THE OSAGE TRIBE: TWO VERSIONS OF THE CHILD-NAMING RITE

By FRANCIS LA FLESCHÉ

INTRODUCTION

The two versions of the Osage Child-naming Rite recorded in this volume were obtained with considerable difficulty, owing to the reluctance of the people to speak of the sacred rites that were formulated by the Ni'-ka Xu-be, Holy Men, of long ago. This unwillingness to speak of the tribal rites, excepting in the prescribed ceremonial way, arose from a sense of reverence for things sacred and from the belief that within the rites, and in the articles dedicated to religious use, there resides a mystic power which could punish, by supernatural means, the persons who speak irreverently of the rites and put to profane use the symbolic articles.

In the early part of the life of the Osage, according to tradition, the people kept together for protection and moved about without tribal or gentile organizations, a condition which they termed "gani'-tha," which may be freely translated as, without law or order.

It was in those days that a group of men fell into the habit of gathering together, from time to time, to exchange ideas concerning the actions of the sun, moon, and stars which they observed move within the sky with marvelous precision, each in its own given path. They also noticed, in the course of their observations, that the travelers in the upper world move from one side of the sky to the other without making any disturbances in their relative positions, and that with these great movements four changes take place in the vegetal life of the earth which they agreed was effected by the actions of some of the heavenly travelers. These seasonal changes they named Be, Do-ge', Toⁿ, and Ba'-the (Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter).

The delving into the mysteries of the universe by this group of men, which was carried on for a long period of time, was primarily for the purpose of finding, if possible, the place from which comes all life.

The seasonal changes upon the earth which appear to accompany the movements of the sun and other cosmic bodies suggested to these men the existence between sky and earth of a procreative relationship, an idea which fixed itself firmly in their minds. It fitted their notion that the earth was related to and influenced by all of the great bodies that move around within the sky. However, they were not satisfied that these celestial bodies move without the guidance of some governing power, and they continued their search and their discussions. Then, in course of time, there crept into the minds of these men, who became known as the “Little Old Men,” the thought that a silent, invisible creative power pervades the sun, moon and stars and the earth, gives to them life, and keeps them eternally in motion and perfect order. This creative power which to their minds was the source of life they named Wa-koⁿ-da, Mysterious Power, and sometimes E-a'-wa-woⁿ a-ka, The Causer of Our Being.

These ideas are given expression in that part of the child-naming rite where the initiated members of two gentes are first called to enter the house in which the ceremonies are to take place. One of these gentes, the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, Peaceful Tsi'-zhu, represents the sky with its sun, moon, and stars, and the other, the Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge, Peaceful Wa'-tse-tsi, represents the earth with its waters and dry land. The house itself then becomes a symbol of the sky which encompasses the sun, moon, stars, and the earth. Thus the house, the two gentes and all the others who enter it to take part in the rite become, collectively, a symbol of the universe wherein life manifests itself by taking on an infinite variety of bodily forms. The whole ceremony is an expression of a longing desire that Wa-koⁿ-da who dwells in the universe will favor the little one who is to be named with a long life and an endless line of descendants.

The men who recorded the two versions of the Osage child-naming rite were typical full-blood Indians, neither of them spoke the English language, and nothing in all that they have given suggests foreign influence. Wa-xthi'-zhi (pl. 1) was a man of an inquiring mind. He did not hesitate to ask of his initiators the meaning of the parts of the rituals which he did not fully understand. He learned much from his father, who was well versed in the ancient tribal rites.

Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ (pl. 2) did not have these advantages, but he had a retentive mind and what he committed to memory of the rites was sufficient to him.

He did not insist upon being informed as to the meaning of the parts of the rites that were obscure to him.

I am indebted to Mr. Vince Dillon, of Fairfax, Okla., for permitting me to use a photograph he had made of two little Osages showing symbolic hair cut of one of them. Also to Joe Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ for the loan of a photograph of his two daughters. Joe is the son of Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ, who recorded the second version of the child-naming ceremony.

CHILD-NAMING RITUALS

To a self-respecting Osage husband and wife, the ceremonial naming of their first three sons and their first three daughters is of the utmost importance. The couple regard the performing of the ceremony as a sacred duty to their children which must never be neglected.

Each of these sons and daughters must be named according to the rites prescribed by the ancient No^{n'}-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga. Until the ceremonial naming the child has no place in the gentile organization, and it is not even regarded as a person.

Every one of these three sons and three daughters has a special kinship term which can be used only by the father, the mother, and the nearest relatives. These special kinship terms, as observed in their sequence, are as follows:

Sons	Daughters
I ⁿ -gtho ^{n'} .	Mi ['] -no ⁿ .
Ksho ^{n'} -ga.	Wi ['] -he.
Ḳa ['] -zhi ⁿ -ga.	Çi ['] -ge or A-çi ^{n'} -ga.

All the sons born after the third one are Ḳa[']-zhiⁿ-ga, and all the daughters born after the third one, Çi[']-ge or A-çi^{n'}-ga.

To each of the first six children belongs a distinctive gentile personal name, spoken of as: iⁿ-gtho^{n'} zha-zhe (Iⁿ-gtho^{n'} name), mi[']-noⁿ zha-zhe (Mi[']-noⁿ name), etc. These names must always be ceremonially conferred upon the newly born child. All the other sons and daughters are named without any formality because the ceremony performed for the Ḳa[']-zhiⁿ-ga and the Çi[']-ge serves for the other children that may follow. These distinctive gentile names may be designated as gentile birth names.

BIRTH NAMES OF THE PUMA GENS

The gentile birth names of the Puma gens, as given by Wa-xthi'-zhi, are as follows:

THE FIRST THREE SONS

1. Mi'-wa-ga-xe, Child-of-the-sun. This name is commemorative of the talk that took place between the "Little Ones" and the Sun when they went to him to ask for aid as they were about to come to the earth, their future home. In asking for aid, the "Little Ones" addressed the Sun as grandfather, and the Sun, in reply, said to them: "It is true that you are my children." Hence the name, Mi'-wa-ga-xe, Child-of-the-sun. The name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 41, lines 24 to 27.)

2. I'-e-çka-wa-the, Giver-of-speech. The Sun also gave to the "Little Ones" the power of expressing their thoughts by speech, and the skill in arranging their words so that they can be clearly understood. When a person speaks intelligently he is spoken of as i'-e-wa-çka, a clear speaker. The children are given the name I'-e-çka-wa-the as a recognition of this great gift from the Sun. The name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 41, line 34.)

The story of the introduction of this name, as told by the Black Bear gens in their Ni'-çi Ritual, differs from the Puma version of the story. (See p. 228, 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., lines 238 to 304.)

3. Moⁿ'-ga-xe, Arrow-maker. At the same time that the Sun gave to the "Little Ones" the gift of speech he gave to them a finished arrow so that when they came to dwell upon the earth they could make arrows like it and use them for defending themselves against enemies and for killing animals to use for food. The name is mentioned in the Puma Naming Ritual. (See p. 42, line 44.)

THE FIRST THREE DAUGHTERS

1. Moⁿ-ca-ṭse-xi, Sacred Arrowshaft. The name Moⁿ-ca-ṭse-xi refers to the ray of light which was given by the Sun to the “Little Ones” for use as an arrowshaft. This shaft had the quality of unerring precision which excited the wonder of the “Little Ones.” It was to them a mysterious arrowshaft. The name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 41, line 29.)

2. Moⁿ-zhoⁿ-op-she-wiⁿ, Woman-who-travels-over-the-earth. This name refers to the ever recurring westward movement of the moon over the earth. The name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 41, line 39.)

3. Noⁿ-mi-ṭse-xi, Beloved-child-of-the-sun. This name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 42, line 49.)

Another name follows that of the third son in the ritual, Iⁿ-shta'-sha-be, Dark-eyes, and is a Ẹa'-zhiⁿ-ga name. The name is mentioned in the Naming Ritual of the Puma gens. (See p. 42, line 54.)

The name E-noⁿ-gi-tha-bi, The Favorite, follows that of the third daughter, and is a Ẹi'-ge name. This name is not mentioned in the ritual. Wa-xthi'-zhi said the fourth daughter is the favored one because if the first three should fail to bring forth children the parents would cherish the hope that their fourth daughter will give them grandchildren.

SKY NAMES

The distinctive birth names of the Puma gens, mentioned above, are spoken of as sky names, to distinguish them from the common gentile names. These birth names are said to have originated in the sky when the “Little Ones” were about to descend to the earth to take upon themselves bodily form. Some of these names refer to important events that came to pass before the descent from the sky to the earth. Earth names were also used by both the Puma and the Black Bear gentes. These names will be referred to later.

Every Osage gens has its own version of the tribal Child-naming Ritual. The versions belonging to the In-gthon'-ga (Puma) gens of the Hon'-ga great division and that belonging to the Tsi'-zhu great division have been secured and are given below in detail.

CHILD-NAMING RITUAL OF THE PUMA GENS (WA-XTHI'-ZHI)

When a man of the Puma gens is prepared for the ceremonial naming of his newly born son he sends for the Sho'-ka (official messenger) of his gens. On the arrival of the Sho'-ka the father puts before him his customary fee of a blanket or blue cloth and a little pipe which he must carry as his official badge. The father of the child then orders the Sho'-ka to go and call the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the Puma, the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, and the Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge gentes. The Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge is the Peace gens of the Tsi'-zhu great tribal division, and the Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge the Peace gens of the Ho'-ga great tribal division. Prominence was given, in this ceremony, to these two gentes because they are the favored people of the sun and the unclouded sky, the most sacred of the cosmic forces. Through these two favored gentes the blessings of peace and long life are invoked for the child to be named and formally given its place in the tribal unit.

The No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of these three gentes assemble in the evening at the house of the father who, in a formal speech, makes known to them the purpose of the summons. Then the heads of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge and the Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge gentes direct the Sho'-ka to go and call the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the following gentes to assemble at the house of the father on the next morning:

Ho'-ga A-hiu-toⁿ, Wa-ça'-be-toⁿ and the O'-poⁿ, of the Ho'-ga subdivision; Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge, Ho' I-ni-ka-shi-ga, Wa-zha'-zhe Çka and the Ta' I-ni-ka-shi-ga of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision; Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ, Mi-k'in' Wa-noⁿ and the Tho'-xe of the Tsi'-zhu great division.

The Sho'-ka, as he goes on this errand, does not neglect the little pipe, his official badge.

KI'-NO^N—CEREMONY OF DECORATING THE XO'-KA

Before sunrise of the following day the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the Puma gens assemble at the house of the member who had been appointed by the father to act as Xo'-ka in the ceremony. When all the members had taken their places the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka (master of ceremonies) recites the wi'-gi-e relating to the symbolic articles with which the Xo'-ka is to be decorated. The wi'-gi-e is accompanied by certain ceremonial acts performed by an assistant. The first section of the wi'-gi-e relates to the red dawn, the beginning of the life of day. The assistant, who has put red paint on the palms of his hands, spreads them out toward the dawn that is reddening the eastern sky. When the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka reaches the fourth line the assistant paints red the face of the Xo'-ka. Then, as the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka goes on to the second section the assistant takes up a white, downy feather (pl. 3, b), taken from the under covert of an eagle's tail, and holds it poised over the Xo'-ka's head. When the twelfth line of the wi'-gi-e is reached the assistant quickly fastens the feather to the scalplock of the Xo'-ka. This feather symbolizes one of the two white shafts of light that may be seen at either side of the sun as it rises through the fading color of the dawn. Each of these two shafts symbolizes a never-ending life. The one at the right belongs to the Hoⁿ'-ga great division and the one at the left to the Tsi'-zhu great division. At the beginning of the third section of the wi'-gi-e the assistant rubs in the palms of his hands a bit of buffalo fat, then holds his outspread hands poised over the Xo'-ka's head. When the twentieth line is reached he anoints the Xo'-ka's hair with the oil, an act by which is expressed the wish that the child whom the Xo'-ka represents shall always be abundantly supplied with food of all kinds.

At the fourth section of the wi'-gi-e the assistant takes up a necklace of beads, or a narrow woven band, to which is attached a shell gorget (pl. 3, a) and holds it in readiness. When the twenty-sixth line is reached he puts the necklace upon the neck of the Xo'-ka so that the gorget hangs upon his breast. This gorget typifies the Sun, whose life endures forever.

WA'-ṬSE-ṬSI AND THE ṬSI'-ZHU WA-SHTA-GE GENTES

As the ceremony of decorating the Xo'-ka goes on, the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga members of the Wa'-ṭse-ṭsi Wa-shta-ge gens, followed, by those of the Ṭsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens, go to the house of the father of the child to be named, and enter to take their places, those of the Wa'-ṭse-ṭsi at the east end on the south side and those of the Ṭsi'-zhu at the east end on the north side. (Fig. 1.) The house then becomes the home of these two gentes for the time being and for the purposes of the ceremony. The Wa'-ṭse-ṭsi is the Peace gens of the Hoⁿ'-ga great tribal division, its life symbol is the water portion of the earth. The hereditary chief of the Hoⁿ'-ga division was chosen from this gens. The Ṭsi'-zhu is the Peace gens of the Ṭsi'-zhu great division. Its life symbol is the clear blue sky. The hereditary chief of the T̥si'-zhu great division was chosen from this gens.

T̥SI T̥A'-PE (APPROACH TO THE HOUSE)

The purpose of the K̥i'-noⁿ ceremony is to prepare the Xo'-ka who represents the child to be named to approach in the prescribed manner the house wherein sit the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the Wa'-tse-t̥si and the T̥si'-zhu gentes, the first representing the life-giving power of water and the latter the life-giving power of the sun whose abode is in the great blue sky. The Xo'-ka is to come to the sacred house as a suppliant for a full and complete life, uninterrupted by diseases or accidents, and for an endless line of descendants. The ceremonial approach of the Xo'-ka to the sacred house is called T̥si T̥a'-pe (T̥si, house; T̥a'-pe, approach), as to a place of refuge.

At the close of the K̥i'-noⁿ ceremony the Xo'-ka wraps about his body a buffalo robe, hair outside, and thus clothed in his sacerdotal attire he goes out of his own house to make his processional approach to the sacred house, following his Sho'-ka who precedes him in the march. After the manner of all suppliants who approach Wa-koⁿ'-da, the Xo'-ka carries with him a little pipe with which to make a smoke offering to that mysterious power that controls all life. The Xo'-ka and the Sho'-ka, on their solemn approach to the House of Mystery, keep a certain distance apart. When they have gone some 40 or 50 paces they make a pause and the Xo'-ka sings the following song, after which he recites the first section of the wi'-gi-e called Wa'-ci-thu-çe Wi'-gi-e (Footstep Wi'-gi-e). The song precedes each of the four sections of the wi'-gi-e:

13. Toward which the little ones shall take their footsteps.
14. When the little ones take their footsteps toward the Male Star,
15. They shall always live to see old age, O, younger brothers, they said to one another.

16. Toward what shall the little ones take their footsteps? they said to one another.
17. It is the Female Star (the moon) who sitteth in the heavens,
18. Toward which the little ones shall take their footsteps.
19. When the little ones take their footsteps toward the Female Star,
20. They shall always live to see old age, O, younger brothers, they said to one another.

The words of the processional song:

Into a star you have cast yourself,
 Into my star you have cast yourself, etc.

are addressed to the child upon whom is to be conferred his personal, gentile name, and who is to be given his place in the Puma gens into which he was born. The star referred to in the song is the sun, the greatest life symbol of the Puma gens.

In the first section of the “Footstep Wi’-gi-e,” which the Xo’-ka recites as he makes his processional approach to the House of Mystery, the sun is referred to as the “Male Star.” The first line of the wi’-gi-e, “Toward what shall the little ones take their footsteps,” implies that much thought was given by the ancient Noⁿ’-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga to the question as to the places where prayers for aid for the attainment of long life should be directed. The lines that follow imply that the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga had finally arrived at the belief that if the "Little Ones" go with their prayers to the "Male Star," the sun, they would find the way by which they could reach old age. The authors of these peculiar rites in speaking of long life did not only mean the attainment of old age by the child but they also meant the continuity of its life by procreation.

In the second section of the wi'-gi-e the moon is referred to as the "Female Star." The same form that is used for the sun is also used for the moon. The pairing of these two great cosmic bodies in this wi'-gi-e suggests a procreative relationship between the two. The last two sections of the wi'-gi-e are repetitions of the first two. These repetitions are made in order to complete the mystic number four. The moon, referred to in the second section as the female star, is the life symbol of the Wa-ça'-be, or the Black Bear gens.

When the Xo'-ka have finished reciting the first section of the Footstep Wi'-gi-e, which speaks of the approach of the little ones to the sun, he and the Sho'-ka continue their march. Again they pause and the Xo'-ka recites the second section which tells of the approach of the little ones toward the moon seeking for long life. The fourth pause brings them to the door of the House of Mystery, which they enter, followed by the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka and the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the Puma gens who are to give their child a place in the visible universe. They take their place at the east end of the lodge where sit the father and mother with the child. The Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga who had been called to take part in the ceremony also enter and take their fixed places, those belonging to the Hoⁿ'-ga great division at the south side and those of the Tsi'-zhu great division at the north side of the lodge. (Fig. 1.)

THE WA-THE'-THE CEREMONY

When all the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga have become settled in their places, according to gentes, the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka proceeds with the ceremonial acts called Wa-the'-the, which, translated literally, means, The Sending; that is, the sending of a fee of a blanket or other article of value to each, head of the gentes taking part in the child-naming ceremony. It is understood by these ceremonial acts that the members of the gens to whose head is sent a fee are requested to recite the wi'-gi-e relating to the Life Symbol of their gens. Each article is received from the hands of the A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka by the Sho'-ka who delivers it to the head of the gens for whom it is sent.

Wa-xthi'-zhi, who gives this child-naming ritual of his gens, the Puma, when acting as A'-ki-hoⁿ Xo'-ka, sends the fees in the following order:

Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge: Fee, with a red downy eagle feather, symbolizing the sun. The members of the gens will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the life-giving power of the sun. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 124, lines 1 to 177.)

Wa-ça'-be: Fee; will recite the Zha'-zhe Ki-toⁿ Wi'-gi-e, Name Wi'-gi-e of the gens. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 228, lines 238 to 304.) The Wa-ça'-be and the Iⁿ-gtho'-ga gentes are closely related and one acts as Sho'-ka for the other in their ceremonies of initiation into the mysteries of the tribal rites.

Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ: Fee; will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the life-giving power of the sun, their life symbol. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 118, lines 1 to 36.)

Ho'-ga A-hiu-toⁿ: Fee; will recite wi'-gi-e relating to the mottled eagle, the "stainless" bird that led the people down from the sky to the earth. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 162, lines 177 to 311.)

Mi-k'iⁿ Wa-noⁿ: Fee; the members of this gens will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the moon and all the stars and to their power to aid the "little ones" to reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 122, lines 1 to 44.)

O'-poⁿ: Fee; the members of the gens will recite the Wa-dsu-ta I-hi-thoⁿ-be Wi'-gi-e which tells of the various places of the earth where the little ones may find the animals on which to live. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 112, lines 1 to 109.)

Tho'-xe: Fee; some grains of maize are also sent. The members of this gens will recite the wi'-gi-e relating to the bringing of the maize to the people by a buffalo bull, and to his offer to aid the little ones to reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 280, lines 83 to 110; also p. 134, lines 1 to 162.)

Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge: Fee, with cedar fronds. Members of this gens will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the red cedar, an evergreen tree which has power to resist death, and to its offer to aid the little ones to reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 95, lines 1 to 34.)

Ho' I-ni-ka-shi-ga: Fee, with a kettle of water. The members of this gens will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the everflowing water which, has power to help the little ones to reach old age. These are the Fish people. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 98, lines 1 to 35.)

Wa-zha'-zhe cka: Fee, with a mussel shell. The mussel is the life symbol of this gens. The members of the gens will recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the power of the mussel to resist death, and to its consent to aid the little ones to reach old age. The Wa-zha'-zhe cka are a water people. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 94, lines 1 to 29.)

Ta I-ni-ka-shi-ga, the Deer People: Only a fee is sent to them. The members will recite their Wa-dsu'-ta I-hi-thoⁿ-be Wi'-gi-e, which tells of the various places of the earth where the deer will reveal themselves to the little ones to give them help to reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 97, lines 44 to 103.)

When the Sho'-ka had delivered the last fee every Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga who knows his wi'-gi-e begins to recite it in a loud voice. None of the wi'-gi-es are alike and none of the members of a gens recite in unison, consequently there would be a volume of sounds most bewildering to the uninitiated.

ZHA'-ZHE KÌ-TO^N WÌ'-GI-E

The wi'-gi-e recited by the members of the Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga gens at this time is called Zha'-zhe Kì-toⁿ Wì'-gi-e, freely translated, the Name Wì'-gi-e. It is in three parts. The first, which includes sections 1 to 8, is called Zha'-zhe Kì-toⁿ, the taking of names; the second, which includes sections 9 and 10, is called U'-noⁿ U-tha-ge, the telling of the means by which to reach old age;

the third, which includes sections 11 and 12, is called U'-noⁿ-bthe U-gi-dse, the story of the search for the life-giving foods.

58. Verily, at that time and place, it has been said, in this house,
 59. They spake to one another, saying: O, younger brothers,
 60. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
 61. They went forth with hurrying footsteps,
 62. To the soft stone that sitteth upon the earth.
 63. Verily, at that time,
 64. They spake to him, saying: O, my grandfather,
 65. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
 66. The soft stone replied: O, little ones,
 67. You say your little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
 68. The little ones shall make of me their bodies.
 69. Verily, at that time and place,
 70. He spake further, saying: When the little ones become ill and fretful, 71. They shall cling to me as one who can produce the heat by which they can be purified.

72. Verily, at that time and place, it has been said, in this house,
 73. They spake to one another, saying: Give heed, my younger brothers,
 74. You will go forth to make further search,
 75. Then, even as these words were spoken, they hastened
 76. To the friable stone,
 77. And, standing close to him,
 78. Spake, saying: O, grandfather, the little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
 79. The friable stone replied: O, my little ones,
 80. You say the little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
 81. The little ones shall make of me their bodies.
 82. When they make of me their bodies,
 83. They shall cling to me as one who can produce the heat by which their bodies can be purified.

84. Verily, at that time and place, it has been said, in this house,
85. They spake to one another, saying: O, younger brothers,
86. The little ones have nothing which they can use for food at all times,
87. You will go and search for such food as they can use for all time.
88. A younger brother hastened
89. To the very center of a lake,
90. Where lay the root of the tse'-wa-the (Nelumbo lutea).
91. He hastened home with the root,
92. And spake, saying: O, elder brothers, how will this serve for food?
93. The elder brothers hastened to try the taste of the root,
94. Like milk the juice squirted in their mouths,
95. And they said to one another: O, younger brothers,
96. This will serve as food for the little ones.
97. When the little ones make use of this plant as food,
98. They shall always live to see old age, as they travel the path of life.

99. There lacks one more, O, younger brothers, they said to one another.
100. You will go forth and make further search.
101. Even as these words were spoken,
102. One hastened to the farther borders of the lake,
103. Where sat the do (Apios apios).
104. Close to it he stood,
105. Then he hastened home, carrying the plant with him.
106. Standing before his brothers, he spake, saying: O, elder brothers,
107. How will this serve for food?
108. They replied: O, younger brother,
109. That is the very object for which you have been searching.
110. The elder brothers hastened to try the taste of the root,
111. Like milk the juice squirted in their mouths.
112. Then they spake, saying: The little ones shall use this plant for food.
113. When the little ones use this plant for food,
114. They shall always live to see old age.
115. It shall make their limbs to stretch in growth, as they travel the path of life.

When Wa-xthi'-zhi made up his mind to give a description of the Child-naming Ritual of his own gens, the Puma, he did not hesitate to recite the wi'-gi-es and to tell of the ceremonial forms that accompany the entire ritual. But when asked to recite the wi'-gi-es of the 11 gentes who were summoned to take part in the ceremony of conferring a name upon a Puma child he declined to give them, although he knew all of them, for the reason that they were not his to give. He had not obtained from any of these gentes the right to transfer them to strangers or to members of other gentes.

It so happened that when Wa-xthi'-zhi was describing the Child-naming Ritual of his own gens, which he had a perfect right to do, Wa-sho'-she (pl. 4), a member of the Hoⁿ-ga A-hiu-toⁿ gens, was present. This man, when asked if he would be willing to give the U'-noⁿ Wi'-gi-e (Old-age Wi'-gi-e) of his gens for a fee, promptly replied that he would. He had obtained by purchase from his father the wi'-gi-e and so had acquired the right to transfer it to anybody, but the transfer must always be made for a fee. The fee was provided and Wa-sho'-she sat down and recorded the Old-age Wi'-gi-e of his own gens, the Hoⁿ'-ga A-hiu-toⁿ. This name refers to the "Stainless Bird," the mottled eagle, who conducted the Hoⁿ'-ga people to earth from mid-heaven. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 162, lines 177 to 199.)

WA-SHO'-SHE (HO^{N'}-GAA-HIU-TO^N (EAGLE) GENS)

The first seven lines of the wi'-gi-e refer back to the time when "the Ho^{n'}-ga who possess seven fireplaces" chose for one of their life symbols the "Stainless Bird," the mottled eagle. The people who are here spoken of as the Ho^{n'}-ga having seven fireplaces are those who compose the seven gentile groups that represent the land portion of the earth in the two great tribal divisions symbolizing the cosmos. These seven gentile groups (seven fireplaces) are, as given by Black-dog. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 52-53.)

1. Wa-ça´-be-ʔoⁿ, They-who-own-the-black-bear.
2. Iⁿ-gthoⁿ´-ga, Puma.
3. O-poⁿ, Elk.
4. Moⁿ-iⁿ-ḵa-ga-xe, Makers-of-the-earth.
5. Hoⁿ´-ga gthe-zhe, The-mottled-sacred-one.
6. Xu-tha´, Eagle (the adult golden eagle).
7. Hoⁿ´-ga zhiⁿ-ga, The-little-sacred-one.

When the “Hoⁿ´-ga, a people who possess seven fireplaces” went to the “Stainless Bird” and said to him (lines 5, 6, and 7): “The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,” meaning that they have no symbol for the long life which they crave, he replied in the words as given in the wi´-gi-e, from line 10 to the end:

WI'-GI-E OF THE WA'-TSE-TSI GENS

At the close of the recital of the wi'-gi-es by all the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, the Sho'-ka places before the head of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens a bowl of water into which had been put fronds of the red cedar. The red cedar and the water are the life symbols of the Wa'-tse-tsi, the people who came to earth from the stars. The following is an epitome of their wi'-gi-e:

I am a person who is fit for use as a symbol,
Behold the female red cedar,
Verily, I am a person who has made of that tree his body.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
They shall always live to see old age.
Behold the male red cedar,
The little ones shall always use this tree as a symbol.
When the little ones use it for a symbol,
They shall always live to see old age.
Behold these waters,
That we shall make to be companions to the tree.
When the little ones make use of these waters
As the means of reaching old age,
They shall always live to see old age.

—(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 95.)

WÍ'-GI-E OF THE BOW PEOPLE

The E-no^{n'} Miⁿ-dse-^{to}ⁿ, a people who belong to the same great tribal division as the Wa'-tse-tsi, use a similar wí'-gi-e, which is as follows:

I am a person who is fitted for use as a symbol.
Verily, in the midst of the rushing waters
Abides my being.
Verily, I am a person who has made of the waters his body.
Behold the right side of the river,
Of which I have made the right side of my body.
When the little ones make of me their bodies
And use the right side of the river
To make their bodies,
The right side of their bodies shall be free from all causes of death.

Behold the left side of the river,
Of which I have made the left side of my body.
When the little ones also make of it the left side of their bodies,
The left side of their bodies shall always be free from all causes of death.

Behold the channel of the river,
Of which I have made the hollow of my body.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
The hollow of their bodies shall always be free from all causes of death.

A bowl of shelled corn, the life symbol of the Tho'-xe gens, was also placed before the head of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens. (For the Maize Wi'-gi-e of the Tho'-xe gens, see 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 135, lines 57 to 113; also p. 277, lines 83 to 110.)

When the bowls of water and cedar fronds and shelled corn are placed before the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, the Sho'-ka puts in his arms the child to be blessed and named. The head of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens then passes the tips of the fingers of his right hand over the bowl of water and cedar fronds, and the bowl of the life-giving corn, then touches with the tips of his fingers the lips, head, arms and body of the child. The two bowls and the child are then passed on to the head of the Wa'-tse-tsi Wa-shta-ge gens, who goes through the same motions with the child. The child and the two bowls are then passed on to the heads of each of the other gentes who make the same motions over the child as were made by the heads of the first two gentes.

These ceremonial acts performed by the heads of the gentes officiating, by which the child is brought into touch with the ever-flowing waters, the red cedar, an everlasting tree, and the life-giving corn, are supplicatory acts by which the aid of Wa-koⁿ-da is sought for the child who is to go forth to take part in the great life activities. Not only is the attainment of old age desired for the child but also the continuity of its life by a never-ending line of descendants.

At the close of these ceremonial acts a sacred gentile name is conferred upon the child without further ceremony. If, however, there are two or more names to choose from, as is the case in some of the gentes, the mother of the child has the privilege of making a choice from two or three names. This privilege is given by the Xo'-ka, who offers to the mother two small sticks prepared for this purpose, each of which represents a name mentioned in the origin ritual of the gens naming the child. The mother usually chooses the stick representing the name which to her has the greater religious significance and is the most euphonious.

EARTH NAMES AND WÍ'-GI-ES

It was stated (see p. 33) that earth names as well as sky names were used by both the In-gthoⁿ-ga and the Wa-ça'-be gentes as distinctive birth names for their children.

In the course of a conversation concerning the gentile names, classed as sky and earth names, Wa-xthi'-zhi, of the Puma gens, remarked that: When the Hoⁿ-ga people were coming from the sky to the earth they chose two persons (gentes) to act as official messengers. One of these persons was called Hoⁿ-ga Wa'-tse-gi-tsi, The-sacred-one-from-the-stars, and the other Hoⁿ-ga Wa-tse-ga-wa, The-sacred-radiant-star. These messengers were expected to find some way of dispersing the waters that submerged the earth and of exposing the ground beneath so as to make it habitable for all living creatures.

Wa'-tse-gi-tsi and Wa'-tse-ga-wa, the two messengers, found on the still waters the water spider, the water beetle, the white leech, and the dark leech, of whom they asked for aid which they could not give, but promised to help the people to reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 163, lines 200 to 273.) The two messengers went on and they met O'-poⁿ-toⁿ-ga, the Great Elk, and appealed to him for aid. The Great Elk threw himself upon the waters four times and splashed about until the ground was exposed and ready to receive men and animals. He then called to the four corners of the earth for the life-giving winds to come. Next he threw himself upon the ground and rolled about; then, as he arose, the hairs of his body clung to the soil and became the grasses of the earth. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 165-167, lines 274 to 354.)

The two messengers then led the people over the dry land of the earth, when suddenly Hoⁿ'-ga Wa'-tse-gi-tsi, The-one-from-the-stars, came upon In-gthoⁿ'-ga, the Puma. The messenger then changed his name from Wa'-tse-gi-tsi to In-gthoⁿ'-ga. In like manner the Hoⁿ'-ga Wa'-tse-ga-wa, the Radiant Star, came upon Wa-ça'-be, the Black Bear. The Radiant Star then changed his name from Wa'-tse-ga-wa to Wa-ça'-be, the Black Bear.

These were the first earth names of the two related gentes, the In-gthoⁿ'-ga and the Wa-ça'-be. Wa-xthi'-zhi mentioned several other personal earth names of these two gentes but he suggested that the parts of the rituals given by himself and Wa-tse'-moⁿ-iⁿ (pl. 5), in which are mentioned the earth names, be referred to as authoritative, and so the following paraphrases of those parts of the rituals are here given.

EARTH NAME WI'-GI-ES

(W_A-XTHI'-ZHI)

The people spake to one another, saying: The little ones have nothing to use as a symbol of courage.

Then, at that very time,

The Hoⁿ'-ga Wa'-tse-ga-wa (Hoⁿ'-ga-radiant-star),

Went forth with hurried footsteps

To the In-gthoⁿ'-ga do-ga, (male puma),

With whom he stood face to face and spake,

Saying: The little ones have nothing to use as a symbol of courage, O, grandfather.

The Male puma replied: I am a person whom the little ones may use as a symbol of courage.

The brothers spake in low tones,

Saying: He is a puma, O, younger brothers,

Let us take personal names from him;

In-gthoⁿ'-ga-toⁿ'-ga, the Great-puma,

Shall be our name, O, younger brothers;

In-gthoⁿ'-ga-zhiⁿ-ga, the Young-puma,

Shall be our names, as we travel the path of life.

The Hoⁿ'-ga Wa'-tse-ga-wa, Radiant-star,

Went forth with hurried footsteps,

To the Wa-ça'-be, the Black-bear that is without blemish,

Who stood as in a flame of fire.

The Radiant-star spake to him, saying: The little ones have nothing to use as a symbol of their courage.

Wa-ça'-be replied: I am a person whom the little ones may use as a symbol of their courage.

The brothers spake to one another, saying: He is a black bear!

He is very dark in color!

Let us take from him personal names.

Sha'-be-tsi-gthe, the Dark-one,

Shall be our name henceforth, as we travel the path of life.

You have found the Dark-one, O, younger brothers,

Sha'-be-i-the, Finder-of-the-dark-one,

Shall be our name, henceforth, as we travel the path of life.

Look you, O, younger brothers, they said to one another,

The little ones have nothing to use as a symbol of courage.

Then they went forth in a body to an open prairie,
Where sat Mi'-xa-çka, the Great-white-swan.
Face to face they stood with him and spake,
Saying: The little ones have nothing to use as a symbol of courage, O,
grandfather.

The brothers spake in low tones, saying: O, younger brothers,
We shall take from him personal names.

How white he is! the younger ones exclaimed,
He is a bird,

A white swan.

Mi'-xa-çka, the White-swan,
Shall be our name, O, younger brothers.

How white he is! they again exclaimed,
Wa-zhi'-çka, the White-bird, shall also
Be our name, O, younger brothers.

1115.)

WÍ'-GI-E OF THE WA'TSE-GI-ṬSI

HE-WHO-CAME-FROM-THE-STARS

What said they? it has been said, in this house,
The people spake, saying: O, younger brothers,
We are a people who give no mercy to the foe.
Then they spake to the one (gens) who had made of the Puma his body,
Saying: O, younger brother.
Hardly were these words spoken when the Puma hastened forth.
After a time the people said: There are signs that our brother is returning.
Then some of the brothers ran to meet him.

To their inquiry the Puma replied: O, elder brothers,
Yonder stands a man,
Verily, a man whose appearance inspires fear,
A man who is like us in form.
The people spake, saying: O, younger brother,
We are a people who show no mercy to the foe.
Whoever this man may be,
We shall send him to the abode of spirits,
We shall make him to lie low.

Then toward the man they hastened:
They made one ceremonial pause.
At the fourth pause,
The Puma exclaimed: There he stands!
It is well, the people replied,
We shall send him to the abode of spirits.
Then, at that very time,
The stranger spake, saying:
I am a sacred man, O, elder brothers.

The Puma spake, saying:
He speaks clearly our language!
I am Hoⁿ-ga Wa'-tse-gi-tsi, a sacred person come from the stars, the stranger continued.
I am Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hi-ge,¹ The-young-chief;
I am Wa'-tse-ga-hi-ge, The-star-chief;
I am Wa'-tse-ga-wa, The-star-radiant;
I am Wa'-tse-moⁿ-iⁿ, The-traveling-star.

That pleases us! the people exclaimed.
Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hi-ge, The-young-chief, the stranger went on,
Shall be your name, as you travel the path of life;
Wa'-tse-ga-wa, The-star-radiant,
Shall also be your name, as you travel the path of life.
I have done much to make you contented and happy.
We are pleased! the people exclaimed,
We shall henceforth put away all anger and hatred,
We shall accept the names thus offered us.
Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hi-ge, The-young-chief,
Shall be our name,
Wa'-tse-ga-wa, The-star-radiant,
Shall be our name.
I'-e-cka-wa-the, He-speaks-clearly,
We shall also take as a name in his honor,
Pa'-thiⁿ-hoⁿ-ga, The-sacred-stranger,
We shall also take as a name in his honor.

Mi'-xa-cka, the white swan from whom personal names were taken, as mentioned in the following wi'-gi-e given by Wa-tse'-moⁿ-iⁿ, is a warrior symbol. The black color on its feet and on the tip of its nose typifies the fire that knows no mercy. The standards (crooks), which were carried by an Osage war party (pl. 6, a), typify the neck of the white swan.

MI'-XA-ÇKA, THE WHITE SWAN

The people spake to one another, saying:
We have nothing of which to make a symbol (war standard).
They spake to the Puma (gens), saying:
Go thou and make search (for materials).
Even as these words were spoken the Puma went forth to search.

In time he hastened homeward,
And, standing before the elder brothers, he spake, saying:
O, elder brothers, what appears to be an animal,
Is in yonder place.
Make haste! the people said to one another,
We shall send him to the abode of spirits.
Verily, we are a people who give no mercy to the foe.

They made one ceremonial pause,
The fourth pause brought them close to the place.
Then the Puma spake, saying: There he stands! O, elder brothers.
An elder brother pointed with his index finger at the bird,
And it fell to the ground in death, its feathers strewing the earth.
They gathered around the fallen bird and stood.

Then one spake, saying: It is a swan! O, elder brothers,
A white swan!
Even from its white plumage
We shall take personal names,
Mi'-xa-çka, White-swan,
Wa-zhiⁿ'-ga-çka, White-bird,
And Moⁿ'-shoⁿ-çka, White-feathers,
The little ones shall be named, as they travel the path of life.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 228-231, lines 238 to 358.)

The earth names given by Wa-xthi'-zhi, of the Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga (Puma) gens, in his wi'-gi-es are as follows:

1. In-gthoⁿ'-ga-ʔoⁿ-ga, the Great-puma.
2. Inⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga-zhiⁿ-ga, the Young-puma.
3. Sha'-be-ʔsi-gthe, the Dark-one.
4. Sha'-be-i-the, Finder-of-the-dark-one.
5. Mi'-xa-çka, the White-swan.
6. Wa-zhiⁿ'-çka, the White-bird.

The earth names given by Wa-ʔse'-moⁿ-iⁿ of the Wa-ça'-be (Black Bear) gens in his wi'-gi-es:

1. Wa'-ʔse-gi-ʔsi, He-who-came-from-the-stars.
2. Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hi-ge, Young-chief.
3. Wa'-ʔse-ga-hi-ge, Star-chief.
4. Wa-ʔse'-ga-wa, Star-radiant.
5. Wa-ʔse'-moⁿ-iⁿ, Traveling-star.
6. I'-e-çka-wa-the, He-speaks-clearly.
7. ʔa'-thiⁿ-hoⁿ-ga, The-sacred-stranger.
8. Mi'-xa-çka, White-swan.
9. Wa-zhiⁿ'-ga-çka, White-bird.
10. Moⁿ-shoⁿ-çka, White-feather.

The following earth names, not specifically mentioned by Wa-xthi'-zhi, also appear in the wi'-gi-es recorded by himself and by Wa-ʔse'-moⁿ-iⁿ. These names are also regarded as sacred and are ceremonially bestowed upon the children of the Puma and Black Bear gentes:

WA-XTHI'-ZHI

1. Moⁿ'-hiⁿ-çi-i-ba-btho-ga, Round-handled-knife. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 206, line 1399.)
2. Monⁿ'-hiⁿ-hoⁿ-ga, Sacred-knife. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 207, line 1424.)
3. Moⁿ-hiⁿ-zhu-dse, Red-knife. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 208, line 1439.)
4. The fourth name given by Wa-xthi'-zhi (Noⁿ-be'-wa-koⁿ-da, Mysterious-hand) does not appear in any of the wi'-gi-es given either by himself or by Wa-ʔse'-moⁿ-iⁿ. However, the Mysterious-hand is spoken of by both of these men in their conversations concerning the rites, and is referred to in some of the wi'-gi-es. (See 36th Ann. Rept., p. 230, lines 323 to 340.) The story of the Mysterious-hand, as told colloquially, is that when the people came from the sky to the earth they had no weapons, but they killed animals by moistening the index finger of the right hand with saliva and pointing it at them. This name is also bestowed ceremonially.

WA-ṬSE'-MO^N-I^N

1. Miⁿ-ṭse-xi, Sacred-robe. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 235, line 510.)
2. No'-ka-dsi-wiⁿ, Spine-woman. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 235, line 512.)
3. Ṭse'-pa'-ga-xe, Buffalo-head-maker. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 235, line 518.)
4. Moⁿ-hiⁿ-zhu-dse, Red-knife. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 237, line 573.)
5. Moⁿ-hiⁿ-hoⁿ-ga, Sacred-knife. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 237, line 576.)

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO THE MOTHER

At the close of the ceremony of blessing the child by the various gentes officiating, the Sho'-ka conducts the mother to a seat prepared for her in front of the Xo'-ka, who gives her special instructions in the ceremonies to be observed by her to complete the child-naming rite. Between the two is spread a buffalo robe which had been decorated with certain symbolic designs. (Fig. 2.) This formal talk to the mother is called "Ḳi'-noⁿ U-tha-ge," Telling of the Symbolic Painting. Extra fees are required for the special instruction, which, with the help of friends and relatives, the mother is enabled to pay.

If the mother is skilled with her awl and thread in ornamental work she would decorate with porcupine quills the symbolic robe to be used in this special ceremony; if not skilled, she would content herself with painting the symbolic designs on the robe.

FIG. 2.—Symbolic robe prepared for children

When the robe has been spread before the Xo'-ka he begins to talk, as follows:

Wi-tsi-ni-e', My daughter-in-law, I see you have brought with you a robe which you have dressed and decorated for the comfort of your little one. It is a sacred robe which should be put to use with proper ceremony. This ceremony you will observe for a period of four days, during which you will paint red the parting of your hair. It will be a sign that you appeal for a long and fruitful life for yourself and child, to the god of day whose path lies over the middle of the earth.

You have reddened the head and the forelegs of the robe. The head and forelegs of the robe typify that part of the earth whence rises the god of day to take his westward journey. Red is the color of the day when it is young, the time when you will rise and go forth to prepare food for the little one whose tender life is wholly dependent upon your efforts. A narrow line runs from the head of the robe along the middle of the back to the tail. This line typifies the path of the god of day who ever travels from east to west. Midway of the path is a round spot which represents the god of day when it has reached the middle of heaven. Here he marks the time when you will turn your thoughts from other things to the feeding of the little one so that the nourishing of its life may be continuous. The god of day continues his journey and in time reaches the edge of the earth, behind which he finally disappears. The hind legs and the tail of the robe are reddened to typify the glow that warns us of the ending of the day when your thoughts will again turn to the care of the little one. When you put these symbolic marks upon this sacred robe your thoughts reached out in appeal to Wa-koⁿ-da for yourself and child.

WA-TSE'-MO^N-I^N (WA-ÇA'-BE (BLACK BEAR) GENS)

BUREAU OF AMERICAN ETHNOLOGY
FORTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT PLATE 6

a, WAR STANDARD (SYMBOLIZES THE WHITE SWAN)
b, ṬSE'-WA-THE ROOT (NELUMBO LUTEA), USED FOR FOOD

As the shadow of night spreads over the land you will take your little one in your arms, draw this robe over you, then rest in sleep. The robe which you draw over yourself and child typifies the heaven, whence comes all life, and the act is an appeal to heaven for protection.

The procuring of food for the little one should always be done with a feeling of gratitude toward the Mysterious Power that brings forth life in all forms. There is a plant which is dedicated to use as a sacred food in the bringing up of the little ones, known as tse'-wa-the (Nelumbo lutea) (pl. 6, b). (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 183, lines 910 to 923.) You will at times go to the lake to gather the roots of this plant for use in feeding your little one. When about to go to the lake you will paint red the parting of your hair, as a sign of your gratitude to the god of day who passes over your head and over the plant you go to seek, shedding his life-giving power upon you as he goes upon his journey.

When you come to the edge of the lake you will look about for a staff to support you as you work in the water. You will choose the willow for your staff, for it is a tree that clings persistently to life. By this act you will make an appeal to the great Life-giving Power for a long and fruitful life for yourself and the little one. With the willow staff in your hands you will step into the water and take up from the soft earth beneath a root of the sacred plant, the tse'-wa-the. You will find clinging to the root some of the soft earth from which the plant draws nourishment and strength. Take this bit of soil and touch your forehead and body with it, an act which will be as a sign that you appeal to the earth wherein there is Life-giving Power. When you have performed this act return the root to the earth beneath the water, with the wish that the plant shall forever be plentiful. Then gather enough of the roots to satisfy the little one and yourself.

The maize is another sacred life-giving plant. You raise this plant from year to year. When you prepare the ground for planting the seed you will take one grain and put it in a hill, you will press down upon it the soil with your foot, and say: "My father-in-law bade me do this, as an expression of my faith that the sky and the earth will yield to me not only one ear of maize but one animal as well, or even one herd of animals." In the next hill you will put two grains, in the next three, the next four, the next five, the next six, and in the seventh seven, always repeating the words at each planting.

The ceremony closes with the end of the special instructions given to the mother of the child blessed and named, and as each member of the gentes who had taken part in the rite rises to go he makes some pleasant remarks to the father and the mother.

When the mother goes to her field to plant the seeds of the maize she remembers the instructions and follows them in every detail. As the maize matures and the ears are still green and tender the mother cuts the stalks from the hills she had ceremonially made, leaving the ears on the stalks. She ties the stalks in bundles, and, with the aid of friends, carries them home to her house. She then prepares a feast to which she invites the man who had acted as Xo'-ka at the ceremonial naming of her child. He in turn invites some of his friends who had acted as Xo'-ka in child-naming ceremonies to come and share in the feast prepared for him.

If among the invited guests there happens to be a member of the Tho'-xe gens, learned in the rituals, he is requested by the honored guest to recite the maize wi'-gi-e of his gens.

A paraphrase is here given of the wi'-gi-e which the Tho'-xe recite to give pleasure to the host and to the guests. The mythical story points to mid-heaven as the region of the conception of life forms, and as the starting point of the Osage people in their journey to earth, the region of actual birth into bodily existence.

ORIGIN WÍ'-GI-E OF THE THO'-XE GENS

The people spake to one another, saying: Lo, the little ones are not a people, Let search be made by the younger brothers for a place where the little ones may become a people.

Even as these words were being spoken, a younger brother
Hastened to the first division of heaven,
Close to which he came and paused,
When, returning to the elder brothers, he spake, saying:
Verily, nothing of importance has come to my notice.
Make further search, O, younger brothers, the people said,
The little ones are not a people.

Then, a younger brother,
Even as these words were being spoken,
Hastened to the second division of heaven, where he paused,
When, as the god of darkness cast a shadow upon the heavens,
He returned to the eldest brothers and stood.
They looked up and spake, saying: How has it fared with you? It was not your wont to suffer so, O, younger brother.
He replied: I have been to the second division of heaven.
It is not possible for the little ones to become a people there.

O, Younger brother,
We bid you make further search, the people said.
Even as these words were being spoken,
One hastened to the third division of heaven,
He drew near and paused.
The younger brother,
As the god of darkness cast a shadow upon the heavens,
Returned to the elder brothers and stood.
The elder brothers spake: How has it fared with you? It was not your wont to suffer so.
The younger brother replied: It is impossible!

O, younger brother, the people said,
We bid you make further search.
Then a younger brother
Hastened to the Fourth division of heaven.

Close to it he came and paused.
Then the Man of Mystery, the god of the clouds,
Drew near and stood before him.

The younger brother turned to the elder brothers and said: Here stands a man!

A fear-inspiring man!
His name, I verily believe, is Fear-inspiring.
The people spake to him, saying: O, grandfather!
The Man of Mystery replied: I am a person of whom your little ones may
make their bodies.
When they make of me their bodies,
They shall cause themselves to be deathless.

Little-hawk
They shall take for their personal name,
Then shall they always live to see old age.
Hawk-maiden, also,
Is a name that is mine.
That name also
Your little ones shall take to be their name,
Then shall they always live to see old age.

O, younger brother! the people said,
And the younger brother went in haste
To the Tho'-xe (the Buffalo-bull),
Close to whom he stood and spake, saying:
O, grandfather!

Then to the elder brothers he said: Here stands a man!
A fear-inspiring man!
The Tho'-xe spake: I am a person of whom the little ones may make their bodies.
Whereupon he threw himself to the ground,
Then up sprang the blazing star,
From the earth where it stood in all its beauty, pleasing to look upon.
Tho'-xe spake, saying: Of this plant also the little ones may make their bodies.

The people tasted the root of the plant,
And exclaimed: It is bitter to the taste!
Tho'-xe spake, saying: This plant shall be medicine to the little ones.
When they use it as medicine,
Their arms shall lengthen in growth,
And they shall live to see old age.

Again Tho'-xe threw himself upon the ground,
And the poppy mallow
Sprang from the earth and stood resplendent in its reddened blossoms.
Of this plant also Tho'-xe said,
The little ones shall make their bodies.
When they use it as medicine,
Their arms shall lengthen in growth.
The root is astringent,
And, referring thereto, your little ones shall take the name Astringent.
When the little ones make of this plant their bodies,
They shall always live to see old age.

Tho'-xe (the Buffalo-bull),
Threw himself to the ground,
And a red ear of maize
He tossed in the air,
As he exclaimed: The little ones shall make of this their bodies!
Then shall they always live to see old age.

Again Tho'-xe threw himself to the ground,
And a blue ear of maize,
Together with a blue squash,
He tossed in the air as he said,
These plants, also,
Shall be food for the little ones,
Then shall they live to see old age.

A third time he threw himself to the ground,
And a white ear of maize,
Together with a white squash he tossed in the air,

As he exclaimed: 'These plants also shall be food for the little ones!
Then shall they be difficult for death to overcome them,
And they shall always live to see old age.

A fourth time he threw himself to the ground,
And a speckled ear of maize,
Together with a speckled squash,
He tossed in the air as he exclaimed:
What creature is there that would be without a mate!
And he wedded together the maize and the squash,
Then exclaimed: These also shall be food for the little ones!
And they shall be difficult for death to overcome them.

The feasting of the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga upon the fruits of the seeds of the maize planted by the mother with religious care in the seven sacred hills completes the rite of the naming of her child, by which its right to a place in its gens is formally recognized; the child has a place, not only in its gens, but also in the sky and the earth which the two great tribal divisions, the Hoⁿ'-ga and the Tsi[']-zhu, represent.

CHILD-NAMING RITUAL OF THE ȚSI'-ZHU WA-SHTA-GE GENS (SHO^{N'}-GE-MO^N-I^N)

The Child-naming ritual of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens of the Osage tribe, here recorded, was given by Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ, a member of the Ba'-po subgens of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens. The name Ba'-po (Popper in English), Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ explained, is the name of the elder tree, the trunk of which boys, from time reaching beyond memory, used for making poppers. The name refers to a mythical story and to a ceremonial office. The mythical story is as follows: When the people of the Țsi'-zhu great division descended from the sky to make the earth their home they came down as eagles, and they alighted on a great red oak tree. The shock of their alighting caused the acorns to drop from the tree in great profusion, which was taken as a prophecy that the Țsi'-zhu would become a numerous people. One eagle was crowded off the tree, but as he dropped down he alighted upon a blossoming elder tree. This eagle was a peace bird and his alighting on the ba'-po tree made it to become a peace symbol. The Ba'-po subgens was given the office of furnishing a pipestem for the peace pipe in the keeping of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens, and the Ba'-po made the stem of an elder sapling a symbol of peace.

When Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ is called by a member of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens to act as Xo'-ka (instructor) in the ceremonial naming of his child he goes to the house of the father without any formality. Usually the call is made when the sun is traveling downward (afternoon); when he receives the message he promptly responds to the call. On his arrival at the house the father, in a formal speech, informs him that his summons was for the purpose of asking him to conduct the ceremonies to be performed at the naming of his child. When Sho^{n'}-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ gives his consent to officiate at the ceremony the fees for the men who are to take part are placed before him. These he examines to make sure that there are enough articles to go around, and to see if the man had also provided a pipe for the Sho'-ka or Official Messenger.

CERTAIN GENTES CALLED TO TAKE PART IN THE CEREMONY

Being satisfied that the man had supplied all the necessary articles, he places in the hands of the father the ceremonial pipe and bids him go after the Sho'-ka of the gens. The father returns with the messenger who was already invested with the little pipe, the badge of his authority. When the two men had taken their seats Sho'-ge-mo'-iⁿ directs the Sho'-ka to go and call the heads of the following gentes, with their No'-ho'-zhi'-ga members, to come to the house of the father, at sunrise the next morning, to take part in the ceremonies of naming his child:

1. Wa'-tse-tsi, of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision, to recite their wi'-gi-e relating to their life symbol, the red cedar. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 95, lines 1 to 34.)
2. No'-po'-da, Deer gens, of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision, to recite their wi'-gi-e relating to one of their life symbols, the water. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 98, lines 1 to 25.)
3. I'-ba-tse Ta-dse, Wind People, of the Ho'-ga subdivision, to recite their wi'-gi-e relating to one of their life symbols, the maize.
4. Tho'-xe, Buffalo-bull gens of the Tsi'-zhu great division, to recite their wi'-gi-e relating to the maize. Tho'-xe is the gens that gave to the people the maize and the squashes. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 279, lines 54 to 110.) The Tho'-xe authorized the I'-ba-tse and certain other gentes to use the Maize ritual in their child-naming ceremonies.
5. Ci'-dse-a-gthe, Wolf gens of the Tsi'-zhu great division, to recite their wi'-gi-e relating to their life symbol, the sun. The Dog-star is also one of their life symbols. (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 118, lines 1 to 36.)

WA-ZHO'-I-GA-THE (LIFE SYMBOL) WI'-GI-E

The Sho'-ka returns to the house of the father and reports that he has given notice to all the gentes named to attend the ceremony. Then Sho'-ge-mo'-iⁿ proceeds to recite the Wa-zho'-i-ga-the Wi'-gi-e of his gens, a name which means, The Taking of Bodies; that is, The Taking of Life Symbols. The reciting of this wi'-gi-e is for the benefit of the father and the child.

25. Take heed and see what can be done.
26. Hardly were these words spoken
27. When the young messenger stood before the Goddess of Night (the moon),
28. To whom he spake, saying: O, my grandmother!
29. The Goddess of Night replied: My grandchild!
30. The messenger spake: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
31. Then spake the Goddess of Night: I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies,
32. I am a goddess who has power to resist death.
33. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
34. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
35. Even among the gods
36. There is not one who is able to see my path.
37. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
38. Even the gods
39. Shall not be able to see their path, as they travel the path of life.
40. Even among the gods
41. There is not one of them who can stand in my way to prevent my going.
42. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
43. Even the gods
44. Shall not be able to stand in their way, as they travel the path of life.
45. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
46. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
47. They also shall bring themselves to see old age, as they travel the path of life.
48. I have brought myself to the days that are calm and peaceful.
49. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
50. They also shall bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life have the pain of me.

51. Again the people spake, saying: Lo, the little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
52. Take heed and see what can be done, O, younger brothers.
53. Then they spake to the youngest of the brothers,
54. Saying: O, younger brother!
55. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
56. Take heed and see what can be done.
57. Even as these words were being spoken,
58. He stood before the Male Star (Morning Star) who sitteth in the heavens,
59. And spake to him, saying: O, grandfather!
60. The Male Star replied: My grandchild!
61. The messenger spake: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
62. The Male Star replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.
63. I am a god who has power to resist death.
64. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
65. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
66. Even among the gods
67. There is not one who is able to see my path.
68. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
69. Even the gods
70. Shall not be able to see their path, as they travel the path of life.
71. Even among the gods
72. There is not one who can stand in my way to prevent my going,
73. When the little ones make of me their bodies.
74. Even the gods
75. Shall not be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.
76. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
77. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
78. They also shall be able to bring themselves to see old age, as they travel the path of life.
79. They shall also live to see the days that are calm and peaceful.
80. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
81. They shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

they shall have the pain of me.

82. The people spake, saying: O, younger brothers,
83. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
84. Take heed and see what can be done.
85. Then they spake to the youngest of the brothers,
86. Saying: O, younger brother,
87. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
88. Take heed and see what can be done.
89. Even as these words were being spoken,
90. The messenger stood before the Female Star (Evening Star) who sitteth in the heavens,
91. And spake to her, saying: O, my grandmother!
92. The Female Star replied: My grandchild!
93. The messenger spake: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
94. The Female Star replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.
95. I am a god who has power to resist death.
96. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
97. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
98. Even among the gods
99. There is not one who can stand in my way to prevent my going.
100. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
101. Even the gods
102. Shall not be able to stand in their way to stop their going.
103. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
104. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
105. They also shall be able to bring themselves to see old age, as they travel the path of life.
106. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.
107. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
108. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

109. The people spake, saying: O, younger brothers,
110. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
111. Then to the youngest of the brothers
112. They spake, saying: O, younger brother,
113. Take heed and see what can be done.
114. Even as these words were being spoken,
115. The messenger stood before the Litter (Ursa Major), who stands in the heavens,
116. To whom he spake, saying, O, grandfather!
117. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
118. The Litter replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.
119. I am a god who has power to resist death.
120. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
121. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
122. Even among the gods
123. There is not one who is able to see my path.
124. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
125. Even the gods
126. Shall not be able to see their path, as they travel the path of life.
127. Even among the gods
128. There is not one who can stand in my way to prevent my going.
129. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
130. Even the gods
131. Shall not be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.
132. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
133. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
134. They also shall be able to bring themselves to see old age.
135. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.
136. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
137. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

138. The people spake, saying: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
139. Give heed, younger brothers, and see what can be done.
140. Then to the youngest of the brothers,
141. They spake, saying: O, younger brother,
142. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
143. Even as these words were being spoken,
144. The messenger stood before Deer-head (Pleiades), who sitteth in the heavens,
145. To whom he spake, saying: O, my grandmother!
146. She replied: My grandchild!
147. The messenger spake: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
148. Deer-head replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well
make their bodies,
149. I am a god who has power to resist death.
150. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
151. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
152. Even among the gods
153. There is not one who is able to see my path.
154. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
155. Even the gods
156. Shall not be able to see their path, as they travel the path of life.
157. Even among the gods
158. There is not one who can stand in my way to prevent my going.
159. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
160. Even the gods
161. Shall not be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.
162. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
163. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
164. They also shall be able to bring themselves to see old age.
165. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.
166. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
167. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

168. The people spake, saying: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
169. Give heed, O, younger brothers, and see what can be done.
170. Then to the youngest of the brothers,
171. They spake, saying: O, younger brother,
172. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
173. Take heed and see what can be done.
174. Even as these words were being spoken,
175. The messenger stood before Three-deer (Orion's belt), who stands in the heavens,
176. To whom he spake, saying: O, grandfather!
177. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
178. Three-deer replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well
make their bodies,
179. I am a god who has power to resist death.
180. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
181. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.
182. Even among the gods
183. There is not one who is able to see my path.

192. Moreover, I have been able to bring myself to see old age.
193. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
194. They also shall have the power to bring themselves to see old age.
195. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.
196. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
197. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

198. The people spake, saying: The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies, O, younger brothers,
199. Take heed and see what can be done.
200. Then to the youngest of the brothers
201. They spake, saying: O, younger brother,
202. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
203. Take heed and see what can be done.
204. Even as these words were being spoken,
205. The messenger stood before Double-star (Theta and Iota in Orion) who sitteth in the heavens,
206. To whom he spake, saying: O, grandmother!
207. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
208. Double-star replied: I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.
209. I am a god who has power to resist death.
210. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
211. They also shall have power to resist death, as they travel the path of life.

225. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.
226. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
227. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

At the close of the wi'-gi-e Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ and the Sho'-ka are invited by the family to join them in the evening meal, after which the two men go home.

THE XO'-KA CEREMONIALLY CONDUCTED TO THE CHILD'S HOUSE

Before sunrise the next morning the Sho'-ka, carrying his little pipe, the badge of his office, goes to Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ's house to conduct him to the house of the child to be named. Upon receiving the formal message from the Sho'-ka, Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ takes his paint pouch from a bag containing his personal belongings and puts some red paint on the inner surface of his hands. Then as the eastern clouds take from the rising sun a crimson tinge, he lifts his hands, palms outward, toward them and the sun itself. After a silent pause he withdraws his hands and reddens his face with the paint on them, as though with the color of the sun, and his messengers, the reddened clouds. When he has put upon his face the sacred color he takes from a package in which he keeps his ornamental feathers a red downy eagle feather which he fastens to his scalplock so that the red feather, the life symbol of his gens, stands firm and upright. In the days when buffalo were plentiful the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga who is to act as Xo'-ka at the child-naming ceremony wore a buffalo robe with the hair outside, but since the extinction of that animal he substituted for the robe a woven blanket obtained from traders.

Having thus decorated himself with red paint and the red feather, symbols of the sky, and the substitute of the buffalo robe, an earth symbol, Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ, now actual Xo'-ka, goes forth to the house of the child to be named, following the Sho'-ka, who leads the way. It was explained by the old man that the manner of approach of his gens, the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, to the house of the child was very simple, that it did not have the elaborate ceremonial forms described by Wa-xthi'-zhi that were followed by his gens, the Puma, and the other war gentes of the Ho'-ga great division.

Arriving at the house, the Sho'-ka enters without pause and leads the Xo'-ka to his place at the left of the father, who sits with his wife and child at the east end of the house. When the Xo'-ka has taken his seat the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of his gens, the Tsi-zhu Wa-shta-ge, enter and take their places back of the Xo'-ka and the parents and sit in a row occupying the entire width of the house. Then the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the other gentes who are to take part in the ceremony enter, those of the Ho'-ga great division taking their accustomed places at the south side and those of the Tsi'-zhu great division at the north side of the house. (Fig. 1.) Except for the blankets of various colors, the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga were decorated alike, their faces painted red, the color of the sun and the dawn, and a red downy feather fastened to the scalplock of each one.

A LIFE SYMBOL SENT TO EACH OF THE OFFICIATING GENTES

When all the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga had settled down in their places, and had exchanged with each other the usual social greetings, Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ opens the proceedings with a formal statement, setting forth the purpose of the gathering and adding some pertinent remarks concerning the ancient rite of naming the children and their formal recognition as members of the tribe. He then goes on to the ceremony of distributing the fees and the symbolic articles to be used in the rite. The distribution was made in the following order:

1. To the Wa'-tse-tsi, Star gens of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision of the Ho'-ga great division, he sent, by the Sho'-ka, cedar fronds with fee. The cedar is a life symbol of the Wa'-tse-tsi gens.
2. To the Tho'-xe, Buffalo-bull gens, of the Tsi'-zhu great division, a bowl of shelled corn with fee. The maize is one of the life symbols of the Tho'-xe.
3. To the No'-poⁿ-da, Deer gens of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision of the Ho'-ga great division, a bowl of water with fee. Water is one of the life symbols of the No'-poⁿ-da.
4. To the Çi'-dse-a-gthe, Wolf-tail gens, of the Tsi'-zhu great division, fee only. The sun is one of the life symbols of this gens. The Dog-star is also one of its symbols.
5. I'-ba-tse Ta-dse, Wind gens of the Ho'-ga subdivision of the Ho'-ga great division, a bowl of shelled corn. The Tho'-xe authorized the I'-ba-tse to use the maize ritual. This gens also has the office of performing the ceremonies by which the souls of warriors slain in battle are sent direct to the spirit land.

MEMBERS OF THE OFFICIATING GENTES RECITE THEIR WÍ'-GI-ES
SIMULTANEOUSLY

When the Sho'-ka, the Ceremonial Messenger, had made the last delivery of the symbolic articles and fees to the gentes above named, each No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga begins to recite the wí'-gi-e of his gens relating to its life symbol, such as the cedar fronds, the corn or water. As each No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga recites the wí'-gi-e of his gens, old Sho'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ recites the Name Wí'-gi-e of his own gens, the Ṭsi-zhu Wa-shta-ge, which is as follows:

1. The people spake to one another, saying: O, younger brothers,
2. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
3. Take heed and see what can be done.
4. Then to the youngest of the brothers they spake,
5. Saying: O, younger brother,
6. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
7. You will give heed and see what can be done.
8. Even as these words were being spoken
9. To the first division of heaven,
10. The messenger verily descended,
11. Where the little ones had not yet become a people.

12. Again the people spake, saying: O, younger brothers,
13. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
14. Take heed and see what can be done.
15. Then to the youngest of the brothers they spake,
16. Saying: O, younger brother,
17. You will give heed and see what can be done.
18. To the second division of heaven the messenger descended,
19. When he cried out:
20. It can not be, it is impossible:
21. The little ones have not yet become a people.

22. Again the people spake, saying: O, younger brothers,
23. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
24. Take heed and see what can be done.
25. Then to the youngest of the brothers they spake,
26. Saying: O, younger brother,
27. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
28. You will give heed and see what can be done.
29. Even as these words were being spoken,
30. The messenger descended to the third division of heaven,
31. Where the little ones had not yet become a people.

32. Verily, at that time and place,
33. The people spake, saying: O, younger brothers, the little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
34. Take heed and see what can be done.
35. Then to the youngest of the brothers they spake,
36. Saying: O, younger brother,
37. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
38. You will give heed and see what can be done.
39. Even as these words were being spoken,
40. The messenger descended to the fourth division of heaven,
41. Where lay the bird (the female eagle) that has no stains (evil disposition).
42. Verily, a person who is ever present upon her nest.
43. Upon the center of the earth, that sat in all her greatness,²
44. There stood a person (the male eagle).
45. From him we shall take the name, Moⁿ-zhoⁿ´, Earth,
46. Verily, he is a person who travels far and wide, above the earth.
47. We shall take from him the name, Moⁿ-zhoⁿ´-ga-shoⁿ, Travels-above-the-earth.
48. Verily, he is a person whose home is upon the center of the earth.
49. We will take from him the name, Moⁿ-zhoⁿ´-u-çkoⁿ-çka, Center-of-the-earth.

50. The little ones are now a people.
51. We shall also take the name, Xi-tha´-da-wiⁿ, Good-eagle-woman,
52. Also the name, Hiⁿ´-i-kiⁿ-da-bi, Feathers-fought-over, 53. Hiⁿ´-ga-moⁿ-ge, Feathers-scattered-by-the-winds, shall also be our name,
54. As also, Noⁿ-be´-çi, Yellow-hands.
55. And Wa-zhiⁿ´-ga-hiⁿ, Feathers-of-the-bird, shall be our name.

56. Verily, at that time and place,
57. The eagle spake, saying: Behold the hollow of my foot,
58. Which I have made to be the sign of old age.
59. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
60. They shall live to see the sign of old age in the hollow of their foot.

61. The wrinkles upon my shin,
62. I have made to be the sign of old age.
63. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
64. They shall live to see wrinkles upon their shin.
65. The folds of the skin on my knee,
66. I have made to be the sign of old age.
67. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
68. They shall live to see the skin of their knee gathered in folds.

69. The stripes on the feathers of my thigh,
70. I have made to be the sign of old age.
71. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
72. They shall live to see the sign of old age upon their thigh.
73. The stripes upon my breast,
74. I have made to be the sign of old age.
75. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
76. They shall live to see the sign of old age on their breast.

77. The stripes upon the corners of my mouth,
78. I have made to be the sign of old age.
79. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
80. They shall live to see the sign of old age in the corners of their mouth.

81. The stripes upon my forehead,
82. I have made to be the sign of old age.
83. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
84. They shall live to see the sign of old age on their forehead.

85. The folds of my eyelids,
86. I have made to be the sign of old age.
87. When the little ones make of me their bodies,

88. They shall live to see the sign of old age in the folds of their eyelids.

88. They shall live to see the sign of old age on their eyelids.

89. I have been able to bring myself to old age.

90. When the little ones make of me their bodies,

91. They also shall be able to bring themselves to old age.

92. I have been able to bring myself to the calm and peaceful days.

93. When the little ones make of me their bodies,

94. They also shall be able to bring themselves to the calm and peaceful days, as they travel the path of life.

THE CHILD IS PASSED FROM GENS TO GENS TO BE BLESSED

At the close of the simultaneous recital of the wi'-gi-es by the Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the six gentes, namely, the Wa'-tse-tsi, Tho'-xe, Noⁿ'-poⁿ-da, Çiⁿ'-dse-a-gthe, I'-ba-tse, and the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, the Sho'-ka carries the infant to the head of the Wa'-tse-tsi gens, who takes it in his arms, then, dipping the tips of the fingers into a wooden vessel, in which had been put sacred water and red cedar fronds, he gently touches with his moistened fingertips the lips, head, arms, and body of the little one. This ceremonial act is an appeal to Wa-koⁿ'-da to grant to the little one health and strength so that it may grow to maturity and old age without interruption by disease.

The child is next taken by the Sho'-ka to the head of the Noⁿ'-poⁿ-da gens, who blesses it in the same manner with the symbolic water and cedar fronds.

Then the little one is taken to the head of the I'-ba-tse gens, who touches the lips, head, arms and body of the child with pounded corn, besides the sacred water and cedar fronds. The touching of the child with the life-giving corn is an act of appeal to Wa-koⁿ'-da that the child be not permitted to suffer for want of food during its life, so that it may reach maturity and old age without difficulty. The gentile symbol of the I'-ba-tse gens is the wind but it was authorized by the Tho'-xe gens to use the corn ritual in its child-naming ritual.

The Sho'-ka takes the little one from the I'-ba-tse to the head of the Tho'-xe, Buffalo-bull, gens. In the mythical story of the origin of the maize it was Tho'-xe, Buffalo-bull, who gave to the people the maize and the squash.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 279-281, lines 54 to 110.) The head of the Tho'-xe gens takes the little one in his arms and blesses it with the sacred water and cedar fronds as did the Wa'-tse-tsi, then, mixing some of his own pounded corn with that of the I'-ba-tse, he blesses the child with the sacred corn, the life symbol of his own gens. The ceremonial act of the Tho'-xe is an expression of the wish that the life-giving corn will aid the new member of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens to successfully reach maturity and old age.

The next to take the child in his arms and bless it with the symbolic water, cedar fronds and corn is the head of the Çiⁿ'-dse-a-gthe, Wolf, gens. His ceremonial acts do not differ from those of the Tho'-xe.

The Sho'-ka then brings the little one to its own gens, the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, the People of Peace. The head of the gens takes the little one in his arms and blesses it in the same manner in which the Tho'-xe blessed it. This is the gens to whom the sick are brought that they might taste of the sacred food prepared by them and be strengthened. From this healing power the members of the gens like to take the name, Wa-stse'-e-doⁿ, Good-doctor.

When each of these gentes had blessed the child in turn the Sho'-ka brings the mother to the Xo'-ka, who places in her hands two little sticks, each of which represents a sacred name of the gens of which the little one has now become a member. The Xo'-ka bids her take one of the names represented by the sticks. The mother usually takes for her child the name that is most euphonious and which she thinks has the greater religious significance. The selection of a name for the new member of the gens closes the ceremony.

During the month of April, 1916, Shoⁿ'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ was summoned to the house of Wa-xthi'-zhi to name his grandson, whose father is a member of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens. Shoⁿ'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ promptly responded to the call but Wa-xthi'-zhi became uncertain as to whether or not the ceremonial naming of a child according to the ancient tribal rites would come under the prohibition of the new religion which he had accepted against the practice of the ancient Osage ceremonies. The full ceremony was omitted, but the old man was asked to offer to the mother the choice of two sacred names: Moⁿ-zhoⁿ', Earth (see p. 70, line 45), and Wa-stse'-e-doⁿ, Good-doctor. The mother, a member of the Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga (Puma) gens, chose for her son, a member of the T̥si'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens, the name Wa-stse'-e-doⁿ. Although the full child-naming ceremony was omitted, Wa-xthi'-zhi gave as fees to Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ a horse, a blanket, and other articles of value, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dollars.

The first wi'-gi-e recited in the child-naming ritual given by Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ (pp. 60 to 67) is entitled Wa-zho'-i-ga-the Wi'-gi-e, literally, The Taking of Bodies, and freely translated, The Taking of Life Symbols. In this wi'-gi-e eight gods, in the forms of certain cosmic bodies, are adopted as Life Symbols. Sex is attributed to these gods and goddesses and they are addressed as “grandfather” and “grandmother” because of their great age and mysterious character. The wi'-gi-e is an expression by the ancient Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of their longing desire for a tribal life that will be as lasting as that of the gods and goddesses who forever travel in the heavens. These gods and goddesses are paired in this wi'-gi-e as follows:

1. Wa-koⁿ'-da Hoⁿ'-ba doⁿ, God of Day (the Sun), grandfather,
2. Wa-koⁿ'-da Hoⁿ doⁿ, Goddess of Night (the Moon), grandmother.
3. Wa'-tse-do-ga, Male Star (the Morning star), grandfather,
4. Wa'-tse Mi-ga, Female Star (the Evening star), grandmother.
5. Wa'-ba-ha, Litter (the Dipper), grandfather,
6. T̥a-pa', Deer-head (the Pleiades), grandmother.
7. T̥a Tha'-bthiⁿ, Three-deer (the three great stars that form Orion's Belt), grandfather,
8. Mi-ka-k'e u-ki-tha-ç'iⁿ (Stars-strung-together) (theta and iota in Orion), grandmother.

Xu'-tha-wa-toⁿ-iⁿ of the T̥si'-zhu Wa-noⁿ (Elder T̥si'-zhu), a war gens of the T̥si'-zhu great tribal division, was asked for the Child-naming Ritual of his gens, he being referred to as one versed in the rituals of the T̥si'-zhu war gentes, but he declined to give it in full. With some reluctance he consented to recite the first wi'-gi-e of his ritual which corresponds to and bears the same title as the one given by Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ, a Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga of the Tsi[´]-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens. (See pp. 60 to 67.)

people approached these ten sky deities, the order in which they paired them according to sex, and the terms of relationship they used in addressing them:

1. Wa-koⁿ-da Hoⁿ-ba doⁿ, the God of Day (the Sun), grandfather,
2. Wa-koⁿ-da Hoⁿ doⁿ, the Goddess of Night (the Moon), grandmother.
3. Mi-ka[´]-k[´]e Hoⁿ-baⁿ doⁿ, the Day-star (Morning star), grandfather,
4. Mi-ka[´]-k[´]e Hoⁿ doⁿ, the Night-star (Evening star), grandmother.
5. Wa[´]-ba-ha, Litter, the Dipper (Great Bear), (fig. 3), grandfather,
6. Mi-ka[´]-k[´]e u-ki-tha-ç[´]iⁿ, Double-star, grandmother.

In the Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ wi[´]-gi-e (The Taking of Life Symbols), the people of the Tsi[´]-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens implored four gods and four goddesses of the sky for permission to take from them “bodies” for their little ones. The people of the Tsi[´]-zhu Wa-noⁿ, in the wi[´]-gi-e recorded by Xu-thu[´]-wa-toⁿ-iⁿ, entreated six gods and four goddesses of the sky for permission to take “bodies” from them for their little ones. The following is the order in which the Tsi[´]-zhu Wa-noⁿ

ORION

NO.1. TA THA-BTHIⁿ, THREE-DEER.
NO.2. MI-KA[´]-K[´]E U-KI[´]-THA-TS[´]Iⁿ =
STARS-STRUNG-TOGETHER.

7. Ța-pa', Deer-head, Pleiades, FIG. 4.—Chart of Ța Țha'-bthiⁿ,

8. Ța Țha'-bthiⁿ, Three-deer, the three great stars in Orion's belt (fig.
4), grandmother.

9. Mi-ka'-k'e Zhu-dse, Red-star, the Pole star, grandfather,

10. Shoⁿ-ge A-ga-k'e e-goⁿ, Dog-star, Sirius, grandfather.

The two wi'-gi-es do not agree as to the sexes of two of the sky deities. In the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge wi'-gi-e, Ța-pa' (Pleiades) is addressed as grandmother and in that of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ as grandfather. Ța-tha'-bthiⁿ, Three-deer, is addressed as grandfather in the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge wi'-gi-e and in that of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ as grandmother.

The difference between the two wi'-gi-es in this respect was spoken of to Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ and he said: "We notice such mistakes in the tribal rites but controversy over them is always avoided by the Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga. Xu-tha'-wa-toⁿ-iⁿ recited his wi'-gi-e correctly, and we recite ours as it was handed down to us. The Țsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ, being a war people, mention in their wi'-gi-e their two war gods, the Red-star and the Dog-star; they address both as grandfather. We (the Țsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge) are a peace people, therefore we do not mention those two gods in our child-naming ritual."

FIRST CHILD-NAMING WI'-GI-E OF THE ȚSI'-ZHU WA-NO^N GENS

The following is the first wi'-gi-e in the Child-naming Ritual of the Țsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ, war gens, of the Țsi'-zhu great tribal division, as recited by Xu-tha'-wa-toⁿ-iⁿ.

TAKING OF LIFE SYMBOLS

1. Verily, at that time and place, it has been said, in this house,
2. The Ṭsi'-zhu, a people who have seven fireplaces, spake to one another,
3. Saying: O, younger brothers,
4. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
5. Then, at that very time they spake
6. To the Sho'-ka Wa-ba-xi (the Chief Messenger),
7. Saying: O, younger brother,
8. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies,
9. Take heed and see what can be done.
10. Then, at that very time,
11. The Chief Messenger
12. Hastened to the
13. God of Day (the Sun), who sitteth in the heavens,
14. And returned with him to the people.
15. They spake to the God of Day, saying: O, grandfather,
16. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
17. Then, at that very time,
18. The God of Day quickly replied: It is well you sent for me.
19. Of all the groups of gods,
20. I am a god by myself.
21. The little ones shall make of me their bodies.
22. Even among the gods,
23. There is not one who has power to see my path.

269. They spake to him, saying: O grandfather,
270. The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.
271. Then, at that very time,
272. The Dog replied: The little ones shall make of me their bodies,
273. Behold my toes, that are gathered closely together,
274. I have not folded them together without a purpose.
275. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
276. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
277. When they become aged men,
278. In their toes, closely folded together,
279. They shall see the sign of old age.
280. Behold the folds of skin on my ankle.
281. I have not put them there without a purpose.
282. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
283. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
284. When they become aged men,
285. In the skin of their ankles, gathered in folds,
286. They shall see the sign of old age.
287. Behold the flaccid muscles of my thigh.
288. They have not become flaccid without a purpose.
289. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
290. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
291. When they become aged men,
292. They shall see in the flaccid muscles of their thighs the sign of old age.

293. Behold my shoulders, that are drawn close together.
294. They are not drawn together without a purpose.
295. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
296. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
297. When they become aged men,
298. They shall see in their shoulders drawn together the sign of old age.

299. Behold the flaccid muscles of my throat.
300. They have not become flaccid without a purpose.
301. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
302. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
303. When they become aged men,
304. They shall see in the flaccid muscles of their throat the sign of old age.

305. Behold the folds of the corners of my mouth.
306. They are not put there without a purpose.
307. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
308. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
309. When they become aged men,
310. They shall see in the corners of their mouth the sign of old age.

311. Behold the folds in the corners of my eyes.
312. They are not put there without a purpose.
313. I have made them to be a sign of old age.
314. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
315. When they become aged men,
316. They shall see in the corners of their eyes the sign of old age.

317. Behold the tip of my nose.
318. It is not placed there without a purpose.
319. I have placed it there for chasing away other gods.
320. I use it for keeping other gods from entering my house.
321. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
322. They shall use it to chase away other gods, as they travel the path of life.

323. Behold the hair on the crown of my head grown thin.
324. It has not grown thin without a purpose.
325. I have made it to be a sign of old age.
326. When the little ones make of me their bodies,
327. When they become aged men,
328. They shall see in their whitened hair
329. The sign of old age, as they travel the path of life.
330. There comes a time

331. When a calm and peaceful day comes upon me, 332. So there shall come upon the little ones a calm and peaceful day, as they travel the path of life.

The most important wi'-gi-es (recited parts of a ritual) used in the child-naming rituals are those which relate to the life symbols of a gens, such as the sun, the moon, the morning and evening stars, night and day, deer, elk, bear, etc., which are called wa-zho'-i-ga-the, objects of which bodies are made; and those which relate to the personal, sacred names adopted by a gens to be used by its members for their children. The wi'-gi-e relating to the life symbols are usually recited at the beginning of the ceremony. (See wi'-gi-e of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens, p. 60.) The name wi'-gi-es, called Zha'-zhe Ki-toⁿ (Zha'-zhe, name; Ki-toⁿ, the taking of), are recited when all the Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga who were invited to take part in the ceremony of the conferring of a name upon a child have assembled. The life-symbol and the name-taking wi'-gi-es are paraphrases of the mythical stories of the origin of the people of a gens. These mythical origin stories are called Ni'-ki-e, freely translated, Sayings of the Ancient Men.

Xu-tha'-wa-toⁿ-iⁿ (pl. 7), of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ gens of the Tsi'-zhu great tribal division, recorded the life symbol wi'-gi-e of his gens (see pp. 75-84) but he declined to give the wi'-gi-e of the sacred gens names. However, these names appear in the Wi'-gi-e Toⁿ-ga, Great Wi'-gi-e (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 254-269), which are here given in their order, as follows:

1. 'Iⁿ-çka', White Rock. In the origin story of this gens the people came down from the sky, as eagles, to the earth and alighted upon seven trees. Thence:

36. They moved onward over the earth.
37. They came to the top of a rocky cliff,
38. Close to it they came and paused,
40. They spake to one another, saying: White Rock
41. We shall make to be a personal name for ourselves.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 255.)

2. Moⁿ'-hiⁿ Wa-koⁿ'-da, Mysterious Knife. From the White Rock the people went forth to wander over the earth. They thought to make for themselves a knife for ceremonial use. The Sho'-ka went again and again to find the right kind of stone of which to make the knife. He brought home the red flint, the blue flint, the flint streaked with yellow, the black flint and the white flint, one after the other, each of which was rejected as being unfit for use by the little ones as a knife. Finally he brought home a round-handled knife which was accepted as suitable for the purpose. Then followed the idea of the people of making a magical war club for ceremonial use. The Sho'-ka went in search for the right kind of tree out of which to make it. He brought to the elder brothers the hickory tree, the thick-barked hickory tree, the red oak tree, the red wood tree, the dark wood tree, each of which was rejected as being unsuitable for use as a club. Then he brought to them the willow tree, a tree that never dies. This the elder brothers accepted as eminently fitted for use as a club, and:

268. Their round-handled-knife
269. They quickly took from its resting place,
271. And spake, saying: It is a fear-inspiring knife,
272. Verily, it is a mysterious knife.
273. Mysterious-knife
274. The little ones shall take as their personal name.
276. They lifted the round-handled knife
277. And quickly stabbed with it the body of the willow tree.
278. Then from its wound its life-blood streamed forth.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 261.)

3. We'-thiⁿ-ça-gi, Strong-strap. With the mysterious knife the people shaped out of the “tree-that-never-dies” a mystic club. Taking with them the knife and the club they went in search of a buffalo and found one. On coming in sight of the animal they brandished the magic weapon four times in the air and the buffalo fell lifeless to the ground:

511. The skin of the (left) hind leg
512. They cut into a narrow strip,
514. And said: Verily the skin stretches not,
515. We shall make use of it as we travel the path of life.
517. Verily, it is a strong strap,
519. We shall consecrate it for ceremonial use,
520. Therefore Strong-strap
521. We shall make to be our sacred personal name.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 267-268.)

4. We'-thiⁿ-ga-xe, Strap-maker. By the cutting of the first strap out of the skin of the left hind leg of the magically killed buffalo the people of the T̥si'-zhu Wa-noⁿ gens created for themselves the office of making the straps (pl. 8) for the warriors for the tying of captives when any are taken. As they continued to cut out the strap they said:

523. Strap-maker, also,
524. We shall make to be our sacred personal name.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 268.)

5. Wé-thiⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, Slender-strap. The strap they made out of the skin of the left hind leg of the animal was long and slender, and when they had finished it,

526. They said: Slender-strap, also,
527. We shall make to be our sacred personal name.
549. The skin of the left side
550. They cut in a circle,
552. And seven slender straps
553. They made of it for the T̄si-zhu who possesses seven fireplaces,
554. One for each fireplace,
556. And they said: We shall consecrate these straps for ceremonial use.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 268-269.)

These seven straps cut from the left side of the buffalo were to serve as types for similar straps to be ceremonially made for each of the other gentes of the tribe when about to go to war, to use in tying captives.

6. He-thi'-shi-zhe, Curved-horn. As the people saw the horns of the buffalo they exclaimed:

558. Behold the left horn,
559. We shall consecrate it for ceremonial use,
561. Therefore Curved-horn, also,
562. We shall make to be our sacred personal name.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 269.)

7. He-thi'-zha-ge, Outspread-horns. The people noticed that the horns of the buffalo stood wide apart and outspread and so they exclaimed:

564. Outspread-horns, also,
565. We shall make to be our sacred personal name.
566. And they said, again: Behold the left horn,
568. We consecrate it for ceremonial use.

—(36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 269.)

Personal names relating to any of the life symbols of a gens serve to keep the members informed of their place in the gentile and tribal organization. For example: Men who were given such names as Ho-çon', White-fish; To'-ho-ho-e, Blue-fish; and Ho'-ki-e-çi, Wriggling-fish, know that they are members of the Ho'-i-ni-ka-shi-ga, Fish-people, gens whose life symbol is the Fish, and that the place of their gens is in the Wa-zha'-zhe, the first of the two subdivisions of the Hon'-ga great tribal division which symbolizes the earth. The Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision typifies the water portion of the earth.

Those who were given such names as O'-poⁿ-toⁿ-ga, Great-elk; Moⁿ'-thiⁿ-ka-ga-xe, Maker-of-the-land; and Moⁿ-zhoⁿ'-ga-xe, Maker of-the-earth, know that they are members of the Elk gens whose life symbol is the male elk (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 165, lines 274 to 354) and that the place of their gens is with the Hon'-ga, the second of the two subdivisions of the Hon'-ga great tribal division which symbolizes the earth. The Hon'-ga subdivision typifies the land portion of the earth.

Men who bear the names Pi-çi', Acorn; U-bu'-dse, Profusion; and Noⁿ-bu'-dse, Profusion (by the treading of the eagles on the branches of the red oak tree) know that they are members of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge (Peacemaker) gens, that the life symbol of their gens is the red oak tree, the emblem of fruitfulness, and that the place of their gens in the tribal organization is with the Tsi'-zhu, the second of the two great tribal divisions which symbolizes the sky, including the sun, moon and stars that move therein. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 281, lines 111 to 120.)

FIG. 5.—Totemic cut of the Omaha boys' hair. No. 1 is typical of the head and tail of the elk. No. 2 symbolizes the head, tail, and horns of the buffalo. No. 2a—the children of this subgens and those of the Ni-ni'-ba-toⁿ subgens of other gentes have their hair cut alike; the locks on each side of the bared crown indicate the horns of the buffalo. No. 3 represents the line of the buffalo's back as seen against the sky. No. 4b stands for the head of the bear. No. 4c figures the head, tail, and body of small birds. No. 4d, the bare head, represents the shell of the turtle; and the tufts, the head, feet, and tail of the animal. No. 4e pictures the head, wings, and tail of the eagle. No. 5 symbolizes the four points of the compass connected by cross lines; the central tuft points to the zenith. No. 6 represents the shaggy side of the wolf. No. 7 indicates the horns and tail of the buffalo. No. 8 stands for the head and tail of the deer. No. 9 shows the head, tail, and knobs of the growing horn of the buffalo calf. No. 10 symbolizes reptile teeth. The children of this gens sometimes have the hair shaved off so as to represent the hairless body of snakes.

THE GENTILE HAIR CUT OF CHILDREN

Another custom, akin to the taking of personal gentile names, was originated by the ancient Noⁿ'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, that of the adoption by each of the various gentes of the tribe of a particular style of hair cut for the young children to typify one of the life symbols of the gens. (Fig. 5.) The style adopted by the Hoⁿ'-ga gens of the Hoⁿ'-ga tribal subdivision for their children was that of cutting nearly all the hair of the head close to the skin, leaving an unbroken fringe along the entire edge. (Fig. 6.) The story of its adoption is best told in the wi'-gi-e of the gens, a paraphrase of which is here given:

THE WI'-GI-E

The Ho^{n'}-ga, a people who possess seven fireplaces, spake to one another,
Saying: O, younger brothers,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.

Then to the Ho^{n'}-ga A-hiu-ṭoⁿ (Winged Ho^{n'}-ga) they spake,

Saying: O, elder brother! and stood in mute appeal.

In quick response the Winged Ho^{n'}-ga set forth in haste

To a deep and miry marsh,

To the Little Rock who sitteth firmly upon the earth.

Close to the Little Rock he stood and spake,

Saying: O, Grandfather!

Our little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.

The Little Rock spake in quick response:

I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.

Thereupon the Winged Ho^{n'}-ga hastened back to his brothers to whom he spake,

Saying: O, younger brothers, a Little Rock sits yonder.

Then, with heads bent thitherward,

The younger brothers set forth in haste

To the Little Rock who sitteth firmly upon the earth, in the marsh.

Around him they gathered, close to him they stood as they spake

To the Little Rock sitting with algae floating about him, like locks of hair blowing in the wind. (Fig. 6.)

O, Grandfather! they said to him,

Our little ones have nothing of which to make their bodies.

The Little Rock made reply:

I am a person who is difficult to be overcome by death.

When your little ones make of me their bodies,

They shall always be difficult to overcome by death.

Behold the locks that float about the edges of my head.

When the little ones reach old age,

Their locks shall float about the edges of their heads.

The little ones shall always live to see their locks grown scant with age.

The younger brothers spake, saying: Close to the God of Day who sitteth in
the heavens,

We shall place the Little Rock.³

When our little ones make of the Little Rock their bodies,

Of the God of Day also

OF THE GOD OF DAY AND

Our little ones shall make their bodies.

The four days,

The four great divisions of the days (the four stages of life),

The little ones shall always reach and enter,

They shall always live to see old age.

This style of hair cut is called $\text{ko}^n\text{'-ha-u-thi-stse}$ ($\text{ko}^n\text{'-ha}$, along the edge; u-thi-stse , a line left uncut), meaning an unbroken line of hair left uncut along the entire edge.

At a festival being held at the Indian village near the town of Pawhuska, old Saucy-calf called the writer's attention to a little boy who was playing hide-and-seek with other youngsters and said: "Look at the way his hair is cut (fig. 6); that is the $\text{Ho}^n\text{'-ga A-hiu-to}^n$ hair cut. That style is called $\text{ko}^n\text{'-ha-u-thi-stse}$. $\text{Xu-tha'}\text{'-pa}$, Eagle-head, better known as Ben Wheeler, a young man who sat near us, looked up and said: "That's my little boy; I cut my children's hair like that." Saucy-calf then explained that the act of the parents in cutting the hair of the child in that prescribed fashion was an implied petition to $\text{Wa-ko}^n\text{'-da}$ to permit the little one to live to see old age without obstruction of any kind.

HAIR CUT OF THE $\text{Tsi'}\text{-zhu}$ Wa-shta-ge GENS

The people of the $\text{Tsi'}\text{-zhu}$ Wa-shta-ge (Peacemaker) gens, who occupied the most important and honored place in the great tribal division representing the sky and all that it contains, adopted the $\text{ko}^n\text{'-ha-u-thi-stse}$ style of hair cut for their little ones, which varied slightly from the styles used by the $\text{Ho}^n\text{'-ga}$. In the $\text{Tsi'}\text{-zhu}$ Wa-shta-ge symbolic hair cut the line of hair left

FIG. 7.— uncut along the edge is divided into little locks to typify the petals of the cone-flower, which is the sacred flower of the gens (fig. 7).

Symbolic hair cut of the T̥si'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens Shoⁿ-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ, in speaking of the symbolic hair cut of the children of his gens, the T̥si'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, told the following mythical story of its origin:

In the beginning the T̥si'-zhu people came down, in the form of eagles, from the upper to the lower world. As they came in sight of the earth they beheld a large red oak tree. They soared down to it and alighted upon its topmost branches. The shock of their weight sent to the ground a shower of acorns which scattered around the foot of the tree, whereupon they said: We shall make of this tree our life symbol; our little ones shall multiply in numbers like the seeds of the oak that fall to the earth in countless numbers. The eagles that crowded upon the top branches of the oak became a people whose thoughts dwelt upon war, but two of the eagles found no resting place on the outspreading branches of the great oak and were obliged to drop to the earth. One alighted on a larger elder tree and his people became known as Ba'-po, people of the elder tree. The other eagle alighted upon the ground in the midst of a patch of little yellow flowers which his people made to be their life symbol and their emblem of peace. The people cut the hair of their children in such fashion as to make their heads resemble the little yellow flower, the emblem of peace. (Fig. 7.) This yellow flower is called Ba-shta', Hair-cut. It is the Ratibida columnaris.

A paraphrase of the wi'-gi-e of the Xu-tha'-zhu-dse, Red Eagle, gens in which the "little yellow flower," the emblem of peace, is mentioned, is here given.

PARAPHRASE OF THE WÍ'-GI-E OF THE RED EAGLE GENS
PEACEFUL DAY IS MY NAME

Verily, my abode is in the days that are calm and peaceful.
When the little ones make of me their bodies (their life),
They shall become a people of the days that are ever serene.
From each of the great gods,
I verily remove all traces of anger and violence.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
They shall have power to remove from the gods
All anger and the desire for destruction.
From the god of the lower world (the earth);
From the god of light who standeth in the midst of heaven;
From the god of the upper world (the over-arching sky),
I have power to remove all anger and violence.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
They also shall have power to remove from the gods all anger.
When the little ones of the Wa-zha'-zhe (subdivision),
And those of the Hoⁿ'-ga (subdivision),
Make of me their bodies,
They shall have power to remove from all lands,
All anger, hatred and violence.

NO-ANGER IS ALSO MY NAME

I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their bodies.
My abode is in the midst of the earth's warm, quivering air.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
They shall become a people of the earth's quivering air.
Verily, in the days that are gentle and peaceful,
I make my abode.
When the little ones make of me their bodies,
They shall become a people of the days that are gentle and peaceful.
Of a little yellow flower
I have made my body.
The little Ba-shta', that stands amidst the winds,
I have made to be my body.
When the little ones make of the Ba-shta' their bodies,
They shall ever live together without anger, without hatred.

Ṭoⁿ-woⁿ-i'-hi-zhiⁿ-ga, Little Ṭoⁿ-woⁿ-i'-hi, in speaking to Miss Fletcher in 1898 of the Osage gentile system, said that there are five subgentes in the Ṭsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens, namely:

1. Ṭsi'-u-çkoⁿ-çka, House in the center, meaning the Sanctuary in the keeping of this gens which, figuratively, stands in the center of the earth.
2. Ba'-po, Elder, or, People of the elder trees.
3. Moⁿ'-ça-hi, Arrow-tree, or, People of the arrow tree.
4. Zhoⁿ-çoⁿ', White-tree (Sycamore), or, People of the white tree.
5. Sho'-ka, Messengers, or, People from whom a ceremonial messenger is chosen for the gens. Sometimes this gens is called Ṭsi'-u-thu-ha-ge, Last group of houses.

It is from the people of the Ṭsi'-u-çkoⁿ-çka that the hereditary chief of the Ṭsi'-zhu great tribal division must always be chosen. The Ba'-po subgens has the office of making the stem for the ceremonial peace pipe of the Ṭsi'- zhu Wa-shta-ge. The stem must always be made of the Ba'-po, the elder tree. The people of the Arrow-tree and the Sycamore gentes have lost the significance of their life symbols. All of these five subgentes use the cone-flower symbolic hair cut.

There is something pathetic in the passing away of these ancient rites and customs which the Osage Indians had treasured from the earliest times of their tribal existence. Joe Sho'-ge-mo'-in, like his father, had respect and reverence for the religious thoughts of his ancestors which they had expressed in symbols and rituals with ceremonial forms and handed down. Joe had two little daughters (pl. 9, a) upon whom he bestowed a large share of his affections. He not only gave to each of them a sacred name of his gens, but, from year to year, as they approached womanhood, he cut their hair to typify the sacred flower of peace and happiness, an act which implied a supplication to Wa-ko'-da to bless each little one with a long and fruitful life. At the last symbolic hair cut the children had reached school age and they willingly went to the house of learning. The white children with whom they mingled hooted and jeered at them for their strange hair cut and made them unhappy. When they came home they told their father of their unkind treatment at the school. The fond father quietly took a pair of shears and cut away from each little head the symbolic locks.

Little To'-wo'-i-hi also stated that there was another style of symbolic hair cut called ci'-dse-a-gthe, tails worn on the head, which belongs to the Tsi'-zhu Wa-no, the principal war gens of the Tsi'-zhu great tribal division, which he described as: All of the hair of the head cut close but leaving uncut a row of three locks, equidistant apart, beginning at the crown of the head and ending near the edge of the hair at the back of the head. (Fig. 8.) This style of hair cut symbolizes all animals of the dog family, including the gray wolf, the coyote, and the domestic dog. It also symbolizes a star called Sho'-ge a-ga-k'e e-go, Dog that lies suspended in the sky (Sirius).

The Dog Star is mentioned in the Child-naming Wi'-gi-e of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-no gens, bearing the title Wa-zho'-i-ga-the Wi'-gi-e, Taking of Life Symbols, given by Xu-tha'-wa-to-in. (See p. 82, sec. 10 of the wi'-gi-e.)

Little To'-wo'-i-hi said that the Wa-ça-be-to, Black Bear gens of the Ho'-ga great division, had a similar style of hair cut as that of the Tsi'-zhu Wanoⁿ gens. Wa-xthi'-zhi said that the Puma gens also had the same style of hair cut.

The symbolic hair cut of the Ni'-ka Wa-koⁿ-da-gi gens, Men of Mystery, is: hair of the head all cut close excepting a lock left uncut on the crown of the head (pl. 10, a) and a lock at the back of the head near the edge, which does not show in the picture. The life symbol of this gens is the hawk and the hair cut represents this raptorial bird which was adopted by all of the gentes of both the Ho'-ga and the Tsi'-zhu great tribal divisions as an emblem of courage for their warriors.

FIG. 8.—Hair cut of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ and Wa-ça'-be (Black Bear) gentes

The name of the boy whose picture shows the hair cut of his gens is Gthe-doⁿ-çka, White-hawk (Gthe-doⁿ, hawk; çka, white). It is the name that belongs to the second son in a family of this gens. His father's name is Noⁿ'-ka-to-ho, Blue-back (Noⁿ'-ka, back; to-ho, blue), a name referring to the blue-backed hawk. White-hawk's mother is Xi-tha'-doⁿ-wiⁿ, Good-eagle-woman, daughter of Shoⁿ'-ge-moⁿ-iⁿ of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens.

The style of symbolic hair cut adopted by the Tho'-xe gens is of the Çiⁿ'-dse A-gthe class and is described as, hair on entire head cut close excepting a little tuft left uncut just over the middle of the forehead, and a fringe running across the crown of the head from one ear to the other as shown in the picture (pl. 10, b); two tufts, one on either side of the head back of the fringe, and a tuft just above the nape of the neck, which do not show in the picture. This style of cut represents the buffalo bull, the principal life symbol of the gens.

BONE EAR PERFORATORS AND EXPANDERS

The two gentes, the Ni'-ka Wa-koⁿ-da-gi and the Tho'-xe, are closely related, being joint custodians of the rites pertaining to war. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 64-65.) The symbolic hawks, each of which formed the central figure in the ceremonies of the war rites, were regarded as being in the special care of the Ni'-ka Wa-koⁿ-da-gi, while all of the thirteen o-doⁿ', military honors, to be won by each warrior of the tribe in order to secure ceremonial rank, belonged to the Tho'-xe. The war honor must be won in a fight by a war party carrying a hawk, the tribal emblem of courage. The places of these two gentes are on the T̄si'-zhu side of the two great tribal divisions, but they are not of the seven fireplaces of that great division.

In the T̄si'-zhu Wi'-gi-e recited by Moⁿ-zhoⁿ-a'-ḱi-da (36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 277-285), relating to the mythical story of the descent of the people from the upper to the lower world, these two gentes are mentioned. A paraphrase of this part is here given:

PARAPHRASE OF WÍ'-GI-E RELATING TO THE NÍ'-KA WA-ḲOⁿ-DA-GI AND

THE THO'-XE GENTES

The Messenger
Then hastened down
To the fourth division of the heavens,
Close to it he stood and paused
And lo, Ni'-ka Wa-koⁿ-da-gi, Man of Mysteries, Appeared before him.
The Messenger turned and said to his followers: Here stands a man,
Verily, one who inspires fear.
I truly believe his name is, Fear-inspiring.
The Man of Mysteries spake, saying: I am a person of whom your little ones may well make their bodies.
When your little ones make of me their bodies,
They shall be free from all causes of death.
They shall take the name Little-hawk,
To use as their personal name,
Then shall they be able to live to see old age.
Woman-hawk
Is also a name that I have.
Your little ones shall use it as their personal name,
Then shall they be able to live to old age.

The Messenger quickly passed on
To Tho'-xe, who appeared in the form of a buffalo bull.
Close to him the Messenger stood and spake,
Saying: O, Grandfather!
Then, turning toward his followers, he said: Here stands a man,
Verily, a man who inspires fear.
Then Tho'-xe spake, saying: I am a person of whom your little ones may well make their bodies.
Thereupon he threw himself upon the earth,
And the blazing star, a purple flower,
Sprang up from the soil and stood, pleasing to the sense of sight.
And Tho'-xe spake, saying: This plant shall be medicine for your little ones,
It shall make their limbs to lengthen in growth,
And they shall be able to live to see old age.
Again Tho'-xe threw himself upon the earth
And the poppy mallow

ᑭᑭᑭᑭ
Sprang from the soil and stood, beautiful, in its red blossoms.
Then Tho'-xe spake, saying: Of this plant also,
Your little ones shall make their bodies,
They shall use it as medicine
And it shall make their limbs to lengthen in growth.
It is astringent to the taste,
Therefore you shall name your little ones Astringent.
When the little ones make of this plant their bodies,
They shall be able to live to see old age.

At the time this work was begun the greater portion of the Osage people had practically ceased to observe the ancient custom of cutting the hair of their children in the prescribed symbolic fashion, and those who continued the practice were reluctant to speak of it on account of its sacred and mysterious character. For this reason it was not possible to make an exhaustive study of the hair cut of the various gentes of the tribe. In the days when the rite was generally and strictly observed the girl, when she had attained the age of ten, was permitted to let her hair grow long, and the boy was allowed to wear his hair in the same style as that of all the grown men; that is, all the hair of the head cut close excepting a crest beginning at the middle of the crown and terminating with a long braided tail called he-ga'-xa, horn, that hangs down the back of the head and on the shoulder. (Pl. 11.) The braided tail is called "a'-çku" by the Omaha and the Ponca Indians.

The Ponca and the Omaha, who were at one time a part of the Osage tribe, also had the same tribal custom of ceremonially cutting the hair of the children. The ritual used in the ceremony is a supplication to Wa-koᑎ'-da to favor the child with a long and fruitful life.

In the course of her ethnological work among the Omahas in the years 1881-83, Miss Alice C. Fletcher undertook to gather information about the symbolic hair cut of the children of that tribe. At first she made slow progress because the Indians were unwilling to speak of matters that form a part of the tribal rites. One day, at the house of Xo'-ga, the members of the family and some visitors were speaking of Miss Fletcher's difficulty in gathering information about the hair cut, when the old man caught his little boy and, holding him fast between his knees, proceeded to cut his hair. The little fellow fought manfully but in a short time he stood with his head closely sheared, with locks left uncut here and there. The father swung the boy to his back and as he started to go he said: "That white woman is my friend and I am going to help her." He carried the child to Miss Fletcher and as he put him down before her he said, "That's the hair cut of our gens. (See fig. 5, No. 2.) It is the picture of a bison; you can't see it [the bison] but we can. You may make a sketch of it and write about it as much as you like." The lady looked for a moment in silence at the locks and the little shorn head, then, with a hearty laugh and a handclap, she snatched up paper and pencil to make a sketch of the locks and the shorn head, to the delight of all the Indians present. Thereafter she had no trouble in getting information about the hair cut of all the gentes.

FONDNESS OF PERSONAL ADORNMENT

Like their relatives, the Omaha and the Ponca, the Osage people have a fondness for personal adornment. Much paint is used in decorating the face and body. Most of the lines and figures drawn upon the face and body are symbolic, as, for instance, a woman paints the parting of her hair almost daily. The red line symbolizes the path of the sun which forever passes over the earth and gives to it vitality. It is a sign of supplication for the continuity of life by procreation. Or, a man of the Life-giver gens paints his face all yellow with a narrow black line running diagonally across his face from one corner of his forehead down to the lower jaw on the opposite side. This is the life sign ceremonially put upon a captive when the word is passed by the Life-giver gens that the captive shall be permitted to live. A downy feather worn upright on the crown of the head by a man symbolizes the sun which brings life to the earth in material form. The white shell gorget which a man wears as a pendant on his necklace is also a symbol of the life-giving sun.

EAR PERFORATING

Down to recent times the Osage men have been sacrificing the shapeliness of their external ears to the gratification of their fondness for adornment. In ordinary times, and particularly on festal days, the Osage men weighted their ears with strings of wampum or other ornaments made of bone or shells and silver earbobs which were introduced by traders. The weight of the earrings and the crowding of the holes in the ears with the rings enlarge the perforations to an extraordinary size. (Pl. 11.) The holes, which are bored along the rim of the pinna, were made by the same men who performed the ceremony connected with the perforating. These men provided themselves with perforating instruments made of sharpened bone, wooden expanders, and little blocks of wood against which the ear is pressed when performing the operation. (Pl. 12.) For a long time Wa'-thu-xa-ge and Tsi'-zhu-zhiⁿ-ga held this office. The former died a few years ago. Both of these men were members of the Peace gens of the Tsi'-zhu great tribal division. An Osage was asked why the ears of the children were bored and he replied that the children whose ears were bored were apt to be better behaved than those whose ears were not perforated.

NATIVE NAMES OF OSAGE FULL BLOODS (AS FAR AS COULD BE ASCERTAINED), USED BY EACH GENS OF THE TRIBE

NAMES OF THE GENTES AND SUBGENTES

The following are the names of the gentes and subgentes of the two great tribal divisions, in their fixed, sequential order, as given by Sho^{n'}-toⁿ-ça-be, Black-dog, to Miss Alice C. Fletcher, in 1896. The name Sho'-ka is the title of a subgens from which the principal gens chooses a man or woman to act as official messenger at the performance of a tribal rite. The official messenger also bears the title.

FIXED ORDER OF THE GENTES AND SUBGENTES

GENTES OF THE HO^{n'}-GA GREAT DIVISION

WA-ZHA'-ZHE SUBDIVISION

1. Wa-zha'-zhe-çka; White Wa-zha'-zhe. Refers to the life symbol of the gens, the fresh water mussel, with its shell. The Sun also is a life symbol of this gens.

In-gtho^{n'}-ga Ni Moⁿ-tse; Puma-in-the-Water. Sho'-ka.

2. Ke'-k'iⁿ; Carrier-of-the-Turtle.

Ba'-k'a Zho-i-ga-the; Cotton-tree People. Sho'-ka.

3. Mi-ke'-the-stse-dse; Cat-tail (Typha latifolia).

Ka'-xe-wa-hu-ça; Youngest brother. Sho'-ka.

4. Wa'-tse-tsi; Star-that-came-to-Earth.

Xu-tha' Pa-çoⁿ Zho-i-ga-the; Bald Eagle People. Sho'-ka.

5. O-çu'-ga-xe; They-who-make-the-way-Clear.

Moⁿ-sho-dse-moⁿ-iⁿ; Travelers-in-the-Mist. Sho'-ka.

6. Ța-tha'-xiⁿ; Deer's-Lungs, or Ța-çiⁿ'-dse-çka; White-tailed-Deer.

Wa-dsu'-Ța-zhiⁿ-ga; Small-Animals. Sho'-ka.

7. Ho' I-ni-ka-shi-ga; Fish-People.

E-noⁿ' Miⁿ-dse-Țoⁿ; Sole-owner-of-the-Bow. Refers to the office of the gens of making the ceremonial bow and arrows that symbolize night and day.

8. Hoⁿ'-ga U-Ța-noⁿ-dsi; The-Isolated-Hoⁿ'-ga. The Earth.

Moⁿ-hiⁿ-çi; Flint-Arrow-Point. Sho'-ka.

HOⁿ'-GA SUBDIVISION

1. Wa-ça'-be-Țoⁿ; Owners-of-the-Black-Bear.

Wa-ça'-be-çka; The-White-Bear. Sho'-ka.

2. Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga; Puma.

Hiⁿ-wa'-xa-ga; Thorny-hair, Porcupine. Sho'-ka.

3. O'-poⁿ; Elk.

Ța He Sha-be; Dark-horned Deer. Sho'-ka.

4. Moⁿ'-iⁿ-ka-ga-xe; Maker-of-the-Earth.

5. Hoⁿ-ga Gthe-zhe; The-Mottled-Sacred-One (the immature golden eagle).

6. Xu-tha; Eagle (the adult golden eagle).

7. Hoⁿ'-ga Zhiⁿ-ga; The Little-Sacred-One.

I'-ba-Țse Ța-dse; The-Gathering-of-the-Winds. Sho'-ka.

GENTES OF THE T̥SI'-ZHU GREAT DIVISION

1. T̥si'-zhu Wa-noⁿ; Elder T̥si-zhu, or Wa-koⁿ'-da Noⁿ-pa-bi; The-God-Who-is-Feared-by-All. Refers to the life symbol of the gens, the Sun.

Wa-ba'-xi; The-Awakeners. Refers to the office of this subgens of urging the messengers to prompt action. Sho'-ka.

2. Çiⁿ'-dse A-gthe; Wearers-of-Symbolic-Locks.

FOOTNOTES:

- 1 The name Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hi-ge is still used in the Ṭa-pa' gens of the Omaha, a cognate tribe.
- 2 The words of this line are figurative and mean the earth when she displays her greatness by her blossoming flowers and her ripening fruit.
- 3 The Little Rock of the marsh is spoken of as the Gentle Rock because it is a special life symbol of the people for whom there must always be peace and happiness. As a memorial of the finding of the Little Rock of the marsh the members of the Hoⁿ'-ga gens in cutting the hair of their little ones leave a fringe around the entire edge.

 END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE OSAGE TRIBE, TWO VERSIONS OF THE CHILD-NAMING RITE ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG™ LICENSE

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, “Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation.”
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.

- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES

EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
