AMERICA'S NEW TABLE SEASONING

A new trend in food and nutrition is the fast-increasing use of fresh lemon juice as an all-purpose table seasoning. Fresh lemons have long been recognized as an indispensable flavoring for pies, tomato juice, tea, fish and seafood. Now millions are discovering that a squeeze of fresh lemon improves a long list of foods.

This new seasoning idea started with the thousands of people on low-salt and reducing diets. The real problem of these diets was to find some table seasoning to compensate for the loss of salt. Fresh lemons with their tantalizing tang and aromatic flavor are a wonderful help, patients report.

But you don't have to be on a special diet to enjoy the wonderful lift lemons give to food flavors. Soups, salads, meats, vegetables—in fact, practically all foods—are made instantly more flavorful, more delicious with a good squeeze of fresh lemon added at the table.

A SQUEEZE OF LEMON ...

Whether or not you salt your food, try adding the tang and aroma of fresh lemon juice. You know what lemons do for fish and seafood, tomato juice and tea. Now see what appetizing zest and sparkle they add to the many foods illustrated on this page.

SEASONING SECRETS FROM THE SUNKIST KITCHEN

Salt or no salt, these tips and suggestions on lemon seasoning will add flavor and appeal to nearly everything you eat. Try them on your family.

SALADS

Marinate cucumber slices and onion rings in lemon juice—add sugar if desired.

A good flavorful combination is made of endive, lettuce, radishes, green pepper and tomatoes—serve with lemon French dressing or salad dressing.

Green bean salad is good with lemon juice, oil, chopped parsley and garlic.

Mix equal amounts of lemon juice and sugar to top a fresh tomato salad. Good also on other fresh vegetable salads.

Use honey mixed with lemon juice for a simple sweet fruit salad dressing.

Add orange chunks and pineapple chunks to cabbage and mixed green salads—good with a low-sodium French dressing.

Unsalted nuts add flavor and texture to fruit and vegetable salads.

SOUPS

Float thin slices of lemon on tomato bouillon—a sprig of parsley pulled through the center of the slice of lemon adds glamour and appetite appeal.

DESSERTS

Easiest and quickest desserts for dieters are those made of fresh fruits—and there's a trick to varying these too:

Try a squeeze of lemon on cantaloupe or muskmelon to bring out the delicate flavor.

Sliced fresh peaches, sprinkled with lemon juice and then sweetened with sugar, are delicious.

If you sprinkle sliced bananas with lemon juice, then sweeten with honey, you'll have a pleasant taste surprise. Add color and texture contrast with juicy orange chunks.

FISH

Usually, juicy lemon wedges are enough to serve with fish—no other seasonings are necessary. However, for a lively flavor, fish may be sprinkled with lemon juice and paprika before broiling.

To eliminate odor, rub fish inside and out with fresh lemon before cooking. Adds flavor.

VEGETABLES

Green beans, squash, baked potatoes, all are more flavorful when served with lemon juice, butter^[1] and a bit of grated onion or chopped chives.

For steamed cabbage, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower—try lemon juice and butter^[1] with a dash of dry mustard and marjoram.

Carrots taste better when seasoned with lemon butter^[1], chopped fresh parsley and nutmeg.

Squash—mash it with lemon juice, butter^[1], sugar and cinnamon for a real flavor treat.

MEAT AND POULTRY

Lean beef—squeeze lemon juice on the meat, sprinkle with dry mustard and pepper.

Hamburger patties—season by squeezing lemon juice right into the meat before cooking and add chopped onion.

Lean pork chops—sprinkle with lemon juice and dust with paprika before cooking.

Liver—broil, but before turning, brush with a mixture of lemon juice, butter^[1] and grated onion—fit for a gourmet.

Chicken breast—sprinkle on a little paprika for color, baste with lemon juice, butter^[1] and fresh parsley. Or, use freshly ground black pepper and thyme. Or, baste broiled chicken with a sauce of lemon juice, olive or salad oil and a crushed clove of garlic.

^[1] Use sweet butter if on low-salt diet.

LEMON-BUTTER COMBINATIONS FOR LOW-SODIUM DIETERS

Fastest way to perk up the flavor of salt-free foods is with lemon butter. Like the wave of a magic wand, a pat of this seasoned butter transforms a flat-tasting food into something quite special. Versatile, too, with five variations on this basic mix:

1-1/2 teaspoons boiling water
2 tablespoons sweet butter, softened
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

Add boiling water to softened butter. Mix well. Add lemon juice and whip mixture until smooth and creamy. Makes enough for 2 cups of vegetables.

Variations—to basic mix add:

1. 1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley ... for sandwich spread; also fine for meats and vegetables too.
2. 1 tablespoon chopped fresh herbs or 1-1/2 teaspoons approved dried herbs ... use on meats and vegetables; vary amounts to individual taste.
3. 1 tablespoon grated onion or chopped chives ... excellent on baked potato; try also on green beans and squash.
4. 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard and 1/4 teaspoon marjoram ... very good on steamed cabbage.
5. 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg ... good on cooked carrots.

A decorative lemon garnish with that wonderful “lemony” aroma and that bright, gay color can give your ordinary meals a real gourmet quality both in flavor and looks. The decorative designs and garnishes pictured here are easily made with a sharp knife or scissors. To heighten effect, the lemon itself may be garnished with chopped fresh parsley or with paprika ... but, regardless of the decorative uses, always include lots of easy-to-squeeze lemon wedges so that everyone can get plenty of that wonderful lemon tang.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
