PREFACE.

Multum in parvo is the object of this small book; in which the student will find all the elements necessary to enable him in a very short time to enter into a conversation on the most usual topics.

For this purpose, and in order that he may understand the questions put, or the answers given to him, should they be expressed in words different in tense or number from those contained in the dialogues, and also to afford him the best means to vary them himself, it has been deemed expedient to prefix to the vocabularies a synopsis of the Spanish language. The learner is earnestly desired to study it attentively, so as to become perfectly familiar with the conjugation of the verbs; a thorough knowledge of which will render his progress easy, sure, and speedy.

Persons unaccustomed to commit tasks to memory, will do well to begin by learning daily a set number (say five) of nouns, adjectives, or verbs, and as many phrases as they can remember well; repeating always the English before the Spanish. Such exercise being steadily pursued for a month, the student will have acquired an aggregate of more than five hundred of the words most frequently used in common intercourse. This plan has been often tried, and its results have constantly exceeded the most sanguine expectations.

Should the student wish to acquire a thorough knowledge of the Spanish, even without the assistance of a teacher, he may do so by studying Ollendorff's New Method, by M. Velazquez and T. Simonné, published by D. Appleton & Co., No. 443 Broadway.

This work will also be found very useful for the younger classes of learners, as an introduction to Ollendorff, or any other Spanish grammar, as it contains in a few pages, and exhibits in the plainest manner, the elements necessary to enable them to make a very easy and rapid progress in the study of this language.

EASY INTRODUCTION TO SPANISH CONVERSATION.

PART I.
A SYNOPSIS OF THE CASTILIAN LANGUAGE.

THE LETTERS.

The vowels are, a, e, i, o, u, y.

Pronounce them, ah, ay, ee, oh, oo, ee. They have invariably the same sound, and must be fully and distinctly pronounced.

The vowels are never silent, except u, in the syllables gue, gui, que, qui. When the u is to be sounded in them, it is marked with a diæresis (") over it; thus, argüir, ar-goo-ir.

The syllables in which the consonants are pronounced differently from the English, are the following. The letters in italics under them express their respective sounds.

C.

Ca, co, cu, cua, cuo.

Kah, koh, koo, kwah, kwo.

ce, ci.

Th lisped, thay, thee.

CH.

Pronounce it invariably as in the English words chap, chess, cheese.

G.

Ga, go, gu, gue, gui.

Gah, goh, goo, gay, gee.

J.

J before all the vowels, and g before e or i, have the sound of the English h, more harshly aspirated.

Ja, je, ji, jo, ju.
Hah, hay, hee, hoe, who.
Ge, gi.
Hay, hee.

LL.

LL is not a double consonant in Spanish, consequently it must not be divided in spelling. It sounds like ll in English in million; but it must be pronounced more quickly and stronger. In some parts of the Mexican states it is sounded somewhat like the Spanish y consonant, with which they confound it in writing; and in manuscript we frequently see cabayo instead of caballo.

Lla, lle, lli, llo, llu.
Lyah, lye-ay, lyee, lyoh, lyoo.

N.

N has a strong nasal sound, like n in poniard. The gn in French gives its sound.

Na, ñe, ñi, ño, ñu.

Q.

The syllables qua, qüe, qüi, quo, are at present written with c, which see above.

Que, qui.
Kay, kee.

V.

V must be pronounced as in English. Its sound is so slender in Spanish, that most generally it is confounded with the b: but such pronunciation must not be imitated. It is frequently used in manuscript instead of the capital U; thus,

Vnion y Libertad, instead of Union y Libertad.

X, in conformity with the new orthography, is to represent solely the sound of cs; but the greater part of the people pronounce and write only the s; thus, estranjero, instead of extranjero, (ex-tran-her'-oh.)

Y.

Y is a vowel when it is followed by a consonant, or terminates a word, and then it sounds like ee. It is a consonant when it is before a vowel, and then it sounds somewhat like English j. In some parts of America it is generally pronounced as ee; thus, suyo, soo'-ee-o.

N. B.—Of late years, some persons write i instead of y in ai, y, convoi, &c., but the Academy retains the y. In manuscript, Y is to be used instead of I, whenever this letter must be a capital.

Z.

Z, before all the vowels, is pronounced like th lisped in the English words thank, theft, thin, path, truth.

Za, ze, zi, zo, zu.
Thah, thay, thee, thoh, thoo.

Az, ez, iz, oz, uz.

Ath, eth, eeth, oth, ooth.

In Spanish America z is generally pronounced s, and also frequently written instead of that letter.

DIVISION OF SYLLABLES.

Gra-cio-so, cons-truc-cion, abs-te-ner-se, ha-bla-do-res, ca-ro, car-ro, des-en-re-dar, ca-ba-llo, con-flic-to, pers-pi-caz, flu-xion.

ACCENT.

This mark (´) is set over a vowel to point out that a particular stress of the voice must be laid on it. When the word has no mark on any of its letters, the penultimate, or last syllable but one, must be pronounced with particular emphasis.

Amo, este, ira, oso, Amó, esté, irá, osó.

Nouns ending in a consonant (plurals excepted) have the last syllable long, and consequently do not require the mark: otherwise, they have it on the syllable on which the stress of the voice lies; as,

Caridad, animal, capitan, favor, interes. | Césped, fácil, órden, carácter, ménos.

ARTICLES.

		Singular.		Plural.
THE	{ masculine	El		Los
	{ feminine	La		Las
A or an	{ masculine	Un	SOME	unos
	{ feminine	Una	“	unas

NOUN

Nouns are substantive or adjective, and have number, gender, and case.

NUMBER

Singular and Plural.—Nouns terminating in a short, or unaccented vowel, add an s for the plural; as, boy, muchacho; boys, muchachos. Nouns ending in an accented vowel, or in a consonant, or in y, add es to the singular; as, ruby, rubí; rubies, rubíes; lion, leon; lions, leones; ox, buey; oxen, bueyes. Nouns terminating in z, change it into c to form the plural; as, cross, cruz; crosses, cruces.

GENDER

Every he, or male animal, is of the masculine gender; as, man, hombre; every she, or female, is of the feminine gender; as, woman, mujer. Nouns of inanimate objects or things ending in a, ad, bre, ion, are for the most part feminine; and those terminating in e, i, o, u, on, are masculine. The exceptions, however, are very numerous.

Common nouns ending in o, change it into a to form the feminine; as, son, hijo; daughter, hija. There are some that express their gender by a different word or termination; as, father, padre; mother, madre; bull, toro; cow, vaca; poet, poeta; poetess, poetisa. (See Ollendorff, p. 246.)

Common nouns terminating in an, on, or, add an a to form the feminine; as lion, leon; lioness, leona; shepherd, pastor; shepherdess, pastora.

CASE.

There are two cases, the Nominative and the Objective. The Nominative case expresses the subject of the verb; as, The man gives, El hombre da. The Objective case is either direct or indirect. It is direct when it is the immediate object of the action of the verb; as, The man gives alms, El hombre da limosna. It is indirect (called also complement) when it is the term, or end of the action expressed by the verb; as, The man gives alms to the poor, El hombre da limosna á los pobres. When the object direct of an active verb is the noun of a rational being, or a proper noun, or thing personified, it must be preceded by the preposition á; as, The brother loves his sister, El hermano ama á su hermana. The brother loves his money, El hermano ama su dinero.

AUGMENTATIVE AND DIMINUTIVE NOUNS.

Augmentative nouns are those that increase the extent of their signification by adding on, ote, or azo, to the masculine nouns, and ona, ota, or aza, to the feminine, suppressing their last letter, should it be a, e, or o; as, a boy, un muchacho; a big boy, un muchachon; a girl, una muchacha; a big girl, una muchachona. The termination azo frequently signifies the blow, or injury caused by the object to which it is added; as, whip, látigo; a very large whip, un latigazo; a stroke with a whip, un latigazo.

Diminutive nouns are formed by adding ito, illo, ico, or uelo for the masculine, and ita, illa, ica, or uela for the feminine, to the noun, which suppresses its last letter if it be a or e; as, a boy, un muchacho; a little boy, un muchachito, un muchachillo, un muchachuelo; a girl, una muchacha; a little girl, una muchachita, una muchachilla, una muchachuela.

N. B.—The terminations, ito, ita, &c., added to christian names, or those that express relationship, indicate love, affection, and regard towards the object; thus, hermanita, dear sister; Juanito, esteemed John, &c.

ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives ending in o are masculine, and change it into a to form the feminine; as, fine, fino, fina. Those ending in any other letter are common to both genders; as, prudent, prudente; useful, útil.

Except adjectives expressing the natives of a country, or things belonging to it; and also most of those terminating in an or on, which add an a for the feminine; as, Spaniard, or Spanish, español, española; idle, haragan, haragana; clamorous, griton, gritona.

Adjectives form their plural according to the rules set forth for the nouns; as, white, blanco, blancos, blanca, blancas; deep blue, turquí, turquíes; natural, natural, naturales; happy, feliz, felices, or felizes.

Uno, one; alguno, some; ninguno, none; primero, first; bueno, good; malo, bad; suppress the o when they are immediately followed by a substantive masculine in the singular, whether it be alone, or preceded by an adjective; as, no heart, ningun corazon; ningun humano corazon.

Ciento, hundred, loses the last syllable before a substantive masculine or feminine; the same does Santo before a noun masculine in the singular. Grande, great, generally loses it also when it refers to qualities; as, El Gran Capitan.

COMPARATIVE.

More, (or the termination er,) mas——than, que.
He is richer, or more rich than she. || El es mas rico que ella.

Less, ménos——than, que.
She is less rich than he. || Ella es ménos rica que él.

As, (or so,) tan——as, como.
He is as rich as she. || El es tan rico como ella.

As much, (so much,) tanto or tanta——as, como.
She has as much money as he. || Ella tiene tanto dinero como él.
She has as much beauty as || Ella tiene tanta hermosura como modesty. || modestia.

As many, (so many,) tantos or tantas——as, como.
He has as many books as his || El tiene tantos libros como su brother. || hermano.

As many houses. || Tantas casas.

The more, cuanto mas——the more, tanto mas.
The more he studies, the more he || Cuanto mas estudia, tanto mas learns. || aprende.

The less, cuanto ménos——the less, tanto ménos.
The less he works, the less he || Cuanto ménos trabaja, tanto ménos earns. || gana.

Greater, mayor; less, menor; better, mejor; worse, peor, superior, superior, &c.

SUPERLATIVE.

It is formed, first, by literally translating the adverb very, muy; as, very high, muy alto. Secondly, by adding the termination ísimo, or ísima, to the adjective, which suppresses the last letter if it be an o, or e: very fine, finísimo; very sweet, dulcísimo; very useful, utilísimo. Adjectives in ble change it into bilísimo; those in co, into quísimo; and those in go, into guísimo; as, amabilísimo, riquísimo, prodiguísimo. Thirdly, by prefixing el, los, la, las mas, or ménos to the adjective; as, The most industrious, El mas industrioso; the most humane, el, or los mas humanos; la, or las mas humanas.

Best, óptimo, worst, pésimo; greatest, máximo; least, mínimo; lowest, ínfimo; supreme, supremo.

Obj. Ind.	Thee, tí.	Obj. Ind.	You, vosotros, vosotras.
“	With thee, contigo.	“	With you, con vosotros.
		“	“ con vosotras.

You, in familiar polite style, is translated usted for both genders, and the verb agrees with it in the singular or the plural, according to the sense. Usted and its plural are always written in abbreviation, thus: V. or Vm. for the first, and VV. or Vms. for the latter.

Nom.	You, usted, (V. or Vm.)	Nom.	You, ustedes, (VV. or Vms.)
Obj. Dir.	You, á usted, le, la, se.	Obj. Dir.	You, á VV. los, las, se.

Obj.
Ind. Them, les, se; ellas, sí.

“ With them, con ellas.

“ With themselves,
consigo.

Mí, tí, sí, are always preceded by prepositions.

Me, te, se, le, los, la, las, les, are governed by verbs, and never placed after prepositions. When the verbs are in the indicative, or in the subjunctive mood, they are placed before the verb; as, He esteems her, él la estima. Should the verb be in the infinitive, or in the imperative mood, the pronouns must be placed after it, and joined to it so as to appear one word; thus, Give it to him, (give, da, it, le, to him, se,) dásele.

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS CONJUNCTIVE.

My, mi, mis. His, su, sus. Its, su, sus.
Thy, tu, tus. Her, su, sus. Their, su, sus.
Your, with reference to Usted, or Ustedes, su, sus.

These pronouns agree in number with the noun that follows them; as,
He sold his horses, él vendió sus caballos; they fulfilled their promise, ellos cumplieron, su promesa.

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS ABSOLUTE.

Mine , mio, mios. mia, mias.	His , suyo, suyos. suya, suyas.	Its , suyo, suyos. suya, suyas.
Thine , tuyo, tuyos. tuya, tuyas.	Hers , suyo, suyos. suya, suyas.	Theirs , suyo, suyos. suya, suyas.
Our , nuestro, nuestros. nuestra, nuestras.	Your , vuestro, vuestros. vuestra, vuestras.	Your , de Usted. de Ustedes.
Your , with reference to Usted , is translated also suyo, suyos, suya, suyas.

VERBS.

CONJUGATION OF VERBS.

The conjugation of a verb is a regular arrangement of its moods, tenses, persons, and numbers.

All the verbs in the Spanish language are formed out of the present of the infinitive mood, which invariably terminates in AR, ER, or IR, which syllables are called its TERMINATION; and the letters that remain of the said present of the infinitive, after separating one of the said terminations, whatever they may be, are said to be its ROOT, and the letters of such root are called its RADICAL LETTERS; as, to esteem, estim-ar; to offend, offend-er; to permit, permit-ir: in which verbs ar, er, ir are the TERMINATIONS; and estim, offend, permit, the RADICAL LETTERS of each respectively, to which the other combinations must be added to form the various persons and tenses of a verb.

All the Spanish verbs are, therefore, classed into three conjugations. Verbs ending in ar belong to the first; those in er to the second; and those in ir to the third.

Obs. 1. It is not necessary to express the pronouns subject or nominative, in the colloquial style, (usted and ustedes excepted;) but they must be used whenever elegance or clearness requires it.

Obs. 2. The numbers before the terminations point out the different persons. N. 2, before usted and ustedes, denotes that they are of the second person, but that the verb agrees with them in the third, (by Enallage.)

TERMINATIONS OF ALL THE REGULAR VERBS.

Obs. 3. The grave accent (`) upon a vowel in the following terminations, points out the syllable on which the stress of the voice is laid, but over which the mark of it must not be set. The acute accent (') marks the syllable on which the stress of the voice lays, and over which the accent is to be written. When there is no mark of an accent in the termination, the syllable that precedes it is long.

REMARK.—Could, would, or should express as well as might any of the above tenses, but the translation of the verb preceded by them in English, depends entirely on the meaning of the Spanish verb or conjunction that governs, or requires it in the subjunctive mood, as it is explained in Lesson LXXIX. p. 356 of Ollendorff's Method, which the learner must study with attention.

The future of the subjunctive might be translated in English when I shall, and the verb in the usual way.

COMPOUND TENSES.

Obs. 4. These tenses being formed by placing after the verb haber, (to have,) the participle past of the principal verb, or the verb that is conjugated, only one participle for each conjugation is here given, in all the tenses.

INDICATIVE MOOD.

PERFECT, OR PRETERIT DEFINITE.

It is compounded of the present of the indicative of the verb haber, (to have,) and the perfect, or participle past of the verb which is conjugated. For brevity's sake, the English is prefixed only to the first person of all these tenses.

PASSIVE VERBS. (175.)

Passive verbs are formed from active-transitive verbs by adding their participle past, or passive, to the auxiliary verb ser, (to be,) through all its changes, as in English; thus, from the active verb amar, (to love,) is formed the passive verb ser amado, (to be loved.)

Obs. 5. The participle must agree in gender and number with the nominative it refers to; consequently it changes the o into a when the subject is feminine, and adds s for the plural; thus,

SINGULAR.
He is loved.		El es amado.
She is loved.		Ella es amada.
You are loved.		V. es amado, (amada.)
PLURAL.
They are loved.		Ellos son amados.
They are loved.		Ellas son amadas.
You are loved.		VV. son amados, (amadas.)

Obs. 6. In the compound tenses the participle of the principal verb is the only one that admits the change; the participle of the auxiliary verb to be (been, sido) is unchangeable; as,

He has been rewarded.		El ha sido premiado.
They have been rewarded.		Ellos han sido premiados.
She had been admired.		Ella habia sido admirada.
They had been admired.		Ellas habian sido admiradas.
You could have been employed.		V. habria sido empleado, (empleada.)
You could have been assisted.		VV. habrian sido asistidos, (asistidas.)

Obs. 7. Passive impersonal verbs, and those referring to inanimate objects or things, are translated by placing the verb which is in the participle past in English, in the same person and number in which the verb to be is in the English sentence, placing the pronoun se before it; thus,— This ship was built in less than three months; Esta fragata se construyó en ménos de tres meses, instead of fué construida. It is said; Se dice, instead of Es dicho.

PRONOMINAL, OR REFLECTIVE VERBS.

A pronominal, or reflective verb, is that which has the same person or thing as subject and object; as,

He arms himself. | El se arma á sí mismo.

These verbs terminate their present of the infinitive mood by the pronoun se, which must be suppressed in order to find out the conjugation, thus—

To approach.		Acercarse.
To be sorry.		Dolerse.
To repent.		Arrepentirse.

Taking off the se we here have, acercar, 1st conjugation, doler, 2d conjugation; and arrepentir, 3d conjugation. (80.)

These verbs are conjugated by placing the pronouns me, te, se, se, nos, os, se, se, according to the number and person of the nominative they refer to, immediately before the verb, if the subject be expressed before it; and either before or after the verb, if the subject be not expressed or placed after it. When they are placed, after the verb, they must be written so as to form one word with it.

In the imperative mood they are always placed after the verb, which suppresses the s in the first person plural, and the d in the second person of the same number. When the second person singular or plural is used with the adverb no, the pronouns are placed before the verb. Examples:—

1. I congratulate myself.		Yo me congratulo.
2. Thou congratulatest thyself.		Tú te congratulas.
3. He congratulates himself.		El se congratula.
2. You congratulate yourself.		V. se congratula.
1. We congratulate ourselves.		Nosotros nos congratulamos.
2. You congratulate yourselves.		Vosotros os congratulaís.
3. They congratulate themselves.		Ellos se congratulan.
2. You congratulate yourselves.		VV. se congratulan.

1. I had congratulated myself.		Me habia congratulado.
2. I have armed myself.		Yo me he armado.
3. They had flattered themselves.		Ellos se habian lisonjeado.

IMPERATIVE MOOD.

Behave (thou) well.		Pórtate bien.
Behave (you) well.		Portáos bien, (the d is suppressed)
Behave not ill.		No te portes mal.
Behave (you) not ill.		No os portéis mal.
Let us prepare ourselves.		Preparémonos. (the s is suppressed.)

GERUND.—Gerundio.

The gerund is that part of the verb that terminates in ando in the verbs of the first conjugation, and in iendo in those of the second and third; as, publicando, (publishing,) from publicar; prometiendo, (promising,) from prometer; asistiendo, (assisting,) from asistir. It does not admit any change of gender or number.

It is translated by the English present participle, and conjugated with the verb estar, (to be;) as,

Anastasia is reading, and Maria Ann is playing on the piano.

Anastasia está leyendo, y Maria Ana está tocando el piano.

It is used also absolutely; as,

By practising virtue thou wilt be happy. | Practicando la virtud, serás feliz.

VERBS THAT ALTER THEIR RADICAL LETTERS.

Verbs ending in car change the c into que, when the first letter of the termination is e; as, to mark, marcar, marc-ar, (perfect tense) marqué.

Verbs ending in gar add a u immediately after the g in the terminations beginning by e; as, to pay, pagar, pag-ar, (perfect tense) pagué.

Verbs in cer change the c into z }

“	ger	“	g	“	j }	when the first letter
“	gir	“	g	“	j }	of the termination is
“	quir	“	qu	“	c }	either o or a .
“	guir	lose the	u	“	}

Examples:—To vanquish, vencer, venzo; to choose, escoger escojo; to elect, elegir, elijo; to transgress the law, delinquir delinco; to follow, seguir, sigo.

REMARKS ON THE USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

1. The imperfect tense of the subjunctive has three terminations; the first in ra, the second in ria, the third in se.

The termination ra (or se) must be used when the verb is governed by a conditional conjunction, or an interjection expressing a wish; and if any other verb be in the same phrase to complete its sense, it must be placed in the termination ria; as, If you studied more, you would learn very much; Si usted estudiara mas, V. aprenderia mucho.

2. When the verb begins without a conditional conjunction, the termination ra or ría may be used, and the verb requisite to complete the sentence must be placed in the termination se; as, It would be proper that you should write to him; Fuera (or seria) bueno que V. le escribiese.

3. Verbs denoting admiration, command, desire, duty, fear, ignorance, intention, permission, prohibition, application, surprise, will, and also the impersonal verbs, govern the next verb in the subjunctive with que. If the governing verb is in the present or future of the indicative, or subjunctive, the verb governed must be placed in the present of the subjunctive. If the governing verb be in any of the past tenses of the indicative, the verb governed must be placed in the first or third termination of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive; as, They beg you to come early; Suplican a V. que venga temprano. I requested him to send you my letter; Le encargué que enviara á V. mi carta.

PARTICIPLE.

The passive or past participle terminates in ado in the first conjugation, and in ido in the second and third. It changes its termination according to the number and gender of the person it refers to; except when it follows immediately after the verb haber, or any other auxiliary, in which case it does not admit of any change.

All passive participles that do not terminate in ado or ido are called irregular; such are the following, from the verbs—

To open, abrir, abierto.	To print, imprimir, impreso.
To cover, cubrir, cubierto.	To die, morir, muerto.
To say, decir, dicho.	To solve, solver, suelto.
To write, escribir, escrito.	To see, ver, visto.
To fry, freir, frito.	To put, poner, puesto.
To do, hacer, hecho.	To turn, volver, vuelto.
Their compounds have the same irregularity.

Obs. 8. The participles past of haber, ser, estar, and tener, do not admit any variation. The first and the last had it formerly.

VERBS THAT HAVE TWO PARTICIPLES.

There are some verbs that have two passive participles, the one regular and the other irregular. Such are:—To bless, bendecir, bendecido, bendito; to compel, compeler, compelido, compulso; to convert, convertir, convertido, converso; to awake, despertar, despertado, despierto; to elect, elegir, elegido, electo; to express, expresar, expresado, expreso; to fix, fijar, fijado, fijo; to satiate, hartar, hartado, harto; to include, incluir, incluido, incluso; to join, juntar, juntado junto; to arrest, prender, prendido, preso; to provide, proveer, proveido, provisto; to break, romper, rompido, roto; to loosen, soltar, soltado, suelto; to suspend, suspender, suspendido, suspenso, &c.

The regular participles of these verbs are used to form the compound tenses with haber; as,

He has awaked early. | El ha despertado temprano.

The irregular participles are used as verbal adjectives, and with the verbs ser, &c., and do not form compound tenses with haber; excepting preso, prescrito, provisto, roto, and a few others; as,

He is early awaked. | El está despierto temprano.

They have provided. | Ellos han provisto, (proveido.)

ADVERBS.

Adverbs are formed from adjectives of one termination by adding to them mente; as, dulce, dulcemente: and from those of two terminations by adding mente to the feminine; as, gracioso, graciosamente. They admit the superlative; as, graciosísimamente.

When two or more adverbs ending in ly occur in the same sentence, the termination mente is added to the last only; as,

He speaks elegantly and correctly.
El habla correcta y elegantemente.

One thousand five hundred.	Mil y quinientos.
Two thousand.	Dos mil.

Five hundred thousand.
A million.

| MILLON, (cuento.)

Two numbers coming together in an inverted order in English, are translated by placing the highest in the first place; thus,

Three and twenty. | Veinte y tres.

Eleven hundred, fifteen hundred, and the like expressions, are always translated, one thousand one hundred, one thousand five hundred, &c.; thus, mil y ciento, mil y quinientos, and not once cientos, &c.

The words o'clock are omitted in reference to the hours of the day, which are expressed by the cardinal numbers, preceded by the article las or la with reference to una, one; as,

What time is it? | ¿Que hora es?

It is one o'clock. | Es la una.

It is two o'clock. | Son las dos.

Sit down, sir; sit by the fire.	Siéntese V. junto al fuego.
I am very well here; I am not cold.	Estoy bien aqui; no tengo frio.
Let us see if the wine is good.	Veámos si el vino es bueno.

Give me that bottle and a glass.
Taste that wine, pray.
How do you like it?
What do you say to it?
It is not bad; it is very good.
Here are the sausages; take away this plate.
Eat some sausages.
I have eaten some; they are very good.
Give me some drink.
Your health, sir.
Sir, I thank you.
Give the gentleman something to drink.
I drank but just now.
The petty patties were very good.
They were baked a little too much.
You do not eat.
I have eaten so much, I shall not be able to eat my dinner.
You only jest; you have eaten nothing at all.
I have eaten very heartily black pudding, sausages, and ham.

Deme V. esa botella y un vaso.
Pruebe V. este vino, señor.
¿Como le halla V.?
¿que le parece á V.?
No es malo; es muy bueno.
Ahí están las salchichas; quite
V. este plato.
Coma V. unas salchichas.
He comido algunas; son muy buenas.
Déme V. algo de beber.
Caballero á la salud de V.
Doy á V. las gracias.
Dá de beber al señor.
Acabo de beber.
Los pastelillos eran muy buenos.
Solo estaban demasiado cocidos.
V. no come.
He comido tanto, que no tendré ganas á medio dia.
V. se burla; V. no ha comido casi nada.
He comido de buena gana las morcillas, las salchichas, y el jamon.

DIALOGUE VI.	DIALOGO VI.
To speak Spanish.	Para hablar Español.
How goes on your Spanish?	¿Como vamos con el Español?
Are you much improved in it now?	¿Ha hecho V. mucho progreso ahora?

Not much; I know scarcely any thing.

It is said, however, you speak it very well.

Would to God it were true!

Those that say so are much mistaken.

I assure you, I was told so.

I can say a few words which I have learned by heart.

And it is as much as it is necessary to begin to speak.

The beginning is not all; you must make an end.

Be always speaking, either well or ill.

I am afraid of committing blunders.

Never fear; the Spanish language is not hard.

I know it; and that it has abundance of graces.

Application is the only way of learning it.

How long have you been learning?

Scarcely two months.

Does not your master tell you, you must always speak Spanish?

Yes, he often tells me so.

Why don't you talk, then?

Whom will you have me talk with?

With those that talk to you.

No mucho; no sé casi nada.

Dicen, no obstante, que V. le habla muy buen.

¡Ojalá fuéра verdad!

Los que lo dicen se engañan mucho.

Le aseguro á V. que me lo han dicho.

Puedo decir algunas palabras que he aprendido de memoria.

Y es cuanto basta para empezar á hablar.

El principio no es el todo; es preciso acabar.

Hable V. siempre, ó bien ó mal.

Temo decir disparates.

No hay nada que temer; la lengua España no es difícil.

Lo sé; y que tiene tambien abundancia de gracias.

La aplicasion es el solo modo de aprenderla.

¿Cuanto tiempo ha, que V. la está aprendiendo?

A penas dos meses.

¿No dice su maestro de V. siempre que es menester hablar Español?

Si, señor, me lo dice á menudo.

¿Porqué no habla V.?

¿Con quien he de hablar?

Con todos los que le hablen á V.

I would fain talk, but I dare not.
 You must not be afraid.
 You must be bold.

Quisiera hablar, pero no me atrevo.
 V. no debe tener miedo.
 Es menester ser atrevido.

DIALOGUE VII.	DIALOGO VII.
Of the weather.	Del tiempo.
What sort of weather is it?	¿Que tiempo hace?
It is fine weather.	Hace buen tiempo.
It is bad weather.	Hace mal tiempo.
Is it cold? is it hot?	¿Hace frio? ¿hace calor?
It is not cold; it is not hot.	No hace frio; no hace calor.
Does it rain? does it not rain?	¿Llueve? ¿no llueve?
I do not think it does.	No lo creo.
The wind is changed.	Se mudó el viento.
We shall have rain.	Tendremos lluvia.
It will not rain to-day.	No lloverá hoy.
It rains; it pours.	Llueve; llueve á cántaros.
It snows.	Nieva.
It thunders.	Truena.
It hails.	Graniza.
It lightens.	Relampaguéa.
It is very hot.	Hace gran calor.
Has it frozen to-night?	¿Ha helado á noche?
No, sir; but it freezes now.	No, señor; pero hiela ahora.
It appears to me to be a great fog.	Me parece que hace un tiempo nebuloso.
You are not mistaken; it is true.	V. tiene razon; es verdád.
You have caught a violent cold.	V. ha cogido un gran catárro, or una fluxion.
I have had it this fortnight.	Ya hace quince días que le (or la) tengo.
What o'clock is it?	¿Que hora es?

It is early; it is not late.	Es temprano; no es tarde.
Is it breakfast-time?	¿Es tiempo de desayunarse?
It will be dinner-time immediately.	Luego será tiempo de comer.
What shall we do after dinner?	¿Que harémos despues de comer?
We will take a walk.	Irémos á pasear.
Let us take a turn now.	Vamos ahora.
We must not go abroad this weather.	No debemos salir con este tiempo.

DIALOGUE VIII.	DIALOGO VIII.
To write.	Para escribir.
Give me a sheet of paper, a pen, and a little ink.	Déme V. un pliego de papel, una pluma, y un poco de tinta.
Step into my closet; you will find on the table whatever you want.	Entre V. en mi gabinete, y hallará sobre la mesa, recado de escribir.
There are no pens.	No hay plumas.
They are in the standish.	Ahí están en el tintero.
They are good for nothing.	Nada valen.
There are some others.	Allí hay otras.
They are not made.	No estan tajadas.
Where is your penknife?	¿Adonde está el cortaplumas de V.?
Can you make pens?	¿Sabe V. tajar plumas?
I make them my own way.	Las tajo á mi modo.
This is not bad.	Esta no es mala.
While I finish this letter, do me the favor to make a packet of the rest.	Miéntas acabo esta carta, hágame V. el favor de hacer un pliego del resto.
What seal will you have me put to it?	¿Que sello quiere V. que le ponga?
Seal it with my cipher, or coat of arms.	Selléle V. con mi cifra, ó con mis armas.
What wax shall I put to it?	¿Que lacre le he deponér?

Put either red or wafer, no matter which.
 Have you put the date?
 I believe I have; but I have not signed it.
 What day of the month is this?
 The eighth, the tenth, the twentieth.
 Put the superscription.
 Where is the sand?
 You never have either powder or sand.
 There is some in the sandbox.
 There is your servant; will you let him carry the letters to the post-house
 Carry my letters to the post-office; and don't forget to pay the postage.
 I have no money.
 There is some; go quick, make haste to come back.

Ponga V. encarnado, ú oblea, no importa.
 ¿Ha puesto V. la fecha?
 Créo que si; pero no he firmado.
 ¿A cuantos estamos del mes?
 A ocho, á diez, á veinte.
 Ponga V. el sobrescrito.
 ¿Adonde está la arenilla?
 V. no tiene nunca arenilla.
 Hay alguna en la salvadera.
 Aqui está el criado; ¿quiere V. que lleve estas cartas al correo?
 Lleva las cartas del señor al correo, y no se te olvide (pagar el porte) franquearlas.
 No tengo dinero.
 Ahí le tienes; vete pronto, y vuelve luego.

DIALOGUE IX.	DIALOGO IX.
To buy.	Para comprar.
What do you want, sir?	¿Que manda V. señor?
What would you please to have?	¿Que desea V.?
I want a good fine cloth, to make me a suit of clothes.	Necesito paño bueno y hermoso, para hacerme un vestido.
Be pleased to walk in, sir, you will see the finest I have.	Hágame V. el favor de entrar, verá V. el mejor que tengo.
Show me the best you have.	Enséñeme V. el mejor que tenga.
There is a very fine one, and	Aquí tiene V. uno muy fino, y what is worn at present.

It is a good cloth; but I don't like the color.
There is another lighter piece.

I like that color well; but the cloth is not strong, it is too thin.

Look at this piece, sir; you will not find the like anywhere else.
What do you ask for it a yard?
Without exacting, it is worth five dollars.

Sir, I am not used to stand haggling; pray tell me your lowest price.

I have told it you, sir; it is worth that.

It is too dear; I will give you four dollars.

I cannot abate a farthing.

You shall not have what you ask.

You asked me the lowest price,
and I have told it to you.

Come, come, cut off two yards and a half of it.

I protest, on the word of an honest man, I do not get two shillings by you.

There are three doubloons;
give me my change.

Be pleased, sir, to give me another doubloon; this is too light, it wants weight.

como se estila ahora.

Es bueno, pero el color no me gusta.

Aquí hay otra pieza de un color mas claro.

Me gusta ese color; pero el pañó es muy delgado, no tiene bastante cuerpo.

Mire V. este paño, señor, no hallará otro semejante en ninguna parte.

¿Cuanto pide V. por la vara?

Sin pedir demasiado, vale cinco pesos.

No estoy acostumbrádo a regatear;
suplico á V. que me diga el último precio.

He dicho á V. cuanto vale.

Es demasiado caro; le daré á V. solo cuatro pesos.

No puedo rebajar un cuarto.

No daré á V. lo que pide.

V. me preguntó el último precio, y se le he dicho.

Vamos, corte V. dos varas y media.

Aseguro á V. bajo palabra de hombre de bien, que no gano dos reales con V.

Aquí hay tres onzas déme
V. cambio.

Hágame V. el favor de darme otra onza, á esta le falta peso.

Here is another.
Farewell; sir, your servant.

Aquí hay otra.
Adiós; señor, servidor de V.

DIALOGUE X.	DIALOGO X.
To inquire after news.	De las noticias.
What news is there?	¿Que se dice de nuevo?
Do you know any?	¿Sabe V. alguna cosa?
I have heard none.	No he oído decir nada.
What is the talk of the town?	¿Que se dice en la ciudad?
There is no talk of any thing.	No se habla de nada.
Have you heard no talk of war?	¿No ha oído V. hablar de la guerra?
I heard nothing of it.	No se dice nada de ella.
A person told me this morning, that Mr. S. is a bankrupt; have you any connection with him?	Un sugeto me dijo esta mañana que el señor S. ha quebrado; ¿tiene V. correspondencia con él?
No, thank God.	No, señor, gracias á Dios.
So much the better.	Tanto mejor.
Indeed, you surprise me.	Verdaderamente V. me sorprehende.
My dear friend, there is no wonder in all the bankruptcies now.	Querido amigo, no hay nada que extrañar en todas las quiebras ahora.
Why so?	¿Porqué?
Because the greatest part of shopkeepers will appear more than they really are.	Porque la mayor parte de los tenderos quieren parecer mas de lo que son realmente.
What is the amount of his bankruptcy?	¿A cuanto llega su quiebra?
Between twenty-five and thirty thousand dollars.	Veinticinco ó treinta mil pesos.
So much as that! you surprise me. Four years ago he was but a shopman at Mr. M's. How has he	¡Tanto! V. me sorprehende. Cuatro años ha estába de dependiente en la tienda been able to be trusted so much?

I don't know; he was worth something when he first began to open his shop.

I heard he had ten thousand dollars.

Well; if he was worth ten thousand dollars, and reduced to be a bankrupt now, there must be some misconduct in that.

I suppose so; I have heard he has a country-house most handsomely furnished, a horse-chaise, two or three servants, without speaking of his shopmen: all that takes a great part of the profit, besides frequent entertainments and the play.

If there was nothing but that, it would be but a trifle.

Do you call that a trifle?

Yes, if he can afford it; but if cards are his greatest occupation, and he loses in an instant the labor of his men and his own, I do not wonder at his being a bankrupt.

I cannot comprehend how a man of del señor M. ¿Como ha podido tener tanto crédito?

No sé, él era rico cuando al principio abrió su tienda.

He oído, que tenía diez mil pesos.

Muy bien; si tenía diez mil pesos y ahora esta insolvente, hay ciertamente mala conducta en él.

Lo supongo; he oído que tiene casa de campo muy soberbiamente adornada, una calesa, dos ó tres criados, sin hablar de sus mozos de tienda: con todas estas cosas se gasta la mayor parte de la ganancia, además de la comedia y de los convites.

Si no fuera otra cosa que eso, seria bagatela.

¿V. llama eso bagatela?

Sí, si puede sostener semejantes gastos; mas si los naipes son su mas grande ocupacion, y pierde en un instante el trabajo de sus mozos y su ganancia, no hay que extrañar que sea insolvente.

No puedo comprehender como un sense can run headlong to the ruin of others and his own.

I have heard he is overstocked with every thing.

If he is overstocked, and does not pay for it, would it not be better to send back what he cannot sell, than to make a show of what is not his own?

But you do not reflect, that people generally go where there is a greater choice.

I grant it; however, there is a medium in every thing.

Yes, when prudence dictates our actions; but when we will appear what we are not, others suffer for it.

You are right.

How soon will he present himself?

The newspaper does not say.

It will be soon known.

It is twenty-six years ago since I opened my shop: we were not worth, my wife and I, three thousand dollars: I have bred up twelve children, and lived comfortably, without having been a bankrupt.

I can say almost the same; for my hombre de juicio puede ser tan inconsiderado que arruine á otros y á sí mismo.

He oído que tiene abundancia de toda suerte de géneros.

Si tiene tantos géneros, y no los paga, ¿No sería mejor volver lo que no puede vender, que hacer gala de lo que no es suyo?

V. no considera, que la gente va generalmente adonde hay mas en que escoger.

Lo concedo; pero hay un medio en todas las cosas.

Sí, cuando la prudencia es la regla de nuestras acciones; mas cuando queremos parecer lo que no somos, otros sufren por ello.

V. tiene razon.

¿Quando se ha de presentar?

La gazeta no lo dice.

Pronto lo sabrémos.

Hace veintiseis años desde que abrí mi tienda: mi mujer y yo no teníamos tres mil pesos: hemos educádo doce hijos, y vivido dichosos, sin verme insolvente.

Puedo casi decir lo mismo;

fortune was not so considerable by a great deal: yet by frugality I have overcome all the difficulties of life.	mi fortuna verdaderamente no era tan considerable: pero con economía he vencido las dificultades de la vida.
Were you married when first you began business?	¿Era V. casado quando abrió su tienda?
No; I kept shop ten years before I married, and was fortunate enough to find a wife after my own sentiments.	No; tenía tienda diez años ántes de casarme, y tuve la dicha de hallar una mujer de mi modo de pensar.
We are both old, and have chosen the best time for our business.	Somos ámbos ancianos, y hemos escogido el mejor tiempo para nuestros negocios.
Truly, it is so; for, if you observe, now we pay dearer for every article, and not so good as they were formerly.	Realmente, es así; porque, si V. observa, pagamos ahora mas caros los géneros, y no son tan buenos como lo eran antiguamente.
It is true; but we sell them nearly the half dearer than what they did sell ten years ago.	Es verdad; pero los vendemos casi la mitad mas caro de lo que se vendian diez años hace.
I grant it; but we have not so much profit as we had.	Lo concedo; pero no tenemos tanta ganancia como teníamos.

DIALOGUE XI.	DIALOGO XI.
To inquire after any one.	Para informarse de alguno.
Who is that gentleman that spoke to you a little while ago?	¿Quien es ese caballero que hablaba á V. algun tiempo ha?
He is a German.	Es un Aleman.
I took him for an Englishman.	Creí que era Ingles.

He comes from Saxony.
He speaks French very well.
The Spaniards take him for a Spaniard, and the English for an Englishman.
It is difficult to be conversant in so many different languages.
He has been a long while in those countries.
Have you known him for any time?
About two years.
He has a noble air; he has a good mien.
He is a genteel person.
He is neither too tall, nor too little.

He is handsome; he is well shaped.
He plays upon the piano, the guitar, and several other instruments.
I should be glad to know him.
I will bring you acquainted with him.
Where does he live?
He lives by the river side.
When will you have us go and wait on him?
Whenever you please, for he is my intimate friend.
It shall be when you are not engaged.
We will go to-morrow morning.
I shall be obliged to you.

Viene de Sajonia.
Habla Francés muy bien.
Los Españoles le creen Español, y los Ingleses Ingles.
Es difícil hablar tantas lenguas diferentes.
Ha estado largo tiempo en esos países.
¿Hace mucho tiempo que V. le conoce?
Cerca de dos años.
Tiene buena presencia, y él aspecto noble.
Es bien parecido.
No es demasiado alto, ni demasiado pequeño.
Es hermoso; es bien hecho.
Toca el piano, la guitarra, y otros muchos instrumentos.
Gustaría mucho de conocerle.
Proporcionaré a usted su conocimiento.
¿Adonde vive?
Vive á la orilla del rio.
¿Cuando quiere V. que váyamos á visitarle?
Cuando V. guste, porque es mi amigo íntimo.
Será quando V. esté desocupado.
Irémos mañana por la mañana.
Se lo agradeceré á V. mucho.

DIALOGUE XII.	DIALOGO XII.
For a journey.	De un viage.
How many leagues is it from this place to N.?	¿Cuántas leguas hay de aquí á N.?
It is eight leagues.	Hay ocho leguas.
We shall not be able to get there to-day, it is too late.	No podremos llegar allá hoy, es muy tarde.
It is not twelve o'clock; you have time enough yet.	No han dado las doce, tiene V. bastante tiempo.
Is the road good?	¿Es un buen camino?
So so; there are woods and rivers to pass.	Así así; tiene V. bosques y rios que atravesar.
Is there any danger upon the highway?	¿Hay peligro en el camino real?
There is no talk of it; it is a highway where you meet people every moment.	No se dice nada de eso; es un camino en que se encuentra gente á cada momento.
Do not they say there are robbers in the woods?	¿No se dice que hay ladrones en los bosques?
There is nothing to be feared either by day or night.	No hay nada que temer de dia ni de noche.
Which way must one take?	¿Que camino he de tomar?
When you come near the hill, you must take to the right hand.	Cuando esté V. cerca del cerro, tomará á mano derecha.
Is it not necessary to ascend the hill then?	¿Hay necesidad de subir el cerro?
No, sir; there is no other hill but a little declivity in the wood.	No, señor; no hay mas que un declive insensible en el bosque.
Is the way difficult through the wood?	¿Es el camino difícil en el bosque?
You cannot lose your way.	V. no puede extraviarse.
As soon as you are out of the wood, remember to keep to the left hand.	Luego que V. esté fuera del bosque, acuérdesese de tomar á la izquierda.

Is there any good inn on the road?

There is one. There is none.

There is one tolerably good.

Can I find any horses there?

It is likely. But you would do better to secure one here, beforehand.

Pray, how much would it cost?

It would cost at the rate of ... a league.

I thank you, sir, and am much obliged to you.

Come, come, gentlemen, let us take horse.

Where is Mr. N.?

He is gone before.

He will wait for you just out of town.

What do we stay for now? Let us be gone.

Farewell, gentlemen.

I wish you a good journey.

Thank you.

¿Hay alguna buena posada or venta (algun buen meson, M.) en el camino?

Hay una. No hay ninguna.

Hay una pasadera. (Hay una tal cual.)

¿Podré hallar caballos en ella?

Puede ser. Pero V. haria mejor en asegurar uno aquí de antemano.

¿Dígame V. cuanto me costaría?

Costaría á razon de ... por legua.

Muchas gracias: lo agradezco mucho.

Vamos, caballeros, á caballo.

¿Adonde está el Sr. N.?

Se ha ido adelante.

Esperará á VV. fuera de la ciudad.

¿Que esperámos ahora? Vamos.

Adiós, señores.

Dios les dé á VV. buen viage.

Viva V. muchos años.

DIALOGUE XIII.

Supper and lodgings.

Let us alight, gentlemen.

Take these gentlemen's horses, and take care of them.

Now, let us see what you will give us for supper.

Two chickens, half-a-dozen of DIALOGO XIII.

La cena y el alojamiento.

Apeémonos, señores.

Toma los caballos de estos señores, y cuídalos bien.

Veamos ahora que nos dará
V. de cenar.

Un par de pollos, media docena pigeons, a salad, six quails, and a dozen of larks.

Will you have nothing else?
That is enough; but give us some good wine, and some dessert.
Let me alone, I will please you,
I warrant ye.
Light the gentlemen.
Let us have our supper as soon as possible.
Before you have pulled off your boots, supper will be upon the table.
Let our portmanteaus and pistols be carried up-stairs.
Pull off my boots; and then you shall go and see whether they have given the horses any hay.
You shall conduct them to the river; and take care they give them some oats.
I will take care of everything;
don't trouble yourself.
Gentlemen, supper is ready; it is upon the table.
We will come presently.
Let us go to supper, gentlemen, that we may go to bed in good time.
Give us water to wash our hands.
Let us sit down at table, gentlemen.
Give us some drink.
To your health, gentlemen.

de pichónes, una ensalada, seis codornices, y una docena de alondras.

¿No quieren VV. otra cosa?
No, esto basta; pero dénos buen vino y postres.
Déjenme VV. les aseguro que les daré gusto.
Alumbra á los señores.
Dénos V. de cenar cuanto ántes.

Antes que se hayan quitado
VV. las botas, estará la cena en la mesa.
Vengan nuestras maletas y pistolas al cuarto.
Quítame las botas, y vé a ver si han dado heno (paja, M.) á los caballos.
Llévalos al rio, y cuida que les de avena, (cebada, M.)

Tendré cuenta con todo: descuide V.

Señores, la cena está pronta;
está en la mesa.
Vamos luego.
Vamos, señores, á cenar, para poder acostarnos temprano.

Dénos agua para lavarnos.
Sentémonos á la mesa, señores.
Dénos de beber.
A la salud de VV., señores.

Is the wine good?
 It is not bad.
 The chickens are not done enough.
 Give us some oranges.
 Why don't you eat of these pigeons?
 I have eaten one pigeon and three larks.
 Go, call for a chafingdish.
 Tell the landlord we want to speak with him.

¿Es el vino bueno?
 No es malo.
 Los pollos no estan bastante asados.
 Dénos algunas naranjas.
 ¿Porque no come V. pichónes?
 Me he comído un pichón, y
 tres alondras.
 Vaya V. por un escalfadór.
 Dí al posadero que venga á hablarnos.

DIALOGUE XIV.	DIALOGO XIV.
To reckon with the landlord.	Para ajustar cuentas con el mesonero.
Good evening, gentlemen. Are you satisfied with your supper? We are; but we must satisfy you too. What is the reckoning? The reckoning is not great. See what you must have for us, our men, and our horses. Reckon yourselves, and you will find it comes to ten crowns. Methinks you ask too much. On the contrary, I am very reasonable. How much do you make us pay for the wine? Four shillings a bottle. Bring us another bottle, and to-morrow morning we will pay you ten dollars with	Buenas noches, señores. ¿Les gusta á VV. la cena? Si, señor; pero es menester pagar. ¿Cuanto hemos gastado? El escote no sube á mucho. Vea V. cuanto le debémos, por nosotros, nuestros criados y caballos. Hagan VV. la cuenta, y hallaran que todo importa diez pesos. Me parece que es demasiado. Al contrario, es muy barato. ¿Cuanto nos hace V. pagar por el vino? Cuatro reales la botella. Traiganos otra botella, y mañana por la mañana le pagaremos diez pesos incluyendo breakfast included.

 Methinks the gentleman is not well.
 I am very well, but I am weary and fatigued.
 You must take courage.
 It would be better for me to be in bed than at the table.
 Get your bed warmed,
 and go to bed.
 Good night, gentlemen.
 Do you want any thing?
 I want nothing, but rest.
 Let us be called to-morrow morning very early.
 I will not fail. Gentlemen, goodnight.

el almuerzo.
 Me parece que este señor está malo.
 Estoy bueno, pero estoy molido y cansado.
 Es menester tomar ánimo.
 Yo estaría mejor en la cama, que en la mesa.
 Mande V. calentar su cama, y váyase á acostar.
 Buenas noches, señores.
 ¿Le falta á V. algo?
 Nada quiero, sino descanso.
 Despiértenos V. mañana muy temprano.
 Lo haré sin falta. Señores, tengan VV.
 buenas noches.

DIALOGUE XV.	DIALOGO XV.
On sailing upon the water, or on a voyage by sea.	De un viaje por agua, ó por mar.
When shall we go on board?	¿Cuando nos embarcarémos?
If we have favorable weather, how long shall we be on our passage?	¿Si tenemos viento favorable, cuanto durará nuestro viaje?
How much must I pay for the passage?	¿Cuanto he de pagar por el pasage?
How much must I pay for a cabin for myself?	¿Cuanto he de pagar por un camarote para mí solo?
How much ought I to give for a place in the large cabin, with	¿Cuanto se paga por estar en la cámara grande con los the rest of the passengers?

How many passengers have you?
Are there any ladies among the number?

How many persons does your whole crew consist of?
What kind of diet shall we have?
Some smoked and salt meat, and fish, potatoes, beans, cheese, and sea-bread. I advise you, therefore, to take along some provisions for your private use.

What sort of provisions shall I take?
Rice, vermicelli, ham, pickled oysters, portable soup, and other eatables prepared for that purpose, sugar, honey, lemon syrup, prunes, fresh lemons; and also beer, wine, and such liquors as you may be in want of.

Do not forget to provide yourself with sheets and bedclothes, and likewise with a few medicines.

When shall we set sail?
To-day, if the wind is fair.
At what hour shall we set sail?
At ten o'clock, to profit by the high water.
I shall be in readiness, you may demás pasajeros?

¿Cuántos pasajeros tiene V.?
¿Hay algunas señoras entre ellos?

¿De cuántos hombres se compone la tripulación de V.?
¿Que nos darán de comer?
Carne ahumada y salada, pescado salado, patatas, frijoles, ó avichuelas, queso y galleta. Aconsejo á V. por lo mismo que lleve consigo algunas provisiones para su uso particular.

¿Que provisiones debo llevar?
Arroz, fideos, jamones, ostras en escabeche, sopa, y otros comestibles preparados para el efecto, azúcar, miel
de abejas, jarabe de limón, ciruelas pasas, limones frescos;
y también vino, cerveza, y aquellos licores que puedan necesitarse.

No olvide V. llevar sábanas y demás ropa de cama; y así mismo algunas medicinas.

¿Cuando partiremos, or saldremos?
Hoy, si hace buen viento.
¿A que hora nos haremos á la vela?
A las diez, para aprovecharnos de la marea alta.
Estaré pronto, puedo V. estar

DIALOGUE XVI.	DIALOGO XVI.
Conversation on board of a vessel.	Conversacion á bordo de un barco.
Is the wind fair?	¿Es bueno el viento?
I fear we shall have a storm. The wind gets much higher.	¿Tenemos buen viento? Temo que tengamos un temporal. El viento crece mucho.
What a dreadful storm!	El viento se arrecia. ¡Que terrible temporal! or tempestad!
Do you think there is any danger? Don't be afraid, there is no danger. Does the wind continue to be so contrary, or so bad?	¿Piensa V. que hay peligro? No tenga V. miedo, no hay peligro. ¿Continúa el viento á ser tan contrario, or tan malo?
It is likely it will continue the same for three more hours.	Es regular que continúe lo mismo por tres horas mas.
No, it begins to abate a little. I am very sick.	No, empieza á caer un poca. Estoy muy malo.
What is the matter with you? I feel very dizzy, great squeamishness in my stomach, my head and bones pain me much, and I have a shivering all over me.	¿Que tiene V.? Siento un grande desvanecimiento, (se me anda la cabeza,) tengo el estómago revuelto, me duelen mucho la cabeza y los huesos, y experimento escalofrío en todo el cuerpo.
This is the effect of the seasickness; you must not be under any	Todo eso es efecto del maréo; y no debe darle á V. ningun apprehension on that account.

 I advise you to take, two or three times a day, a little spoonful of sulphuric-ether in a small tumbler of water, and to rub your temples and nose with it. It is recommended also to drink sea-water for the first few days, to keep on deck, and to walk about as much as possible. Some persons assert that a silk handkerchief, tied tight round the waist next to the skin, is a great preventive.

I have the toothache.
 That happens frequently at sea.
 You must mind not to expose yourself to the damps of the morning and evening air. You must frequently chew cochlearia or sage leaves. Wash your mouth with camphorated brandy, and finally, take great care of your teeth.

cuidado.

Aconsejo á V. que tome dos ó tres veces al dia una cucharadita de eter sulfúrico en un vasito de agua, y que se frote con él las sienes, y las nariz. Se recomienda tambien á los principios el beber agua del mar una ó dos veces al dia; el mantenerse sobre la cubierta, y pasear cuanto se pueda. Algunos aseguran que el atarse fuertemente un pañuelo de seda á raiz de las carnes, al rededor de la cintura, es un gran preservativo.

Tengo dolor de muelas.
 Eso sucede frecuentemente en el mar. Es menester no esponerse al relente, (la humedad de la mañana, ó de la noche;) mascar coclearia, ó salvia; lavarse la boca á menudo con aguardiente alcanforado, en una palabra tener mucho cuidado de los dientes.

DIALOGUE XVII.	DIALOGO XVII.
On a journey which cannot be otherwise performed than	Sobre un viaje que no puede hacerse sino en litera,

in a litter, or on mules.	ó en mulas.
Is the road very bad?	¿Es muy malo el camino?
Yes, sir, it is very narrow, rugged, and bordered with precipices.	Si, señor, es muy angosto, escabroso, á la orilla de precipicios.
How far is this place from ...?	¿Cuanto dista este lugar de ...?
It is about eleven long leagues.	Dista como unas once leguas largas.
Shall we sleep on the road?	¿Pasarémos la noche en el camino?
It is likely; but there is an inn at the foot of yonder mount. You will find in it pretty good accommodations, with good stabling for the mules.	Es regular; pero V. hallará una venta al pié de aquel monte. En ella algunas comodidades, y las mulas una buena caballeriza.
How many horses or mules must I take?	¿Cuanto caballos ó mulas tengo que tomar?
Two, four, &c.	Dos, cuatro, &a.
How much are they paid by the day?	¿Cuanto se les paga (se les da) por día?
You would travel more conveniently by going in a litter.	V. viajaria mas comodamente yendo en litera.
Will you do me the favor to look for a good litter, a good litter-driver, and good mules for me?	¿Querrá V. hacerme el favor de buscarme una buena litera y procurarme, un buen literero, y mulas?
Very willingly.	De muy buena gana.
As you will perform part of this journey on foot, I advise you to get a pair of good, stout, and easy boots, and to take with you an umbrella and your greatcoat.	Como V. hará mucha parte del camino á pié, le aconsejo que se provea de un buen par de botas fuertes y cómodas, de su paraguas, y de su sobretodo.
Do you know enough of the language of the country to	¿Sabe V. lo bastante de la lengua del pais para hablar speak with the drivers and the servants?

 No; but one of the passengers speaks it well.
 That is not sufficient. You must be able yourself to order the drivers to stop, to drive on a good pace, to proceed more gently, &c.
 Well, I will learn a dozen of phrases for that purpose.
 That is all you stand in need of.
 Would you be so kind as to prepare all things necessary for this voyage?
 With all my heart.

con los litereros, o con los criados, (mozos, M.)?
 No; pero uno de los pasajeros la habla bien.
 Eso no basta. Es preciso que
 V. mismo pueda mandar á los litereros que paren, que caminen mas á priesa, que vayan con mas tiento, &a.
 Bien está; voy á aprender una docena de frases con ese objeto.
 Eso es todo lo que se ha menester.
 ¿Querria V. tener la bondad de preparar todas las cosas necesarias para mí viage?
 De muy buena gana.

DIALOGUE XVIII.	DIALOGO XVIII.
At the dinner table.	A la mesa or comiendo.
Call for dinner. It is not ready yet. They have rung the bell. Sit down, ladies and gentlemen. Who says grace? Why do you make such ceremonies? Give us some bread. Shall I cut you some of the upper or the under crust? As you please. I thank you; I shall help myself. What can I help you to?	Pida V. la comida. Todavía no está pronta. Ya han tocado la campana. Siéntense VV. señoras y señores. ¿Quien echa la bendicion? ¿Porqué hace V. tantas ceremonias? Dénos V. pan. ¿Quiere V. que le dé de la corteza de encima ó de la de abajo? Como V. guste. Gracias; me serviré yo mismo. ¿Que me permite V. que le sirva?

Will you take a little soup?
I thank you. I will trouble you for a small piece of beef, it looks very well.
What part do you like best?
It is indifferent. Any that you please.
Do you like it well done or rare?
Well done, if you please.
Rather rare, if it is not too much trouble.
I do not like it overdone.
Have I helped you to what you like?
I hope this piece is to your liking.

It is very good, indeed.
What do you take with your meat?
Shall I help you to some vegetables?
We have here potatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, peas, turnips, parsnips, beets, spinage, &c.

I will thank you for some potatoes.
Change my plate.
Bring a clean plate.
A knife and fork.
A spoon and a tumbler.
Help yourselves.
Take, without ceremony, what you like best.
Will you take some roast beef?

¿Tomará V. un poco de sopa?
Gracias. Tenga V. la bondad de darme un pedacito de vaca, que parece muy buena.
¿Que parte le gusta á V. mas?
Me es indiferente. La que V. guste.
¿Le gusta á V. bien cocida, o no?
Bien cocida; si V. me hace favor.
Poco cocida, si no es muy molesto para V.
No me gusta demasiadamente cocida.
¿Le he servido á V. á se gusto?
Espero que este pedazo sea
del gusto de V.
Con verdad es bonísimo.
¿Que toma V. con su carne?
¿Gusta V. de que le sirva legumbres?
Aquí tenemos patatas, (papas,) coles coliflor, guisantes, (chícharos,) nabos, chirivías, remolacha, espinacas,
&a.
Sirvase V. darme patatas.
Múde (llévese) V. este plato.
Traiga V. un plato limpio.
Un cuchillo y un tenedor.
Una cuchara y un vaso.
Sírvanse VV.
Tomen VV. sin ceremonia, de lo que hay.
¿Tomará V. un poco de asado?

Do you like the fat, or the lean?
I am not very fond of fat.
Give me some of the lean, if you please.
Take this to Mr. or Mrs., &c.

This is for the young lady.
How do you like the roast beef?
It is delicious—excellent.
I am very glad it is to your taste.

You have no juice.
I have plenty, I thank you.
Have the goodness to pass the saltcellar.
Now I will send you some of this fowl. Which do you like best—a wing, a leg, or the white meat?
I thank you. I would prefer a small piece of salmon.
Pray, taste some of this pie.

You drink nothing.
Permit me to pour you out some Madeira.
You have some wine beside you.
Help yourself to what you like best.
I drink nothing but cool water.
What will you take of the dessert?
Here are pears, oranges, grapes,
 &c., preserves, jellies.

¿Le gusta á V. el gordo, ó el magro?
No me gusta mucho el gordo.
Déme V. un poco de magro,
 si V. me hace el favor.
Lleve V. este plato al caballero, or al Señor N., or á la Señora N.
Este es para la Señorita.
¿Como le gusta á V. el asado?
Es delicioso—excelente.
Me alegro mucho que esté del gusto de V.
V. no tiene caldo, or salsa.
Tengo bastante, muchas gracias.
Tenga V. la bondad de pasarme el salero.
Ahora voy á enviarle á V.
 una piececita de este pollo.
¿Que prefiere V., el alon, la pierna, ó la pechuga?
Gracias. Preferiria un bocadito de salmon.
Hágame V. favor de probar este pastel.
Parece que V. no bebe.
Permítame V. que le ofrezca una copita de Madera.
Ahí tiene V. vino á su lado.
Sírvasse V. como guste.
Yo no bebo mas que agua fría.
¿Que tomará V. de los postres?
Aquí tiene V. peras, naranjas, uvas,
 &a., conservas, jaléas.

I thank you; I have eaten enough.
Will you take some coffee?
With pleasure.

Gracias; he comido bastante.
¿Tomará V. un poco de café?
Con mucho gusto.

MODELS OF COMMERCIAL LETTERS, &c.
Modelos de Cartas de Comercio, &a.

FIRST LETTER.—Carta primera.

New York, March 15, 1849.

Mr. Anselmo Bravo,

Sir: Having established in this city a mercantile house under my own name, I beg leave to offer you my services, particularly as a commission merchant. (Or any other kind of business.)

A sufficient capital, a respectable credit, and the requisite knowledge of business, enable me to serve my friends in the most satisfactory manner; and I am happy to add that Mr. Cándido Delgado, of your city, merchant, has permitted me to refer to him for any information on the subject.

I have the honor to be, with the utmost respect,

Your most ob't servant,
ELIGIO FUENTE.

Sr. Don^[20] Anselmo Bravo,

Nueva York, á 15 de Marzo de 1849.

Muy Señor mio:^[21] Habiendo establecido en esta ciudad una casa de comercio bajo mi propio nombre, suplico á V. me permita ofrecerle mis servicios, particularmente como comisionista. (U otra clase de negocios.)

Un caudal suficiente, un crédito respetable y el conocimiento necesario de los negocios, me ponen en estado de servir á mis amigos de la manera mas satisfactoria, teniendo el gusto de añadir que el Señor Don Cándido Delgado, de ese comercio me ha permitido referirme á su informe, siempre que se requiera alguno sobre el particular.

Tengo^[22] el honor de ser de V. con el mayor respeto su muy atento seguro servidor,

Q. B. S. M.
ELIGIO FUENTE.

SECOND LETTER.—Carta segunda.

Havana ... 1849.

Mr. A. B.,

SIR: Under the protection of our common friend ... I take the liberty to send, on my own account and risk and to your consignment, one hundred and fifty boxes white sugar, and twenty-two bags containing coffee of superior quality, which I have this day shipped on board the American ship Anastasia, A. Smith, captain, as per the inclosed invoice and bill of lading.

The ship is new, and her captain a very intelligent and experienced seaman, and he is to sail on the 9th instant precisely.

This information will be sufficient for the insurance of said articles, which I beg you to have made immediately, together with the addition of 25 per cent. for imaginary profits.

Should this first essay prove as successful as I wish, I will apply to you in all the business I may have in your place, and induce my friends to do the same.

Wishing you the greatest prosperity, I beg leave to offer you my services, and am

Very respectfully,
Sir,
Your most ob't servant,
E. F.

Sr. Don A. B.

Habana, y de 1849.

Muy Señor mio. Bajo los auspicios de nuestro comun amigo me tomo la libertad de remitir de mi cuenta y riesgo, y á la consignacion de V. ciento y cincuenta cajas de azúcar blanco, y veintidos sacos de café de superior calidad, que he embarcado á bordo de la fragata Americana Anastasia, su capitan A. Smith como lo prueban la factura y conocimiento incluso.

El barco es nuevo, el capitan muy inteligente y experimentado, y deberá darse á la vela el 9 del corriente sin falta.

Estas noticias serán suficientes para proceder al seguro de dichos artículos, que suplico á V. se sirva hacer inmediatamente, con mas un 25 por ciento de ganancias imaginarias.

Si este primer ensayo tuviere el buen éxito que deseo continuaré valiéndome del favor de V. para cuanto me ocurra en esa, é induciré á mis amigos á que hagan lo mismo.

Deseando á V. la mayor prosperidad, me ofrezco á sus órdenes y soy con el mayor respeto, FOURTH LETTER.—Carta cuarta.

New York ... 1849.

Mr. E. F.,

SIR: I have just received a letter from Captain A. Smith, of the Anastasia, dated Savannah on the ... instant, informing me that he has been obliged to enter said port in distress, in order to repair the damages sustained by said vessel, in consequence of the severe gale experienced during her passage. He supposes the cargo to be damaged.

In order to secure your interests, I have made a protest in your name; which, together with all the necessary documents, I have presented to the underwriters, and in due time I will inform you of the results.

Very respectfully, &c.

Sr. Dn. E. F.,

Nueva York á ... 1849.

Muy Señor mio: Acabo de recibir una carta de Sr. A. Smith, capitan de la Anastasia, fecha el ... del corriente, en Savannah, en la que me informa haberse visto obligado á entrar de arribada en aquel puerto para reparar los daños causados á dicho barco por el recio temporal experimentado en su travesía. El supone que el cargamento está averiado.

A fin de poner en salvo los intereses de V. he hecho la correspondiente protesta en su nombre, la cual, con los demas documentos necesarios he presentado á los aseguradores, y á su tiempo informaré á V. del resultado.

Quedo de V., &a.

FOOTNOTES:

[1] The Gerundio (gerund) never changes its termination for gender or number.

[2] The participle past coming immediately after any of the tenses of the verb haber, (to have,) does not admit of any change of gender or number. After other verbs, it changes its termination to agree with that of the person or thing it refers to.

[4] V. in the singular, must be read Usted; VV. means Ustedes, and must be pronounced so.

[5] When the English imperfect tense, for instance, he united, may be expressed by he was uniting, or he used or was accustomed to unite, preserving the same sense, then it is to be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish; thus—él unía. When that cannot be done, but it may be changed into did, then the preterit must be used—él unió. The same must be understood of all the verbs in the imperfect tense.

[6] V. in the singular, must be read Usted; VV. means Ustedes, and must be pronounced so.

[7] V. in the singular, must be read Usted; VV. means Ustedes, and must be pronounced so.

[9] V. in the singular, must be read Usted; VV. means Ustedes, and must be pronounced so.

[10] When the English imperfect tense, for instance, he united, may be expressed by he was uniting, or he used or was accustomed to unite, preserving the same sense, then it is to be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish; thus—él unía. When that cannot be done, but it may be changed into did, then the preterit must be used—él unió. The same must be understood of all the verbs in the imperfect tense.

[11] The imperative mood is set as it is found in Murray's English Grammar, with the object that the student may learn how to translate it. When the emphasis is laid on the auxiliary let, it may be translated by the verbs permitir or dejar, in the second person singular or plural; or in the third person singular or plural, if Usted or Ustedes is used.

[12] The terminations of the second person singular or plural, when the verb is used negatively, are es, eis, as, ais, thus—offend thou not, no ofendas; unite ye not, no unais.

[13] The numbers within a parenthesis refer to the pages in Ollendorff's Method which the scholar is advised to consult.

[14] E is used instead of y when the following word begins with i or hi, as,

Wise men and ignorant. | Sabios é ignorantes.

Mother and daughter. | Madre é hija.

[15] U is employed instead of ó, when the word immediately following it begins with o or ho; as,

Silver or gold. | Plata ú oro

[16] From dos, (two,) up to ciento, (hundred,) inclusively, the numbers are plural, and common to both genders; as—

Three men, tres hombres.

Four women, cuatro mujeres.

[17] From doscientos to novecientos, inclusively, the termination os is changed into as for the feminine; as—

Three hundred miles. | Trescientas millas.

[18] Primero and tercero lose the o before a noun. Ex.—El primer tomo el tercer tomo.

[19] Usted and Ustedes, (you,) have always been written in abbreviation, thus—Vm., Vd., Vmd., for the singular, and Vms., Vds., Vmds., for the plural. At present V. for the former, and VV. for the latter, are used; and by either of them only, will those words be expressed in these dialogues.

[20] DON being a distinction of nobility, is omitted in the new republics; they address thus, Señor Anselmo Bravo. It will be better for foreigners to observe the style used by persons to whom the letters are addressed, and imitate it.

[21] Letters, particularly on business, generally begin with these words Muy Señor mio; which, according to circumstances, may be changed into Muy Señores mios, Muy Señor nuestro, Muy Señores nuestros. Persons mutually acquainted frequently begin their letters thus: Muy Señor mio, y amigo, or estimado amigo, or Muy Señor mio y de todo mi aprecio; My dear Sir, and friend, or esteemed friend, or valued friend.

[22] Letters are also ended thus: Dios guarde á V. (or la vida de V.) los m^s. a^s. (muchos años) que desea S. S. S. (su seguro servidor) Q. B. S. M. (que besa sus manos.) Also, Soy de V. muy atento servidor Q. B. S. M. or Quedo de V. su muy afecto servidor, Q. B. S. M.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg

Project Gutenberg is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 41 Watchung Plaza #516, Montclair NJ 07042, USA, +1 (862) 621-9288. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
