece,
for his flock,
e gets t'fleece.

hristian breeght,
it wiv all his meeght,
r wiv deleeght,
gangs te heear him;
his people's bleead
truth 'll clear him.

ll 'em pat an' plain,
e boorn again,
n pain,
w'arld te cum;
e Christ i' time,
all ther's rum.

iversation,
'sowl's salvation,
'exhoortation.
oonsel sweet;
ows his persuasion,
y'll be reeght.

bud they're misteean,
zed they're boorne ageean;
t' fundation steean,

beelds o't' sand;
reead, till t'hoose is doon
it 'll stand.

e, "ift' truth wur knawn,
scious soul o'erthrawn,
at he hez sawn
oot effect;
er is ther awn,
iff sad neglect.

ien, an' women too,
l off ther broo,
his lesson throo,
eean fast asleep;
r better knew
ean seen te weep.

gle like a ship,
gies them a nip,
't'saxton's whip,
others' coughing;
i they've rubb'd their een,
y'll start a laffin.

e or fower skoor,
's had rulin pow'r,
p tracks across 'at moor,
constant gangin;
al, for this world's loore,
r heearts wur langin.

vver fairly seen,
own ther sins forgeean,
ther prayers hev been
ood as t'clark;
ed twea pair of een,
y've deed i't' dark.

ame o' Christian beears,
ne for monny yeears,
t'heead an' t'eears,
arldly care;
ve cause te feear,
y market theer.

hoose yah day,
his son did say,
mun away,
noorn te t' kirk,
reeghts next week,
um te woark.

sike a tackin,
or want o' mackin,
noo mun be at him,
um an' all;
r'd, an' then yah thrang,
leea for all.

ie gang roond t' farm,
' reeght gud taame,
lizzen't maand,
o'll loss thy chance;
three or fower at him,
at yance.

g a-feeat,
noo's seer te sweeat,
'll deea nowght bud freeat,
a tak awd Dragon;
n cum next week.
mend oor waggon.

't' coorse o't' weeak,
ect for te speeak,
emory seea weeak,

all forgotten;
ls 'at's been hawf heeal'd
wd serpent's bitten.

olded green an' gray,
up t'other day,
as mitch as thay
Sunday's sarmon;
't' subject tawk
um awd Jarman.

i's noo deead an' geean,
t way he's teean,
geean t'funt steean,
ack fooaks watches;
s i't' singin pew
'cuttin natches.

o' cultivation,
thoot salvation,
's o' this perswasion,
ath yoong an' awd;
/ ha' neea nooation,
deead an' cawd.

ot afoore't be lang,
ame been sadly wrang,
n be ower strang,
reeak or bend;
ey're ower thrang,
y can't attend.

ey'll leeave t'awd nest,
varry best,
g wi' t'rest,
'fair or reeaces;
ey nivver kest
ike like pleeaces.

er wi' wooden legs on,
vd men wi' wigs on,
fooks te run ther rigs on,
ne example,
st ther poor awd lims
itaames they trample.

vther sit nor lig,
ey're seea big,
ritons, rump an' rig,
whea can trist 'em,
r tiv a Whig,
ass 'll twist 'em?

er shoat o' seeght,
'r three sovrens breeght,
an' thinks it reeght,
' Roman stranger;
er up i't' street,
e Church in danger!"

prevent another,
cs, an' bother,
an't seeave his bruther,
ransom him;
t they try te smuther,
stratigem.

hodeys, they say,
rry mitch te deea,
ea nowght else bud pray
reead, an' preeach,
ad Methodeys,
in ther reeach.

o' this amaze,
re elder's days,
s an' honest prayers,

pious reeadins,
ot, as gud as theers,
all ther meetins.

beeath ther knees,
nder trees,
an' tearful ees,
' quite uncommon;
leed i' t' faith,
n what's cum'd on 'em.

geeane doon te hell,
al te tell,
or kindred dwell,
a we, like them,
an tak oor chance,
sink or swim.

rk amang yoong fooaks,
oor jovial spooarts,
s, an' storm oor pooarts
strange confusion;
we mun cry't all doon,
ere delusion.

nev attended,
seea eeasy mended,
s nut eeasy bended,
t's varry true;
nnut bend yoo see,
i breake i' noo.

veear te yeeare,
n oot ov repair,
s varry cleear,
y mud be mended;
e neea danger neear,
life is ended.

llutes the maund,
o te t' means desaun'd.
its wi't mainspring twain'd,
seea hard curl'd,
ay te git refined
other world.

ike mountebanks,
they ran on planks,
r jovial pranks,
l nut deceeave 'em;—
's stormy banks,
r cumforts leeave 'em.

nother way,
m neeght an' day,
her reead nor pray,
y've deean nowght wrang;
ll set it reeght,
ore 't be lang,

ean in alarm,
en t'heart wur warm,
um other taame,
ll send for thee;"
me, they didden't knaw
l ivver see.

' ther awn reeght,
it cum te t' leeght,
y git a seeght,
sud be seeav'd;
lissures sweet,
ance bereeav'd.

n i' t' burning leeake
feear an' queeake,
an neea pity teeake, ch theer hez sent 'em,

i' horrid sheeape,
n their torment 'em.

yan te deliver,
nnd neea cumfort nivver,
eap an' wail for ivver,
r harvest's past;
led, refuge fails 'em,
they're lost.

m an' destiny,
n te flee,
t where'er we be,
ead an' word,
ier folly see,
ton te God.

n noo seeaven yeear,"
riny tear
s as crystal cleear,
owther ee;
eal whahl Ah sit heer,
weel wi' me.

nin on ameean,
vur boon te reean,
's nut hawf deean,
Ah'v te tell;
y meeat ageean,
then, farewell!"

oase sorrows booarn,
feeature shooan,
and live alooan,
day te day;
se hed been mah awn,
com away.

AWD ISAAC.
(PART SECOND.)
TO WHICH IS ADDED,
HIS DYING ADVICE.

yon hill te clim,
rooase wi' him,
a pleeeasin dreeam,
hear te me;
d sike men as he
a few ther be.

e did detest,
varry best;
ser than the rest
' neeaburs roond,
e, wi' senses blest,
judgment soond.

neeght ov age,
e sacred page,
engage,
t race te run;
'spite o' Satan's rage,
praaaze hed won.

geean dim i' deeath,
n here on eearth,
er shell beneeath,
eealms o' day,
an' pain, an' deeath,
deean away.

neeeame or leeave,
ry thruff the sieve,
it set the screeve
ustice keen,
, or semibreeve,
ift him cleean.

ageenst him bring,—
n upon yah string,
lahtle king,
r fashions gay;
s!—That's the thing
y meean te say.

tells his teeal,
ary hill an' deean,
into cities steenal,
silent be;
sp his theeame
oss the sea.

g interview,
e he did renew,
hrase he drew,
thus began,
ir, an' frindship true,
e man te man.

, as weel thoo knaws,
ad expooase,
at, wi' all its flaws,

stick an' all,
the aged prood
a' offenses fall.

t a hint,
ory into prent,
ie coontry sent
ath left and reeght;
wi' gud intent,
luck gang wi' 't.

r meeant for gud,
nderstud;
t'language wud
am quite abrupt;—
flesh and bleead,
hearts corrupt.

nare at bleead an' breedin,
ey are reeadin,
dice is feedin,
stem's narrow,
e crack the beean
oft miss t'marrow.

r all oor caution,
eigh promotion;
or Rowland's Lotion
n'd by t'King;
l te self-devotion—
t's the thing.!

ams discontent,
eates i' parliament,
ns sent
er, all implorin;
is deep lament
ahl they're snoorin.

lood hangs dull,
an' they may pull;
s" the paper's full,
applause an' laughter:
poor John Bull
cum hereafter.

vait the end,
man, depend.
d is bad te mend,
most incurable!
ill defend,
kindness durable.

angely hev backslidden,
things 'at wur forbidden,
ace for te be hidden,
ctions fowl,
whooap is left
heer the sowl.

recommend
lives te mend,
the end
ord an' deed.
ver want a Frind
taame o' need.

ah stoory shoort,
critics spoort,
o greeave a soort
well upon.
yer next repoort,
sal be geean.

pearted last,
th decreeasing fast,
th the Nowthern blast,

ce fresh an' gay,
d te droop an' waste,
fade away.

i tack mah leave,
oonseel give,
ey deea beleeave
pprehend,
h'v a day te live
vill defend."

HIS DYING ADVICE.

y garden smiled,
it hed beguil'd,
t an' undefiled
aand an' feeature,
rsation held
his Creator.

ul monster sin
entrance in
ows did begin;
n Heaven froond,
ord o' Justice gleeam'd
all aroond.

tion wide, an' seean
his feearful reign;—
alice keen
it teea an' fraw,
sons o' men
werthraw.

sent his aid,
obey'd,
Daniel pray'd,
Gideon too;
roo mighty faith
y did subdue.

's altar's blazed,
gations gazed,
voices raaized,
trumpets soonded.
es stood amazed,
wur confoonded.

er'd i' the vale,
prevail;—
ppers o' Baal
werthrew,
n the living God
only true.

fice was pure,
it neegh ther door;
y wur secure
neeght or day;
ups o' flocks an' herds,
ond 'em lay.

owed ther childer hoo
her solemn voo, / leead 'em throo
desert land;
ll 'at wad nut boo
his command.

r childer teeach,
doctrine preeach,
as reeach
tender maand;
e manhood graw,
gud they'll finnd.

he serpent stung,
Deborah sung,
lebrews yoong

walk throo fire;
infant tongues
David's lyre.

aviour's love,
God will approve,
thoughts above
th's fleeting joys,
when tried 'll proov,
empty toys.

es ov' each age,
on i't' sacred page,
heart engage
them i' feight.
oor hostile fooas,
put te flight.

ples stand,
a weeary land,
beeacons grand,
mountains heeigh,
hovah's plann'd;
leeanger neeigh.

seea warldly wise,
ity an' lies,
ney'll despise,
a queer they live,
pper question ax,
nswer give.

can espy,
anoother's eye,
Paul Pry,
nark it doon;—
ssers by ide ther awn.

reams o' t' better soort,
s still resoort,
nack a spoort,
sins forgeean,
us shoot,
r arrows keen.

ees ther ways,
s oot ther days,
noo delays,
seer te cum;
human race,
i meet ther doom.

days are spent,
a nut repent,
i te hell be sent
evell theer,
i, an' pay ther rint
ack despair.

hen thoo doast see
erity,
reen bay tree,
edar tall;
firm decree,
i feeade an' fall!

t hez been sed,
be nut afraaid,
id be betray'd
her deceit;—
, an' nut upbreead, Sperit's leeght!”

xiety,
's pedigree,
s all a lee,

eead up thing;—
nut woth whahl,
proofs te bring.

knew—may read,
nce ov his creed;—
the lahtle seed
greeat success.
l, or whoor he deed,
left te guess.

DIALOGUE ON A STEEPLE CHASE

AT P*****NG, IN YORKSHIRE.

oo deea lad? What's t' news?
thoo on? Pinks or Blues?
nighty stir i' t' nation,
ttle conversation.
aw, is't reeght or wrang;—
erves is varry strang,
r i' mah pocket,
art oot ov its socket!

What is 't about,
matter, ther's neea doot!
y or Ranter bother,
tal thing or other.
n pass alang a street,
like yan's seer te meet,
ost sweear 'at black is white,
ier proselyte,

atter 'tis o' coorse,
pposition soorce,
erpool Recorder,
ie Succession order:
/ snug repoort,
iks hev geen 't support.
e noo te nooatice bring,
ase at P*****ng.

100's neean o' t' warst o' fellows,
loon a piece an' tell us,
nk it neea disgrace,
gthy Steeple Chase;
hen, an' whoor they run,
unney, or for fun.
en me an itchin eear,
g Ah wish'd te heear.

oon a sarten day,
n, but heeard 'em say;
nen hev hosses treean'd,
gree obteean'd,
eead, an' queerly towght,
ff or ower owght:
a sarten pleeace,
call the Steeple Chase.
ld they then present,
ruff the coountry sent,
le, Ah think they run,
ats,—the steekaks his awn.
her necks, wi' missin bridges,
tuck, wi' jumpin hedges.
i t' truth Ah sing,
loss at P*****ng.

oo quite surprises me,
en ov heeigh degree,
v neea mare respect
en's or hosses necks.

wght i' sike a keease!
s nowght at t' Steeple Chase!
le swap an' sell 'em,
hezzen't sense te tell 'em.
ase is suted quite,
al appetite.

ther Baable love, an' preear, bareish picking theer.

thoo izzen't ower severe,
onsel be sincere.
nonny curious links,
speeak awlus as he thinks.
el feel shock'd te think,
rush on ruin's brink:
be encouraged in,
a presumptuous sin.

i see this standard reeas'd, nare Ah stand ameeaz'd
rsons cannut see't,
leean it izzen't reeght!
idings sud procleeam,
it beear t'Christian neeame
divine advice,
xe a sweepin vice.

e t'satisfaction,
lerful attraction;
n freely use ther shanks,
m o' t' heeigher ranks, Malton, York, an' Leeds,
lofty mounted steeds,
ommost te behold,
hips, an' cheeans o' gold.
o' music, colours flying,
s o' mutton frying,
s on the wing,
nk, an' hear 'em sing,
teeables, orange stalls,
nuts, an' dancin dolls.
ute the carnal taste,
ond at t' Steeple Chase.

an hes gitten 't i' ther power
the sufferin poor,
r hedge an' dyke,
ay, just what they like.
ile they run these rigs,
lrink, an' dance ther jigs,
t o' noble ancestry,
eeple pedigree!
he cause te knaw,
e able te deea seea,—
macks the meer te gang, seeam reeght, an' reeght seeam wrang.”

d be te them meead knawn, silver's nut ther awn.
y abuse an' kill,
ord o' Zion's hill.
arn'd i' ivvery pleeace,
like wicked ways.
er's a God aboon,
er awn destruction doon.

en warn'd an' hev refus'd,
e gud things they hev abus'd;
se they breeak God's Law,
sum day let 'em knaw.
n breathe pernicious breathe,
n the verge o' deeth,
s—rayther than control,
r necks, an' loss ther sowl.

me by way o' jooak,
immed as he spooak,
rs pleeced wi'in a shoot,
n, 'at gat slipt oot. [\[A\]](#) oastin this indeed,—

' beeath fruit an' seed.
raad the warld wi' sizm,
te Socialism.
they will sum day rue,
e Baable true.
un pass a mighty change,
ppy hills they range!—
eal let us ton back,
rther fra' oor track.
s, the smiling sun,
e Steeple Chase begun.
rs the tumult steels,
eds, an' rumblin wheels.
v winks an' nods,
s, an' lofty wods.
ed for ther defence!
v Omnipotence!
rowlin in by skoors,
toons, an' off o' t' moors.
v locusts in they hale,
, Sleights, an' Harwood Dale.
n enchanted string,
croods tegither bring.
y roond the steeple swarm,
y see neea harm.

What harm, Joe, can there be,
a rarity:—
osses heeighly fed,
'squires at ther head;
, an' ladies gay,
ne floors i' May.
yooth, an' beauty shine,
, an' superfine.
naidens, yoong an' fair,
io they've taame te spare;
anners rough an' rude,

rah multitude.
men, 'at scarce can blow,
' whiskers white as snaw;
oor fallen race,
o t' Steeple Chase.
arvants leeave ther pleugh,
ister black an' blue,
credit an' ther neeame,
l them te stay at heeame.
; Ah com alang,
'd whah Ah waddn't gang,)
eks, an' shootherers brooad,
s up o' t' rooad.
i' words at yance declare,
an' ther hearts are theer.
7 sentence drop,
ey quickly try te stop.
ne splendid stand they meet,
blinnd man gud te see't;
ien's seea faanly drist!
hase,—whah whea wad miss't?

last it is desaun'd,
fascinate the maand;
e eagle's wings,
e thowghts o' better things.
full o' wardly wit,
all things noo are fit,
ds then roll up te see,
steeple witchery.
ney cum, or whoor they dwell,
per it 'll tell.
ses whea's they are,
at ther riders wear.
i' the rooad or noa,
pur away they goa;
n' dyke,—there's nowght can stop 'em,

ry God unprop em.
ver grass, or coorn
–or 'ats leeatly sown,
dare lift a hand, or say,
leean, or whea's te pay,
rofane, an' lafter lood,
the gaping crood;—
a yance religion luv'd,
tion'd, bud appruv'd!
an' secret thowght,
ay te judgment browght,
e sike wark as this,
eads te glorious bliss!
is seea blithe an' merry,
astaame for Awd Harry.
n cud be delighting,
e 'em drunk an' feighting.
amang t' people,
t up on to't steeple,
ov dismal jaws,
c wings, an' yawn'd applause:
d Emperor ov awd,
ier cock he rode,
id all at yance survey,
ceedings ov the day.
a whip he seized,
e spire he wur seea pleeased,
his cause defend,
it hed answer'd t'end.

nee te criticise,
greeat, seea rich, seea wise,
a doot, as weel as thee,
aven when they dee.
munney be bud lent,
at munney mun be spent.
nev example too,—

heer—What's that te thoo?

d miss ther passage heeame,
esthood they may bleame.
they are, an' t'Kirk's ther moother,
i't gang te hear neea other.
run a diff'rent race,
ll the Steeple Chase.
nnd i' Holy writ,
cums theer 'at are nut fit.

s te proove by argument,
ims theer mun first repent,
esus Christ forgiven,
e i' the rooad te heaven.
lissure they mun share,
ov faith an' prayer.
ie hev saving grace,
yance the Steeple Chase.

fell fra' leeght te dark,
ll afoore the ark,
od Pharaoh owerthrew,
' Goliath too.
ords i' sad supprise,
hed put out Samson's eyes.
ty men wur turn'd te dust, Steeple Chasers must.

t caps me fair te ken,
eeigh flying gentlemen,
hasing gang te t' kirk,
essed Sunday's wooark,
l ther might an' main,
inspir'd, this holy strain,
nverse be sincere,
ice as the noon-day clear,
seeing eye surveys

oughts, thy works and ways;”—
' kirk te t' Steeple Chase, right God's luv an' grace,
rs, an' shoot thruff t'nation,
cal succession!”

converse te a close,
is te expose,
mighty God doth hate,—
e unkind debate.
far 'at will reveal
fix the final seal.
n its teea late te rue,
ey hoped wur false—is true }
erlasting woe!

FOOTNOTES:

[\[A\]](#) It was a saying of one of the Riders, that he carried two or three loose necks in his pocket, in case anything happened to his own.

THE LUCKY DREAM, OR AN AWD THING RENEWED.

ght, or then aboot,
l wur frozen oot,
ontry frind,
te spend.
ross at moor,
furiously did stour:—
n'd, an' enter'd in,
ie as a king.
t'winder patter'd,
on t'chimler clatter'd,
n' seeam'd content,
or snaw lament.
ther sowing,
alth an' beauty glowing.
in cheerful chat
y neeaburs sat;
,—whoor they'd been,
beeath heeard an' seen;
nitch amuse,
itroduce.
sin," sez he,
tell'd te me,
aange i' this oor day,
h cannut say.
neybourheead,
ation gud,

ive w' stiddy care,
d i' repair.
curious dreeam,
unnin 'twur the seeam;
rigg he stood,
ws wad deea him gud.
eeath neeght an' day,
oase thowghts away,
e discontent,
nnon went!
ger te that toon,
ider'd up an' doon,
sterious hand,
ie teeak his stand;
l day by day,
e cum away,
rght he wur te bleeam,
oot a dreeam,
as he drew neear,
nd, what seek you here,
you soon and late?"
he did relate.
nan, "are empty things,
flit on silver'd wings;
ld let them pass:—
nd thus it was,
und this peopled ball,
e as Lealholm Hall;
place there be,
wn to me.
ark and deep,
ires nightly creep,
ps never tread,
reasure hid.
o doubt,
will find it out:
ight to me,

there to see!”
twice or thrice,
for his advice,
in wi’oot delay,
tak his way,
mark, an’ sped,
as t’ man hed sed,
in te flourish,
in i’ all the parish.
are, an’ weel they meeght,
s ginnes breeght!
ite ov feeame,
ky dreeam.

A STRANGE EFFUSION, OR WESLEYANISM AT EASBY,
IN THE STOKESLEY CIRCUIT:

Written when the Methodists were deprived of the place of worship in which they had been accustomed to meet.

at Easby, the Lord is amang 'em,
' temple 'at used te belang 'em,
ap afoore lang 'll be beelt,
ff Christ may hev pardon for guilt.
open a way out afoore 'em,
ns hev aim'd te devoor 'em.
r mariner fail'd at the helm,
id all the consarn owerwhelm;
ear'd ov all succour bereft,
l te freeghten t' few 'at wur left.
letarmin'd te be ther protection,
ort, an' gie 'em direction;
ny, they wadden't betray him,
xt, beeath te luv an' obey him.
content wi' ther steeple opinions,
k inroads on others' dominions;
en'ral the fat an' the wealthy,
hysic, they seldom are healthy.
y sud sike fair temples erect,

s in—they're swoorn te protect!
I finnd it o' yon side the fleead, ther garments all stain'd i' ther bleead!
der they mack sike a fuss,
ger fra' rebels like us:—
preeachers—hoo feearful the thowght—eeasons, or blacksmiths, or owght!
ay whet his awd grinders,
ives ther fetters an' blinders;
Easby 'at ken his awd sang,
ov beeath him an' his gang.
wi' taxes, wi' rates, an' oppression,
re oot o' the line o' succession, e's in't, he's a varry poor chance,
the Romans at yance.
d help him, an' think it all reeght,
rs, an' put oot ther leeght;
i, te butcher an' bon 'em,
eease they cannut owerton 'em!
Yatton, ther frinds will invite,
rotton, ther efforts unite;
r mortification an' pain,
i' t' wind, an' hev labour'd i' vain!

LEALHOLM BRIDGE.

A SOLILOQUY DURING A VISIT, AFTER SOME YEARS' ABSENCE.

m! Where shall I begin,
rt now, and once hast been?
of all my earthly joys,
ection only, rise!
ere'er I look no life appears,
cheerless aspect wears;
olate, thy swains are fled,
number'd with the dead;
e poor are sore oppress'd,
and widows are distress'd.
griefs may shortly end,
her, still may prove their friend.
ridge some faint idea brings,
llow comes and dips her wings;
er, and the rumbling mill,
ance to poor Lealholm still;
ol beautifies the scene,
æes are in its deepness seen,
es on the surface play,
o close, the summer's day;
from yon glen resound,
ling 's heard the village round;
pinion loudly shrieks,
ang on his rusty cheeks;
e water still supplies,
road shelves successive rise;

ine doth her hands employ,
e is fill'd by William Joy;
e swims upon the wave,
ould'ring in the silent grave;
sun escapes from sight,
ire to the shades of night.
alholm once in glory shone,
widow, sits alone!
n the people flock'd like bees,
ess of the country breeze;
here and there were seen,
hiskeys deck'd her level green;
were crowded all along,
s, or with lookers on.
n,"[\[C\]](#) then did through her valleys shine,
ught she never would decline;
in her sphere did move,
mation, life, and love:
nd gloom she disappears,
no longer Lealholm cheers!
rb, her borrow'd lustre's fled,
mb, she rests her head.
s my father's lot was cast,
o feel the bitter blast.
its victim did arrest,
the darlings of his breast.
e, when young was led,
to yon primrose bed,
etly sung the trees among,
s were happy, bright, and long.
thers of my age,
outhful sports engage.
e rov'd when life was new,
s and rugged caves to view;
wild, with sweets perfum'd the air,
ous, beautiful, and fair.
now the grove? The trees are gone!

the ocean are upon:
bringers yet survive,
her's name and place alive!
could we but see,
in eternity!
but they're for ever gone,
no more will they return!
and lessons learn afresh,
in an arm of flesh!—
rest not till we find
which satisfies the mind.
All my earthly joys are fled,
art thou for succour led?
all thy wants supply,
which never will run dry: Sharon's flowery field,
such holy incense yield:
and his dying love,
the glorious courts above!

FOOTNOTES:

[B] The Mill was built by Mr. Ord.

[C] Mrs. Moon, landlady of the Public House, who died during the Author's absence.

OLD SAM!
OR
THE EFFECTS OF THE GOSPEL.

Zion's tidings love,
Hopes are fix'd on things above,
It is centred in the fame,
Ers wrought through Jesus' name;—
Love, and evil hate,
Simple tale relate.
Coming to a village sent,
To lead people to repent;
God's mighty grace,
Looking for success.
He had a house prepared,
And many times been bared,
Village congregation,
Earnest seekers of salvation.
Famed Bruiser stood,
Often been stain'd with human blood;
He was so robust,
Fights in the dust.
The teacher fix'd his eye,
To declare the reason why;
The theme on which he dwelt,
And its force he felt.
The teacher all his actions knew,
How, pierc'd his conscience through;

heart was sick and sore,
d never felt before.
if an angel spoke,
his heart was broke,
d mount Sinai's thunder roll,
ery centre of his soul!
s soon humbled all his pride,
d, and loud for mercy cried.
said he, "Nay, who can tell?
ape the pit of Hell?"
e did salvation seek,
vn his long undaunted cheek:—
the sinner wept the more,—
that hour, ne'er wept before.
ghly anguish ceas'd,
s captive soul releas'd!
arcely could contain,
"a sinner's born again!"
ps'd—two of his mates had met,
d in a tavern sat,
nts that daily pass'd,
ius address'd at last.
at occurred the other day?
converted, people say!"
er says, with great surprise,
xer?" "Yes!" the other cries!
ough you may think it strange,
re is a wondrous change!"
ed! Pshaw! 'tis all a whim;
ch converted me as him;
an, I have no doubt,
all his religion out."
re other softly said,
s of better mettle made,
always bad to bend,
s I will still depend."
would a wager bet,

so far converted yet,
but, he would turn again,
the bloody cause maintain.
Their way direct they took,
the tavern's haunts forsook;
out to lead the van,
to save the poor old man.
The wheels rattled at the door,
like lions to devour
the man he had by his side,
the faithful Shepherd for his guide.
His Bible reading rose,
forth to meet the rebel goes;
they, "will fight for what you like!"
challenged, and dared old Sam to strike;
he smiled, as he before him stood,
and, thinking the cause not good;
gave no passion to control,
but said have mercy on thy soul!
Thou man of might,
whose voice once was my delight;
come, and to old Sam attend,
and prove thy awful end.
In what thou art in,
the same have been;
and see thee I've made to bend,
and boasting valour to an end.
That I'm another man,
since the day that this began;
and all thy boasts and brags,
as fall rattling on the flags!
God, whose power and grace divine,
in proud, rebellious heart of mine;
and hee forbids the blow,
and lay thy boasting prowess low.
Now, give old Sam thine hand,
and thou dost before him stand;

om once I did adore,
old Sam will fight no more;
eir money for their wives,
and reform their lives;
vation while they may,
“ God drives them away!”
peech so satisfied them all,
durst him a coward call.
er ’s fairly lost,” say they,
old Sam hath won the day!”
warrior stout and bold,
ions, and forsakes the old;
ise his ravish’d ears surround,
rstands, the joyful sound!
better master now,
ial friends to deal with too;
his Redeemer’s breast,
himself away to rest.

THOUGHTS ON GOOD FRIDAY:

Occasioned by seeing two “Sinkers” dragged out of a Coal Pit; one of them killed, the other dreadfully wounded. At a short distance, a busy crowd were preparing their tents and posts for the approaching races, on Easter Monday and Tuesday. On mentioning the fatal occurrence, and naming the day, a bystander exclaimed, “O, Good Friday is nought!”

None dim, as if in pain,
None so soon despised.
None did heedless man reprove,
None se than they, with early song
On which their Saviour bled.
None would e’er forget his love!
In the pit, the cheerful sinkers went,
Through all the gloom appear’d;
In the deep, grim death sat shrouded
Measuring their minutes!
None did bad;—they saw him not,
None so near, nor held dispute,
None might fall, to be his victim:—
None through wanton carelessness, None at of an angry God,
None brim full of splinter’d rock!
None his ponderous instrument,
None whizzing as it went!
None rash a victim fell,
None eas’d, till he had groan’d his last.
None the scene the monster stept,
None fingers hurl’d his dart:
None hush’d, but not so deep.
None saw the sufferers dragg’d,

and saw their mangled flesh.
th grief was quick interr'd,
lting cripple lives.
the man that says "Good Friday's nought?"
this, God's swift judgments, quested, fill these sheets;
o thinks, and judges right,
nd is Good Friday nought?
on which our Saviour bled,
to save by suff'ring!
unt for crimson crimes,
ce us guilty lepers clean?
ees, he feels it not!
nd felt it, though far off.
wn'd, and observ'd it too,
nd self-denial;
arch, when call'd, with holy joy,
's point, or burning stake.
, and felt to her foundations;
uin felt, and quak'd, and shiver'd;
ew dark; the heavens wept,
n dismal groanings howl'd!
and still feels in his bruis'd head.
, the King of Glory felt, subjects should have drunk:—
and the wilderness,
ment hall,—in Pilate's scourge,
and the scarlet robe!
th the rugged wood,
climb'd Calvary's steep brow!
amer and the nails
sh, though he offended not!
d, and crown of thorns!
sop, vinegar, and gall,
ngs, and the soldier's spear!
ghty crush, which should,
ush'd, his guilty murderers.

ortal part expir'd!
so do his disciples:
neck'd sinner feels it not;— ot, yet one day he shall!
nt, feast and garnish out
ren's birth days, and his own,
rds, and music, and the dance,
day, shall be blotted out!
, yet he shall regard it,
in majesty, and power,
r-bolts, and chariots of fire,
our his vengeance!
will wish to be his friends.
e his words and grace despis'd,
s were to begin again!—
er shall the guilty flee, n turns the good man pale!”

TO A WITHERED FLOWER!

upbraid me not!
at look so pale?
attention court,
urnful tale?
? Why bend thy neck?
ing, wan, and cold?
s thoughts a check,—
etting old!

upbraid me not!
he gentle breeze.
I have forgot,
7 degrees?
lieve my sight,
e fresh and gay;
so early blight,
irs fade away!

upbraid me not!
livening ray.
old or hot,
id decay!
I shake off thy leaf,
t so fair and clean?
with inward grief,—
agues within.

upbraid me still!

st thou hast gain'd.
le I will,
e explain'd.
f human life;
; tints are seen;
ail and brief,
tints of thine!

rich and gay,
the spoiler's hand
ft thy charms away,
—and let thee stand!
the blushing fair,
hardy stem,
perfum'd the air,—
v to me and them!

se task is done,
uit this vale of tears,
rt glass is run,
obler spheres.
fade away,
insecure;
short's their stay!
ng Flower!

to bless the day,
ispent,
y may
nd repent.
r of the truth,
nd thunders roll,
of my youth,
on on My soul!

THE COUNTRY LOVE FEAST.

(Held in an old Barn, Farndale, Yorkshire.)

in praise of Zion sing,
who her glad tidings bring,
no left the courts above,
is Father's love!
my heart and voice inspire,
can feel your heav'nly fire;
such a noble song,
an I can reach belong.
whose mercy and free grace,
either time or place,
the fallen sons of men,
s, and to pardon sin.
yet exalted place,
meet, the great I AM to praise.
e! what a place is this!
and type of future bliss!
rves us on which to tread,
with the spider's web:—
st righteousness compar'd,
y a lofty head's ensnar'd.
distinguish rich from poor,
ns glitter on the floor,
ents adorn the wall,
where men prostrate fall, ing the pulpit round,
e in this temple found,

note delights the ear,
ar,—our God is here!
or three sincerely meet, Zion's city turn'd their feet,
himself vouchsafes to be,
and set the prisoner free.
se we cheerfully disdain,
om company profane.
s by Jesus' grace,
ce dignifies the place.
bread of life is spread,
here now the ox is fed.
nem where Jesus lay,
holds a glorious day!
their travels to relate,
ere they enter'd mercy's gate.
eir eyes with tears did fill,
wilful of its will.
eir sins did them oppress,
lost souls with deep distress;
their burden did remove,
, and fill'd their hearts with love.
see each other's face,
ers in the work of grace.
eir cheerful hearts aspire,
y their bosoms fire.
e we think too soon are gone,
mented into one!
each to his distant home,
ord, let thy kingdom come!"
is Kingdom doth extend,
both by sea and land.
gh waving in the air,
gage in praise and prayer,
rm'd, the great assembly join,
igues, and sing in songs divine.
iers wipe their watery eyes,

pierce the bowing skies!
neath the power of God,
k to hear his Holy Word;
n a portion find to spare,
and bulwarks to repair.
ts round us rise,
ise their downcast eyes,
ves shout applause
d his victorious cause!

ODE TO BRITAIN.

ae! Thy virtues we commend;
nations shall extend.
not be hid,
while Heav'n lifts up thy head.
ae! O send the bible forth, corner of the earth;
richest blessings taste,
he glorious Gospel Feast.
ighly favour'd Isle!
unshine of Jehovah's smile.
s and daughters have enjoy'd,
to see, but were denied.
of discord soon will cease,
universal peace!
with plenty shall abound,
shipp'd the wide world around.
the lonely desert sings,
rong'd with prostrate Kings;
f honour and renown,
t to wear a crown!
e long—long wish'd for day,
h thy truth's enlightening ray,
all raise the song divine,
the heav'nly concert join.
Whites, a vast redeemed throng,
vell the mighty song;
and hail Him Lord and King,
world the Saviour's praises sing.

A VOICE FROM THE DEAD!

Written on being uncivilly treated, when erecting some Tombstones in —— Church Yard, where the Author was denied the use of any part of the Church, Porch, or Stable; was forbidden to Letter the Stone in the Church Yard, though it was more than a mile from the Church to the nearest convenient place for such a work; and was also denied the Keys of the Gate:—yet at that very time, the parson's horse and cow, were feeding on the grass, tearing up the graves, and breaking down the stones, while none dared to complain! On seeing the horse's leg sink into a grave up to the lisk, the following thoughts suggested themselves.

sturbs my rest,
coffin lid hath press'd,
ies the air to feel?—
orse's heel!

as there's to pay,
t quiet lay,
orse plough'd up,
a three-fold crop!

ccess they must pass,
bstone, and the grass,
g beside:—
never be denied!

lo the grass devour,
ig against the door!
ht,—'What's that to thou?'
orse or cow!

are not grumble,
conduct stumble!

le truth is told,
can get no hold.

mer was to sound,
ted ground,—
ay grind our bones
against the stones!

so are constituted,
are all polluted,
's horse or cow,
consecrated too!

op o'er our graves,
is into halves;
tears and groans,
of dead folks' bones!

flesh and blood!
not be withstood;
ard grief imparts
l tender hearts.

must never speak,
mpt to seek,
ures be content,
dain'd and sent.

lls upon the coast,
od makes his boast,
e flock endure,
leece secure!"

ce and living,
ather's giving;
re dispute,
: turn him out!

nduct be profane,
I dare not complain;
them his degrees,
in tythes and fees!

bour is in vain
; from bloody stain;
to show the road,
and to God!

Church decay,
: day by day,
is the law,—
t must be so.

: unknown,
ne Spirit born;
refin'd and pure,
eir scorn endure!

TO THE MOOR BIRDS IN A STORM.

or, I doubt you'll be poor,
n is quite likely to last;
ow, are shelter'd below,
are expos'd to the blast!

æp, the hill is so steep,
teps are feeble and slow,
ags, ye dear little things,
me over the snow!

, so you need not run,
le, nor spread out your tails;
you've nothing to fear,
her is down in the dales.

woe, through the valley below,
rds that are down in the wood;
port, that the gun is afloat,
r their feathers and blood.

, till the storm shall be spent,
er no envy or strife;
nay, on some future day,
nd escape with your life!

1, or chance to approach,
-footed classes domain;
stray, or fall out by the way,

nd to one but you're slain!

LINES ON RETURNING A BORROWED STICK OF SLENDERISH SIZE,

Which had been lent with a strict charge to take particular care of it, and to return it as soon as done with.

To MR. WILLIAM HORNER, of Ripon.

Thanks, I return thee thy switch,
Whom thou kept me out of the ditch.
When stumbling o'er hillock or stone,
Thou art better than none!

When the beclouded and darkness prevail'd,
Thou descending, its aid never fail'd;
Thy way, and assisted my sight,—
When I had slipp'd, it kept me upright.

When thou, or broke my command,
When it slipt out of my hand;
Thou without blame, for not taking more care,
Thou standest it always was there.

Not to find such a friend,
Whom I always so safely depend;—
When I most needed it paid most regard,
Thou art to me for using it hard!

THE THUNDER STORM.

, Almighty, matchless King,
wer, my muse presumes to sing;
protects, while thousands sleep,
oy on the mighty deep.
ils screen his naked head,
t fill the world with dread;
htnings flash, and thunders roll,
t peace into his soul!

, whose interposing power,
yon lonely moor,
ight of terror and alarm,
rv'd us all from harm!
. peril we record,
ory to the Lord;
stant Meeting we return'd,
it home our absence mourn'd!

s at once withdrew their light,
the horrors of the night,
der shook the sons of pride, e was severely tried!
in conversation sweet,
tning flash'd around our feet,— each believer's face
confidence and peace.

id then devoutly pray,

that awful hour away;
“Ye need not be afraid,
The Rock of Ages stay’d!”
And their lamps, and sweetly sung,
And each other clung,
Fire and flood they took their way,
Burden of their lay.

When the black clouds were driven,
The majesty of heaven;
An angel cleft the cloud,
In the glowing wrath of God,
Their thought, or sight of man,
In the flaming fluid ran;
Burst into a blaze,
And held it with amaze!

The world against that day,
Nought shall melt, and pass away!
Angels seem’d to own his nod,
“Prepare to meet thy God!”
The eternal King,
Safe home His praise to sing.
And keep his Holy Word,
The royal law of God!

THE MISER'S AWAY!

and he'll never come back,
old guineas to crack,
re, of potatoes and fish,
ys a more plentiful dish.
n to pass by his door,
seldom was cross'd by the poor,
n its innocent play,
e-thrumm'd—"The Miser's away!"

veller, to shorten the mile,
asion to go by the style;
ts, his spirit revives,
w, and sooner arrives.
fields the pathway doth lie,
o'd the dint of his eye.
s and creaks, seems to say,
welcome'—"The Miser's away!"

rtake, long kept without fence,
ation, for fear of expence,
he spade, the rough is made plain,
ung husbandman scatters the grain.
f the gimmer decay'd on the ground,
ars were every where found,
owing, all smiling and gay;
but—"The Miser's away!"

ay to the green holly bush,

tries to outrival the thrush;
inches on fluttering wing,
aches, and merrily sing.
garden around the bee-hive, shness begin to revive,
der their beauties display,
fume—"The Miser's away!"

l books his Sabbaths he spent,
c sat making comment;—
d be the best method to use, rcase, his money, and shoes;—
ctor, and preacher likewise, heap, like a mountain would rise!
'd up, by night and by day,
for—"The Miser's away!"

THE MISTAKE:

Containing a Moral for high looks, and forward folks.

it of skill, and sight,
ge o'er hill and dale;
d you shall hear,
d homely tale.
, who seldom roam,
ther than the mill,
e, and mind your eyes,
ur guns lie still.
as you shall hear,
g was erected,
s breadth and height,
rkmen were collected.

before yon hill
ed with the sun,
mallet had,
tering begun;
is, had 'scaped the fox,
and feather'd too;
piring they
ig, and off they flew.
ey quick did scale,
wall unscar'd,
and down they dropt
ot from the yard.

h a gun
ducks to secure,—
t, with which he thought,
at least one fewer.
lew, the contents flew,
egan to cry,
t, and left our sight,
d we it espy.
full swiftly ran,
up his game,—
he people laugh'd,
s wild duck tame!

ie gaz'd around,
ig at such abuse,—
or else she might
s'd for a wild goose.
, the ducks soon meet,
their frolic o'er,
hey seem to say,
ly so high no more.
ay, our skill betray,
ns they speak louder;
e'd saved his skill,
his shot and powder!

THE BROKEN SEAL.

tes clouded fame,
; and tries to soar;
say, "Blot out her name,
ard no more,"
: to reveal,
broken Seal!

ad her day;—
ht the morning shone,
ar astray,
better things had known;
ancient tribe could tell,
eir title with a Seal.

bouring man,
; voice to hear,
ion's plan,
m year to year;
e preach'd the gospel real,
rse must have a Seal!

nsform'd and new,
ook him in,
disciple true,
of his sin;—
his wife did steal,
is mysterious Seal!

conditions hung,
s continued whole,
ght, and faith was strong,
ther fail nor fall;
d rescue those from hell,
to crack or break the Seal!

ertain day,
e store,
o survey;
e rummag'd o'er,
tion turn'd him pale,
eiv'd he'd broke his Seal!

g with deep dismay,
tormenting fears,
et night and day,
ence in his ears,
anst thy crime conceal,
ou hast broke thy Seal!"

mighty from on high,
hot lightnings pour,
om'd to die,
the hottest shower;—
him his wrath reveal,
ke the fatal Seal!

r once or twice,
nd tearful eye,
for advice,
ness did descry;
onscience seem'd to feel,
broken with his Seal!

without delay,
e sinner's friend,
atch and pray,

God depend,
ious blood could heal
gh he had broke his Seal!

ng prayer,
on of God,
s of despair,
on in His blood,
transport he did feel,
day he broke the Seal!

THE STONE:

Composed to gratify a Scottish Rhymer, and brother mason.

t about a stone?
se is there in that?
ere's none:

I'll tell you what!
r woods I've been,
, and alone,
s I have seen,
d within a stone!

ugh life's troubled scenes,
m'd with care and grief,
wilderness,
lful of relief:
every one,
my troubles known,—
ful in this world,
ed it by a stone!

es, and estates,
ts, and of steeds,
y wind or steam,
e of mighty deeds:
I desire,
or alone,
nce, health of mind,
ing at a stone!

les, dukes and lords,
plendid castles rise,
l lofty towers,
nost to the skies;
inth make their boast,
blig'd to own,
from first to last,
who hew the stone!

modern days,
stem new prevails,
former ways,
on's art now fails:
masons still,
each other own,
empt of skill
e a stone!

d, and not disgrace,
er-builder's plan,
empests fierce,
the age of man!
ositions curl'd,
id their columns thrown,
e in the world,
was built of stone!

n at first arose,
was made upright,
of Heaven chose,
r'd him with delight.
( 'tis thought by some,)
od's image shone,
e been our doom,
nd polish stone.

by mortal sin,
e the deed is done,
s long have been,
t we cannot shun:
m perfection fell,
lid make him groan,
aid for him,
oundation stone!"

o multiply,
lefil'd the heart,

own with pitying eye,
n he could not part.
d moon by night,
kling stars that shone,
ejoice, and sing,
st, the corner stone!”

stone shall fall,
ely broken be,
heal’d again,
rom sin set free:
is stone shall fall,
the Almighty’s frown;
l as powder small,
upendous stone!

man of God,
el’s flock did lead,
n of duty trod,
or them did plead,
h the Lord,
with glory shone,
nai bore,
les made of stone!”

rael’s seed,
, as we’re told,
absence made,
molten gold;
s griev’d heart ache,
gs till then unknown,
at once, and brake
les made of stone!”

t such flagrant sins,
erhaps conceal’d,
when all things,
shall be reveal’d:

great cause to fear,
e truth would own,
ich they revere
or precious stone.

1 Israel's armies brave,
ting challenge ran,
1 sent to Saul,
im out a man,
le combat fight,
hould be o'erthrown,
ink that day
g by a stone!

le the earth to bend,
t swell'd with pride,
his greaves of brass,
el's God defied.
a stripling sprung,
le the monster groan,
irling sling he threw,
le,—fatal stone!

been overthrown,
s sack'd within,
nples broken down,
ffects of sin:—
did foreshow,
of Babylon,
ig deep he threw,
nd mighty stone!

lly favour'd son,
le first began,
ntains brought a stone,
em'd a pest to man:
l it o'er and o'er,
ith haughty scorn,

l'd aside
age, unshapely stone!

tumbling lay,
t of disdain,
ertain day,
ery did explain.
st pinnacle,
and adorn
one would do so well
jected stone!

'er was seen,
mortal eye,
and Israel sung,
men wept for joy.
eir temple rear'd
ves are forc'd to own,
lders once refus'd
e Corner Stone!

favour'd sons,
rts by grace refined,
o living stones,
er ends design'd.
structure rears,
ects them in one,
—and JESUS is
; the corner stone!

was perceiv'd,
the record stands,
ountains should proceed,
s without hands;
uld greater grow,
hty Kings dethrone,
fill'd below,
amazing stone!

d sent his Son,"
g to His word,
ion was begun,
'd with precious blood;
elt on earth below,
e salvation known,
ivenly love to flow
once hard as stone!

cruel Jews,
from day to day,
abuse,
ute and slay.
is Angels charge,
anointed one,
should dash
against a stone!

ulness to prove,
e world must die,
en to wicked men,
l to crucify.
t that event,
l His dying groan,
d the rocks were rent,— s of solid stone!

llow'd Him,
e lay in the grave
or Joseph's tomb,
His body crave:
cts should destroy,
be overthrown,
nd set a guard,
'd the mighty stone!

ould not confine
our to His cell,

ower divine,
f Earth and Hell:
His suffering Son,”
es Him then alone,
omes by night,
away the stone!”

ond’ring view,
nphs o’er His foes,
ssed record true,
in and death oppose:
He reigns,
alted throne,
on earth retains,
hearts of stone!

come through Him,
and a new name
ne can read but they,
rstand the same.
e His joys divine,
n glittering thrones,
eets whose pavements shine
l, or precious stones!

TO THE RISING SUN! ON A FROSTY MORNING.

bright regent of the day;
hine all cheering ray:
ow, a visit thus from thee,
and frozen finger free!

he Majesty on high,
ns, the Lord of earth and sky!
hailstones melt away,
turns darkness into day.

he sloping dale I've eyed,
e from the mountain side;
upon yon hills to be,
able ray from thee.

er's breath is cold and keen,
ave lost their lovely green,
e from the mountains roam,
rs low, to take them home.

oy stops to clap his hands,
dances where she stands;
d, have thought thy coming long,
welcome with a song!

lands they worship thee,
ntain tops thy light they see:

h homage dost receive,
he glory give.

, the drooping sinner cheers,
lt, and overwhelm'd with fears:
uncreated Sun,
xes long frozen fountains run!

, the soul to purify,
g water from on high,
thin the soul remain,
shall never freeze again!

drinks of this pure wave,
e shall no relish have,
e turbulence of life,
r free from care and strife.

l! thy blessings richly pour,
n world from hour to hour!
is, O visit every vale,
soul thine influence feel!

LINES IN MEMORY OF THE REV. D. DUCK, CURATE OF DANBY.

When Daniel's gone,
Lament their loss;
Their eyes upon
The cross!

When at the gate,
His silver'd hair,
All, both small and great,
Join the ardent prayer!

When grave-scenes call,
Tears are seen to flow,—
To the earth did fall,
The dust below.

Altar stands,
The hallow'd bread,
And lifted hands,
The soul is fed!

When saints among,
Others now ascend,
Which he so long,
Would recommend.

AN ELEGY ON THE DEATH OF A BELOVED CHILD.

lovely boy!
much haste away?
no tempting toy,
why longer stay?

the day before,
thy Father's knee,—
how or the door,
what unusual glee?

wakeful eye,
think it might be so,
as passing by,
wouldst thee to go!

other things,
have felt and fear'd,
the sound of wings,
the room was heard!

vision seen
of our God?
mountains been,
and angels trod?

the melody
fills the courts above?

shown to thee
ns of his love?

thou should'st look
on all below;—
of the brook
ving waters flow!

th such delight,
w the rising sun:
thine eye so bright,
er to be gone!

nong heaven's choirs,
n that thou shalt wear,
fond desires,
hee longer here.

r's griefs and joys,
y longer stayed,
d wicked boys,
o evil strayed;—

iour disobey'd,
l thy soul to save,
might have been laid,
ow in the grave.

ourn for thee,
l that wrong forgive,
each day, that we
ay walk and live.

ut pierce the gloom
ers round our clay,
early tomb,
at's old and grey!

the songs they sing,
the robes they wear,
the resolutions wing,
things to be there.

only harpers young,
the sacred fires;
    fingers run
the golden wires;

    forget his grief,
    licts here below,
    's soul relief,
    guishings to go!

forsake our sin,
    s Christ adore,
    ution in,
    our God no more.

His house resort,
    and watch, and pray,
    blissful port
    ars are wiped away.

ON THE FIRST TEXT HEARD SPIRITUALLY.

(“My heart is fixed.”—Psalm lvii. 7.)

ing, “My heart is fix’d!”
r stone in Zion laid;)
nd heard the blessed text,
ng, wandering thoughts were stay’d.

with an angel’s voice,
once like lightning fled!
l soul did then rejoice!
sen from the dead!

who wrote such words as these,
ase like mine;
never reach’d my ears,
‘ with such lustre shine!

id, may not that beauty see,
that sin sick hearts console,
ssed text to me,
spoke peace unto my soul!

is like the wind that blows!
it sweeps through the wood,
now not where it goes,—
e that’s born of God!

ly soul is sick of love!”—
l every one I see;

wns, my happy soul can move,
r is alike to me!

uch rebels still receive?
' such a wretch as I?
one so vile might live?
in and misery!

doth invite to come;
'or all his grace is free!
Christ, there yet is room
'ir guilt and misery.

y Friend, I cannot doubt,
doth to me impart;
ig man arm'd, and cast him out,
; stream into my heart!

n thus to life restor'd,
e genuine hope begins;
who truly finds the Lord,
is heaven, must lose his sins!

o the thing that's right, / true obedience show;
tle, strive, rebuke, and fight,
y, and to perfection grow!

re here on earth is past,
his chilling hand shall lay,
y ransom'd soul at last,
ith Him, in endless day!

TO A SQUIRREL IN A CAGE.

Free and gay,
Flee away!
Nights resign,
As thine!

As suits thee best,
When to rest:
Care and strife,
Thy life.

From dawn,
Work alone;
Sleep,
Light machine.

The slender wires,
In strength requires;—
Light or fair,
Light as air!

Wail,
Thy bushy tail:
Mischiefous prank,
Muntebank!

Bars o'er thee break,
Tensions seem to shake,
And dismay,

, but spin'st away.

good,
f the wood,
wander free,
n tree to tree.

thee things better went,
y and content,
supply thy lack,
it to crack.

at it in thy paw,
end or foe,
ine eye impart
rateful heart.

thin thy cage,
e battle's rage;
nd action brave,
-thou'rt not a slave!

ne other day,
e to come this way,
! I'll bring,
woodland thing!

e and gay,
fe away!
e might resign,
thine!

TO A BIRD SINGING IN WINTER.

d, so cheerfully sing,
things around look so sad?
sent, as touching the spring,
ise to be sorry, not glad!

l in loveliest hue,
e the green meadows look gay,
t'st have mounted thy bough,
bled thy minutes away.

ff, and still in the copse,
winter's snow doth descend,
harp frosts, may yet blast thy hopes,
g thy sweet song to an end.

s, in bush, or in wood,
may be caught in a snare,
eking a morsel of food,
ive, ere thou art aware.

when thou hast no barn,
to lay up thy grain?
tes, while unthankful man,
is heard to complain?

g when there are no flowers,
the valley to shine?
prospects are brighter than ours,

t more contented than mine!

PETCH'S ELEGY!

Earth is our abode on earth!
Years since we sprang forth:
No sparkle in our eye,
But to decline and die!

Now a victim lies
Whose hand hath closed his eyes!
Tired of his toil and care;
No more his voice we hear.

He moves within his hands,
No more his skill demands:
—his spirit's gone to rest,
His number'd with the blest!

Here he did bemoan, Forsworn to be borne;
A week before he died,
None, and all his wants supplied

Whom blood he did believe,
Whom love to him did give:
They fill'd us with surprise,
Tears flow'd from our eyes!

And in God's pardoning grace,
Once beaming in his face;
In icy arms of death,

with his departing breath

in health, and free from pain, poss'd the dewy plain,
; stars had disappear'd,
the woodlands cheer'd!

been partners through the day,
our nightly hours away!
gone! Can I forbear
my cheek the rolling tear?

his voice shall mix with mine,
or in songs divine!
ern to be prepar'd,
d meet my just reward.

raise a vile report,
his charge that he knew not:
to be with Christ on high,
nd may their power defy.

approach at once may cease;
disturb our brother's peace!
can never pierce his soul,
hath reach'd the goal!

we hope to meet again,
s in a nobler strain,
eat Prophet, Priest, and King,
sty doth reign!

REFLECTIONS ON PETCH'S TOMB.

! Thy endless portion's fix'd!
hee, so shall judgment find:
world of spirits mix'd,
ering tenement behind!

e, thou the other day,
n in this world of cares;
thy soul hath slipt away,
and a thousand snares!

than common bloom did wear,
sic sweetly did agree;
y, thy complexion fair:—
r life, I'd chosen thee!

lwelt on some future scene,
than was allow'd,
n drew a veil between,
d thee an early shroud!

e, while I thus survey
here thy remains are laid,
or the great judgment day!
ill thy destiny decide!

g in the gloomy grave,
n which I now exist;
from hell thy soul might save,— s, or thou wilt ne'er be blest!"

, reflecting on my theme,
y great sins now past,
f God, thy passport been,
gn'd to smile on thee at last!

en some proof of penitence,
l oft the bless'd effect,
, through disobedience,
er would thy soul reject.

power of grace divine,
dying thief upon the cross,
ubled soul of thine,
urn'd its everlasting loss!

terrors, Death drew nigh,— hining seraphs stood,
the opening sky,
the atoning blood!

felt the stingless wound,
ign'd his fleeting breath;
; portals through the gloom around,
ory!" in the arms of Death!

h, and share the rich reward,
as thee with blood divine;
r did thy prayer regard,
it of life on thee to shine!

old of thy kindred dear,
e caution thou hast given;
God, with hearts sincere,
, the earnest of their Heaven!

ld of toil and care,

ny Shepherd's care for me,
each day for death prepare,
-stamp'd tool, and think on thee!

“WHO HATH BELIEVED OUR REPORT?”

Isaiah liii. 1.

l our report?”
; prophet cried;
lering tribes resort,
King of Glory died?

before them pass,
ten thousand He,
md alas,
an no beauty see.

e they deny,
heir altars they resort,
ved prophet cry,
lieved our report?”

one,” they cry,
sound, and damsels sing,
tor crucify,
Cæsar is our King!”

the martyrs lie,
is kingdom to support,
abling prophet cry,
lieved our report?”

ike Him known,
d strength, and souls devote,

y alone,
lieved our report?"

ave gone astray,
have our faces hid,
d to his own way,
things that were forbid.

s all day long,
nce us exhort,
e mournful song,
lieved our report?"

is accused,
rrows not His own,
tis'd, and bruise'd,
els to a throne.

ner, and the spear,
n which His head was smote,
sinner's ear,
lieved our report?"

t and the press,
f His power proclaim,
d and righteousness,
cy in His name.

's standing by,
; to make a sport,
hers yet may cry,
lieved our report?"

d this report,—
ath "His arm reveal'd;"
they now devote,
ripes their souls are heal'd!"

portant day,
l be to judgment brought,
who then can say,
ved this report.

odly men,
now these things can be;
re, and perish then,—
will their folly see.

oys remain,
fe will cut them short;
p and wish in vain,
ved our report!

THE BEES

ray on the lake,
dding along;
's awake,
and song!

ay to the moors,
k to complete,
lls of the flowers,
ices sweet.

urry along,
food to increase,
nd to their song,
to grace.

eir weapons withstand,
rces defeat,
rch at command,
ng'd armies retreat.

ty droops,
e silent and still,
draining the cup,
ertions to fill.

the Bee,
r cast,
ious, and free,

ing to the last!

CAUTION FROM LIMBER HILL.

(Occasioned by a fall during a frost.)

as a bit gone December,
well remember,
, and got some advice;
at harbour to rest in,
at Friend to put trust in,
valk with slape shoes upon ice!

oming down Limber,
ong the young timber,
alling, it was a take in,
night being darkish,
we a bit larkish,
bush, I grasped a whin!

en my fingers were bleeding,
pain was succeeding,
,—of that you'll not doubt;
but for the blunder,
ch lessen'd the wonder,
ish'd enough to sing out!

views being muddy,
ickly did study,
earth to compare with this whin;
r walking around 'em,
ry soon found 'em

, or the pleasures of sin!

ue Friend is precious,
favour's delicious,
t, when he sees you break down;
onflicts distressing,
'll find him a blessing,
pressions, and call them his own!

a false Friend will vary,
vow quite contrary,
rief will be hard as a stone;
orrow or sickness,
l pity your weakness,
er your pillow a thorn!

le your money is chinking,
l answer you winking,
l "Sir" you, and come at your call;
give him a pincher,
'll find him a flincher,
will fling you a fall!

in is deceiving,
ritch, bereaving;
gh the heart, and invite you to sing;
ill put on fair faces,
voo your embraces,
asp'd it, there follows a sting!

THE VILLAGE CHURCH IN RUINS!

(A decayed Church, a faithful Minister, a Gospel Sermon, a cold wind, a rainy day, and ten hearers!)

er, whom age hath o’ertaken, sleeping beneath the cold sod;
lover and friend quite forsaken,
ce is now on her God!

her battlements crumble,
ders may weep in despair;
oric’s now ready to tumble,
s her breach to repair!

here our ancestors bended,
l, and brotherly love,
ns like incense ascended,
swer came down from above.

where our tribes did assemble,
ion, both healthy and gay, Temple of Zion resemble,— ns have now choked up the way.

ders in prayer seems to falter,
dolefully over her dead,
ent from the porch to the altar,
ted, her virgins are fled.

ber, the hollow winds whistle,
ck for the frost or the snow;

ey preach her departing epistle,
loom, both above and below.

d windows the daylight is peeping,
h driven the hearers away;
roof seems as if it were weeping,
eauty is gone to decay.

r honey she still might have boasted,
n abundance, and free,
e drones are now nearly exhausted,
the wings of the Bee.

od, the Gospel is publish'd,
cept, and line upon line;
'ound, who come to be furnish'd, uction, in lectures divine.

y the tidings reported,
uish'd the bad from the good;
'sent who die unconverted,
alpit is clear of their blood!

POETICAL REFLECTIONS.

(Composed during a visit from the West.)

se, resume thy wonted seat,
n of the wise and great,
due, thy warbling song,
d in thy mother tongue.

py region I behold,
xperienc'd joys untold;
and crystal fountains flow,
nd healthy breezes blow.

l fancy playful roves,
lowery banks, or shady groves,
he rugged mountain's height,
ins with ever new delight.

e orchards I attend,
ts the loaded branches bend;
d Esk in fury roll,
swim the silent pool.

e morning of my days,
ce, to walk in wisdom's ways,
t my soul's affections yet,
ich they cannot be forgot.

once again I see,
'd a safe retreat for me,

st, or my neighbour's frown,
; or scorching sun at noon:

and its roof a guard,
he forked lightning glared.
rst with wond'ring eye,
ity, and the bright blue sky;—

or the pale evening star,
; or comet's sign of war!
rbe have muster'd up,
have wiped the crystal drop;—

when dark misfortune frown'd,
e have circled round!
l, or heard in times before,
out his little store;—

rmy seas, or sands,
aves, or dens in foreign lands,
weapons, sceptres, crowns,
rmits, smiles and frowns!

evenings pass'd away,
n'd in the morning ray;—
en the cottage of content,
ather did lament.

d whom nature so endear'd,
io conversation's heard!
re did so often climb,
ie hand of time!

ank our feet have been,
zen pond upon the green;
er now, and sigh alone,
, and never to return!

you still art dear to me!
eliness in thee,
cannot language find,
motions of my mind!

ys have ta'en their lasting flight,
manent delight,—
I can't express,
d the flame of happiness!

all, religion thrives,
e work of God revives!
have felt the melting flame spread abroad the same!

sweet peace ye may secure, d from field and fountain pure;
r privilege great,
et the mercy seat!

here your door molest,
robs you of your rest;
may your eyelids close,—
find a sweet repose!

mountains raise their heads immense,
s rise for your defence,
present sublimer charms,
pet, or than war's alarms.

safe from winter's frown,
harbour of his own;
asure is a humble mind,
d and by grace refined!

s flock to go astray,
tribes to sing and pray;
e knows of men and things,

needs not envy Kings!

and at God's altar bow,—
a brighter throne for you;
than yours He laid aside,
He suffer'd, bled, and died!

all must stoop as low
esu's love to know:
king, that throne to gain,
meant by being "born again!"

faithful, Lord, increase,
ations with thy peace;
e'en husband, child, and wife,
ligious life.

mighty matchless King,
eel, and praises sing;—
alone true joy imparts,
n thy people's hearts.

nce o'ercome thy foes,
ead thy name, and own thy laws;
er them deceive,
ath to pray, repent, and live!

l tribe thy voice attend,
m'd few their voices blend:
with their names enroll'd
in thine earthly fold.

leave the cause with Thee,
o hear, and eyes to see,
—apply the sprinkled blood,
ke them sons of God!

hip cling around my heart,

lov'd scenes am forced to part,
ties of my native home,
or o'er yon hills to roam.

on Zion's hill,
I'll bid my friends farewell;
With tears the morning dew,
I'll sigh my last adieu!

THE TWO HOURS' TASK!

(A congratulatory Address to the Lambs, on their appearance in Spring.)

ceful strangers,
and pastures green,
ding dangers,
ers you have seen.

you beaming,
new strength receive,
for you streaming,
partake and live.

charms, invites you,
he tender blade;
o delight you,
e sun or shade.

idness crown'd you,
ho at your birth,
carpet round you,
in freedom forth.

destroyer,
d stalks the plains,
leave then closer,
your little veins.

ing gambols,
g foes beware,

t rambles,
er not too far.

nd you hovers,
tion don't despise,
ait in numbers,
ur little eyes.

at your shepherd,
p with pride,
would slumber,
er leave his side.

s perfected,
our master's ground,
neglected,
e faithful found.

ow is bleating,
ie calls its own;
early victim,
he strays alone.

mourner,
sh hangs his head,
ner,
be fed.

s a burden,
igs testify,
can afford him,
y droop and die.

ystal fountain,
he flowery plain,
ider mountain,
earth again.

happy infant
born the other day,
bereavement,
I was call'd away.

mighty regions,
his mother tongue,
trier language,
a sweeter song.

that attendant,
deeming love,
resplendent,
world above.

and us caper,
ghosts hail the morn;
born'd to labour,
eat, and sigh, and mourn.

our station,
our nobler joys,
his salvation,
above the skies.

fallen creature,
do droop and die,
"can change his nature,
his sins away!

THE COUNTRY BLUNDER!

I have lately penn'd
To a friend;
And are intended,
Are recommended.

Caution'd night and morn,
Howe'er we warn,
Our neighbours fun,
Under on.

Blazedale glen,
The fine pea-hen:
The peasant good,
In the neighb'ring wood.

Well the season,
And sufficient reason,
Him, there and then,
Sant, cock nor hen!

Thus to see,
Her bush nor tree,
Open day?—
The King's highway?

He did not fail,
A fine long tail,
Without more ado,

l fine one too!

t makes no matter,
id jingles at her;
is mercy begs,
with broken legs!

y run out,
nder neck about,
cling in his eyes,
a famous prize!

ses were awake,
his sad mistake;
d alter, when
ine pea-hen!

ghbours then would scoff,
uld take him off;
and strove in vain,
life again!

th young and old,
ny pen too bold;—
gentlemen,—
is same pea-hen!

atures you abuse;
n by God for use:—
ike your neighbours fun,
ou point your gun!

nay shoot a horse;—
his would be worse:
is lately done,
naged gun!

es, stones or whins,

s, or break your shins;
y instruction cheap,
k before they leap!”

you disdain,
te again;
t mind what you do, ne of you!

A SINNER SAVED BY GRACE.

Or, lend an ear,
Now declare
What God hath done for me;
Ope my stony heart,
Ope the piercing smart,
Guilt and misery!

About distress'd,
Could I find rest,
I his voice did hear,
On the Cross;—
O'er burden lose,
O'er all its slavish fear!

My foes controul,
Thou heal'd my soul,
O'er all my sins forgiven:
O'er my feeble sight
Gave peace and light,
O'er live and die for Heaven!

Not to be wise;
Nor loudly cries,
You salvation take;—
From now to the last,
You will be cast,
Into the burning lake!

all we find the Lord,
only Word,
heal our wounded mind?
re, and others there,
temple where
may salvation find!”

ree are met,
ward are set,
s promis’d there to be;
thout delay,
night and day,
you’re from sin set free!

e are born again,
e sons of men,
t you this path have trod;
r mercy cry,
their voices high,
glorify their God!

THE PORTION OF THE JUST.

g Hallelujah to sing,
ne shall with us be no more:—
t hand all the faithful shall stand, ness to see and adore!

ace in the light of his face,
nansions of glory shall dwell;
ar on their face shall appear,
rrow they've bid a Farewell!

ich clusters do grow,
apes of that Canaan so pure;
eet makes the banquet complete,
sing of His mercy secure!

they sing, and spoil'd of his sting,
onquer'd by Christ from above;
light with thousands in white,
ll walk and converse of His love!

s, when their sentence shall pass,
nce into darkness be driven,
ure with spirits impure,
e hurl'd from their places in heaven!

ve above all things to have
th thy Saviour divine,
or rest night nor day,

iptural title is thine!

THE HAPPY CHOICE!

me hath charms,
beneath the sun;
bosom warms,
il 'tis heav'n begun!

hy presence brings,
iose thou dost impart;
in thy wings,
o heal the broken heart!

I always see,
dow may I dwell!
all to thee,
o'er the powers of Hell!

with rapture fill,
nammon I contend;
feel,
st comfort and defend!

ilways sweet
n the rock, that flows;
rn my feet,
blessed Master goes!

ON THE DEATH OF JOHN MORLEY.

Man? 'Twas from a dying man!
He into Eternity!"
Thy life is but a span!"
—Hark! It speaks to you and me!

And strength, and spirits gay,
All seem'd distant to his view;
The victim's snatch'd away
From the hand, and bids the world adieu!

He, twelve days before,
Would to share the common lot,
He to cut the grass or flower,
The cruel lesson he forgot!

Or like the flowery field,
Faded, wither'd, or cut down;
Its charms are forc'd to yield,
Is over it, and it is gone!"

The sun's meridian ray,
With thirst, to drink he felt inclin'd,
He, poor Morley took his way,
To cool, refreshing stream to find!

To receive his death,
Like dewdrops, hanging on his brow,
Asks he must resign his breath,

ely church-yard shortly go!

at the river's bank he gains,
nd washes in the crystal flood;
ldness chills his veins,
ises, and inflames his blood!

nce quickly sought,
n depriv'd his eyes of sleep;
eir powerful medicines brought,
al dart had pierc'd too deep!

t a limb is free,
ower of remedies applied;
wish for his recovery;—
rmest wishes are denied.

l, but yet Heav'n sees it fit,
will is best, we must agree;— must all submit
nd call,—to nature's stern decree!

is while his patient bleeds,
vanishes of life below;
monster Death proceeds,
art, and strikes the fatal blow!

doth her loss deplore,
weep as though their hearts would break;
“Our father is no more!
we our lonely refuge seek?

d so true, so kind a friend?
e find a sharer in our grief?
d a Father to attend,—
ars, or point us to relief?”

ne house of prayer attend,

in cause, bow'd at your Saviour's feet;
let your prayers ascend,
Friend, and Father you shall meet!

Oh! the startled village cries!
Dow, has in tears to grieve!
Hed, now pale and silent lies,
Nor eye, nor hand a motion give!

The echo's through the grove,
Harpes pursue his loaded steed;
H the fields doth rove,
Nite, or blow the rustic reed!

Th' flood's at his controul,
Hervant runs when he shall bid;
Hear the death bell toll,
Welcome to his lonely bed!

What ever during spark,
N by the Almighty's breath,
Ve her passage cannot mark!—
Hgh she hath pass'd the vale of death!

? What is her portion now,
His death thus meditate?
The mortals must not know,— Prepare ye, for a future state!”

For which she was prepar'd;—
Nly remov'd from earth below,
Hject her just reward,
Hnal happiness, or woe!

Night but insult her King,
Hguilty sinners once did bleed!—
H drops her feeble wing,
Further to proceed!

THE SERVANT'S ADDRESS TO HIS MASTER;

On deriding him for becoming a Methodist!

I pardon, while I speak, resume to take;
apology you'll hear,
will please to lend an ear.

the Church?" did you not say?
o Heaven some nearer way?
ps by you believ'd:—
f you are not deceiv'd?"

e are resolv'd to go;
, all is well we know!
le marks out the way,
, and none to stay!

ctrine, we've no cause to blame,
at we ascribe the shame!
was certainly made plain,
so that we might obtain."

aises were so faint and few,
y in seven would surely do,
is worthy of more praise,
ers are qualified to raise!

approach the throne of grace,
ights were in some other place.

And yet it is most true!
But this would never do!

Heaven that we can go,
Christ while here below;
For sinking footsteps stay,
Who seeks another way!

Has this race begun,
Stand, but strive to run;
Go, and will soon be here,
Betake himself to prayer:

Do fail, or he should grow luke-warm,
The enemy disarm!
Yes, whose Author is "The Truth,"
'He'll spew out of his mouth!"

He must be cold or hot;
The Spirit of Christ, or not:—
He lacks this,
As that "he is none of His!"

Do, a child of hell,
Must with devils dwell;—
His hopes have taken flight,
Everlasting night!

Sees himself aright,
Best day is turned to night;
He were his delight and joy,
Hopes at once destroy!

His mount to him appears,
Thunder stun his ears!
He himself, but strives in vain,
The secret doth explain.

the awful load of sin,
the grief that he is in,
's cheering, still small voice,
ars, and bids his soul rejoice!

his sins on earth forgiven,
s title clear for Heaven;
o strong to be believ'd,
that you will be deceiv'd!

grim now to be,
y what they will of me;
ace of God, though Hell resist, ithful Methodist!

ife is far the best,
ld, but yet by Jesus blest!
ome, the Heav'nly land in view,
is world of sin Adieu!

SABBATH MORNING MUSINGS.

“I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.” Psalm. cxxii. 1.

courts, O Lord!
ries they unfold:
me afford,
cious are than gold!

ugh which I pass,
tiful to me!
e beneath the grass,
slumber lie!

his solemn ground,
ghts I will controul;—
th mournful sound,
ry inmost soul!

the silent dead,
nders do I see!
hich I tread,
d, and mov’d like me!

ious I perceive,
hich I can’t explain;—
e which Heav’n shall give,
shall “rise again!”

asting life,
y shall rise;

lasting death,
with weeping eyes!

at shall we reap;
ng time is now:—
l faithful, keep
n at the plough!

l with all its joys,
usive dream;
ing witnesses,
y the same.

ures loud and plain,
ilent, cold, and deep;
earth remain,
e them shall sleep!

pent, believe,
shall pardon'd be;
g you receive,
st eternally!"

its task,
n yonder sky,
thout a mask,
ft the moments fly!

" they seem to say,
is but a span;
score years and ten?
's the age of man!"

are laid,
e the conquest have!
e the rich array'd,
sh'd by the grave!

lossom'd like the rose,
its lovely charms;
n the lover chose,
l in Death's cold arms.

nd earthly joys,
pects must decay;—
their God aright,
in endless day!

ne scene is chang'd!
ely they appear!
r state arrang'd,
re delight than fear!

was not so fair,
ould read a stone!
uer slavish fear,—
I look thereon!

oft spoil'd the hinge,
n my fancy play'd;
es would make me cringe,
heir forms survey'd.

o haunt my breast,
n therein remain'd;—
ever blest,
s favour gain'd!

destruction's breath,
's strong to save;
the sting of death,
rs of the grave!

giddy maze,
ed passage trod!
so pure a place,

s the house of God!

serve me still,
not always chide;
his love may feel,
for all hath died.

pillar here,
let me steal;
ts with humble fear,
before him kneel.

ling, broken heart,
lift mine eyes;
s love impart,
science bid me rise!

Thee, O my God,
my heart it glows!
hear thy Word,
h it as it flows!

y sabbaths pure,
thy house attend;
hall commence,
ever hath an end!

LINES ON LEAVING FRYUP, IN SEARCH OF WORK.

nee to leave,
hat I crave,
ugh I have ask'd with tears!
thy pure rills,
gst thy moorland hills,
many toilsome years!

ainful task,
f need to ask,
often sought before;
y small demand,
trembling hand,
ictant from thy store!

ry verdant woods,
ag from their buds,
e struck my wondering eye!
woodbines cropt:—
id the sweet flowers dropt, thought,—I too must die!

orning's early dawn,
flowery lawn,
ear thy warblers sing!
ir songs were mute,
icy with my flute,
made thy woodlands ring!

tains clad with snow,
he vale below,
lst hospitable friends!
sses to me,
every family,
make them full amends!

dull and dead,
earn his bread,
winter's frost and snow:
staff in hand,
distant land,
here more plenty grow!

e Sunday School,
ude of soul,
e taught with great delight,
g sons of men,
ie gulf of sin,
glorious gospel light.

standing heart,
t my part,
ere I may teach no more:—
ve oft been taught,
'd beyond my thought,
n Heaven's bounteous store!

points the keel,
and's icy field,
my course must steer!
the helm,
a should overwhelm
soul,—no harbour near!

l contrary winds,
ll as friends,
ll expect to find:

Who lives above,
Whose precepts love,
Whose ways are both true and kind!

Bless my prayer;
In His care,
In confidence I'll trust!
That may I steer,
That my love be sincere,
That He land me safe at last!

THE SWALLOW!

(On being deprived of her nest by some Sparrows.)

ning was sweeping along,
as against her were spiteful,
ow requested a song,
voice was delightful!
innocent Swallow consented,
afterwards sadly repented;
l been at such pains to erect,
was soon from enjoying prevented!

barn they hurried along,
r feathers could speed them,
d and sung, in her African tongue, anthem on Freedom!
le she was this Sparrow amusing, rest were her labours abusing;— session both of garret and floor, were in her best chamber carousing!

beheld by the flood in her eye, s bad treatment did grieve her,
is manner he bade her good by
r tried to relieve her!
her sweet little song did not alter,
delicate voice did not falter;
nd sung what was next to be done,
hough she alone was the faulter!

rows she then seem'd to say,
e surely no strangers;
it, in crossing the sea,—
a great many dangers.
parrows! why have you betray'd us?
cruelty thus to invade us!
with us, take nothing away,
parrows! why have you betray'd us?"

A CALL TO THE CARELESS!

ers, awake!
You will smart 'neath the rod!
not in the lake,
is with the anger of God!

ar will prove,
s as a shadow will flee;
reasure above,
ggle from sin to be free!

st and yield
pirit of God when He strives;
n in the field,
e with His army arrives!

conquer the world!
d and the lofty subdue!
rs unfurl'd,
both believers and you:—

use he is poor,
rich for his riches regard;
ging His floor,
unto each his reward!

h to be whole;—
n long open hath been,
ots of the soul,—

to wash and be clean!

erience its death,
the grand secret shall know;
upon Earth,
appy and useful below!

TO A HORSE, DYING ALONE!

, thus left by all below,
st of God's creatures, thou,
Once free from pain,
Didst trip the plain;
thy case is alter'd now!

ster seem to stand aloof!
e they've had enough?
Is it respect,
Or sheer neglect,
iou hast no stronger proof?

t like to hear or see
1, thy dying agony!
The grass upspurn'd,
Thine eye upturn'd,
to heedless passers by!

gh, the sad effect of sin, 1 of agony within!
On man and beast,
Greatest and least,
ed, and glad his victim win!

hers on thy glassy eye,
on the evening sky;
Once full of light,
Through darkest night,

's guide to home and family!

nce beauteous to behold,
er parted with his gold;
And this thy dappled hide,
Though once its owner's pride, nought will soon be sold!

hich the slightest sound inspir'd
ing business oft requir'd;
Already cold as clay,
Doth now inactive lay,
gun which now is fired!

gambols now are past,
n;—thou art dying fast:
Perhaps ere I,
At home shall be,
ilt have breath'd thy last!

where thou lov'dst to be,
e now are nought to thee!
The whip and spur,
Thou car'st not for,
s as thy legacy!

ly rhymes to make them chord,
icholy fate record,
Perhaps near thee,
In some old tree,
rd sings thy funeral ode!

MORAL.

up is full can laugh at Death,
at power which lends them breath;

But be that far,
As yon pale star,
/ its progress witnesseth!

ow near is his approach,
orning sun, or nightly torch, Themselves prepare,
And search with care,
each avenue and porch!

t, at business or in bed,
found, and captive led;
Till all the soul,
From stains most foul,
the contrite tear was shed!

e mount of God doth flow,
e time and pains to go,
Whose healing stream,
Doth freely teem,
inners white as snow!

shall joyful rise again,
, and on angelic wing,
Shall mount above,
To Him whose love
the monster of his sting!

MUSINGS DURING AFFLICTION;

OR

THE SEARCH AFTER HAPPINESS.

“He shall fly away as a dream.” (Job. xx. 8.)

sing alone,
ng the toils of the day,
ardly groan,
mptoms I feel of decay.

mind can't be still,
he external fabric be maim'd;
working the will
who that fabric hath framed.

s over his books,
as well to finish the day;
orners and nooks,
not be wrong to survey.

fe we behold,
seems delightful and bright,
arcely unfold,
one as a dream of the night!

ation we turn,
is enchanting and free;
ow how to mourn,

things seem pleasant and gay.

light in the fields,— oft sought it in vain!
scenery yields,
as we cannot retain.

meadows and groves,
roads, by the rivers and streams;
loves and our loves,
the wood to the furnace's flames!

hill puts us in mind,
its stones are forsaken and green,
springs, so kind,
now scarce a vestige is seen!

we wandering abroad,
we learn'd to sorrow and weep;
we been lost on the road,
ourselves have sunk in the deep!

like we sought,
led by the glimmering light,
meadows we caught;
I like a dream of the night!

whom we knew in the flesh,
happy, and healthy, and strong;
we gain'd their wish,
but in a moment were gone!

dark at their end,
in their death did appear;
could they attend,
we had—but hope turn'd to despair!

while they lived,

an example they set,
lives were deceiv'd,
not yet free from the net!

ne to repent,
and to sorrow, and pray;
d thus have been spent,
tonly squander'd away.

it off at a stroke,
ried away from our sight;
friendship all broke,
l like a dream of the night.

grave they have lain,
; since have gone to decay,
raise them again,
as they were in life's day.

ook of the face,
uage that glanc'd from the eye,
augh, or some grace,
l we their forms can descry.

aintance appears,
sures, how swift was their flight!
umber their years,
l as a dream of the night!

ight it abroad,
'd with the mirthful and gay,
nen'd the cord,
pted our feet far astray.

aces and fairs,
asons and friends did invite;
e stalls, and their wares,
usic and dancing at night!

land and by sea,—
if we directed our eyes,
it is not in me!
Reality is all a disguise!”

Where dost thou dwell?
Shall we search with success?
In cottage or cell,
The abodes of distress!

Wounded with pain,
Tired while counting the cost,
Flood again,
Over the thing we had lost.

Wanted to be ours,—
Not by the river or glen;
Pushes, and flowers,
Not as a paradise then!

None on the plain,
Not whenever we pass,
Aer-like train,
Imper’d about on the grass!

Childhood and youth,
None is each transient delight;
None told us the truth,—
None as a dream of the night.

Course of a friend,
Told, whether cloudy or bright,
Fort, in the end,
Depart as a dream of the night:—

With shadows and flowers,
Not satisfaction within;
Not never be ours,

heart had been broken for sin

h was the case,
uff'd up with pride and deceit,
splendid the feast,
bitter'd every thing sweet!

the sacred page,
men of experience too,
every age,
inues so, even till now!

s'd to the light,
ss of the Gospel was view'd,
true delight,—
heart had been chang'd and renew'd.

ask any more,
ing which so many pursue,
l things explore,
e truly possess'd by so few.

ive domain,
l the sweet breezes that blow,
est, or plain,
den like luxuries grow;—

anches and free,
heir clusters to share,
one tree,
nly manna will bear.

al seed,
nly culture doth rise;—
sins might be freed,
nt as a gift from the skies!

lid deride,

of its fruit did complain,
y often had tried,
n'd to their folly again!

ter of doubt,
id been planted for them:—
ith were the root,
ness grew on the stem!

d by gave a glance,
nark on the wilderness bare;
eye all askance,
lance of beauty was there.

he Saviour of men
ow'd, and suffer'd, and bled;
r'd out as a stream,
heav'nly influence shed.

secret is told,
iddle's expounded to all,
den of old,
een torn up by the fall!

ve to His church,
:d this plant of renown,
sun's rays might scorch,
neer when our spirits are down.

luce partakes,
r objections arise,
and the choice that he makes,
noly, and happy, and wise!

iple shall run,
ship with joy and delight;
der the sun,
as a dream of the night!

THE PLAY!

On being solicited to attend a Theatre, by two young women, who urged their entreaties by the argument, "There is no harm in attending the Play!"

tion's flourishing isle,
ten awhile to my lay;
orals, you say with a smile,
no harm in attending the Play!"

, and deep witted men,
ounsels so many obey,
gnorant rustic a pen,
l help you to plead for the Play!

ortal, but end when you die,
have the courage to say,
k out for a mansion on high,
othing to fear from the Play!

l, yet free from the fall,
er have wander'd astray;
o repent of at all,
othing to fear from the Play!

rd, has left no command,
le to watch and to pray,
fall that is built on the sand,
o harm in attending the Play!

tion your baptismal vow,

ke a long summer's day,
o reap such fruit as ye sow,
o harm in attending the Play!

eed from the truth be reverse,
fair crown of life can decay;
e, and Religion a farce,
o harm in attending the Play!

Death come and put you in mind of frail habitation of clay, frustrate the unwelcome design,
transient delights of the Play!

If you should happen to meet,
soon turn your faces away,
and the lame in the street,
pay your cash to the Play!

Whom selves so often attend, happily their followers may;
that they so well can defend,
of all effects of the Play.

Whom the field have pleaded in vain,
their disciples astray;
who in silence remain,
nothing to fear from the Play.

Whom have to give no account,
at, the great Judgment day,
who you may quickly surmount,
striking them off at the Play.

Whom to ruin and ruin you roam,
laugh at the stoppers away,
pulling long faces at home,
missing the joys of the Play.

crush'd in, and you kill'd we'll suppose,
the angel would bear you away,
in region of milder repose,
our spirit might dream of the Play.

on, no robe wash'd in blood,
that need wiping away,
those realms to the praise of your god,
you had been at the Play.

THE REMOTE CHRISTIAN.

remote and wild,
from affluence,
and heaven smil'd,
his residence.

For many years,
and unity;
a vale of tears,
'd a family.

His cot adorn,
his liveries wait;
his horn,
he at the gate.

His peasant, free,
much learning stored;
he, yet happily,
sought and found the Lord.

And nor rust can harm,
no foes can ere invade,
of human arm,
his heart's treasure laid.

He in his field,
his birds hatch'd and fed;
the lapwing cried,

er'd o'er his head.

e field he drain'd,
r'd the wild sod,
with care were train'd,
nd fear their God.

n, and the tree,
heir produce bore,
ee supplied, delicious store.

his substance blest,
is wants supply;
quench his thirst,
an murmuring by.

ring bed,
ength began to fail,
nguid head,—
d his happy tale.

less the day,
ad been made known,
weep and pray,
'd to Christ alone.

ok his heart had cheer'd,
l its worth to tell;
d which once was shed,
his soul from hell.

was precious then,
any was sweet;
as in his heart,
d beneath his feet.

ister Death arriv'd,

comfort bring;
had quite depriv'd
ster of his sting.

I, shall soon," said he,
nts and angels join,
nity,
hs of Love Divine!"

SOLITARY REFLECTIONS!

(Occasioned by the death of a newly married pair, who drowned themselves, after living together three weeks.)

the watery willows weep, sband launch'd into the deep;—
age sought an early grave,
, in the peaceful wave

ho can withhold the tear, choly place draws near!
uture times will prove,
t of your wedded love!

7 prospects to deceive,
ppointed sons to grieve!
g things the mind perplex,
ot her influences mix!

s,—to church they haste away,
claim the wedding day;
to the dark grave they're borne, Resurrection morn!

ours mourn their hapless lot,
ren haunt the dreary spot;
, rais'd by the nightly gale,
ier melancholy tale!

ON SOME WHO HAD LEFT US, AND SPOKEN DISRESPECTFULLY OF US!

“There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness.”
(Proverbs xxx. 12.)

with us, and gave us the hand,
g and to pray;
bear the rigid command,
ent tilting away!

ar, whom now they despise,
more learned and pure;—
ids, and plucking out eyes,
they could not endure!

ection, but oft with disdain,
. our failings expose;
tion they cannot attain,
for their muffs and their boas!

ls, so lofty their looks,
at a sinner in tears;
ock'd up in their finely bound books,
trimming their necks and their ears!

rvulsions they cannot have felt,
ot speak as they do;
roud into nothing to melt,
ile to mammon they bow.

elling you chance to approach,
rvitation beware;
en, the good man's reproach,
f the scorner are there!

eeding they offer their pledge,
to raise a complaint;
e surface, and trim off the edge, lignified saint!

who sees through the heart, s impostors will spurn,

pite of their cunning and art,
ill eternally mourn!

THERE IS A GOD!

“The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.” (Psalm xiv. 1)

o rules above!
ct of His love!
oved Son,
l to make this known.

ributes deny,
asphe my,
r’d from above,
nt, or by Love.

now, and strong,
y and song,
hen he must flit,
rm submit.

sregard his groans,
his giant bones,
shall feel,
im into hell.

ks the bitter cup,
his marrow up;
he grave shall rot,
emory are forgot.

i when all shall rise,
n he did despise,

union have,
of the grave.

CONFIRMATION.

the morn appears,
anticipating!
the spirit cheers,
the world is agitated!

Birth and glee,
with expectation,
I hear and see,
You're at Confirmation!

From side to side,
Many lads and lasses;
Nobles, and village pride,
Horses, mules, and asses!

But, they dash along,
Not to fair or races;
Helmets hung,
Not before their faces!

That they're going to do,
Not strangely lied on;
The solemn vow,
That steed they ride on!

Their neighbours go,
In consideration;
Not for Christians, who

'd at Confirmation!

t few we fear,
h by works expressing;
on their knees,
istle for a blessing!

them by far,
y a Cain's offering;
o the morning star,
David's offspring!

out cannot tell
that hope is grounded;— Egyptian spell,
be expounded!

ll bears the sway,
of resolution;
s, still day by day,
he institution!

orthodox,
ps, prayers, and caution,
! thirsty ox,
the deadly potion!

rite with mournful pen,
ch's lamentation;
, they seek in vain,
s of Confirmation!

THE MAN OF THE WORLD!

ndulg'd, he grew up to a man,
liberty almost unbounded;
ught of this life's little span,
pects of plenty surrounded!

self, in high spirits he views,
ffs at the fresh flowing fountain;
ybreak he brushes the dews,
ops o'er valley and mountain!

d fat, wears the hue of the rose,
; quite a stranger to sorrow;
ofa his limbs find repose,
s loudly, and talks of to-morrow!

he, "you must call up the hounds, as the light is appearing!"— eath while rambling his rounds, ansion a message is bearing,

he, "we'll unkennel the fox,
old cabin we'll crush him;
ot him away from the rocks,
f Old Harry we'll brush him!

ine on the lamb or the goose,
; he had liv'd would have fill'd him;
nper we'll have a carouse,

I sing where he fell, and who kill'd him!"

stern disappointment he meets,
in imprison'd he grieves,
tasted so much of life's sweets,
of its bitters receives!

Fortified barriers leaps,
Internal pain soon afflicts him;—
Ere the pale monster creeps,
Singles him out as his victim!

Autumn falls dead from the tree,
Grief is seen weeping behind him:—
Improvements to see,
Seek'd, but alas, could not find him!

THE RULE OF CONTRARY!

iles so incorrect,
lost always vary;
iles to gain respect,
or one contrary!

the smiles of men,
fer their frown;
ride to stem,
ambition down!

s an empty thing,
vns and sceptres vain,
he “living spring,”
'd lands look for rain!

he hearty laugh,
fer the tear,
t my heart is soft,
of heaven is clear!

e the tavern song!”
fer the sigh,
oticed by the throng,
es to the sky!

e that pleasing look,
oes the fancy win!”
at's plain without,

fair within!

amental dress,
ert and the ball;
' Righteousness,
e stript of all!

alers dark to dwell,
y in the night;
ne road to hell,
e I love the light!

nds with tales to feed,
is yet untrod;—
ime to read,
the Book of God!

l of natural wit
ldly wisdom full;
of Holy Writ,
an empty skull!

r ivory cross,
is admir'd;
ood of Him,
he cross expir'd!

is crimson dyed,
er so remain;
r faith's applied,
anse from every stain!

l of pleasure here,
good they crave:—
holy fear,
eyond the grave!

! I'll light my torch,

er pleasant ways,
e's reproach,
ut all my days!

ion'd or despis'd,
y fancy's Rule;
shall be wise,
accounted fool!

take the hint,
my creed agree;
npell'd to think,
k the same as he!

ON FINDING SOME DEISTICAL BOOKS IN THE HOUSE OF ONE WHO ONCE FEARED GOD!

“How is the gold become dim!” (Lamen. iv. 1.)

hrow their gloomy rays, ie Sun of Righteousness did shine;
lect the former days,
g infidels their voices join!

hey oft with brazen brow,
our is the Son of God!
eir every knee shall bow, l groan beneath His iron rod!

efy His power above,
lood which has their souls redeem’d;
is God sincerely love,
tis to hear His name blasphem’d!

nen of wicked minds,
eaches not beyond the grave;
their absurd designs,
King, and style the conquest brave!

and shall for ever hold,
as the gloomy powers of Hell;
and coming shall behold,

see the place from whence they fell!

thousand years are up,
no more is suffer'd loose to go!
Onger Israel's hope,
O captive to his den below!

And bid thy thunders roll!
And lightnings, and thy foes consume!
At thou wilt them controul,
All the shapes which they assume!

thou mighty matchless King!
O poor deluded sons of men!
O the cruel serpent's sting;
O back to his infernal den!

Not quite lost in death,
O bones the Word of God receive!
O winds, O reviving breath,
Upon these slain, that they may live!

ON VISITING FRYUP, DURING A GREAT REVIVAL.

t thy fame now extends,
iv'n doth thy breaches repair;
on, and bibles, and friends,
to breathe thy pure air!

ion, and health to the soul,
asure I walk o'er thy plains;
e sick hath oft spoken, "Be whole!" ligion, where righteousness reigns!

I've long wish'd to see,
ties which now I behold;
ed more refreshing to me,
usands of silver, or gold!

glory hath visited thee,
ry inhabitant sings;
Righteousness riseth on thee,
ing's receiv'd from his wings!

I have felt in my soul,
itude now I confess;
rs yield to his control,
ers be saved by his grace!

long benighted and dark,
sons and thy daughters arise;

me fans the Heav'nly spark,
earnestly press to the skies!

ccessantly plead for the wife,
for her husband contend;
God which is better than life,
both through the Spirit descend!

ition be heard for the fair,
maiden prevail for the youth;
or righteousness never did care,
force of Religion and Truth!

fill'd with the Spirit of God,
prevail o'er their foes;
more sharp than a two edged sword,
e of their King and his laws!

sav'd on every hand,
be steadfast and true;—
more, I now quit thy fair land,
p! and bid thee adieu!

THE THREE VOICES!

Conscience says,
thyself, and all thyself;
thy outer self,
thy future self,
thyself, and worst of self;
Remember that thou, thyself,
must upbraid thyself,
and be a fool of self,
if thou dost not
try to know thyself!

The Flesh says,
thou enjoy thyself,
thou dost not annoy thyself,
thus employ thyself,
try to know thyself,
others are like thyself!
thou destroy thyself!
thou live to thyself,
thou hast no life within thyself!

The Devil says,
think highly of thyself!
revert to thyself;
let a plague plague thyself!
It is not so bad as self others make thee think thyself!
submit thyself,
do not indulge thyself;—

shall get thyself!

A DIALOGUE

Between Rosedale Bob and Hartoft John, on a Speech delivered by the Venerable The Archdeacon P ——, L.L.D., at a Bible Meeting held in the new Church, Rosedale.

; awd stock? say what's ther been te doo,
leeak seea dark aboot yer broo?
hof yer parliament petition
um romantic opposition!
hev met wi' sum abuse,
arter heeard sum heavy news!
al may cum clooaser still,
ilder may be takken ill.

ws Ah hev te tell's seea bad, forests seeam i' moorning clad;
horized an' unordeean'd,
ed Temple is profeean'd!
an' the tassels all are soil'd,
hanted, an' oor woorship's spoil'd,
in it, what's caus'd this desecration,
t' Baable's circulation.

l the thing's as leeght as chaff, fleeads may clap ther hands an' laff;
se is teeachin' greeat an' small,
lorious leeght fra' pole te pole!
us Christ's last greeat commands,
eght te dark an' heathen lands.
he profit 'll ootweigh the loss;—

can't t' Church 'll be neea worse!

neea scholar, nowther will pertend
r this mischief may extend.
vine, afoore he left the pleeace,
positive it wur the keease:
did raise te that amoont,
ur ruin'd on this seeame accoont;
e wark the church's pillars shake,
honner foorc'd him for te speak.

ivine, M.A., or L.L.D., ter whea or what he be:
veal'd tiv us as clear as him,
roves man owght nut te condemn.
be his sacerdotal geeans,
ey may thenk him for hiz peeans;
ie a sample sud dispense licated influence.

ear'd an' understeead on reeght,
speech be quite as full o'leeght.
wd man sud nut ha' been seea vext,
z leeaf an' teean anuther text.
s hez been, she hez neea doot,
eezom swept an' carried oot;
ie pains te mack all clean an' clivver,
is noo as gud an' weel as ivver.

hoo heer, this is the thing they dreed, ble an' the truth be spreed,
l fra' off the people's eyes,
as then will as the lords be wise;
graw so base i' disposition,
wers they will disdain submission;
n ov honourable name,
mage which ther titles claim!

ls will i' all directions rise,
ples moonting te the skies;
s run, or ride on hoss or gig,
ep that travel Blaca rig,
lings further be alloo'd,
s sun 'll set behinnd a clood:—
vonder they alood procleeam, sal speeak neea longer i' this neeame.

neetin' sud be held i' t' church,
arce wur fit te stand i' t' porch,
in upon its consecration,
reverence's indignation.
ase expect as ther reward,
old attempts te be debarr'd;
e mun they cum theer again,
sacred office does sustain!
ctrines spreed an' sud prevail, s ordination treead 'll fail;
mare than larning be admired,
nd i' the market place unhired:
ivvery secret corner creep,
pits into pulpits leap;
r gestures an' insinuations,
e Churches o' ther congregations.

s 'll ton, like bees 'at's left the hive,
te nowther leead nur drive,
gifts, nur binnd doon by oppression, postolical Succession:
may then hiz feeace disguise,
ower ther tenants tyrannize.
rk then 'll answer as afoore,
ir blankets buy or sell the poor.
ien by chance may loss hiz pleeace,
r gallops i' the Steeple Chase;
ig appears a jovial fellow,

ne or grog till he is mellow;
logs pursues the grouse or game
cottage ov the poor or lame;
ud chance te miss the mark ear, an' lie all t'bleeam o' t' clerk.

r thoo that venerable man,
earful ov hiz treead an' clan;
t be spreed by land an' sea,
oond slaves 'll seek for liberty,
they're neean seea fit te show the way,
walks theerin fra' day te day.
sel has teeak the thing i' hand,
eetings yet sal bless oor land;
ise up men ov noble soul,
epy churches will controul:
sarvants whea hiz judgements knaw,
t the terrors ov His law;
vill hiz meeghty airm mack bare,
ocks himsel into hiz care.

nang oor heeigh up chaps exist,
nen finnd hard for te resist.
lays they rob beeath God an' man,
ay preeav this statement fause as can.
i haste seean as they hear the bell,
ose let t'priest be what he will;
it izzen't satisfied wi' t'kirk,
uit ther farm or loss ther woark.

ws mitch differ fra' the laws ov heaven,
an for holy purpose given;
ote an' put an end te strife,
z hoosehod an' hiz life.
foore the churches fell,
onded like the sabbath bell;
wur thoughtful, holy men,

nur needed, nur compulsion then.

fain sike days again te see,
as sing wi' love an' melody,
ead i' bukes ov holy men,
ared for fire nur lion's den:
sin wi' all its scorpion stings,
wrath ov heathen priests an' kings.
od in meek submission boo,
dark, He'll awlus bring 'em throo.

whahl, till taame reverse the scene,
st hez hed hiz pompous reign;
tion wi' her torch an' foark,
n an' ministers te woark,
ast te mack hiz proselytes, leer, an' bon the hypocrites:—
whea live, an' hev the truth maintained, ght 'll hev the thing explained.

A LOVE LETTER!

(To Miss —)

who would make so free,
or's love for thee;
1 of his affection, move back responsive love!

few humble lines impart,
le, is from an honest heart;
ly aim and object is,
and thy future bliss.

ld I now intercede,
llence can plead;
ire is homely spun,
y glass of life hath run!

! Him, at whose command,
day in his presence stand;
nay'st lament the change,
turn'd into revenge!

vers finely drest,
He was the first;
outhful frolics wild,
æ, from a very child!

tood without thy door,
ther swains prefer before:

th dim'd his eye so bright,
ng with the dews of night!

admit of rivals, when
the sons of men!
d, and those who hear his voice,
e their happy choice.

e has in battle bled,
y sorrows in thy stead;
om infinite distress,
ster in the wilderness!

, to say by land or sea,
h undergone for thee;
cup, and piercing smart,
o gain thy worthless heart!

lemands thy stedfast love,
in the courts above;
, and moon, and stars, stand still,
and waves obey his will!

h been about thy bed,
nders rolled above thy head!
ou beheld'st the lightning's glare and cause thee sudden fear!

m he is sure to prove too, when sick of love;
ho fall beneath his ire,
sume and burn like fire!

l withhold from Him his right,
h permanent delight,
'd in His faithful word, Paradise afford?

es with happy tears o'erflow?
with holy ardour glow?
thy dearest friend surprise,
a language of the skies?

r Him their heart and mind, sititudes are sure to find
t, Him midst, and without end,"
d a constant Friend!

ee, or what may they expect,
vertures reject,
ods their daily trust,
h their refuge into dust?

vely face of thine,
ly confidence divine;
m sin's enthralling chain,
happiness in vain!

wandering elsewhere,
while He doth with thee bear;
y loss with anguish keen, ix'd a mighty gulf between!

TRUTH TRIUMPHANT!

erson dye,
ilted sky!
See yon flag, &c.
h is bound,
rinkled round;
ides may see,
Victory!
Victory! Victory!

n oppose,
Sharon's Rose!
Wicked men, &c.
m pole to pole,
flying roll;
see Victory!
Victory! Victory!

rk corners shine,
light divine!
Some of earth's, &c.
obey,
her sway;—
od's decree,
e Victory!
Victory! Victory!

mercy shew,

d for you!
Turks! who will, &c.
bow down,
rod and stone;
n shall see,
Victory!
Victory! Victory!

the work goes on,
e both but one!
Where Truth, &c.
e promise true,
ake all things new;”
's decree,
e Victory!
Victory! Victory!

! do your best,
o the test!
Pow'rs of darkness! &c.
employ,
destroy,
od's decree,
e Victory!
Victory! Victory!

l adore,
h no more!
Jews! the Crucified, &c.
King,
rethren sing;
l's decree,
e Victory!
Victory! Victory!

lorious day,
rs say!
Hasten, Lord, &c.

hearts shall flow,
wonder glow;
I agree,
We Victory!
Victory! Victory!

's trump shall sound,
In sleep profound!
Soon the, &c.
The stars shall fall,
Mountains call;
saints set free:—
Victory!
Victory! Victory!

REFLECTIONS ON A BACKSLIDER.

l, thou son of the light!
nes from which thou art driven!
can dwell on the sight,
nce walk and hold converse with heaven!

ne eye to yon dreary place,
t steps thy spirit is bound;
ms which thy spirit shall chase,
e which thee will surround!

y frightened eyes shall roll,
nph at thy overthrow;
ands lash thy naked soul, s pierce thee through and through!

l fed with living pain,
on which she first drew breath;
he must still sustain,
l, and long in vain for death!

loom her portion she must drink,
ce from Jehovah's ire,
lake for ever sink,—
n of tormenting fire!

stupor still remains,
nor heav'nly joys allure;
ivicted soul complains,

t, and of thoughts impure!

y harpers tune the lyre,
rform the three-fold part;
ash devotion's fire,
rrows o'er thy heart!

. as in a case of steel,
nd seeks for rest in vain!
lse which she once did feel,—
' taste those joys again.

mighty to redeem,
y, and unmeasur'd grace,
. mighty gulf between,— Saviour shows his face.

ay'st the keen conviction spurn,
lagic, or associates gay,
est refuge will o'erturn,
and the great judgement day.

VILLAGE PREACHING.

“Speak unto us smooth things.” (Isaiah xxx. 10.)

's lofty hills,
and rills,
th appear,
ts chimneys rear

ithout a steeple,
verted people;
ious fruit appear,
ire to hear.

go and back,
r beaten track,
ly Spirit grieve,
they don't believe.

ey like best to hear,
not too severe;
extraordinary,
nd let them be.

rtain day,
to stroll that way;—
n if I can,
ccentric man.

pirit had enlighten'd,
s had soundly frightened;

ing conviction pained,
hich he obtained.

cepted stood,
ing blood;
's sad condition,
his admonition.

at that place,
en the means of grace;
y long neglected,
should be detected.

ere did live,
l gratis give;
the flock and fold,
ys of old.

ad wish'd to see,
ictory;
y invitation,
hortation.

, and rostrum fix'd,
and took his text:—
ling Saviour see,
ot come to me!”

t those shall win,
st and leave their sin;
re in the great day,
me stay away.

ht, clear'd his way,
n began to pray;
station,
his congregation,

he'd dwelt upon,
stions, one by one,
lp was needing,
hen were pleading.

o sing and pray,
ioned gospel way;
the invitation,
r separation.

roceeding,
ly spoil'd the meeting;—
nduct is unstable,
ehind the table!

t to come so nigh,
rs to pry;
e saved or no,
e a right to know.

ng impudence,
ve a great offence;—
ne by one,
en are getting on!

me to preaching still,
will fulfil;
he is able,
behind the table.

are far too thin,
ud "Amen!"
v a taste so fine,
ks the line!

e truth enforce,
ie thing too close,
e people good,

ience of their blood.

is completed,
rther needed;
warning voice,
le to their choice.

, are so precise,
ssings do despise,
our friendly care,
isel gladly hear.

n managed well,
ive some soul from Hell;
and if you're able,
behind the table.

way once more,
e as before;
her chain or cable,
ind the table.

THE LODGER IN LIVERPOOL;
OR,
THE MASON IN WINTER NIPT BY THE FROST.

While a card party were enjoying themselves in an adjoining room.

    musing over
    or ever fled;
    a corner,
    mit in his shed.

    lithely and merry;
    lute, and harp's unstrung,
    is to yonder valley,
    every banks I've sung.

    down-hearted,
    try, friends, and home;
    kindness parted,
    seek the world to roam.

    game hath flourish'd,
    table round;
    near unnoticed,
    laid to the ground.

    female beauty,
    society of men,
    snatching booty,

from his den.

handsome faces,
he gay deceit;
we for graces,
and after meat.

life's fleeting joys,
he galling chain;
spirit buoys,
will shine again.

ere not carnal,
with them to share;
us eternal,
ugh, I might despair.

ces all surrender,
ie least excuse,
time's avenger,
ith its abuse.

EDOM.

(Isaiah lxiii. 1.)

me to sing,
I by faith I have seen;
Saviour and King,
On earth I have been.

I have loved,
I on to mourn;
Time mis-improved,
Fruits that are gone.

Records divine,
Sound in mine ear;
I did not incline,
Others to hear.

I all go astray,
I statures serene;
I am far away,
Darkness were seen.

I my enemies lay,
Those desolate plains;
I unfortunate prey,
Affliction and chains.

I plight did lie,
I my strength to look up;

anguishing eye,
hence cometh our hope.

e from Edom afar,
gnal we gave;
ampion of war,
et mighty to save!

rescue He came,
all our grief,
I heard us complain,
had brought us relief.

en we fearfully said,
glorious array?
rely dismayed,
I and heat of the day?"

the Father of lights,
ry may shine;
I high o'er all heights,
demption is mine.

eat question was ask'd,
lost man from the grave?
ipotence task'd,
I lost I might save!

demanded his due,
elp but found none;
aid down for you,
he wine press alone.

said with a smile,
as bruised as ye see;
' this wonderful toil,
I all upon me!"

p from the ground,
yrannical chain;
ream'd afresh from each wound,
ch'd was made clean!

gh mighty, is paid,
ir hearts to receive;
ger afraid
and believe!"

rt thus flow'd from his tongue,
narr'd grew more fair;
nd angelical song,
gh in the air!

t Him out of our sight,
l behold him no more;
ions of light,
ve and adore!

REFLECTIONS ON ABSENT FRIENDS, GONE TO AMERICA.

lown o'er yon lofty mountain,
n streamer had left the tall tree;
v seemed forsaken and gloomy,
re tossing upon the wide sea.

odding the lasses had nourish'd,
supplied them with Sunday's perfume;
sorrowful modesty flourish'd,
the beautiful daisy in bloom!

river the green grass is springing,
very bank they were oft wont to stray;
rove with sweet echoes is ringing,
f the milk maid, or children at play.

it time now howls discontented,
and mistress but lately bereft;
d to the place they frequented,
sigh, nor a whisper is left.

otions of friendship were glowing,
y the steamer the ocean they braved;
nced by the tears that were flowing,
the hand, or the handkerchief waved.

old England we anxiously view'd them,
precious, and dear to our sight;

urface affection pursued them,
as conceal'd by the curtain of night.

—their absence wakes mournful reflection,
ling Arundel bears them away;
n them to heavenly protection,
n the winds and the waters obey.

igh the wood may quickly discover,
n in tokens which there he will see;
ful heart each friend or each lover,
their names in the bark of the tree.

THE LAST JOB OF AN OLD TRAMP;
OR,
REFLECTIONS ON BURNING A MASON'S Mallet FOR A YULE CLOG, ON CHRISTMAS EVE.

valued piece of wood,
that value understood;
when thou didst help to fill,— Whom bed and board,
Thou didst afford,
in of sharpen'd steel!

throughout the changing year,
as to thy master dear:—
or o'er his shoulder slung,
Or near his side,
Thou wast his pride,
and he cheerful sat and sung!

at stern winter's frown,
in country or in town,
ded to thy sturdy blow:—
Thy day is gone,
Thy task is done,
I by thy last master now!

by destiny survey,
to ashes waste away;

per seems to shew to me,
The frailty clear,
Of all things here,
man's mortality!

he tender bud appear'd,
ie birds the woodlands cheer'd, itudes have roll'd between;
Since thou wast nurs'd,
With care at first,
urish'd gay and green!

hen high thy top did wave,
o'er the woodman's grave,
eas'd, worn out by course of years;
Where undismay'd
The breezes play'd,
ade remembrance only bears!

r, never bud again,
eld, or flood, or lane;
ill on thy substance shine:
It would, at last, I fear,
Be well with many here,
night be compared with thine!

GLOSSARY.

Aboon—above
Ageean—against
Ah—I Ah'v—I have
Airm—arm
Alang—along
'At's—that is Awd—old
Awn—own
Awlus—always
Ax—ask

Baable—bible
Bairn—child
Beck—a brook
Beean—been Beeans—bones
Beean't—be not Beeath—both
Beelds—builds
Berreed—buried
Besaads—besides
Blaw—blow
Bleead—blood
Boo—bow
Booast—boast
Boorn—born
Boon—going
Bon—burn

Bonny—handsome
Bowght—bought
Breeght—bright
Brigg—bridge
Broo—brow
Bukes—books

Cawd—cold
Caps—puzzles
Cheeans—chains
Childer—children
Chimler—chimney
Clim—climb
Clivver—clever
Com—came Congker'd—conquered
Convarion—conversion
Cooat—coat
Coorn—corn
Coorse—course
Cubburt—cupboard
Cum—come

Daft—weak in mind
Dee—die
Deea—do
Deeal—dale
Deean—done
Deed—died
Deein—dying
Desaun'd—designed Doon—down
Doot—doubt
Draave—drive
Duffil—kind of coarse cloth

Ee—eye

Een—eyes
Efter—after
Ey—aye

Faanly—finely
Fain—glad Fand—found
Fause—false
Feeat—foot
Feead—fed
Feight—fight
Finnd—find
Flay'd—afraid
Fleead—flood
Fleer—floor
Floor—flower
Foark—fork
Fooas—foes
Fooaks—folks
Fooam—foam
Foond—found
Forgeean—forgiven
Fower—four Fra'—from Freeat—fret
Frev—from
Froon'd—frowned
Fund—found

Gaain—going
Gamlin—gambling
Gang—to go
Gangin—going
Gat—got Geean—gone
Geean'd—gained
Geen—given

Gie—give Ginnes—guineas
Gitten—got Gooan—gone
Graw—grow
Greeatin—groaning
Greeave—grave

Hawf—half
Heeame—home
Heearth—earth
Heeigh—high
Hennut—have not Hev—have Hez—has Hezzen't—has not Hods—holds Hoo—how
Hoor—hour
Hooivver—however
Hoose—house
Hoosin—household
Hoss—horse

Iddicated—educated
I' noo—soon
I' t'—in the
Iv—in Ivvery—every

Keease—case
Ken—to see
Kesenmas—christmas
Kest—cast
Kirk—church
Knaw—know
Ky—cows

Lahtle—little
Lee—a lie
Leeak—look
Leeatly—lately
Leeght—light
Lie—to lay
Lig—to lie
Lood—loud
Loore—learning
Loss—lose

Mack—make Mah—my Mahle—mile
Mare—more
Maund—mind
Mebby—may be Meead—made
Meeasons—masons
Meeght—might Meer—a mare
Misteean—mistaken
Mitch—much
Mooan't—must not
Mooat—mote
Moont—mount
Moorning—mourning
Mud—might Mun—must

Natches—notches
Neea—no
Neean—none
Neegh—nigh
Neeght—night
Neen—nine Nivver—never

Nobbut—only
Nooas—noes
Nooatice—notice
Nooation—idea
Nowght—nothing
Nowther—neither Nowthern—northern Nut—not

Ommost—almost Onny—any Oor—our O' t'—of the Ower—over
Owerton—overturn
Owght—ought, or aught
Owther—either

Pearted—parted
Pertend—pretend
Pleeace—place
Pleugh—plough
Plissures—pleasures
Poosts—posts
Praaze—praise, or prize
Preear—prayer
Preeav—prove
Prisance—presence
Prooan—prone
Prooase—prose
Prood—proud

Raise—rise
Rath—wrath
Reeace—race
Reeght—right
Reen—reign

Rint—rent
Rowlin—rolling
Rum—room

Saain'd—signed
Sal—shall Sare—sore
Sarten—certain
Sawn—sown
Screeve—mark
Seea—so
Seeaf—safe
Seean—soon
Seeaven—seven
Seeght—sight
Seer—sure
Shanks—legs
Shaw—show
Sheeape—shape
Shoat—short
Shoo—show
Shoothers—shoulders
Sike—such Sin'—since
Skoors—scores
Snaw—snow
Soorce—source
Sowl—soul
Spak—spoke
Steead—stood
Steeaks—stakes
Steean—stone
Strang—strong
Strave—strive
Stond—stand
Stour—drift
Sud—should

Sum—some Sute—suit
Swap—exchange

Taame—time
Tack—take
Teea an' fraw—to and fro
Teeables—tables
Teeak—took Teeal—tale
Teean—taken
Tegither—together
Te t'—to the Thah—thy Thee—thy Theer—there
Thenk—thank Ther—their Thof—though
Thowght—thought
Thraving—thriving
Thruff—through
Thunner—thunder
Tiv—to
Ton—turn
Toons—towns
Towght—taught
Tread—trade
Trimmel'd—trembled
Trist—trust
'Twad—it would Twea—two

Ungker'd—strange

Voo—vow

Wad—would

Waddn't—would not
Wark—work
Warst—worst
Wean't—will not
Weeap—weep
Weel—well
Wesh—wash
Wha—who Whahl—while
Wheas—who is, or whose Whooap—hope
Whoor—where Winder—window
Winnut—will not Wiv—with Woak—walk
Woark—work
Wods—words
Wor—were Woth—worth
Wrang—wrong
Wur—our Wur—was

Yack—oak
Yah—one
Yan—one
Yance—once
Yer—your

INDEX.

|                                        | Page.              |
|----------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Preface,                               | 5  |
| Awd Isaac, Part First,                 | 9  |
| —— Part Second,                        | 25 |
| —— His dying advice,                   | 30 |
| Dialogue on a Steeple Chase,           | 35 |
| The Lucky Dream,                       | 44 |
| A strange effusion,                    | 46 |
| Lealholm Bridge,                       | 48 |
| Old Sam, or the effects of the Gospel, | 51 |
| Thoughts on Good Friday,               | 55 |
| To a withered flower,                  | 57 |
| The country Love Feast,                | 59 |
| Ode to Britain,                        | 62 |
| A voice from the dead,                 | 63 |
| To the Moor birds in a storm,          | 66 |
| Lines on returning a borrowed Stick,   | 67 |
| The thunder storm,                     | 68 |
| The Miser's away,                      | 69 |

|                                           |                            |
|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| The Mistake,                              | 71  |
| The broken seal,                          | 72  |
| The Stone!,                               | 75  |
| To the rising Sun,                        | 82  |
| Lines in memory of the Rev. D. Duck,      | 84  |
| An elegy on the death of a beloved child, | 85  |
| On the first text heard spiritually,      | 88  |
| To a Squirrel in a cage,                  | 90  |
| To a bird singing in winter,              | 92  |
| Petch's Elegy,                            | 93  |
| Reflections on Petch's tomb,              | 95  |
| "Who hath believed our report?",          | 97  |
| The Bees,                                 | 100 |
| Caution from Limber Hill,                 | 101 |
| The village church in ruins,              | 103 |
| Poetical reflections,                     | 105 |
| The two hours' task,                      | 110 |
| The country blunder,                      | 113 |
| A sinner saved by grace,                  | 115 |
| The portion of the Just,                  | 117 |
| The happy choice,                         | 118 |
| On the death of John Morley,              | 119 |
| The servant's address to his master,      | 122 |
| Sabbath morning musings,                  | 125 |
| Lines on leaving Fryup,                   | 129 |

|                                                                              |                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| The Swallow,                                                                 | 131 |
| A call to the careless,                                                      | 132 |
| To a horse, dying alone!,                                                    | 134 |
| Musings during affliction,                                                   | 137 |
| The Play,                                                                    | 144 |
| The remote Christian,                                                        | 146 |
| Solitary reflections,                                                        | 149 |
| On some who had left us,                                                     | 150 |
| There is a God,                                                              | 152 |
| Confirmation,                                                                | 153 |
| The man of the world,                                                        | 155 |
| The rule of contrary,                                                        | 157 |
| On finding some Deistical books, in the house of one who oncefeared God, | 160 |
| On visiting Fryup,                                                           | 162 |
| The Three Voices,                                                            | 164 |
| Dialogue between Rosedale Bob, and Hartoft John,                             | 165 |
| A love letter,                                                               | 170 |
| Truth triumphant,                                                            | 173 |
| Reflections on a Backslider,                                                 | 176 |
| Village preaching,                                                           | 178 |
| The lodger in Liverpool,                                                     | 182 |
| Edom,                                                                        | 184 |
| Reflections on absent Friends,                                               | 187 |
| Last Job of an old Tramp,                                                    | 189 |

---

Whitby: Printed by Horne and Richardson.

TRANSCRIBERS' NOTES

- Page 23: Unnecessary opening “ as in original
- Page 27: .! at end of verse as in original
- Page 34: Closing ” has no associated opening “ in the original
- Page 46: Opening “ has no associated closing ” in the original
- Page 54: “ added before We all must
- Page 59: mispent as in the original
- Page 70: expence as in the original
- Page 148: bles'd as in the original
- Page 174: Powr's corrected to Pow'rs (second instance)
- Page 175: &c, corrected to &c. in the last verse
- Page 186: Unnecessary opening “ as in original
- Page 190: flourish,d corrected to flourish'd
- Page 195: sowl corrected to soul

*** END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK AWD ISAAC, THE STEEPLE CHASE, AND OTHER POEMS ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG™ LICENSE

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project

Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.