

PRICE,

15 CENTS.

The Scrubtown Sewing Circle's Thanksgiving

DICK & FITZGERALD, Publishers,
NEW YORK.

An ornate, black-and-white decorative border with intricate scrollwork and floral patterns, framing the central text and price information.

PRICE,

15 CENTS.

The Scrubtown Sewing Circle's Thanksgiving

DICK & FITZGERALD, Publishers,
NEW YORK.

The Project Gutenberg eBook of The Scrubtown sewing circle's Thanksgiving

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

Title: The Scrubtown sewing circle's Thanksgiving
An old ladies' sociable

Author: Maude Livingston Hall Gray

Release date: November 21, 2025 [eBook #77284]

Language: English

Original publication: New York: Dick & Fitzgerald, 1910

Other information and formats: www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/77284

Credits: Charlene Taylor, Raymond Papworth, and the Online Distributed Proofreading Team at <https://www.pgdp.net>
(This file was produced from images generously made available by The Internet Archive)

 START OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE SCRUBTOWN SEWING CIRCLE'S THANKSGIVING ***

THE SCRUBTOWN SEWING CIRCLE'S THANKSGIVING

An Old Ladies' Sociable

BY
MAUDE L. HALL

COPYRIGHT, 1910, BY DICK & FITZGERALD

NEW YORK
DICK & FITZGERALD
18 ANN STREET

THE SCRUBTOWN SEWING CIRCLE'S THANKSGIVING.

CHARACTERS.

MRS. TATTLE	A widow. President of the Society
MARY ANN GREEN	An old maid. Secretary
GRANNY NODDLE	A deaf old Lady
BETSEY NODDLE	Granny's Granddaughter
MRS. GOSSIP	The hostess
PERCILLA PRIMP	A new member

LOCALITY.—The Village of Scrubtown, N. H.

TIME OF REPRESENTATION—About thirty-five minutes.

NOTE:—Additional time may be filled out by the introduction of songs and recitations suitable for the performers.

COSTUMES.

GRANNY. Old, deaf and feeble. Dark calico dress, white handkerchief pinned around her shoulders. Close-fitting lace cap with ends. Hair gray. Spectacles. Black mittens. Cane. Knitting.

BETSEY. Old-fashioned dark calico gown. White mittens.

MRS. TATTLE. Black gown and mittens.

MARY ANN. Any old style. Hair in a knot at top of head, corkscrew on each side.

MRS. GOSSIP. Any old-fashioned house dress.

PERCILLA. Gaudy-colored calico gown. Large common finger rings, chain, locket, etc.

THE SCRUBTOWN SEWING CIRCLE'S THANKSGIVING.

SCENE.—A quiet country parlor. MRS. TATTLE, the president, seated at left of stage. MARY ANN, the secretary, seated at small table in front of the president. The four others on chairs diagonally at right of stage, BETSEY in front, GRANNY next. All have sewing or knitting in their hands except the president, and are talking energetically.

MRS. TATTLE (rising). This here society will now please come to order.

(The hubbub slackens, but two or three persist in disputing.)

MRS. T. (stamping with foot). ORDER! ORDER! (ALL silent) The first thing on the program will be the readin' of the minutes of last meetin'. The sec'etary will please read the minutes.

MARY ANN GREEN (rises, blows her nose loudly, clears her throat, then reads). Minutes of Scrubtown Sewin' Circle, Nov. 22nd, 1909. Meetin' held at Mrs. Tattle's home; called to order by the president. Minutes of last meetin' read and improved.

GRANNY. Moved! Who's moved?

BETSEY (in a loud whisper). Hush! Granny, she said improved.

GRANNY. Oh! she did, eh?

MISS GREEN (glares at GRANNY, then goes on). It was moved by Miss Percilla Primp, that seein' as how the new Minister had just lost his wife, that we make him a donation party, to help him in the care of his poor, little, orphan children, and that the secretary be appointed to take note of the proceedings and report at next meetin'. The motion was seconded by Mrs. Gossip, and was adopted by the society.

GRANNY. Yes, we should have more piety in our meetin's. Now, when I was young and belonged to the Pumpkin Ridge Sewin' Circle, we was awful pious. We BETSEY. Hush! Granny!

GRANNY (holding hand to ear). Hey! Ye'll have ter talk a leetle louder. My hearin' ain't nigh so good as it was fifty years ago.

BETSEY. She said society. Not piety.

GRANNY. Oh! she did, eh?

MISS GREEN (frowning). It was further decided by this honorable society, that as the next meetin' would fall on Thanksgivin' Day, that we each tell what we have ter be thankful for; as it would help us ter have a better spirit of gratitude toward our Maker and each other. After our usual sewin' was finished, and we had eat, we decided, that as there was no further business to come before the society, we would adjourn until Thanksgivin', to meet at Mrs. Gossip's house. (Sits)

MRS. TATTLE. If no one has no fault to find with these here minutes they will stand as read. (Waits a moment) Well as we all seem to think they are correct, they will stand improved. The first business this evening will be to hear our secretary's report of the Donation party.

MISS GREEN (rises and reads from paper). Havin' been appointed to report the proceedings at the Donation party, I beg to submit that we all met at the time appointed at the Minister's house, an' seein' his recent bereavement, we offered him our condolences, and assured him that anyone of us would be rejoiced to be a mother to his little ones. The donations were various. Granny Noddle had got the idea that it was to be a weddin', an' she brought an old slipper and a bag of rice. Betsey brought a quart tin of lard. Mrs. Gossip, a pillowsham. Persilla had persuaded Mr. Fitzpatrick to hand the Minister two dollars, for her weddin' fee in advance. Mrs. Tattle brought three pairs of her dead and gone husband's stockings, of her own knitting, and a hank of yarn to darn the holes in 'em.

MRS. TATTLE. I'm sure the Minister must have been thankful. But Mary Ann, you have forgotten to name your gift.

PERCILLA. Not much! Nary forget! She laid on the table a paper of hair-pins, ha! ha!

MARY ANN. It's not to laugh. They will come in handy for his next.

PERCILLA. Wouldn't you like the chance to claim 'em?

MARY ANN. You old cat!

MRS. TATTLE. Girls! GIRLS! For shame!

GRANNY (explosively). What's that? What did you say, Mary Ann?

MARY ANN. Oh! Nothing particular.

GRANNY. Tickle her? Tickle who?

BETSEY. She said, nothing particular.

GRANNY. Oh! She did, eh?

MRS. TATTLE. The next thing in order will be to hear the testimonies of thanks. Mrs. Gossip, as ye are the hostess, we will hear from you first.

MRS. GOSSIP (talking through her nose and in a drawling tone). Wal, Miss President, I ain't got much to be thankful fur; but I'm awful thankful fur what I have got. Wal, first, I'm thankful that I'm alive, and that John Henry is alive, and all of our children, includin' Martha Ellen, and Andrew Jackson, and Daniel Webster, and Samantha Ann, and Thomas Jefferson, and George Washington, and the baby, we ain't named her yit, is all alive, (dropping her voice) for funerals do cost a lot.

GRANNY. Half past five! (Rising feebly) Come, Betsey, we must be arter gittin' fur hum. I tell ye when it begins ter git cool in the evenin's, I want ter be at hum by the fire; fur it jist 'pears like every bit of cold there is, jist gits inter my old jintz. I tell ye rheumatiz is an awful bad thing. (Turns to Miss PRIMP) Do yer ever have rheumatiz, Miss? (Sits)

MISS PRIMP (snappishly). No! you don't need to think I'm that old.

BETSEY. Granny, what's the matter with you. She didn't say five, she said alive.

GRANNY. Oh! She did, eh?

MRS. TATTLE. Miss Betsey, we'll hear from you next.

BETSEY. Well, as Mrs. Gossip says, "I'm thankful that I'm alive." I'm thankful, too, that turkeys air so cheap; so Granny and me can have one fur our Thanksgivin' dinner. I tell you I've done lots of contrivin' fur to earn enough ter buy that air gobbler. I jist made up my mind last year, when nobody invited us out to dinner, that Granny and me would have the biggest turkey I could find fur this year; and that we would eat it all ourselves. But then I have concluded, that I would invite the new Minister over; fur he hain't got no lovin' companion ter look after him now, an' cook his dinner fur him. Well, I was goin' ter tell you how I got that air turkey. I made a lot of yeast and sold that at five cents a quart. Then I saved all the eggs our old speckled hen laid fur two months and sold them fur cash, and then I knitted five pairs of mittens fur Deacon Jones' children, and that jist made enough. And I jist put it in our old chiny sugar bowl on the top shelf in the cupboard, an' waited until yisterday, when I went down to the market and bought that air fowel; and I've got it on cookin' now, so it would be sure an' be done fur five o'clock; fur that is when I told the Minister to be there. So I'm thankful fur the last, that the good Lord gave me plenty of brains to scheme with.

GRANNY. Yes that's so, Betsey has got jist lots of brains.

MRS. TATTLE. Miss Percilla Primp, as ye have jist lately joined our society, we'll hear your Thanksgivin' experience next.

MISS PRIMP. I say like Mrs. Gossip, "I'm thankful that I'm alive." I am also thankful the good Lord does not intend me to be an old maid.

MISS GREEN (aside). Imperdent wretch!

MISS PRIMP. For last night Mr. Leander Fitzpatrick asked me to share his joys and his sorrows, his poverty and his wealth; and I told him "yes." I think any girl ought to be proud and thankful when she is rescued by an adorable man from the terrors which await the life of an old maid, and makes her the queen of his heart and home.

(NOTE.—Just here the song "No one to Love, None to Caress," would be appropriate.)

And when I think of all this, I say, many, many thanks for savin' me from bein' an old maid, oh, Lord!

GRANNY. Lard! did ye say? That makes me think, Betsey, we've got another gallon of lard to sell. It is good, clean, pure lard, too; fur we rendered it ourselves from that little Jersey pig we had killed t'other day. (To MISS PRIMP) Did yer want to buy some lard, Miss? Maybe Leander would like some.

MISS PRIMP. No, I don't!

MISS GREEN. You're in luck, Percilla, better late than never.

MISS PRIMP (aside). Old cat!

MRS. TATTLE. Well, Granny, ye ain't told your story yit. We will now be glad to hear from you.

GRANNY (in a cracked trembling voice). It seems ter be the fashion ter say, "I'm glad that I'm alive," so I'll say it, tew. Wal, like Mrs. Gossip, "I'm glad, that I'm alive." Although I'm approachin' my eighty-second year, I yit am almost as spry as a cricket, and I'm thankful fur it, tew. (Rises, hands her cane to BETSEY, spreads her skirt with both hands, makes a tottering courtesy and a few funny attempts at dance steps. ALL applaud)

BETSEY (rises, takes hold of GRANNY). Granny! (Seats her)

GRANNY. But whenever the good Lord calls me ter go, I'm ready and willin'; fur I've tried ter live a good life, so that, when I hear his gentle voice a callin' me, an' I leave this yarth to come back no more, and he takes me by the hand an' leads me, oh, so gently, through the dark valley of death, an' when I reach the pearly gates of that beautiful city, an' can hear the angels singin' oh, so sweetly, an' all my dear, departed, loved ones a callin' tew me from the shinin' palace of the Lord; then I know my tremblin' old voice will grow clear an' sweet ag'in, an' I can sweetly sing the praises of Him, who has carried my cross fur me these many years, an' at last I will be at rest.

MRS. TATTLE. Wal, Granny, you seem ter have a faith, that is nigh about wonderful to behold, an' we all love you, dear old soul. Miss Mary Ann Green, we will now hear from you.

MISS GREEN. Like Mrs. Gossip, I'm thankful that I'm alive. I wish, that I could have the faith that Granny has got; but it jist seems like I never will have, fur livin' all alone by myself as I do, an' bein' pestered as I am by the horrid boys, I jist can't cultivate an angelic spirit. But last night I got the best of my temper. When school was out an' I was out a pilin' up my pumpkins, them boys come by an' begun to yell, "pickles," "old maid fur sale," an' the like. An' one actually made fun of my curls. He said, "boys, look at the old gal's curls. Regular cork-screws, ain't they?" Then they all giggled. Anybody with eyes can see, that my curls are real attractive an' becomin'. (Tenderly pats her curls)

MARY ANN (aside to MRS. TATTLE). I hope she's pinned 'em on tight. (Giggles)

MISS GREEN. One of them varmint of boys, then throwed a stone at my cat an' missed it an' hit the cage that my parrot was in, an' upset it an' nearly scared the poor bird into a spasam. I was jist gittin' ready ter throw a pumpkin at 'em, when somethin' seemed ter whisper right in my ear, "Hold yer temper, Mary Ann, hold yer temper." An' I jist said ter myself, "I will." So I did, an' I'm thankful fur it, tew.

MRS. TATTLE. That was quite a glorious victory under the circumstances, Mary Ann. I have often wondered why you didn't get married, you must have had chances.

MISS GREEN. When I was young an' started teachin' school, I didn't care to take any chances. I wanted a sure thing, and young men ain't to be depended upon. There was James Binny, for instance; "I love you," sez he, "an' I would go to the world's end fur you." "You would not go to the end of the world for me, James," sez I. "The world," sez I, "is round like a ball.

One of the first lessons in geography is devoted to the shape of the globe. You must have studied it when you were a boy." "Of course I did," sez he, "but—" "It is no longer a theory," sez I, "it is an established fact." "I knew it," sez he, "but what I meant was that I would do anything to please you. Oh! Mary Ann," sez he, "if you knew the achin' void—" "Void, James," sez I, "there is no such thing as a void. Nature abhors a vacuum," sez I, "but even admitting that there could be such a thing, how could the void you speak of be a void if there was an ache in it?" "Well," sez he, "I've money in the savings bank," sez he, "and I want you to be my wife,—there!" "That might make a difference," sez I, "to some gals, but not to me. You can take your savings bank off, and yourself too, I'm not a bargain counter." An' he went.

MRS. TATTLE. Good for you! Mary Ann, that was plucky. I guess ye are all through now, but me. I will now proceed ter give my experience. I say with Mrs. Gossip, I'm thankful that I'm alive; an' bein' a lone widder as I am, I'm thankful that the good Lord gave me good looks—

GRANNY. Books! Do ye want tew borrow some books, Mrs. Tattle? We've got some extra fine ones at hum in our book-cupboard. One is a most mighty interestin' one, tew. It tells all about a man, that got jealous of another man, jist because t'other man—

BETSEY. Hush, granny; she said looks.

GRANNY. Oh! she did, eh?

MRS. TATTLE. —and as long as I have ter wear black ter mourn Joshua, I'm glad that it is so becomin'. I am thankful, tew, that as long as Joshua had ter die, that he left me a little pile of money. It makes one's chances so much better with the sterner sex. Fur I believe as young as I am, it would be goin' agin the Lord's will fur me ter stay single, when I can see it's my bounden duty ter make home nice an' comfortable fur some man. So whenever the Lord sees fit ter send me another husband, I will try and do my duty by him; no matter who it may be, an' thank the Lord fur it. I guess that is all I can think on now; so if none of ye can think of any other business ter come before this here society, we will stand adjourned to meet in one week at the home of Granny Noddle. Ye may now stand adjourned. Let us sing our evening hymn. (All rise.)

AIR—"LONG, LONG AGO."

Don't we remember the days we were young,

Long, long ago—
Long, long ago.
The fun that we had and the songs that were sung,
Long, long ago,
Long, long ago.
Now we are older, but should not complain.
Wouldn't we just love to live over again
All of the youthful pleasure and pain
Of Long, Long ago, Long ago.

(All together) WE WOULD!!

(All face audience)

Now to amuse you we've all done our best

(Refrain sung hummed with mouths closed.)

So we are soon going home to our rest.

(Refrain as before.)

We know we are guilty of shamming, we fear,
We are not so old as we've tried to appear.
But just to amuse you 'tis surely all right.
And so we all wish you "Goodnight."

CURTAIN.

NEW PLAYS

WIDOW'S WILES, A. 25 cents. A comedy in 3 acts, by EMILIE H. CALLAWAY. 7 male, 8 female characters. 3 interior scenes. Time of performance, 2 hours. An apparently simple plot, but involving unexpected complications which arouse the keenest interest in the fate of the leading characters. Ted and Doris are engaged. Ted is persuaded to save his chum, Tom, from the wiles of a designing and mercenary Widow by pretending to court her himself; unfortunately for him, he finds himself at last "in honor bound" to marry her. Doris believes him faithless. Later he regains his freedom, explanations follow, and Doris at last appreciates his heroic self-sacrifice in the sacred cause of honor and friendship. The characters of Ted, and the Widow afford fine opportunity for portrayal of widely contrasted individuality.

TWO BURGLARS, The. 25 cents. A farce in 2 acts, by WILLIAM BRIAN HOOKER. 3 male, 3 female characters. 1 interior scene. Time, an hour and a half. Two young society men, each with an independent object, personate burglars in the same house. The incidents of their capture and escape combine with other irresistibly funny stage situations to make up one of the most laughter inspiring farces ever put on the stage. A remarkable climax is reached by a curious attempt in experimental psychology and an elopement under difficulties. The middle-aged house-keeper, addicted to Shakespeare, is a remarkable character.

ISABEL, THE PEARL OF CUBA. 25 cents. A brilliant melodrama in 4 acts, by CHARLES TOWNSEND. 9 male, 3 female characters; or, by doubling, 6 males. 1 exterior, 3 interior scenes. Time, 2 hours. A realistic succession of startling adventures of a "Herald" reporter during the Cuban insurrection in 1898, during a series of events supposed to have occurred immediately preceding the destruction of the "Maine" in the Harbor of Havana. The fiendish devices of a Spanish general to obtain possession of the heroine of the play form a succession of "situations" which hold the audience right up to the astounding climax.

DELEGATES FROM DENVER, The. 25 cents. A farcical comedy in 2 acts, by SAMUEL N. CLARK. 3 male, 10 female characters. 2 interior scenes. Time, 45 minutes. Margaret is a candidate for president of the Eta Pi Sorority which meets at Boston. John has proposed to her, but she defers her answer, as she purposes if elected to devote her whole time to the Sorority. Two delegates from Denver decline to attend; John and Edward plan to represent them and vote against Margaret, and also to prevent her from going to Boston. Their plan partially succeeds, but it ends in discovery, explanations, and Margaret's engagement to John, including some other pleasant dénouements. The action is absurdly farcical, and very much alive from start to finish.

RAINBOW KIMONA, The. 25 cents. A comedy for girls in 2 acts, by ELEANOR MAUD CRANE. 9 female characters. 1 interior scene. Time, an hour and a half. The Rainbow Kimona is a club composed of seven of the Senior Class of Miss Penelope Wright's Collegiate School, each member wearing a Kimona representing one of the seven colors of the Rainbow. In a small apartment an entertainment is arranged in which each girl assumes a leading character in one of Shakespeare's plays, burlesqued in outrageously comical style. Incidentally, articles have been mysteriously missing from time to time. The purloiner is supposed to be a ghost, but eventually proves to be one of the girls walking in her sleep. The whole thing is a medley of the most attractive and amusing kind in its absurdities and originality of conception.

LITTLE RED MARE, The. 15 cents. A farce in 1 act, by O. E. YOUNG. 3 male characters, 1 interior scene. Time, about 35 minutes. The little red mare and a very deaf farmer's red-headed daughter are both named Nellie. A dude is after the daughter, and a horse-dealer wants the mare. The farmer mistakes the one for the other, and the way he gets the two claimants muddled in his criss-cross description of the two Nellies keeps the audience in a roar from the word “go.” By a startling incident the farmer is suddenly cured of his deafness, and what he hears aids in clearing up the muddle.

FUN IN A SCHOOL ROOM. 15 cents. A farcical sketch in 1 act and 1 interior scene, by HARRY E. SHELLAND. 4 male characters, a Dutch-dialect teacher, and 3 pupils consisting of a young Bowery tough, a Hebrew boy, and a rather good little boy. Time, about 40 minutes. The questions and answers given in their respective personalities are outrageously funny, including an entirely new version of the discovery of America. The sketch throughout is incredibly absurd.

JOSIAH'S COURTSHIP

A FARCICAL COMEDY IN FOUR ACTS, BY HORACE C. DALE.

PRICE 25 CENTS

Six male, five female characters, eccentric old man, leading gentleman, genteel heavy, walking gentleman, juvenile comedy, Irish and Ethiopian comedy, eccentric old maid, leading lady, walking lady, and soubrette. Striking "situations," climax at act-endings, merriment and pathos. Can be played in any hall. Time of playing, 2 hours.

SYNOPSIS OF INCIDENTS.

ACT I.—Parlor at Priscilla Brown's. A kettle of fish. A mistaken embrace and a total eclipse. A dusky prophet. The girl's compact. "I's wid yo', pard, ebery time." Sharp, the detective. The "angel" gives some good advice. A wronged and childless widow. The rival suitors. Jeff's plans begin to work. "Curse you, I'll " Consternation. Picture.

ACT II.—Sharp's office. The detective and the "angel." A trick on the Irishman. Josiah gets excited again. Joe gives the old man a "tip." A providential interruption. The "angel" offers some more good advice. The story of Josiah's life. An old man's darling. Priscilla scents a mouse. Out of the frying-pan into the fire.

ACT III.—Back at Priscilla's. Another embarrassment for Josiah. Priscilla in war paint. Reconciliation. More trouble for Jeff. A spring chicken and an old hen. A bitter encounter. Defiance. Josiah makes a bargain. Confusion worse confounded.

ACT IV.—Scene as before. A vote of confidence. A few more pointed questions. Mike on a tear. Josiah's ultimatum. A father's confession and an unexpected guest. The "splosion." Tom's exculpation. The bitter bit. Father and son. Priscilla relents. "Call in the preacher and let's all be happy!" The remnants of Mike. Finale.

BREAKING HIS BONDS

A COMEDY-DRAMA IN FOUR ACTS, BY HORACE C. DALE.

PRICE 25 CENTS

Six male, three female characters, including leading man, genteel heavy, walking gentleman, walking comedy (dude), eccentric comedy, Irish comedy, leading emotional lady, comedy walking lady, and soubrette. Time of playing, 2 hours. The theme is entirely new, with plot and counter plot, and opportunities for strong acting.

SYNOPSIS OF INCIDENTS.

ACT I.—Lelar's mansion. Master and man. Micky's alarm. The rival lovers. A friendly warning. Masked villainy. A puzzled physician. Resolve. "Ha, traitors! have I caught you?" "Howard! husband! are you crazy?" "Have you no answer to make, you guilty scoundrel!" "None in your present condition, sir." "Then die!" Picture.

ACT II.—Scene same as before. Lawyer and lady. An explanation demanded. Determination. A love spat. Micky's veracity is questioned. A crestfallen Irishman. Articles of partnership. A dazed wife. "And your name is what?" "Crazed!" Picture.

ACT III.—Deem's law office. A pliant tool. An unwelcome visitor. Revelations. A collision. Snooks in clover. An incensed Irishman. Husband and wife. Mental thralldom. Breaking his bonds. Picture.

ACT IV.—An appeal for mercy in behalf of Snooks. An arch confession. Meditated murder. A soliloquy. Snooks proves himself a consummate actor. "You shall not deprive me of justice!" "My dear boy, have I found you at last!" Humiliation. Joy after sorrow. Picture.

A WHITE LIE

COMEDY-DRAMA IN FOUR ACTS, BY HORACE C. DALE.

PRICE 25 CENTS

Four male, three female characters, including leading man, genteel heavy, low comedy, Negro comedy; old maid comedy, emotional leading lady, ingénue. Time of playing 2½ hours. The action abounds with strong dramatic situations. Can be easily staged in any hall.

SYNOPSIS OF INCIDENTS.

ACT I.—Drawing-room in the Bell mansion. Visitors. The man who kissed the Blarney stone. The wolf in the sheepfold. An anxious wife's resolve. A game that two can play. An untimely interruption. "What is the meaning of this scene?" An extempore rehearsal. A white lie.

ACT II.—Scene as before. Araminta has her say, and Timothy takes it to heart. Taffy sets up in business. Fiddling upon a lawyer's heart-strings. Pauline's history. The flying-wedge. "I know a thing or two about foot-ball." A passage at arms between Spring and Autumn. Pauline's dilemma. A fruitless appeal. "Go! There can be no paradise where sin abounds!" Picture.

ACT III.—The Charity Ball. Taffy and his "fairy." An exciting episode. Unmasked! An affair of honor. Another skirmish between the ladies. Timothy in a quandary. The missing letter and Pauline's plan of rescue. Araminta caught "spoonin'," and Taffy believes that the world has come to an end.

ACT IV.—The secret duel. Peyton's treachery and suicide. Bell's discovery and despair. A morning call, and a kodak sensation. The Peach Blossom's revenge. Good news for Taffy. A risky experiment. Bereft of reason. Disenthralled. "Dat settles it; de war am ober, peace am 'clared, an' we's all happy." Finale.

Imogene; or, The Witch's Secret

REALISTIC DRAMA IN FOUR ACTS, BY HORACE C. DALE.

PRICE 15 CENTS

Seven male, five female characters. Juvenile leading man, eccentric old man, walking gentleman, genteel villain, Irish comedy, two utility. Leading juvenile lady, heavy character, walking lady, juvenile comedy, soubrette. Well worked out plot and counter-plot, effective stage pictures, and brisk action. Time of playing, 2 hours.

SYNOPSIS OF INCIDENTS.

ACT I.—Scene I.—A street. The Deacon's arrival. A newsboy's trick. Lawyer and Irishman. The Witch's prophecy. A wife's anxiety and resolve. Scene II.—A garden. The fete. Snooks is euchered. A foe in the guise of a friend. The drugged wine. Suspicion aroused. A fruitless appeal. A wronged wife. The accusation. Denunciation. The assault.

ACT II.—Mansfield's home. A jealous Irishman. The Deacon becomes infatuated. A lost sister. An indirect proposal. The assault. Dennis bites the dust. An indignant wife. A self-confessed villain. A desperate woman. An aggrieved husband. Cowardice charged. Satisfaction demanded and refused. Cowhided.

ACT III.—Scene I.—Hall in Mansfield's house. Dennis grows excited. A challenge. An agitated wife. Scene II.—The rendezvous. The duel. An unobserved witness. "Shoot, you coward!" "I cannot, it would be murder." Treachery charged. "There stands the traitor!" The Witch's note. Explanation demanded. The deadly air gun. A wounded villain. Who fired the shot? A doubting Thomas. The Witch's exhortation. The resolve. Scene III.—A room in Mansfield's house. A wife's devotion.

ACT IV.—Scene I.—In Reed's law-office. Dennis promises compliance. Dennis and Snooks have a "scrap." Robbery charged. The raised notes. Murder is threatened. Dennis's ruse. The lawyer is euchered. The Witch's appearance. Startling revelations. The Witch's power defied. The incantation. Imogene appears. Reed's death. Scene II.—A street. The Deacon and his nephew. Apologies made and forgiveness obtained. Dennis's elation. Susie's ruse brings Dennis to terms. Scene III.—Mansfield's home. The Witch's secret is revealed. The Deacon is made happy.

Transcriber's notes

New original cover art included with this eBook is granted to the public domain.
Obvious typographical errors have been silently corrected.
All occurrences of "Minister" have been regularized to start with a capital letter.

 END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE SCRUBTOWN SEWING CIRCLE'S THANKSGIVING ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG™ LICENSE

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, “Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation.”
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.

- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES

EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.